I am old, I am merely a writer, too old to take an active part in public discussions of any sort, but with my pen, the only instrument that I am acquainted with, I am ready to help in the work of establishing such a society. As an old resident I do most sincerely press upon the Peterborough public the great need there is of establishing an Historical society. The time is passing, the need is distinctly pressing and the call to adult manhood to assist in the cause is urgent in the extreme.

Yours,
FRED. M. DELAFOSSE.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And the Lord said unto Moses, Depart, and go up hence, thou and the people which thou hast brought up out of the land of Egypt, unto the land which I sware unto Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob, saying, Unto thy seed will I give it....

And Moses said unto the Lord, See, thou sayest unto me, Bring up this people: and thou hast not let me know whom thou wilt send with me. Yet thou hast said, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.

Now therefore, I pray thee, if I have found grace in thy sight, shew me now thy way, that I may know thee, that I may find grace in thy sight: and consider that this nation is thy people.

And he said, My presence shall go with thee, and I will give thee rest....

And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory. And he said, I will make all my goodness pass before thee, and I will proclaim the name of the Lord before thee; and will be gracious to whom I will be gracious, and will shew mercy on whom I will shew mercy.

And he said, Thou canst not see my face: for there shall no man see me, and live. (Ex. 33: 1, 12-14, 18-20.)

Seems To Be Working

Trade figures do not tell the whole story of our international balance of accounts. Nevertheless there must be some satisfaction in the publication of export and import totals for the first quarter of the year. We are, apparently, making substantial savings in U.S. dollars. The restriction program announced last November is having some real effect. It is easily the most irksome and difficult part of that program.

It is cheering too to note that, while we have succeeded in cutting down our buying from the United States, we have at the same time succeeded in buying more from the United Kingdom. How far goods from the latter source are replacing goods formerly bought in the United States, the summary does not tell us. Just the same it is important to note that the British are getting into this dollar market on a larger scale even though our exports to that country have increased, leaving our own "favourable" balance better than ever.—Montreal Star.

Pat was engaged putting a water main into the poorhouse. Saturday came and the boss saw Pat dolefully examining his pay packet. "Mistake in your wages, Pat?" he asked.

"Oh, no," said Pat, "but I was just wondering whether me or the water would be in the poorhouse first."

Scholarships Aiding Deaf

OTTAWA, June 28 — (CP) — Encouraging progress in the formation of a scholarship fund for deaf persons Saturday was reported by David Peikoff, president of the Ontario Association of the Deaf in convention here. Some 400 deaf persons are attending.

He said a campaign for $50,000 to provide annual scholarships for totally deaf Canadian students "has proved a real success."

"Indicative of the nation-wide interest in our drive," said Mr. Peikoff, "are the figures showing that Manitoba has contributed $1,100, Montreal $2,500 and considerable amounts from other points."

It was expected, said the association president, that the various funds will be merged into one giant pool to be known as the Canadian Deaf Scholarship Fund. So far $25,000 had been collected and vigorous efforts will be made to complete the campaign by fall of 1949.

"The first scholarship award then will be made to the winner of a nation-wide competition," Mr. Peikoff added.

EAR RINGING: "I have been troubled with a ringing in one ear for the past several months. I am 72 years old. What is the cause? What is the remedy?"
Say our doctor friends, the ringing in your ear may come from a disease of the inner ear. In that case, however, you would have other symptoms. If the ringing is your only symptom, our doctors think, it may be a nervous disorder. In an" case it is best, our experts think, to see a good doctor. Your mind will then be at rest.
GOOD COOK: "Can bran muffins be made with bran flakes? I want my bran muffins like those in the Georgian Room."
That's a pretty high mark to shoot at—Georgian Room food. But here is a recipe that will turn out tip-top bran muffins. Soak 1½ cups bran in one cup thick sour milk for 10 minutes. Add one well beaten egg, ¼ cup brown sugar and one teaspoon salt. Add one cup sifted all-purpose flour and 1 teaspoon baking soda; add one tablespoon melted shortening. Blend lightly. Fill oiled muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake in a 375 deg. F. oven for 20 minutes.
GOOD KNITTING: "I have designed and knitted four sweaters. Where can I patent the pattern? Whom would you advise me to contact?"
Show your work to Mrs. Allen, knitting designer for Patons and Baldwins. She will know where you can best market your designs and if they should be patented.
FAMILY ALLOWANCE: "Someone told me if a child continues going to school after he is 16 the baby bonus may still be received. Is this so or does it automatically stop at 16?"
Government ruling is that the family allowance cheques stop at age 16. The last cheque to be sent is in the month of the 16th birthday.

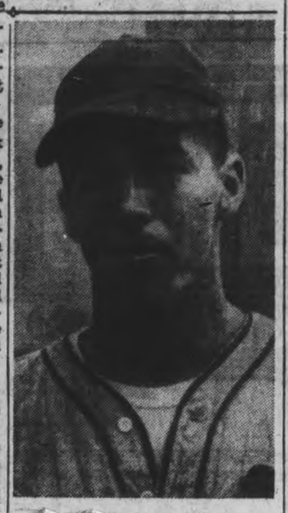
Petes Pound Out Victory Against Oshawa In COBL

The Petes solidified their grip on first place in the COBL here Saturday and dropped Oshawa deeper in third place when they beat the Merchants 12-4. With Doug Loucks hurling good ball in all but one inning and his teammates thumping Danny Normoyle for 14 safeties in less than seven frames, the game was one-sided at the last half. Tony Romaniski relieved Normoyle in the 7th. Both sides were loose defensively but Oshawa errors hurt most.



DOUBLE WELL — Doug Loucks, part from some trouble in the fourth, pitched well for the Petes here Saturday as they took a 12-4 COBL win over Oshawa.

Two fast double-plays were fielding features, while the work of Bob Tyson and Don Pagett, despite a few miscues, caught the eye. Al Menzies led the local stickers with three or four, one a double. Pagett and Jack Mackness each collected three hits in five tries. None of the losers got more than one safe blow, but Bill Cook clouted a triple and Gord Baxter a two-bagger. Howie Dalton drove in three runs. The count was much closer on earned runs.

Scored Early

Two runs were counted by the Murphy men in the first frame. Dalton singled and moved up as Garvey was safe on an error. Both went two bases further on a two-base error, and Foley's single scored the second run. Mackness singled in the third, took third on a hit by Edwardson and raced home on a miscue in right. Oshawa got their four in the fourth on an error, singles by Bidgood, McMullen and Normoyle, a double by Baxter and Cook's three-bagger.

The Petes tied it at 4-4 in their half when Menzies doubled, took second on an out and scored on Dalton's fielder's choice. The Petes went ahead with three in the sixth on singles by Walton and Pagett, a sacrifice, a two-base error at first and a safe blow by Garvey. And they put it on ice with a five-run outburst in the seventh on singles by Edwardson, Walton, Menzies and Mackness, along wtih a walk, a fielder's choice and two costly kicks.

Newcastle Gets 5-2 Win Over The Petes

By FRED MAYBEE

Newcastle took the return game of last week's home and home series with Peterborough Saturday by a score of 12-10, after dropping the opener in Peterborough 5-2. The Petes rallied strongly in the final two innings but fell short of victory after scoring six runs to shell Perry from the hill in the ninth. Hoar finished as Guerin and White flied to Gray and Hoar resptively, to end the rally.

Scotty Graham held the Petes for eight innings allowing four runs as his mates garnered 12 but retired for Perry in the ninth.

Nineteen stolen bases indicate the looseness of play in this intermediate Lakeshore League baseball struggle. Claus, Gray and Cramer led the offensive for Newcastle, while Fitzgerald hit three doubles for Peterborough with Pagett, Murphy and Sullivan netting two hits apiece. Pagett and Conway hit triples, the latter's driving in three runs in the ninth.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Funniest about-face we've seen since the Walcott-Louis fight was that by Andy Lytle of the Star. Early last week he saw Louis in training and said he looked fat, slow and not interested in his work. Then he saw Walcott and described him as cheerful, sharp and in grand condition. Andy didn't actually pick either but gave the impression that Walcott would win. His after-fight story contains such bitter remarks about Walcott as "he is an accidental clown", "the worst heavyweight I have ever looked at", "he was a tramp who had for 17 or 18 years been bumming around in the pugilistic sticks", "the worst hambo Louis has had to face in defence of his championship", and so on ad nauseam.

In the Girls' Softball League at the Bowl tonight, weather permitting, Lock Co. clashes with Outboard Marines at seven, and they're followed by Westclox and CGE-ers. Two more tilts Wednesday as the lasses near the halfway mark in their schedule. Westclox and Marines to date have lost but one game each, while Westclox — having played an extra game—have one more victory than the Marines. CGE and Ashby's are tied with five and two each, with Lindsay next and then Lakefield, Woollens and Lock Co. in that order.

City Leaguers Play

Gord Young announces the minor baseball schedule for the rest of this month. West and north juveniles go at 6.30 tonight in Riverside, while southend bantams play Hawks in Morrow Park. On Tuesday, south and west midgets are in Riverside as the southend peewees play Crawford's Grove at the Ex. And on Wednesday eve, south and east midgets mix in Riverside as east and north bantams collide down in Morrow Park. We'll check the intermediate and junior games coming up shortly, too.

Petes' COBL-lers clipped the Oshawa Merchants 12-4 in Riverside on Saturday before a fair-sized crowd of fans. A good game till the Petes pulled out in front in the sixth, and the belt was off in the seventh. Doug Loucks pitched nice ball but for the four-run fourth. Normoyle was shelled off the Merchants' mound in the seventh with Romaniski finishing up and allowing one more run. Both sides kicked the ball around quite a bit, with Oshawa errors much more costly, but there was some smart fielding seen in spots, also. Each side reeled off a classy twin killing, while Tyson and Pagett handled some tough chances well.

Al Was Bashing 'Em

Al Menzies, who caught in okay fashion, led the local belters with a double and two singles in four. Pagett and Mackness got three for five each, and Walton and Edwardson each two in five. The Petes are still hitting the apple hard and timely. None of the visitors collected more than one safety, though Cook tripled and Baxter hit a two-bagger. Dalton, who always fields well, batted in three local runs this joust. Yeah, the Petes aren't doing too badly to date, carrying a lot of younger fellows and getting by lately with a two-man hurling staff. They play Kingston here on Thursday, the holiday, two games — one in the morning and the other after lunch.

* * * * * * *

Kingston Locos went to Belleville on Saturday and took a 12-5 COBL victory o'er the Bata Shoemen. They trailed till the seventh but jammed home five runs and then waltzed away with seven more in the ninth. Stone pitched steady ball for Locos, while Bowman, Bedard and Kennedy all saw slab action for the Batawa bunch. Walsh, Udall and Stone had three hits each for the victors and Kennedy and Aquino hit safely twice each for the Shoemen. This bunches the other three teams in the loop up nicely with the Petes out in front by a couple of games. Batawa are next but just barely ahead of Oshawa, and the Locos are crowding on the Merchants' heels. Oshawa plays Batawa in Belleville on the holiday. These teams clash tomorrow, also.

Aces Get A Nice One

While the intermediate Petes were losing a close one down in Newcastle on Saturday, despite a late rally, our junior teams won and lost. The Bees dropped an 8-7 verdict in Cobourg but came awfully close with a ninth-inning drive, despite the fact they were outhit and outfielded. A nice number, we hear. At Riverside on Saturday eve, the local Aces edged out Oshawa Hunters 4-3 in 10 heats, and you can't beat that sort of ball. The Pagett pack worked hard and got a break on an Oshawa error for the deciding run, but they had two fine double-plays, as well as feature plays like a catch by Stewart and a swell throw-in from centre field by Conlin to the plate for an out. Several players of senior calibre were on each team.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Looking over the schedule book, we find that we have another strenuous two weeks of bowling coming up.

Besides the regular schedule games and weekly tournaments, we have three big open tournaments.

On Thursday, July 1, afternoon and evening, mixed rink tournament for the Ovaltine Trophy.

Friday, July 9, morning and afternoon, ladies' doubles tournament for the new Lincoln Shoe Cup.

On Wednesday, July 14, all day, men's doubles tournament for the Lift Lock Gold Trophy.

The reason for announcing these advance dates is that the holiday season is now upon us, and it may be a help to those who are now laying out their holiday program. There will be more information regarding these tournameents, as time goes on. In the meantime mark these dates on your calendar.

There was a nice crowd out on Saturday evening for the family hour tournament. It was a fine night for bowling and all seemed to enjoy the two 10-end games. The winning rinks were skipped by C. Renaud, V. Hill and G. Soulby.

Tonight Groups No. 4 and No. 2 continue wtih the schedule, and by the way, these two groups are the only ones that have postponed games, owing to the rainy weather.

Oshawa Loses To Aces In 10 Innings

Peterborough Aces edged Oshawa Hunters 4-3 in a junior ball contest at Riverside Park on Saturday evening. It was a tight 10-inning game that saw Lady Luck frown on the visitors as they dropped thier first start of the season.

With the score tied 3-3 going into the last half of the 10th inning, Pagett struck out. Estlick hit a hard ground ball down to the Oshawa second baseman who bobbled it, allowing the hitter to reach first safely. Menzies then flied to second base, making two out. At this point the fans settled back thinking the Aces' bid was over for that frame. Thinking he had nothing to lose, Estlick started to steal second base. The catcher made a wild throw over the bag and past the centre fielder who compounded the error and Estlick scored standing up.

Both pitchers played well. Jaquith yielded nine hits, struck out three batters and gave up one walk despite a painful side.

Seven Hits

Gavas, the short black-haired right hander for Oshawa was the hard-luck boy. He set the locals down with seven hits, struck out six, walked only two men and then in our trips to the plate rapped out wo hits. His first was a long triple on which the latter scored to bring in the first Oshawa run. Then in the first of the eighth he started the inning off with a single to score the visitors' second run after succesive singles by Murphy and McGrath pushed him along. Murphy then corssed the platet to tie the game.

Stewart and Laplante scored for the Aces in the last of the second after getting on base through an error and a walk. Pagett got Peterborough's third tally when he singled to start the last of the fifth, was advanced by Estlick's sacrifice, and scored on a single by Menzies.

Stewart led the locals' attack with two hits in three official trips to the plate. Estlick also starred with a hit in three chances and some excellent base running, as well as two clever catches in right fied. Gavas was tops for the visitors, followed by Murphy with three hits in four times at bat.

Locos Beat Batawa In 12-5 COBL Fray

BELLEVILLE, June 28—(CP).—Two big innings spelled victory for Kingston Locos Saturday night as they ran over the Bata Shoeman, 12-5, to score their third win in the current COBL campaign.

Four hits, one a double by Udall, and another a triple by Walsh, and three walks counted five runs for the Locos in the top of the seventh inning. They gathered in seven more tallies in the ninth on three walks, four hits, and two Batawa errors as 12 men came to the plate.

Batawa was leading the Locos, 2-0, going into the seventh, having counted the runs in the second frame on a hit, a sacrifice and two Kingston errors. They scored once in the seventh and twice in the eighth.

Batawa played sparkling defensive ball in the first six innings pulling off four twin killings to chill the Kingston attack.

Bees Lose Out In Ball To Cobourg 8-7

Cobourg Kiwanis pulled out an 8-7 Lakeshore Baseball League triumph over the Peterborough Bees in Cobourg on Saturday. It was a fine ball game, with the Bees rallying to almost tie up the count with two runs in the ninth inning. They were outhit and had more miscues but was tight enough throughout, with the score tied until the last of the sixth inning. A walk, a fielder's choice, an out and an error gave the Turner team two in the ninth to nearly sew it up again.

Cobourg pitching held the visitors to five hits and three walks while nine went down on strikes. Plunkett went the route for the losers in fair style, though nicked for 11 safeties and four walks, as he whiffed 11, his support being wobbly at times. McMillan of Cobourg had a double and single in thre trips as D. Goody got a double and single in four. Curry hit a double and single in five to lead the Bees at bat. 5

Petrillo Plugs One Hole In Record Ban

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 28—(AP).—James Petrillo has plugged the hole in his record ban. He is asking singing stars to refrain from making discs with vocal backgrounds.

Recording companies have been skirting the ban by backing their vocalists with choral accompaniment, plus hamonicas, ukuleles, and other non-union instruments.

Many singing stars are honorary or actual members of the American Federation of Musicians and thus will be obligated to co-operate in the ban.

New Horizons

Walt Disney leaves for Hawaii today and the island empire will be the next subject of his true adventure series. The cartoon wizard is preparing three or 4½ hour films on Alaska.

Walt's first release in the series wil be "Seal Island," telling of Alaska's fur seals in living action and cartoon. It will be shown next winter as part of an all-Disney show which will include the feature, "So Dear to My Heart," plus a short or two. It sounds like a welcome answer to the double-bill menace.

Franchot Tone is the latest to forsake Hollywood for filming abroad. After he finishes "Every Girl Should Be Married" here and "Jigsaw" in New York, he'll sail for France to produce and star in "The Man From Eiffel Tower." It's a detective story with a chase all over the Parisian landmark.

Sights and Sounds

Sirs Aubrey Smith and Ralph Richardson talking old times at a cocktail party....Bette Davis enthusing about her daughter's first steps....John Garfield trying to plaster his hair down to pose for a tonic ad....Frank Sinatra, who has six dances in "Take Me Out to the Ball Game," showing a few steps to Fred Astaaire, another dancer....June Lockhart enjoying the fruits of her broadway tsardom and singing autographs at "Sweethearts."

Snider Leads Royals In Twin Victory

By The Associated Press

Duke Snider, who received special instructions on the finer points of hitting, mastered his lessons too well for the comfort of pitchers on seven International League teams.

Snider, 21-year-old outfielder of the pace-setting Montreal Royals, was tutored at the parent Brooklyn Dodgers' training camp this spring at swinging at balls in the strike zone only.

The Compton, Calif., youth is proving he needs no refresher course for he is tagging opposition pitching at a .326 clip.

More than half of his 45 blows have gone for extra-bases—11 homers, 12 doubles and three triples. In addition Snider has driven in 41 runs.

Take Doubleheader

Yesterday he helped the Royals take a doubleheader from Baltimor Orioles 12-4 and 2-1 by rapping out six hits in seven trips to the plate.

Jack Banta coasted to his eighth triumph in the opener and Clyde King, making his first start since coming from Brooklyn, won the second.

The double triumphs enabled the Royals to open a 4½ game lead over the runner-up Newark Bears who divided a doubleheader with Buffalo Bisons.

After the Bisons beat rookie Bob Porterfield 4-3, on Johnny Bero's ninth inning homer, the Bears came back and trounced the Herd, 12-4.

Buffalo's Chet Laabs socked a round tripper in each contest to run his pace-setting total to 24.

Toronto Maple Leafs and Syracuse Chiefs also divided a twin bill. The Chiefs took the first 9-8, by scoring three runs in the ninth. Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, Ont., coasted home behind a 13-hit Toronto attack in the nightcap.

Robinson Weight May Pose Problem

CHICAGO, June 28 — (AP). — Champion Ray (Sugar) Robinson, a little weary in his "battle of the scales" weighed in today for his scheduled 15-round title scrap in Comiskey Park with Bernie Docusen.

The twice-postponed fight is set for tonight weather permitting.

But if the Harlem Flash fails to make the required 147-pound limit in the noon ceremonies, the illinois Athletic Commission may declare his welterweight title vacant.

Robinson hit an even 147 when the bout was originally slated June 17. But rain washed it out, and four days later Robinson refused to weigh in when it was rescheduled. He admitted being overweight.

Hot Red Sox Team Hits St. Louis For Two Wins

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The old familiar cry of "stop those Boston Red Sox" is being heard once again around the American League. Paced by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens at the plate and Joe Dobson and Dave (Boo) Ferriss on the mound, the red hot Red Sox have knocked off every kind of opposition to leap back into the pennant scramble.

With 17 victories in 22 starts during June, the Sox are firmly entrenched in the first division only 5½ games behind the pace-setting Cleveland Indians.

The Red Sox moved another game nearer to the top yesterday when they swept both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis Browns 2-0 and 6-3. The twin triumph gave the Red Sox a record of nine victories in 11 games.

Williams and Stephens drove in a run apiece to back up Joe Dobson's two-hit pitching in the opener. Ferriss pitched an eight-hitter in the second game to account for his first route-going performance of the season.

Winning Blow

Williams provided the winning blow in the nightcap, his 16th home run with two on.

Philadelphia Athletics swept a doubleheader from Chicago White Sox 6-5 and 6-2 to pull within 11 percentage points of first place.

Young Carl Scheib allowed 11 hits in winning the opener. Dick Fowler of Toronto gained his fifth triumph with an eight-hitter in the nightcap.

The Indians kept first place by coming back to defeat Washington 4-1 in the second game after the Senators had won the opener of their twin bill 5-2. Home runs by Allie Clark and Joe Gordon helped Sam Zoldak rack up his second win in as many starts for the Tribe in the afterpiece.

Lefty Tommy Byrne, making his first start of the season, handcuffed the Tigers with two hits in Detroit as the Yankees won 7-0.

Turn Back Pirates

Boston Braves retained their half game lead over St. Louis Cardinals in the tight National League race by turning back Pittsburgh Pirates 9-1. Johnny Sain scattered eight hits for his ninth victory.

Home runs by Stan Musial and Marty Marion, and a two-run triple by Nippy Jones, sparked the Cardinals to a 6-4 victory over Brooklyn Dodgers. Alpha Brazle was the winner.

Cincinnati Reds came from behind to nip New York Giants 4-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second game was postponed by rain. Ewell Blackwell won his fourth.

Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies divided a doubleheader in Philadelphia, the Cubs winning the opener 6-2 and the Phils taking the nightcap 7-4.

Russ Meyer won his seventh for the Cubs in the opener. Curt Simmons, the $60,000 rookie, was the loser. The other Philly bonus rookie, Robin Roberts, won his game, his second in three starts.

Phil Farley Wins Sixth Golf Title

TORONTO, June 28 — (CP). — Phil Farley has won his sixth Ontario amateur golf championship in a tournament featured by upsets.

The 36-year-old Farley of Toronto Scarboro was one of the pre-tournament favorites at five to one odds. He defeated Don Varey of Brantford Saturday in the 36-hole match play final, 4 and 3.

Varey, known as a consistent player, had scored a surprising victory over defending champion Rudy Horvath of Windsor in one of the semi-final matches.

Cricket Victory Is Taken By Oshawa Club

The first meeting of the season between the Peterborough Whitaker Club and their old rivals the Oshawa CC played at Oshawa resulted in a win for the Motor City men by 117 to 59.

The local team arrived at Oshawa at 2 o'clock but Oshawa had difficulty in getting a team together and play did not begin until 3.40. It was a dull dark afternoon but no rain fell and some good play was shown especially by the later members of the winning team.

Oshawa batted first and made a poor start losing 4 wickets for 17 runs, but then Harris 31, R. Turnbill 20, the veteran Sargent 19 and J. C. Cameron 18, all batter well and scored freely . Harris was missed later but his 31 included 2 sixes and Cameron and Sargent added 31 for the last wicket, taking the total to 117. Frank Dyer was again the best bowler taking 5 wickets for 39 runs.

Fair Opening

The local batsmen made a fair opening scoring 29 for 3 wickets including 15 by S. Jennings and 11 by W. Wright but then Arthur Sargent had a deadly spell taking 4 wickets in 1 over—and it was still shy 29 when the 7th wicket fell. Then Frank Dyer 14 and J. McKissack 6 improved matters adding 22 for the 8th wicket but the inning closed for 59 about 15 minutes before time. A. Sargent had the best figures—7 to 23 and it is rather strange to note that out of 46 over bowler by 10 bowlers there were only 4 maiden.

The following was the score:

Oshawa — W. Howarth 5, S. Moore 7, A. Sargent 4, J. Hartshorn 0, G. Clarke 8, L. Harris 31, D. Bennett 7, R. Tunstall 20, R. Cameron 13 not out, W. Sargent 18, extras 3, total 117.

Bowling analysis—F. Dyer 5 for 39, W. Wright 2 for 21, F. Booth 1 for 25, R. Rollswagen 0 for 11, B. Roberts 0 for 14, G. Collie 1 for 4.

Peterborough - Whitaker — W. Dyer 0, S. Jennings 15, W. Wright 11, F. Booth 3, B. Roberts 8, R. Rollwagen 0, G. Collie 0, I. Morrison 0, F. Dyer 14, J. McKissack 6, R. Harvey 1, extra 1, total 59.

Next Saturday, July 3, the locals travel to Toronto to meet the strong Parkdale Club.

HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMP JOE LOUIS stands over the prostrate form of Joe Walcott after he had battered the challenger to the canvas with a series of vicious lefts and rights during their bout at the Yankee Stadium, New York City. The end came in 2.56 of the 11th round. Referee Frank Fullam was just about to start the count when the photo was taken.

International

Loses Olympic Berth

ST. CATHARINES, June 28 — (CP). — Theo Dubois, Winnipeg sculler, won the singles event of the Olympic trials and came within an ace of capturing a berth on Canada's Olympic team. But his victory Saturday over Ken Nunns of Toronto Argonauts in a hard-fought contest made little impression on a selection committee, which decided later against sponsoring singles, pair oars or fours-without-cox winners. This decision left Canada's hopes in the summer Olympic rowing events in Britain on the shoulders of Hamilton's Leander Club in the eights and Ottawa Rideau Club, represented by Ted Graves and Gabe Beaudry, in the doubles.

Curler Dies

OSHAWA, June 28 (CP) — Frank (Mike) Michael, 54-year-old market gardener and one of Ontario's best-known curlers, died yesterday. Funeral services will be held here Monday afternoon.

A life-long resident of East Whitby township, Mike had the distinction of never missing the Toronto annual bonspiel since its inception. He was a member of several rinks which brought the district cup and Ontario Tankard to Oshawa on various occasions.

His widow was the former Charlotte May Harris of Madoc, Ont. Two sons, four sisters and a brother also survive.

Toronto Team Beats CGE In Soccer Tilt

A close-passing style of combination along with three-player triangle plays proved successful for Toronto against the Peterborough CGE aggregation in the soccer tilt held at Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon, before a large crowd. The visitors gained a 6-3 count in a smart exhibition. Best for the visitors were McWilliams, R. Cairns and Stevenson; while E. Cotton, A. Featherstone and Welland were Brilliant on the local team.

Smart combination prevailed in the early stages with Petes concentrating in swinging the ball into effective positional play but Toronto relied upon the close passing style that proved productive of more goals although Pyle broke up an attack to let Cotton evade the full backs to bulge the net. After 10 minutes of play, Toronto's half backs settled to first-time tackling thereby feeding Boyle repeatedly with the ball to finally get the equalizer with an oblique shot. Stevenson added another on the next raid on an individual effort. Then Cotton dribbled his way towards goal to conclude with the equalizer to make it two-all. With two minutes to go McWilliam saw an opening to punt the ball up the centre where Cairns tapped out to the left winger who scored while on the run.

The visitors settled down to the close passing game that found Petes on the defensive with Welland and Featherstone on the extreme left outplaying the visitors with their shooting. A break away by Cairns let Stanton add the fourth counter after the CGE goalie had saved twice in succession. S. McGann retired injured and Wilson took his place. Again Stanton slipped the ball over to Boyle who scored with a low grounder. Featherstone dribbled his way through a series of players to leave Attard with a perfect scoring chance to make it 5-3. Towards the finish, Cairns took advantage of a poor clearance to make the score read 6-3.

Toronto CGE—T. Joyce, goal; C. McMinn and J. McCaffery, full backs; H. Morgan, M. McWilliams and P. Stanton, half backs; D. Boyle, T. Stanton, R. Cairns, T. Connally and J. Boyle, forwards; A. Duncan, N. Duncan, J. Stevenson and J. Johnstone, subs.

Peterborough CGE—A. Greengorn, goal; S. McCann and S. Murduff, full backs; H. Steel, H. Pyle and F. Booth, half backs; R. Strong, A. Welland, F. Attard, E. Cotton and A. Featherstone, forwards.

Referee, Asa Downer; linesman, J. Ritchie Toronto; D. Duncan, Peterborough.

Westenders Victors

West-End Pee-Wees of the City Baseball League at Morrow Park Saturday defeated the Crawfords Grove nine by a score of 5 to 4 in a well-played game. Both teams played good ball, with Hollingsworth hammering a home run to give the West-End the victory. The teams:

West-End — Carveth, Harris, Carleton, Smyth, Jackson, Leggit, Hollingsworth, Hickey, Drury.

Two midget lacrosse games were played Friday in the secondary box, with T. J. Cacanagh's team and American Hotel going to a 4-4 tie and McGillis Hotel defeating Comstock's 5-2. In the first fray, Brioux, Brown and Batley went good for Cavanagh's, Brioux getting three of their goals and Daniels one. For Americans, Heffernan got two, Cooke one and McConnachie one, these and Barker looking good.

McGillis had too much experience for Comstock's. For the winners, Dewar and Killen got two goals each and Davis, as Deck and Smith counted for Comstock's. Clapper also went well. Games in Miller Bowl tonight, starting at eight: McGillis vs. American, and Comstock's vs. Cavanagh's. The teams:

PLYWOOD . . .

The Story of Peterborough's Most Modern Home

These pictures show a home being built in record time in Peterborough through the use of Plywood. It is of unique construction — the outside walls being covered with waterproof Fir Plywood. It is being built on Charlotte Street, west of Monaghan, by Mr. Charles Huffman.

Armstrong Lumber as suppliers of materials for this home invites you to watch the progress of this exceptionally beautiful home, and to watch for its opening, when the citizens of Peterborough will be invited to see the fine materials, and workmanship used in this most delightful home.

Frame going up, but quickly, and this modern home is beginning to take form. For those inquiring about the lumber used in the frame — it is B.C. Cedar from that fine western province.

A few days later this photo was taken, as can be seen, the roof is on and the walls practically in place.

Plywood roof sheathing and Weldtex Plywood on the walls glued to the studding made such speed possible.

Fifteen working days . . . and this modern home is completely closed in . . . window frames installed . . . even the chimney built, proving that plywood roof sheathing and plywood exterior walls do save time.

When this home is completed you will be interested in seeing the fine interior plywoods from Armstrong's stock including the Weldtex Striated Fir Plywood and Korena — a South American plywood — never before used in Peterborough.

Building Activities In Bancroft Cover Wide Range Of Projects

BANCROFT, June 28—(ENS)—The building trade in Bancroft has reached an all time high this spring, and many changes have taken place in the town. Work is still being carried on in many sectors.

The Bancroft Dairy has a new plant on Front St. which is nearing completion as the equipment from the former premises is being moved in as quickly as possible. The food storage building going up beside the new dairy should be finished within the next month.

McCaw Brothers' butcher shop and grocery has a new interior look. The store was recently closed for alterations in which a concrete floor was laid and the store equipment enlarged to include an electric counter as well as a storage refrigerator. A self-service plan has been developed.

Mr. Wilfred Maxwell, who operates the Ford garage, has been making extensive changes to his garage. The present buiding has been extended some twenty feet to the rear, rest rooms have been installed and he is now thinking of changing the present heating system of wood and fuel oil to one of steam heating.

Mr. Ellis Mather, who has operated a restaurant business for several years, is making radical changes both to the exterior and interior of the George Brethour building, next door to his present business. He plans to open a restaurant there with modern equipment.

The Bancroft bakery has not escaped the building wave. Mr. Alex Berger, the owner and operator of the business, has covered the whole building with insulbrick siding. He is also putting up a two car garage at the rear.

New Homes

Like similar towns all over Ontario, Bancroft is seeing a sudden appearance of new houses. Mr. Andrews, formery of Maynooth, is building a bungalow home on Highway 28 just at the west limit of the village. Mr. Jack Milne has already started excavation and form work for a new home on Alice St. Mr. George Baker, who has built several homes on the property on the eastern outskirts, has now started another house on highway 62. Mr. Mervin Mitchell is building on highway 28.

The business block, known as the Detlor Block, in which Towle's undertaking parlor and Mitchell's general store are located, has had its face lifted by an overall coat of paint.

Mr. Balfour Vader is building sleeping cabins on his property at the north end of the village in a picturesque site bordering the York river.

Finishing School

Work is still progressing quickly at the new North Hastings high school, and the workmen are now doing the finishing touches. Most of the plumbing and heating work has been completed, and the carpenters are finishing up the last odds and ends in the class rooms, kitchens, cafeterias and large assembly hall.

The new hospital is also coming along, but work at present is in the heating and electricity departments which, until completed, prevents the sheeting and finishing work to be carried on.

Mr. C. W. Bierworth, who recently purchased the garage and property of the late Howard Maxwell, has made extensive changes to the building. The old barn which lay at the back of the garage has been torn down and a new modern home has been built on its foundations.

When the present wave of renovation and building has subsided, Bancroft will look quite a new village.

FIRST CHILD DROWNING of the summer season was recorded last night when Robert Raisbeck, 8, Napier St., Toronto, drowned in a slip on the waterfront. Hundreds of passengers from the TTC ferry docks, are shown watching lifesavers and a firedepartment inhalator squad work on the child, who was later pronounced dead. The boy fell into the water at wharf pilings (extreme left) while reaching for a ball.

Garage Owners May Act To Push Bylaw

Hint of legal action by the provincial garage owners' association for a mandatory order requiring Peterborough to pass the early closing bylaw which the council rejected a week ago was heard from several civic sources this morning.

It is understood that a letter has been received from Leopold McAulay, Toronto, solicitor for the garage and service station men, intimating the probability of a motion before the Supreme Court invoking the psovincial legislation which was passed as an amendment in the Legislature during its sessions this year.

The basis of this action is the directive that a muncipal council shall pass an early closing bylaw for garages and service stations as outlets for the retail sale of gasoline when the prescribed conditions of application by occupiers of such stations have been complied with. It will be remembered that the council was informed last Monday night that these conditions have been fulfilled. At the same time City Soicitor W. F. Huycke, KC, said thta according to the new amendment the council was required to pass the bylaw as desired by 42 of the 47 occupiers of service stations in Peterborough.

Work Started On New Church

Grounds was broken today for a Roman Catholic church on Frank St. that will be under the care of the Redemptorist Order. The site was staked out this morning to the east of the priests' house at the corner of Western Ave. and Frank St., and excavation of the basement was begun this afternoon. The contractor is Mr. George Heffernan.

The name of the new church will be St. Alphonsus, dedicated to the memory of the founder of the Redemptorist Order. It is located on the north side of Frank St., fronting to the south. Seating accommodation will be for 200 to 250 persons.

The church will become the centre of a new parish that has been laid out for the benefit and convenience of catholic residents of growing southwest section of the city. Eastern boundary of the parish will be Monaghan Road, and the north will be Charlotte St. including the Wartime Housing community. The parish will extend westerly into the township of North Monaghan.

Completion of the church is expected by the end of the year.

BOOSTS KAWARTHAS

Peterborough and the Kawartha district are given a big boost in the latest Department of Highways weekly road bulletin. On the cover of this motorists' bible is a full-page spread of a young lady "relaxing in the Kawarthas" as she scans one of the area's famed lakes. And on the rear cover there is an explanation of the facilities offered here. The issue is dedicated to "your wife and mine" telling the ladies that here they can enjoy a vacation time of leisure, free from the usual press of family care. Of course swimming, golfing, boating and above all, muskie fishing are to be found in unusual abundance. The virtues of Peterborough as a shopping centre are also extolled.

SLIGHT ACCIDENT

Only accident reported by provincial police for the district during the weekend was a collision about 8.30 Sunday night at the intersection of the Selwyn Road and the middle line of Smith. There was slight damage to the two involved—those of W. S. Smith, Peterborough, and James Agnew of Toronto. Provincial constable Crough investigated.

NARROW ESCAPE

Lloyd Bidwell, formerly of Ingersoll, had a narrow escape from possible serious injury early Sunday morning at Lindsay when he escaped through a small window down of his cabin trailer which was completely destroyed by a flash fire. Bidwell was taken to Ross Memorial hospital suffering from shock and cuts about the stomach. His wife was visiting friend in Kitchener at the time. The blaze was extinguished by the local fire brigade.

Heavy Rains Slow Strawberry Picking Three-Hour Downpour Spoils Sunday Picnics

Although the district has been crying for rain for several weeks, enough fell during the past week to satisfy the needs of the 'hirsty earth. Market gardeners and farmers feel that Sunday's three hour soaker was superfluous. No damage was done by the steady rain but growers with large plots of market strawberries were set back in their picking operations and state if there is no more moisture today, picking can get underway at noon. Farmers, who are badly short-handed, in getting in their hay crop are affected.

The official weather recorder at the Filtration Park showed a rainfall of 1.29 inches lasting about three hours. Sunday holiday seekers had to abandon various expeditions but, judging from the constant stream of vehicular traffic, most people made a start on their various afternoon drives.

Beauty of Trent Waterway Extolled By Clevelander

"Follow the rivers if you want to meet the real people of a country or district," said C. F. (Shep) Shepherd of Cleveland, Ohio, in an informative address at the Junior Chamber of Commerce Ladies' Night held at Viamede, Stony Lake. Mr. Shepherd and his family, the crew of the Poly-Wog when in 1946 it sailed 2,300 miles on the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, and later in 1947, 1,780 miles through the eastern United States, Quebec and eastern Ontario.

"Peterborough is no exception to the rule that we find in our travels along rivers and canals," said Mr. Shepherd. "Courtesy and hospitality are extended on every occasion."

Speaking about the George St. wharf, Mr. Shepherd said he understood that water supplies would presently be available, but at the time he arrived, "the hose has not been connected."

"Your Trent Canal system is one of the finest avenues of travel to this country," he said, "and you should make that fact known. Through this channel you can attract more water craft carrying tourists in this district." Mr. Shepherd said that the charts sent to him by the Trent Canal authorities were extremely good, and service prompt. "They are current issues, and a supplement is supplied. We haven't been in trouble yet."

In his informative address, sparked with humorous anecdotes, Mr. Shepherd told of the trials and tribulations encountered by the Poly-Wog and its crew. During the 1947 cruise, he said, when the Poly-Wog circled the Statue of Liberty, "it's eyebrows lifted three feet."

Doug Vaisey, tourist committee chairman, introduced the speaker, and Marlow Banks, speaker's committee, expressed the appreciation of the meeting.

During the short business session reports were made by Don Craig (membership,) Bill Swiss, D. Vaisey and Rae McWilliams (Jaycee Jamboree).

Mrs. D. J. Delaney speaking on behalf of the ladies thanked the Jaycees for the ladies' night program.

Priests Honor Father Butler

During the annual retreat last week for the priests of the diocese of Peterborough, the Rev. Peter P. Butler of St. Peter's Cathedral was honored with a presentation from the clergy on the occasion of his completion of 25 years in the priesthood.

The Very Rev. Dean J. V. McAuley of Lindsay spoke of Father Butler's excellent work in various parts of the diocese and wished him more years of activity and fruitful administration. The presentation was made by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. J. O'Brien of Peterborough.

Father Butler in grateful reply expressed appreciation of the help and inspiration he had received from his brother priests during the last 25 years.

The Rev. P. P. Butler and the late Rev. J. T. Finn were ordained Feb. 11, 1923 at St. Peter's Cathedral by the Most Rev. M. J. O'Brien, deceased, then bishop of Peterborough.

Father Butler was assistant at the three Peterborough churches and at St. Michael's, Cobourg, before assuming charge of Kinmount parish and its missions in 1931. He served there until he became pastor at Grafton in Nov. 1943. He succeeded Father Finn at St. Peter's Oct. 1946.

Plane To Dust Peas Grounded By Rain

Rain this morning grounded the Levens Brothers plane that arrived here about 5 a.m. Saturday to dust field of late variety of peas that are in contract with Canada Packers. The insecticide that is being sprayed in dust form is rotenone of derris root base.

There is enough of the material on hand to do 150 acres as a means of checking aphids. Ground conditions prevented take-off, and work was suspended indefinitely. No one was worrying about the effect of the switch to wet weather. Information was to the effect that if it remains three hours after application, it is beyond any concern about rain. It is said to be potent even several months after dusting.

Post Notices Along Ri ver And Little Lake Water Contaminated, Unfit For Swimming

Swimming warnings and restrictions of last year are being renewed by Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH.

"We have just completed an extensive test of our local waters, and they show no appreciable change from last year. That means swimming is recommended in the river north of the CPR bridge, but not to the south of it, in Little Lake and even further down."

Dr. Kelly said the health department was again placarding the contaminated stretches of water. He also appealed to parents to warn their children not to swim in those areas.

"There is nothing wrong with the water in the canal at Maria St., and swimming in the canal is all right," Dr. Kelly said. "But the lake . . . the tests are just the same as last year's and that means no swimming in that water, and down the river, too."

Graves Of 278 Oddfellows Are Decorated

Heavy rain Sunday afternoon reduced the number at the annual Decoration Day service of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, with not more than 300 people attending the service at Little Lake cemetery.

The parade assembled at the lodge rooms on George St. and marched to Confederation Square, where a wreath was laid on the War Memorial by Noble Grands Gordon Myles of Peterborough lodge and Jack Sage of Otonabee lodge, in memory of the Peterborough members who had lost their lives in both World Wars After the laying of the wreaths, "Last Post" and 'Reveille" was played and the parade marched off to the cemetery led by the Salvation Army band.

Owing to the bad weather, a shortened service was held at Little Lake cemetery, which was a blaze of color with nearly every grave decorated with flowers. The Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Presbyterian church, gave a short address, in which he said that all have an appointment with edtah, but that the power of death was taken away by Christ and people need fear death no more.

The chairman at the service was Herbert Frost, head of the decoration day committee, and he was assisted by Noble Grand Gordon Myles and Chaplain Jack Sage.

After the short service, wreaths were laid on the Oddfelows' lot by Stan Gillespie of Picton and Max Northey of Peterborough. Groups of Oddfellows then laid 278 bouquets on the graves of former members.

Among those present at the ceremony was Command Senior Warden of the Grand Encampment of Ontario, Lyle Wilson, of Cobourg, and District Deputy Grand Master Fred Vvash of Peterborough. Section leaders who assisted in the decoration of graves were R. R. Ford, R. Martin, Joseph Lancashire, William Townsley, F. Seaford, George Worboy, Donald Irks and C. Gardner. William Allbury was in charge of wreaths and flowers, and the secretary of the decoration day committee was William Petrie.

The service was held under the ausnices of Otonabee Lodge No. 13 and Peterborough Lodge No. 111. The Cantons of Cobourg and Trenton, the L.A.P.M. of Trenton and Peterborough Golden Link Lodge No. 81 also attended the service.

Explosion Breaks Large Window

LINDSAY, June 28 (ENS)—An oil burner exploded blew out three foot plate plate window of McIntosh Motors on Lindsay St. on Sunday afternoon. Fire Chief Clifford Campbell, assumed that surplus water from the heavy rains seeped into the basement and caused a short circuit in connection with the oil burner. "We had no difficulty putting out the fire", he said. Only one employee, Felix Fox, was in the building at the time, phoning his employer, Mr. A. McIntosh via long distance in Bobcaygeon. Fox stated that the office door suddenly blew shut and heavy explosion followed. "I felt the shock but am none the worse from the explosion," he said.

UNUSUAL GOOD LUCK

Ed. Byers and George Elliott, both of the Nashua Paper Company had a grand fishing spree at Young's Point, Saturday night They caught their limit of six pickerel in less than two hours, using plugs as bait. They refused to be too specific about the location of the fishing spot, except to say it was near the Point. The catch is unusual in that the walleyes have not been striking too well during the past two weeks.

MISSING NEARLY THREE YEARS after a raid on Luetzendorf, FO (Matt) F. E. Sargent has been identified as one of the occupants of a mass grave of 20 flyers found near that target. His remains have been reinterred near Berlin. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Sargent, 346 Stewart St. His wife and infant daughter live in Bobcaygeon.

Grave Of Flier Found; Missing 3 Years

Grave of Flying Officer Mathew Frederick E. Sergeant, who was reported missing after a raid on Luetzendorf, Germany, in April, 1945, has been discovered, RCAF headquarters has announced.

The 21-year-old air gunner was buried in a mass grave shared by 19 others of his flying comrades, three miles beyond the target. Identification has been completed and his remains have been reinterred in a British military cemetery, eight miles east of Berlin.

His wife, the former Helen Henderson, and daughter live in Bobcaygeon and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Sergeant, reside at 346 Stewart St. Next of kin was immediately informed.

A former member of St. John's Church Rover Crew, he enlisted in August, 1942, and trained at Brantford, Toronto, Quebec City and Mont Joli; he instructed at Mountain View Bombing and Gunnery School. He received his commission before going overseas in August, 1944, and is believed to have begun his tour of operations the following February.

FO Sergeant was born in Campbellford but came to Peterborough 11 years ago. He became assistant cubmaster at St. John's Anglican Church, and an active member of the Rover Scouts. Formerly he had been in both Cubs and Scouts in Campbellford where he was trained by his father.

Before enlisting he was employed at the Peterborough Lock Company for six years.

Misinformed Tourists Plan To Haul Groceries Here; Buddy Mails Grocery Ads

In advance of the Glorious Fourth, tourists from south of the border are coming through Peterborough in goodly numbers. One restaurant operator on George St. said he had the largest tourist receipts of the year on Sunday as Americans crowded the establishment. There are a good many shopping in Main St. stores this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Griglak, Perryopolis, Pa., with children A. J. and Toni and friend Watson Blair came in from Chemong Lake where they have a cottage for two weeks. It is the Griglak's second year here but Mr. Blair has been coming for many seasons. The men are in readiness for the opening of the fishing season and are whiling away the few remaining days on walleye fishing at Lakefield and Young's Point. Mrs. Griglak was impressed with the quantity and quality of ready-made clothing to be found in city stores and also the cheaper prices of groceries.

Some Americans, however, have been grossly misinformed about grocery prices in Canada. Ollie Herman of Massillon, Ohio, vacationing at Hastings, came into the Examiner today to get clippings of grocery prices to send to a party of his friends back home who are planning a trip soon into the Nipissing country. They were advised that food was so high that they had determined to bring a trailer-load of edibles with them. Mr. Herman's proof of current prices, which he is mailing them today, will dispel that question entirely.

There is a group of seven Ohio Bell men employees visiting at a resort just east of Harwood for two weeks. This holiday routine has been going on for the past 14 years for them and they return a second time through the season and bring their families. They are completely sold on the Rice lake district and are waiting anxiously for the summer fishing season to commence. The members of the party are R. E. Kirk, P. H. Policy, E. J. McKenna, Ray Weinks, T. R. Brown, J. L. Cummings and Sam Defago. The first two men came to the city this morning to have an outboard motor repaired and were greatly pleased to know of the good immediate service that the factory offers and were also impressed with prompt garage service. They asked directions to the Peterborough Bell Telephone building to see what sort of equipment was being used here.

Pick Tomatoes In Ten Days Gardener Says

"We may be picking tomatoes in ten days," Harold Johnston, Crawford's Grove, remarked to The Examiner today.

"Of course, that fruit would be from the 6,000 potted plants we set out for an early crop. Any way the fact is we have had no set-back from the weather. We put out head lettuce on April 25. That crop has been taken off, the rest plowed in and have carrots planted in that place.

Potatoes look wonderful. I know there are some leaf-hoppers that are active, but the plants are growing faster than any harm those bugs can do. I think carrots are ready for the market. There is every prospect of a big raspberry crop.

"As for strawberries, we haven't so many of those plants, but it was obvious this morning that the weather was holding up picking and marketing."

Fruit stores expected today the peak of the strawberry season, but the bushes and ground were too wet for work, entailing a lost morning if not the entire day, with some of the fruit showing slight damage. There may be a picking today that will put berries in the stores Tuesday.

Filipino Star Confesses Slaying Actress

MANILA, June 28 — (AP). — Authorities said today a Filipino film star has confessed the knife-slaying of his beautiful, dark-haired leading lady, Lilian Velez, and her maid.

City attorney Jose Fernandez said that Narding Anzures, 21-year-old hero of several of Miss Velez' screen thrillers, admitted plunging a hunting knife into her while they sat in her home in suburban Quezon city early Sunday.

The actress' four-year-old daughter, Vivian, told police earlier she had peeked through a crack in her bedroom door and had seen the slaying. Police said the tot named Anzures, a close friend of the family, as the slayer.

Fernandez said he expected to file charges against the actor later today. He quoted Anzures as saying:

"I did it. I don't know what happened or how. I was under a spell. I do funny things sometimes and everything goes blank."

Miss Velez' husband, Jose Climaco, a night club entertainer and manager, said he knew of no motive for the slaying. Fernandez said Anzures told him: "I've been there (the actress' home) on many occasions."

½ cup Crown Brand Corn Syrup
½ cup white sugar
3½ to 4 tbspns. Benson's Corn Starch
½ tspn. salt
¼ cup cold milk
2 eggs, separated
1 tbspn. butter (optional)
1 tspn. vanilla

Scald milk in top of double boiler over boiling water; add grated chocolate. When chocolate is melted add Crown Brand Corn Syrup and sugar; blend with rotary beater. Blend Benson's Corn Starch and salt with cold milk; add to hot mixture and cook, stirring constantly, until smooth and thick. Cover and continue cooking 10 minutes. Add well-beaten egg yolks and cook 3 minutes longer. Remove from heat, add butter and vanilla. Beat until creamy. Pour into 9" baked shell and top with meringue prepared from the two egg whites remaining.

Four Men Have Led Liberal Party In Canada Since Confederation

By R. K. CARNEGIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

OTTAWA, June 28 (CP)—The national Liberal leader chosen at the party's August convention here will be the fifth since Confederation.

The Liberal party was formed shortly after the Union of Upper and Lower Canada in 1841 by a merger of the Upper Canada Reformers and the Lower Canada Patriots, often called the Rouges. The merger closed divisions among the Reformers who were variously classed as Whigs, Radicals and Clear Grits.

At the first election after Confederation, George Brown — regarded by many as Liberal leader —was defeated in his constituency. The party, augmented by Liberals from the Maritime provinces, looked around for a leader. Alexander Mackenzie, who was editor of The Lambton Shield and sat for that Ontario county, was chosen.

Mr. Mackenzie's leadership was successful and in 1873 he became prime minister and led his party to victory in the general election of 1874. He remained leader until ill-health forced him to retire five years later. In a few months, Edward Blake, brilliant Toronto lawyer, was chosen to succeed him. He sat for West Durham until he retired in 1887 after his party's defeat in a general election, and Wilfrid (later Sir Wilfrid) Laurier was chosen to succeed him.

Sir Wilfrid remained leader until his death in February, 1919, and a national convention the following August named W. L. Mackenzie King as the new leader.

Mr. King was the first leader to be chosen by a national convention, all his predecessors being elected at party caucauses comprising members of parliament and the senate.

The national Liberal leaders and the dates they held office follow:

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie — 1868 to 1879.

Hon. Edward Blake—1880 to 1887.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier— 1887 to 1919.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King —1919 until today.

June Finnie Becomes Bride Of John Dolan Saturday

A setting of orange blossoms and peonies, banked with palms was in Mark St. United Church Saturday for the wedding of Margaret June Finnie and Mr. John Dolan. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Finnie, Armor Rd., and the groom is a son of Mrs. Agnes Dolan, Dickson St., and the late Mr. Dolan. The marriage vows were solemnized by the Rev. A. M. Partridge and Mrs. Cecil Searles played the wedding music. Before the ceremony Miss Dorothy McNeely sang "The Lord's Prayer" and afterward "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister Miss Doris Finnie as maid of honor, her cousin Miss Joan Pue of Lakefield as bridesmaid, and Miss Marilyn Monk, niece of the groom as flower girl. Mr. Melville Dolan was groomsman for his brother and ushers were Wm. Thompson and Desmond Dolan.

Ivory satin, fashioned on princess lines with a panel of lace down the front and a slight train at back, was the bride's choice for her wedding. It was fastened down the back with tiny covered buttons and had long sleeves with lily points over her hands. She wore a fingertip veil caught with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of Bettertime roses centred with blue-white carnations. The maid of honor and bridesmaid wore identical gowns of periwinkle blue taffeta with slight trains, styled with square neckline and cap sleeves, and had gloves of the same material. The flower girl was in pale green taffet made in the same style with mittens to match. Each wore fresh yellow roses and blue delphiniums in their hair and carried crescents of white gladioli, delphiniums and yellow roses.

The reception was held in the YWCA where Mrs. Finnie received wearing a dress of rose eyelet silk jersey, white straw hat with navy trim and her corsage was of white carnations with blue cornflower. Mrs. Dolan also received and was gowned in light blue crepe with white hat and wore a corsage of pale pink roses.

For her wedding trip to Detroit the bride donned a navy taffeta dress, straw hat and accessories of white and wore white gardenias on her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. Dolan will reside on Aylmer St., Peterborough.

Oshawa Bride Marries Bethany Teacher

BETHANY, June 28. (ENS) — The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, 222 Kendal Ave., Oshawa on Saturday, of Phyllis McNeil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell McNeil, to Lawrence Walker Millson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lanson Millson, of Newtonville, with the Rev. J. V. McNeely officiating. The home was decorated with a profusion of pink and white peonies and the ceremony took place under an arch of pink and white streamers and orange blossoms. Mrs. John Fisher played the wedding music and Mrs. Bruce Sharrard sang "Oh Perfect Love" before the ceremony and "Because" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin styled with neckline inset of white net, shoulder frill of white satin tipped with tiny seed pearls, long fitted bodice, full skirt and train. Her veil was of white embroidered net, finger tip length, caught with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a boquet of red roses.

Miss Aileen Ogden was bridesmaid, wearing peach bengaline, made with sweetheart neckline, long fitted bodice and full skirt, with gloves of the same material. She wore a tiny halo of fresh cut blue carnations and carried a nosegay centred with peach gladidola petals, surrounded by pale blue carnations.

The best man was Mr. Leland Millson, brother of the groom. Mr. Samuel Turner, Bowmanville, was usher.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the King St. United Church hall where the bride's mother received, wearing a gown of pale blue silk jersey with white hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother, who also received, wore a black and cerise crepe frock with matching accessories and corsage of Talisman roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a trip to Muskoka. For travelling the bride wore a navy moire silk dress made in full skirted style, with bustle effect at the back, white accessories, corsage of gladioli. On their return they will live in Bethany, where the groom is principal of Bethany Continuation School.

Canadian Tea To Entertain German Women

Mrs. W. Addyman, president of Peterborough Local Council of Women, received a letter today from Mrs. K. M. Cowan, secretary of the National Council of Women in Great Britain, acknowledging receipt of a parcel of tea and items for entertaining, sent recently by the Council members. She advises the parcel has been sent to the hostess branch at Cambridge where ten German women have recently arrived to take a six week educational course, and they will be entertained at a "Canadian Tea". Mrs. Cowan also suggests an exchange of news of activities between the Councils of Peterborough, England, and Peterborough, Ontario, might prove most interesting.

Some money and supplies are on hand for a second parcel which can be sent as soon as sufficient donations come to hand.

A good standard meat loaf that is good both hot and cold is made by mixing 2 pounds stewing beef with ¼ pound suet or side bacon, 1 large onion finely ground, 2 cups soft breadcrumbs, 3 teaspoons salt, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons horseradish, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, and ¼ cup catsup or 2 tablespoons condiment sauce. Mix very well and turn into greased large loaf pan. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 1 hour. For a summer buffet meal this is delicious on a varied meat platter with sliced white liverwurst and cooked ham.

The Hard Cooked Eggs with Chive Sauce are a good emergency dish. Hard cook eggs; place on buttered toast triangles; pour over medium white sauce well-flavored with finely chopped chives; sprinkle finely grated old cheese over top.

Kolens of Reynaud, Saskatchewan. The groom is a son of Mrs. Shewen and the late E. T. Shewen of Lakefield. The marriage was solemnized at St. John's Anglican Church, Lakefield, by the groom's grandfather, the Rev. C. A. G. Spence.

Ronald Dick Wed in Toronto Will Reside in Ottawa

A pretty wedding was solemnized quietly on Saturday in St. John's Chapel of St. Michael's Church, Toronto, uniting in marriage Norma Mary-Alice Ross and Ronald Scott Dick. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Norman James Ross of Toronto and the late Florence Costigan Ross, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel S. Dick, Rubidge St., Peterborough.

She wore an off-the- face hat made of folds of the same material and carried a colonial bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Jean Ross, who was gowned in soft silver grey satin and wore a wine halo hat with velvet trim, tied under her chin with wine veiling, and carried a mixed bouquet of summer flowers.

The groom was attended by Mr. Patrick Gillen of Ottawa.

A reception followed at the bride's home where Mrs. Ross received about 30 guests. For the occasion she was gowned in rose crepe wearing navy mohair hat and corsage of mixed blue flowers. Mrs. Dick assisted to receive and was wearing an ankle-length gown of pale grey silk net with picture hat of black straw and mohair, pink silk net gloves and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

The bride and groom are on a honeymoon trip to New York city and on return will take up residence in Ottawa.

BOLERO BEACH BEAUTY—There isn't a beach anywhere that hasn't its quota of show-offs who delight in beach and resort clothes that are either underdone or overdone. But, by and large, the halter top frock with its matching bolero seems to be the big shore resort fashion, and very nice it is. This one is in printed rayon beach cloth. The dress and bolero are both in a white on blue star-like print. Above its white-piped waistline, the dress has a low cut bodice, also piped in white. The piping forms double string straps. The round-fronted, collarless bolero closes to a high neckline.

Woman Addicted to Flattery Considered Self-Centred

DEAR MISS DIX: I know a person who is a lovely lady to know until she starts repeating the compliments that she says people pay her, when, of course, she becomes a bore. She has actually gotten to the stage where she exists on flattery, says she can't live without it. When none is forthcoming, she make it up for herself. Little does she realize that people make fun of her behind her back and only put up with her because she is a very good entertainer and would be a good conversationalist if she didn't have to drop a compliment here and there about herself.

Dorothy Dix

Is there some way that a person of this type could be made to see how utterly vain she is becoming, and how she is being dropped because no one wishes to listen to another's self-praise?—OVERBORED.

ANSWER: Certainly no people in the world are more afflicting companions than the self-centred individuals whose sole topic of conversation is themselves. Self-preservation being the first law of nature, we flee from them for our lives to keep from being bored to death.

But I often wonder if these braggarts are not to be envied instead of criticized. For it is only the vain and self-satisfied who are absolutely contented with themselves. The balance of us worry over our faults and mistakes and blunders, but not the self-entered, and it must be a very soothing thing to feel that you are one of God's masterpieces that can't be improved upon.

Joy In Conceit

Just think, if you are a woman, what a joy it must be to go through life thinking you are perfectly beautiful, so fascinating that no man can resist you, so witty and intelligent that everyone hangs upon your words. Or, if you are a man, that you are the glass of fashion and the mold of form; that you are a devil among the ladies, and so wise that your opinion is authoritative on every subject. And, if you have children, that everyone of them is a paragon of good looks and talent.

Granted that the self-conceited are hard to endure, should we not permit the braggarts to blow their own horns when they get so much happiness out of it?

DEAR MISS DIX: What is a girl supposed to do when her fiance tells her in plain English that he is under the spell of another woman? He says he loves this girl and wants to go on seeing her, with the understanding that she knows about the Other Woman. The girl feels no jealousy whatsoever Does this mean she is not in love with the man, or is this a test of true love?

Would you consider it wise to continue dating him, or should she break off completely? He is an honest fellow. — A TRUE FRIEND.

ANSWER: Well, I'd say, also in plain English, that if the girl has any self-respect whatsoever that she would give this young chap his walking papers. Certainly no man could give his fiance a harder slap in the face, or one more uncalled for than to tell her that he has fallen for the fascinations of another woman, but would like to keep her as a sort of reserve in case his current romance went blooey.

That is adding insult to injury, and any girl who wouldn't resent it must be, indeed, a Patient Griselda. Inasmuch, however, as the jilted girl isn't jealous, perhaps she isn't in love with the man either, and is glad of a pretext for breaking off the engagement. Certainly for a girl to be willing to share the man she is engaged to is no test of true love. Women are not made that way. They are looking for partnership husbands.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl in senior high school, planning to go to college to study to be a social worker. Is there enough money and opportunity for advancement in this work to make it worthwhile to make it one's career? I like this work, but I really enjoy police work and would like to do that, but my mother thinks it is foolish. What do you think?—UNDECIDED.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Being a social worker is a fine career for a woman and one in which she can do a great and necessary work, as well as make a good living. However, if you enjoy police work, why not qualify for that?

It is you who should decide on your life work. Mothers are nearly all committed to the hope that their daughters will marry, so they think that it isn't worthwhile for them to go in for a career seriously.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, June 29

According to the generally adverse planetary positions, it will require more than ordinary vigilance, sagacity and astute management if the affairs of this day escape disruption, distrust, suspicion and far-reaching duplicity. In all avenues there are signs of undercover dealings, with subtle machinations and sinister intent. Such may alienate the interest and ready support of those in high positions, whose pursestrings may be drawn tightly for their own security and financial benefit. Private and romantic affairs share in this tricky and malefic menace.

Those whose birthday it is, are advised to be vigilant and prepared for all sorts of underhand, disloyal and disruptive influences affecting real possessions as well as all contacts concerning the personal and home life, romantic affiliations and other intimate concerns. Finances, career, happiness, progress are under a cloud of suspicion, treachery and intrigue, with subtlety and craftiness at the root of all plans and associations. Postpone action, while remaining watch at every step. Make no false moves.

A child born on this day may be an easy victim to strange influences, intrigues and illusive impulses, affecting it success and standing in life, with little defense from its superiors.

Circus Delights CGE Children

Parked on the hillside above the platform at the west end of Nicholls Oval on Saturday night, a solid bank of 5,000 people thrilled to the daring acrobatics that were part and parcel of the CGE picnic.

Two performers who were rated boys were the slack-wire [illegible] who balanced atop a metal pole held by her partner.

The children had their special favorites, too. Best of all for them was a pony, dog, monkey act that drew oh's and ah's from the children, who seemed to concentrate in the first five rows in front of the stand.

After the circus was over, the children went home happy, though some doubtless had stomach-ches after the excitement, pop, ice cream and hot dogs.

From 9 to 12, the parents held sway in the Oval. Music was provided for dancing, and they made the most of it. By 12 o'clock, only a few remained, and the Oval was silent for the first time in hours.

Farmer Wins $160

BRANTFORD, June 28—(CP)—J. W. Maus, South Dumfries Township farmer who claimed fly sprayers killed two of his steers, won $160 in court. When the steers died, Maus refused to pay the spraying company. The company sued him for $190 and won. Maus sued for $350 damages to compensate for the steers' death and he also won. The company will deduct the spraying fee from the damages they owe the farmer and pay him $160.

NON-SKID BREADBOARD

A breadboard may be kept from skidding on a smooth table when kneading dough if jar rubbers are glued to its under surface.

MORE THAN 8,000 employees and their families of the CGE took part as spectators or participants in a well-organized picnic on Saturday at Nicholls Oval; events ran from 1:30 p.m. until 7 p.m., followed by a circus and dancing till midnight. There were races, golf, baitcasting, horseshows and special draw prizes. Typical of the large juvenile audience who were too small to see some events, little Mary Fraser sits on father Harry's shoulder in Left photo. In the draw prize in the fathers and mothers groups, Top right, Harold Porter, and Mrs. Muriel Hurl, Lakefield, are congratulated by works manager I. F. McRae. 8,000 Attend CGE Picnic Weather Conditions Ideal

Blue skies and a skirling pipe band set up Saturday afternoon for the kids at the CGE picnic. They had a perfect day, though some got lost and others managed to cut themselves on broken glass. But the majority stuck with the family or the gang.

The parents had themselves a time, too. Although their show came later in the evening when most of the children were home in bed, Saturday turned out as well for parents as for the young ones.

Hundreds of bottles of pop poured down as many dry throats, and even more ice cream cones were licked down to the last melting drop by nearly 8,000 people wandering through shady Nicholls Oval, looking at races, listening to bands, and watching soccer and softball games.

Judges and traffic guides sweated under white helmets as they directed races and traffic. Half-a-dozen volunteers shouted and talked into microphones until they were hoarse.

"Uh-Uh! Park over here, Mac." ..."What's your name, little girl?"..."I'm not going to look after Billy. Dad said you were supposed to."..."Mom! Hey, Mom! Look at the ponies!"

"Will Jack Smith report to the secretary's tent?"..."Mrs. Jones, your son has been crying in the St. John tent for half-an-hour now. Will you please come and get him?"..."Hey, mister! What time is it? Eight o'clock! I'm supposed to be home at seven."

Nurses in the St. John Ambulance tent handled nearly 300 lost children, and 25 children with minor cuts and bruises. A boy of about nine had people worried for a while when he was brought unconscious to the tent. Five minutes later, he was back with his family, and running around as he had planned.

Girls in light blouses looked pityingly at men who wore ties and suitcoats, and even men who wore only T-shirts and slacks looked at the girls in shorts.

Wins Refrigerator

Winner of the grand prize, an electric refrigerator, was Mr. J. V. Shaughnessy, Bridgenorth. Mrs. Lily A. Jennings took home a brand-new washing machine.

Forty events were handled efficiently by a group of 15 judges and recorders. In an exhibition soccer match, a team from the Davenport works of the CGE in Toronto defeated the Peterborough works team by a score of 6 to 3.

Following are the results:

Expect Beef Embargo To US Will Be Lifted In July

OTTAWA, June 28 (CP)—The American Livestock Market, when it is opened to Canadian beef cattle, will be real bonanza.

Reports have been current for weeks that the government plans to lift the ban on cattle shipments to the United States. All the government will say is that negotiations to this end are making "good progress. However, the general expectation is that the removal of the embargo will be announced in July.

Once the decision is made, the Canadian beef cattle producer stands to get his share—and more. Under the Geneva trade agreement, the United States will allow some 400,000 head of cattle into its market from this continent. The other participant is Mexico.

But Mexico, unfortunately for the Mexican cattle producers and luckily for the Canadians, is fighting an epidemic of hoof-and-mouth disease. Until this outbreak is overcome stringent American import regulations bar the import of Mexican livestock and the Mexican quota will go to Canada, with the result that Canadians will be able to ship the full 400,000 head allowed.

So Busy

Parliament has noticed a trend towards a busier Senate which, with new members, may see it more active than ever next session.

The government leader, Senator Wishart Robertson told the chamber at one of its last sittings of this session that it had done a record amount of government business. Twenty-four government bills were initiated there compared to 15 last year and eight in 1946.

The next session will probably see a lot of the present 13 vacancies plugged with new appointments and that should mean a new spurt of life.

Labor Legislation

It is regarded as pretty certain here that the governor-in-council will reject the application of labor organizations for disallowance of Prince Edward Island's new labor legislation.

This legislation outlaws unions affiliated with national or international organizations.

It is understood that the government has decided the issue on the over-riding principle that the provinces are to be given a free hand in their own field and that in this case they have not impinged on Federal authority.

CENTRAL BRIDGE Company, Limited Trenton, Ontario

Swimming, canoeing, rowing, sailing, fishing—these enter into most vacation plans. But too often, holidays bring tragedies—over 1000 Canadians drown each year.

The Canadian Red Cross Society water safety rules are printed here in the hope that both adults and children will learn them, respect them, and obey them.

RED CROSS Rules for Water Safety

1. Learn to swim safely. Join a swim class sponsored by Red Cross or other recognized organizations. Know your own limitations as a swimmer.
2. Learn artificial respiration. The briefest delay in applying it may cost a life.
3. Where to swim. If possible, swim in a supervised area. Investigate unknown water before swimming or diving. Respect "DANGER" signs.
4. When to swim. Late morning and afternoon are the safest hours in which to swim.
5. Temperature and time. Between 70° and 80° is best (warmer water relaxes too much, colder exhausts). 30 minutes is long enough in the water for the average swimmer.
6. Swimming after eating. Wait at least 2 hours after eating a regular meal before swimming.
7. Panic contributes to most accidents. Learn to scull and tread water. Novices must stay in shallow water while learning to swim.
8. Exhaustion. Avoid over-activity before a swim. Over-exertion while swimming, and extremely cold water also contribute to exhaustion.
9. Always have a companion when fishing, swimming or boating. Never swim alone.
10. Reaching aids. Learn how to use all reaching aids; how to use floating objects to support yourself; how to throw handline and ring buoy.
11. Cramps. If hit by stomach cramps, scull to support yourself and call for help. To ease leg cramps, take a deep breath, submerge, and seize cramped muscles with thumb and fingers of one hand, pressing through the muscles to meet those of the other hand.
12. Currents. Never buck a current. Swim diagonally across and with its flow. If unable to reach shore, drift to save strength and call for help. If caught by an undertow, go with it and swim diagonally upwards to the surface.
13. Weeds. Use gentle, slow drawing and shaking movements to get out of weeds. Swim with the current, not against it, until freed.
14. Boating. If capsized, hang onto the boat and call for help. Never enter a canoe unless you are an experienced, competent swimmer.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WHEN ALL SPOTS COUNT

IF THE CONTRACT is in No Trumps, the number of spots on the small cards may prove decisive. That factor counts much more in No Trump play than in a suit contract, in which there may be only one to three rounds of tricks in any single side suit, with later rounds trumped by one side or the other. In No Trumps there is nearly always some one suit, sometimes more than one, in which all of the cards get played on leads of that suit, so that the relative size of two or more low ones on a late trick of the suit decides who gets the trick. And the question of who takes that particular trick may determine whether the contract is made or beaten.

(Dealer: East. Neither side vulnerable.)

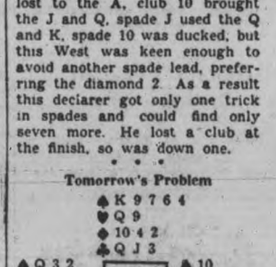
East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1 NT	Dbl
2 ♣	2 ♠	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♥	Pass	3 NT

That bidding was funny enough, with one side reaching a No Trump game after the opponents had opened with a No Trump bid. But it happened at two tables of a match-point pair game. It produced a game at one table, whereas none of those who reached a game in the four-four heart suit managed to bring their contract home.

The single game-maker had to get a bit of help, as it developed. East opened the spade J because North did not seem to like that suit after his partner bid it in response to the double. This trick brought out the Q and K, and West returned his 10. South was smart enough to duck that with the 3, whereupon West did just what the declarer hoped, led the 6. When that turned the 7 into a trick-taker, South was overjoyed. Normal play the rest of the way enabled him to add three tricks in hearts and two each in the minors to the brace of spade tricks to have the nine he needed.

That contract was set by entirely different defense. The club 5 brought the K and A, heart K lost to the A, club 10 brought the J and Q, spade J used the Q and K, spade 10 was ducked, but this West was keen enough to avoid another spade lead, preferring the diamond 2. As a result this declarer got only one trick in spades and could find only seven more. He lost a club at the finish, so was down one.

Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

If against East's 4-Hearts, South scores the spade A and repeats the suit, what card should be led by him and what played by North?

Obituaries

MRS. EDNA LIGHTBOURNE

LINDSAY, June 28—Daughter of the late Mayor R. M. Beal, Mrs. Edna Lightbourne died Saturday. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. K. B. Sylvester, and two brothers, Arthur and S. P. Beal, all of Lindsay.

HELEN BAPTIE LOUGH

Helen Baptie Lough of Ida died Sunday at her residence after a lengthy illness. She was born in the district, daughter of the late William Lough and Helen Baptie, one of the pioneer families of Cavan township.

She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Robert McCamus (Elgin) and Miss Jean Lough and a brother, Roy, all live in the Ida district. Another sister, Mrs. (Rev.) William Simpson (Vivian), predeceased her. She was a devoted member of St. John's Anglican Church Ida.

Miss Lough received her education at Millbrook, Peterborough Collegiate Institute and attended university in Philadelphia, Pa., where she received the Bachelor of Elocution degree. She taught school for many years, first at the Home School (Beechwood), in Cavan, later in Tweed and finally for 30 years in Ottawa.

Prayers will be said at the family residence before the funeral service which will be held at St. John's Anglican Church on Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. The Rev. C. M. MacLean will officiate and burial will be at St. John's Cemetery.

JOHN McGLYNN

A long illness resulted Saturday in the death of John McGlynn at his home, 201 Rutherford Ave., Saturday. He was 82 years old.

Mr. McGlynn was born at Lindsay, son of John McGlynn and his wife, Catherine Doughlass. He had lived in Peterborough 45 years. He was a baker. He is survived by his sons, William, Detroit; Percy and James of Peterborough; and his sisters, Mrs. Winni Beck, and Mrs. Bertha Broomhead, Toronto. Mr. McGlynn was a member of St. Peter's parish.

The funeral will be Tuesday at 9 a.m. from the funeral home of Thos. J. Lane & Son, Hunter St. to St. Peter's Cathedral. Burial will be at St. Peter's Cemetery.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

BOOTH ENTERED

Four cartons of cigarettes were taken from the Lions-operated refreshment booth at Riverside ball park. The theft took place sometime during Sunday night, city detectives believe. Entrance was gained by forcing up the drop-leaf counter of the booth. A large stock of cigarettes, soft drinks and other refreshments were not disturbed.

MARKET MANY FLOWERS

The Market square was a mass of multi-colored blooms on Saturday in preparation for Decoration Day on Sunday. Sweet William and Canterbury bells predominated, although there were some peonies as well. Eggs and chickens were not selling well, but strawberries were popular at 25 cents a quart. Green peas appeared for the first time at 75 cents a six-quart basket. There was also lettuce, green onions and some asparagus.

WHITE HEADED ROBIN

A partly albino robin with a white head is nesting at George St. church parsonage on Water St. Another partly white bird is reported at Stewart Hall near Otonabee. These albino robins are very rare, and only one or two are reported in the district every year. With the considerable increase in the population of robins during the past few years, it is possible that these oddities may become more common.

AID B.C. FLOOD VICTIMS

Contributions to aid British Columbia flood victims will be accepted by the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce. The fund is not sponsored by them, but they are acting as agents for the organizers. Contributions will be sent from here to B.C. through Chamber of Commerce channels. Several donations have already been received.

Deny Question Asked

PHILADELPHIA, June 28. — (AP).—The Associated Press erroneously reported Friday that Governor Thomas E. Dewey said he would put a woman in the cabinet if he were elected. The Associated Press reported the Republican presidential nominee was asked at a press conference whether he would put a woman in the cabinet and that he replied: "Definitely yes." A spokesman at Dewey's headquarters here said last night, however, that the question never was put.

Lakefield Library To Open One Night

LAKEFIELD, June 28—(ENS)—The Lakefield Library Board decided that the Library would be open only on Friday nights, from 7 to 9 p.m., during the holiday months, but Librarian Mrs. J. W. Ridpath stated that anyone wishing to exchange books more often could do so by contacting the librarian in the mornings.

On motion of Everett Sloan and Mrs. Wm. Whetung, the librarian was instructed to write the different organizations in the village regarding grants for the Library. The members of any organization making a donation to the Library would be given a free membership to the Library and have the privilege of suggesting new books.

During April the Library was open 17 times with a total circulation of 885 books, of which 395 were adult and 490 juvenile. Fees and fines amounted to $2.45. Fifteen new members joined during the month.

In May the total circulation was 803 books. Of these 358 were adult books and 445 juvenile. Fees and fines amounted to $2.35.

Since January 128 books have been added to the Library, mostly for adults.

A most acceptable gift of six books were received through the Daughters of the Empire. The official IODE magazine is now placed in the reading room.

A donation of three Dave Dawson books was received from Ronald Kingdon.

Additional copies of "Jack and Jill" and "Wee Wisdom"—children's magazines, which are greatly in demand, are being ordered.

The grants were received from the Department of Education and from the village.

Attending the meeting were Reeve W. C. Grant, Principal Everett Sloan, Mrs. William Whetung, Mrs. Ken Jakins, Mrs. Reg. Doubt (chairman) and Mrs. W. J. Ridpath (librarian).

IMPERIAL SARNIA, LARGEST tanker ever built in a Canadian shipyard, takes the water in a perfect broadside launching at Collingwood Shipyards Saturday. The 6,500-ton ship, 390 feet long and 53 feet wide, was launched in a basin only 93 feet wide. She will be completed in September.

Criticizes Delays

OTTAWA, June 28 — (CP) — John Blackmore (SC — Lethbridge) said Friday night the Government should be "ashamed" that Canadian veterans of the Hong Kong campaign have not been "rewarded as heroes." Speaking during study of Defence Department estimates, he said the 2,000-odd men sent to Hong Kong were "untrained, largely because Canada was not properly prepared."

Rain Unable To Budge Havelock Berry Fans

HAVELOCK, June 28 (ENS)—Misses Ruby and Annie McIntyre entertained a number of their fellow employees from the needle department of the Canada Needle and Fishing Tackle Co. at their home Wednesday evening. It was a strawberry social.

Owing to the heavy rain the event took place in the house instead of on the lawn as planned.

Games were enjoyed. Miss Margaret was the prize winner in a contest and the consolation award went to Miss Wilma Emery.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

IT PAYS TO PRAISE

For too many of us it's easier to find fault and to criticise than to look for the good points in others. But isn't it better to overlook small irritations and petty annoyances . . . and give a word of praise whenever it is deserved? A kindly word from you often encourages and inspires the other fellow to better efforts. It's a small thing in itself, but it creates a warmer understanding. Friendly encouragement and unselfish interest in others prove your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

NB Liberals Sweep Back Hold 47 Out of 52 Seats

FREDERICTON, June 29—(CP).—The Liberal Government of Premier John B. McNair swept back into power in New Brunswick Monday with its majority strongly bolstered. Although rain fell in some sections, a heavy turnout at the polls gave Liberals 47 of the 52 seats in the province's largest House since Confederation.

This was the standing, compared to the result of the 1944 election when the House contained 48 members:

	1948	1944
Lib.	47	36
PC	5	12
Total	52	48

The Conservatives' 12 seats after the 1944 election dropped to 11 when a by-election was won by E. Claude Seeley, an Independent candidate, in Saint John County. Totals at House prorogation last May were: Liberals, 36; Progressive Conservatives, 11; Independents, 1.

Incomplete Canadian Press tabulations indicated the final vote will be lower than the 1944 record of 584,016 votes which included more than 64,000 in Gloucester, this year was taken by acclamation by the Liberals.

This total is not the number of voters but the number of votes cast. Each of the 17 ridings has more than one seat.

The Liberals gained 57.4 per cent of the votes compared to their 1944 total of 48.3 per cent. The Conservatives fell from 40 per cent in 1944 to 31 per cent.

On the basis of its trend-analysis of early returns, the Canadian Press indicated re-election of the government with an increased majority one hour and 40 minutes after polls closed.

CCF Fail to Place

The CCF which placed a total of 20 candidates in the field, failed to elect a member as did the Social Credit, which placed five standard-bearers in the field in its first bid in New Brunswick.

Eight independents, one of whom held a seat in the last Legislature, all failed to gain representation.

The lone woman candidate, Mrs. Gladys West, who ran under the CCF banner in Queens County, was among those defeated.

Violent Storms End Wednesday

By The Canadian Press

Central Ontario's violent thunder storms and torrential rains were expected to continue today and end Wednesday.

In the Toronto area Monday, a series of electrical storms caused slight property damage, street flooding and inconvenience to thousands of workers. Late Monday afternoon Stratford was drenched by a heavy rain of almost cloudburst proportions, accompanied by thunder and lightning. At almost the same time a raging windstorm tore roofs from houses and barns, smashed a cement-block chickenhouse and uprooted trees at the York County town of Wexford.

Dominion weather forecasters at Malton, near Toronto, said the two-day spell of thunder and rain storms was due to slacken in the Windsor district early Tuesday. By Wednesday, the rest of Southern and Southwestern Ontario should see the last of them.

The disturbances were said to be caused by warm Gulf of Mexico air which came up the eastern United States seaboard and clashed with cool Canadian air.

800 Trained Jews Land Off Arms Ship

TEL AVIV, June 28 (delayed) —(AP)—The tightest censorship since the truce began was clamped down last week on a story that 800 trained European and American Jews of military age were said to have landed in Israel from the Irgun Zvai Leumi arms ship Altalena.

These are the facts which censorship kept secret until now.

On the first day of the landing, the Associated Press was told by Irgun sources, by persons living in the landing area and by Hebrew correspondents who went to that area that 800 to 900 "new immigrants" were landed safely.

When the Israeli army had destroyed the Aaltalena in Tel Aviv Bay, Menachem Beigin, commander of Irgun, declared in a broadcast that the ship had brought in 800 men and six women.

Russ Troops May Be Sent Against Tito

Say Kremlin Anxious To Get Army Inside Yugoslavia

PRAGUE, June 29 — (AP). — American diplomatic sources in Rome said today Russia may be building up a case to send troops to Yugoslavia.

The Kremlin-ruled Cominform —international Communist information bureau—denounced the Communist rulers of the Balkan country Monday. Premier Marshal Tito, his whereabouts still a mystery, was castigated by name and told in effect either to adhere to the party line or be replaced. Tanjug, the official Yugoslav news agency, said it expected a statement from Tito today.

The Italian radio said martial law was declared in Yugoslavia, but a dispatch telephoned from Belgrade to Prague said this was emphatically denied in the Yugoslav capital.

The Belgrade correspondent of The Associated Press said there was a story that martial law was declared around Nis, near the Bulgarian border, to allow police and soldiers to evacuate persons from a flood zone. The story could not be confirmed because of poor communications.

The Cominform had accused Tito and other Communist leaders of pursuing a "hateful" policy toward Russia, leaning toward the Western Powers, conducting a "wrong" foreign and domestic policy and departing from the Marxist-Leninist line.

Not In News

Belgrade dispatches said Tito was believed to be at his summer palace at Bled in the north. He usually spends June there. A former Czechoslovak delegate to the United Nations said he thought Tito is dead. A high Yugoslav diplomat in Rome said Tito still is in power. The fact remained that weeks had elapsed since the strutting Marshal, once a general in Russia's Red Army, had appeared in the news.

At Lake Success, Dr. Jan Papanek, former Czech UN delegate, expressed belief that Tito may be in grave personal danger, while high United States diplomatic officials in Washington expressed the opinion that the Yugoslav marshal and his associates may already have been "taken care of."

Moscow radio was silent on the subject for hours after the statement became public, but later Pravda, organ of the Communist party there, devoted its entire second page to the resolution, but without editorial comment.

British Score A Victory In Marshall Aid Terms

WASHINGTON, June 29—(AP) —Britain promised today to keep her financial house in order in return for more than $4,000,000,000 in United States aid over the next 4¼ years.

In a lengthy agreement made public by the State Department, the British Government pledged that in exchange for United States assistance under the European recovery program Britain will:

"Stabilize its currency, establish or maintain a valid rate of exchange, balance its governmental budget, create or maintain internal financial stability and generally restore or maintain confidence in its monetary system."

While the agreement must be approved by parliament by July 3 if United States aid now flowing under a temporary pact is not to halt, such ratification was expected with little trouble. If the agreement is approved after the deadline, American shipments would be resumed.

There had been reports of vigorous disagreement between British and American negotiators over Britain's currency. The final wording of the clause represents a victory for the British officials.

They had insisted on toning down an earlier version to avoid any impression the United States Government wanted power to devalue the pound sterling at will.

Although the full amount of American assistance is not specified in the agreement, State and Treasury Department officals have estimated that Britain's share of the vast program will fall between $4,000,000,000 and $4,500,000,000 by the time the international project ends June 30, 1952.

However, the promises made by Britain in the new agreement will run to June 30, 1953. That will allow an extra year to wind up any projects not completed when financial help stops.

Train Turns Over

WINSLOW, Ariz., June 29 (AP).—The Santa Fe Railroad's luxury passenger train, the Super Chief, was derailed today in the Winslow yards. Morris Richards, editor of the Winslow Mail, said he was told the train "turned over." Richards said he was informed "several" persons were injured. He said all doctors in the city were summoned to the scene of the wreck.

More Serious Charges Laid Against Harvey

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP) — Three new and graver charges were laid against Gordon Harvey, 21, today in connection with the attack on eight-year-old Teresa Dowling last May 18.

The crown asked withdrawal of the original charge of aggravated assault and substitution of charges of abduction, assault with intent to commit bodily harm, and indecent assault.

The magistrate granted the request and Harvey, through counsel, pleaded not guilty.

Harvey was arrested June 22 after the young girl identified him as the man who lured her into a York township bush with the promise she would see "wonderful things."

The child was found next day lying in a field covered with branches, her face badly beaten and her skull fractured. Police described her attack as "sadistic."

Canadian Historian Geo. M. Wrong Dies

TORONTO, June 29 —(CP)— Prof. George Mackinnon Wrong, who celebrated his 88th birthday last Friday, died today. Born in Gravesend, he was professor emeritus in history of the University of Toronto.

Prof. Wrong joined the staff of the University of Toronto in 1892 as a lecturer, and retired in 1927. During his 35 years at the university he became known as the dean of Canadian historians, specializing in Canadian and American history. He was an outstanding authority on French Canada and inter-imperial relations.

A graduate of the University of Toronto and Wycliffe College, the professor took post - graduate work at Oxford and Berlin.

Following his retirement Prof. Wrong wrote several text books used in Ontario schools, and numerous other scholastic works including "The Conquest of New France," "The Life of Lord Elgin," and "A Canadian Manor and Its Seigneurs."

Married twice, Prof. Wrong is survived by two children, Hume Wrong, Canadian ambassador to the United States, and Mrs. C. H. A. Armstrong of Toronto. Another daughter, Margaret, died in East Africa earlier this year at the age of 60. She was secretary of the International Committee of Christian Literature for Africa.

Prime Minister King May Attend Parley

OTTAWA, June 29.— (CP).— Prime Minister Mackenzie King indicated to the Commons today he may possibly attend the October meeting of commonwealth prime ministers despite his expected departure from leadership of the Canadian government in August.

Answering a series of questions in the House, he said Prime Minister Attlee had expressed the wish that he attend the London meeting personally. He had explained about the August convention.

"As to what will be thought best to do can best be decided, I should think, after that meeting (the convention)," he added.

Replying to CCF Leader Coldwell's question as to the purpose of the empire gathering, Mr. King said he presumed it would be similar to the prime ministers' meeting held two years ago and that "matters of general interest to all the nations of the commonwealth" would be discussed.

Berlin Plans Appeal To UN Group

Food Crisis Worries German Leaders; Allies Plan Action

BERLIN, June 29 (AP)—Berlin's city government drafted today an appeal for the United Nations to intervene in the food crisis caused by Russia's blockade of the city's land transport lifelines.

Frau Schroeder, Berlin's Socialist Lord Mayor, said the city government had decided the U.N. was "the only institution to which Berlin can appeal in its present distress."

The note as drafted could "not be considered an affront to any of the occupying powers"—meaning Russia. Secretary-General Trgve Lie of the U.N. was reported Monday night to be studying whether to present the Berlin situation to the Security Council.

The Russians, meanwhile, acknowledged that they are being pinched by their own blockade. The Soviet-controlled press announced that emergency imports of 36,000 tons of hard coal are being rushed in from Poland.

An announcement Monday night by the Russian-controlled German news agency that the Russians were relaxing their zonal border restrictions to permit resumption of interzonal traffic by Germans remained without confirmation today.

No Motor Traffic

At British and American check points along the Helmstedt-Berlin highway, guards said no motor traffic was being passed by the Russians toward Berlin. Some German pedestrians were reported waiting for permission to proceed. The order presumably applied only to automobile and pedestrian traffic.

Russian occupation authorities today stopped the movement of all shipping on the River Elbe, including transit shipping to Czechoslovakia, the German bizonal transport administration announced.

The news agency said rail traffic from Berlin to the west could not be resumed "for some time" because of necessary repairs.

American and British air crews are striving to fly enough food over the Russian land blockade to feed 2,500,000 Berliners. United States authorities said the shuttle service is being put on a 24-hours-a-day schedule.

A British spokesman said it might be necessary to parachute food into the city if air traffic gets too heavy for British and American airfields to handle.

May Crack Down

United States officials were reported preparing new, tough diplomatic moves today to crack Russia's land blockade of Berlin.

Although officials maintained a tight-lipped silence, indications mounted that a diplomatic stroke

Claxton Praises Troops In B.C.

OTTAWA, June 29 (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton has commended the armed forces for their work in the British Columbia flood emergency, it was announced today.

Partial text of his letter, being published in the orders all active, reserve and auxiliary units:

"I wish to congratulate all officers and men of the services who have taken part in fighting the B.C. floods on the splendid work which you have just completed...."

"In particular I would like to express my appreciation to the officers and men of the reserve forces who so loyally responded when called upon. For many this meant a considerable sacrifice of their own personal affairs."

"Col. T. E. Snow, commander of the British Columbia area, is also to be commended for his energetic handling of the crisis...."

"Your work has been deeply appreciated by the people of British Columbia and has given people across Canada added reason for respecting and being proud of the men of our armed forces."

Truck Driver Killed

PICTON, June 29—(CP).—Howard Valyer, 31-year-old truck driver for a Belleville cleaning firm, was killed on Monday night when his truck went out of control on the outskirts of Picton and veered into a ditch. No inquest will be held.

London Dockers Cancel Strike After 16 Days

LONDON, June 29— (CP) — State of emergency regulations aimed at releasing Britain's strike-bound economy, may not be used in view of the London dock workers vote today to return to work tomorrow.

Informed government sources said the virtually unlimited powers authorized under the king's proclamation yesterday, may not be put into force.

More than 5,000 London dock workers voted to end the 16-day work stoppage which pinched off London's food supplies. There were only about 100 dissenters.

At another meeting, 2,500 dockers and stevedores at the Surrey commercial docks, unanimously favored an end to the strike which began when 11 dockers demanded higher pay for handling a "dirty cargo" of zinc oxide.

Hasten Collapse

Declaration of a state of emergency and the broadcast appeal last night by Prime Minister Attlee, were believed to have hastened the collapse of the strike which was not authorized by union leaders.

But some 12,000 of the 16,000 Merseyside workers at Liverpool and Birkenhead remained out today along with about 18,000 in London. It was expected that the Mersey workers who walked out yesterday in sympathy, would follow London's lead.

Two thousand servicemen were unloading perishable food from 15 ships in London where the cabinet is meeting to discuss the problem. A further 1,000 troops were standing by to help if the government decides it is necessary to extend the operation.

The state of emergency was declared by the King under a 1920 law used only once before in peacetime—in the general strike of 1936. He signed the proclamation at Holyrood House, Edinburgh, where he is expected to remain in the light of the vote to return to work.

Big U.S. Transports Flown To Germany

WESTOVER, Mass., June 29 — (AP)—The first of approximately 39 United States air force four-engined transport planes assigned to assist in breaking the Berlin food blockade is scheduled to take off this afternoon for Germany. The craft will fly from Westover to the Azores and then to Frankfort to assist in countering the blockade established by the Russians in the German capital. They will pick up food and other supplies at the German headquarters of the United States forces in Europe.

120,000 Rail Workers Plan To Walk Out Unless Dispute Settled

Strike Ballot Shows "Only a Handful" Vote Against Walkout; Letter Outlines Attempts At Negotiations

MONTREAL, June 29 — (CP). — A strike which would paralyze Canadian railway transportation was set today for July 15 as spokesmen for 120,000 rail workers told employers and the Government they would walk out on that date unless their wage dispute was settled. The workers, members of 18 international brotherhoods, have been seeking a general 35-cents-an-hour wage increase since last November.

Union men, having made their announcement, could not be reached for comment. The railways said they might have something to say later.

The announcement said a strike ballot begun after the unions rejected a conciliation board report had shown "only a comparative handful" against a strike.

It followed by 18 days an announcement that mediation proceedings involving 28,000 members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway employees and other transport workers (C.C.L.) had broken down.

Today's announcement was made by Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee representing the International Brotherhoods in the dispute. He released at the same time a letter sent the railways by the unions Monday advising them of the brotherhoods' intentions.

Outlines Negotiations

The letter outlined the attempts at negotiating a 35-cents-an-hour wage increase, which it said had "not brought about a settlement."

"Accordingly, the matter was referred to the employees represented by the organizations, who are covered by the various agreements with these railways, their subsidiaries and their ancillaries," the letter said. "The employees have voted almost unanimously to withdraw from the service if no satisfactory agreement is effected.

"The negotiating committee has considered the matter in the light of this expressed intention, and I am directed to advise you that a concerted and peaceful withdrawal from the service will take place on Thursday, July 15, 1948 at 6.00 a.m., Regional Standard Time. Employees in train service will withdraw at the end of their runs."

Davidson Hanged For Murder In Cafe

TORONTO, June 29—(CP). — Leslie R. Davidson, 29, was hanged at 8 a.m. EDT today for the fatal shooting last March 1 of his sweetheart, 25-year-old Mrs. Margaret (Mickey) Meredith.

Jail officials reported that the Montreal-born pianist and entertainer was calm and resigned during his last hours in the death cell. One of his final acts was to write his estranged wife, Mrs. Freda Davidson, a farewell note.

'Logical' For King To Live Part of Time In Ottawa

LONDON, June 29.— (CP).— Informed sources said today it is "perfectly logical" to accept the prediction made by Prime Minister Mackenzie King in the Canadian Commons Monday — that Canada could look forward to the king and queen residing part of each year in Ottawa.

The statement caused no surprise in London where it is recognized that the United Kingdom, in a changing, developing commonwealth, should not necessarily claim the entire time of the royal family.

These factors have brought home to Britain that the sovereign has responsibilities and duties elsewhere that more often will require his absence.

1. The Canadian and South African tours demonstrated a satisfaction of the overseas subjects in the presence of the royal family as lively as that of United Kingdom residents.

2. The old barriers to the royal family visiting distant capitals is being removed with the development of air transport and rapid communication. Commonwealth centres now are within a few days of each other. Wherever he is, the king can be reached quickly by his ministers in any part of the commonwealth.

3. The large-scale emigration to Canada from the United Kingdom and Europe may mean that in the next 20 years the Dominion, both in population and wealth will be more important than the United Kingdom. In that event it is only reasonable that the king should spend more time in the dominions and it is probable that Ottawa would have the first royal residence overseas.

"Where the king is, there is in fact the only capital of the commonwealth and empire," said one source.

Naval Attache Gives Proof No U.S. Shelling

CAIRO, June 29—(AP). — The Arab League reported today the American naval attache had given "his proofs" that a United States warship could not have shelled Arab positions in Palestine as Syria contends it did.

Earlier in the day Muhsen Al Barazi, Syrian Interior Minister, said his government protested to Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations peace-maker for Palestine, that a United States ship on truce patrol for the mediator intervened in an Arab-Jewish battle at Al Barwa.

A high Arab source said meanwhile that Arabs "will resume war while pursuing peace talks" if negotiations toward a settlement in Palestine are unfinished at the end of the month-long truce expiring July 9.

The Arab informant, who declined to be quoted by name, said counter proposals asked for by Bernadotte in submitting his peace proposals Monday, may lead to extension of the talks beyond July 9.

He described the warship as one of those the United States recently placed at the disposal of Count Bernadotte, and said the shelling took place three days ago near Al Barwa during a Jewish attack.

(In Washington, the state department said it had received no official word of the Syrian protest. A department spokesman said American destroyers were in the Palestine area only as observers of the UN truce.)

The Cairo newspaper Al Ahram published a dispatch from Saudi Arabia Monday night that official talks on the Palestine problem, between King Ibn Saud and King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, began Sunday in Riyadh.

Daley Handling CGE Mediation

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP).— Wage negotiations between United Electrical Workers (CIO-CCL) and Canadian General Electric Co. move today to Queen's Park at the request of Labor Minister Daley.

Union membership in four Toronto and one Peterborough plants voted to strike after rejecting a company offer of a four-cent-an-hour wage increase.

The UE announced yesterday that workers in the CGE Cobourg plant voted 82-16 in favor of the UE as their bargaining agent. The UE said it is asking the company to include their Cobourg and Barrie plants in the master agreement being negotiated.

Woman Gets 2 Years For Bank Robbery

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 29 (CP)—Judge J. H. McDonald this morning sentenced Mrs. Margaret McLean to serve two years, less one day, for her part in the armed robbery of the Royal Bank branch at Wellington and John streets on April 22 for which Edward Grechuk is serving a five-year term in Kingston Penitentiary.

Judge McDonald found Mrs. McLean guilty on the third count of the indictment which charged her with being an accessory after the fact to the armed robbery.

He said that he had come to the conclusion Mrs. McLean was the driver of the car used in the robbery and that she waited outside while Grechuk robbed the bank.

Parliament Approves Price Report

Gets Bitter Criticism Before Opposition Approves Adoption

OTTAWA, June 29 — (CP). — The recommendations of the prices committee—aimed directly at reducing the cost of living—bear the significant stamp of parliamentary approval today.

Whether this means the government will put them into effect remains a question for the future, but it is a matter of record that Health Minister Martin, the government spokesmamn, gave them a spirited defence before the Commons adopted them Monday night without even the expected formaility of a recorded vote.

Closing a bitter two-day debate that blocked the prorogation drive, Mr. Martin challenged the Progressive Conservative party to say which of the 14 recommendations it would oppose.

When the motion for adoption was called, none in the official opposition benches rose to record their dissatisfaction with the report, though many had belabored it during the debate. CCF and Social Credit members, some of whom were lukewarm towards the report, also remained seated."

Government Policy

The recommendations, which Progressive Conservative spokesmen charged had been drawn up by the government itself rather than the committee and thus represented unspoken government policy, were that the government "consider" these steps:

1. Removal of last November's emergency excise taxes on "commodities in common use" and removal of the import ban on fruits and vegetables.

2. Reimpostiion of individual price controls and revival of temporary subsidies where it was shown that hardship otherwise would result.

3. Revision of rent control regulations to remove hardship in certain cases.

4. Consideration of the Canadian supply situation and the interests of producers and consumers before removing export embargos on cetrain foods (apparently the embargo on the shipment of beef cattle to the United States).

The government already has indicated its adoption of another recommendation—that a commission continue the work of the committee after prorogation — by placing an appropriation for $50,000 to cover this suggestion in its supplementary estimates.

Barrage of Criticism

A bristling barrage of criticism came from the Opposition benches before Mr. Martin, who had served as chairman of the all-party committee, closed the debate.

Give Co-operation

"The negotiating committee is not unmindful that, at the instance of the Minister of Labor, mediation proceedings have been made available to the parties. If by such or other means it appears to the committee that a settlement can be reached, the committee will gadly give its co-operation up to the date indicated for the withdrawal from service. However, the exigencies of the situation are such that the committee cannot accept the responsibility for any further delay in the matter thereafter."

In an accompanying press release, Mr. Hall elaborated on the statement in the letter concerning the strike vote.

"Only a comparattive handful," he saaid, "voted against the strike aid there wer a few spoiled ballots. Never before has such emphasis been given to the strong feling of the employees concerning deteriorataion of their living standards and their relatively unfair treatment compared to workers in most other industries regarding wage increases.

He said the negotiating committee was remaining in session to work out details about the conduct of the strike.

Mechanics Argue Over Tools Allegedly Stolen

It was technicians' day in court this morning. Judgment was reserved by Magistrate R. B. Baxter on a charge against Kenneth Mitchell, 453 Bellevue St. of receiving stolen goods. The goods were numerous small machine tools said to have been taken from the machine shop of Cecil Forsythe, 270 Park Hill Road. The evidence included lengthy discourses by three witnesses who are mechanics as to the use, color, shape and identity of the tools and instruments.

Forsythe, a motor mechanic whose shop is at the rear of 241 Dublin St., said he had discovered his shop had been broken into when he came to work the morning of May 8. Books and papers on the desk had been scattered, he said, and a number of tools taken from a tool box.

A chisel, which had been used to pry open the door, was lying outside, he said.

The witness identified about 20 small items entered as exhibits by the crown as among those taken. It was around the identity of these tools that the discussions took place.

Detective-Sergeant John Stevenson testified that he had found the exhibited tools in the accused's truck at his home.

Defence Counsel Emmett Sheehy questioned the officer regarding the source of the information which led him to that place. Det-Stevenson said that he had given his word that the name of the informant would not be given.

Herbert Lush, a mechanic with Forsythe, also identified the tools. When questioned by Mr. Sheehy as to how he could be positive as to the identity of these particular tools—which, the counsel argued, were common types—he pointed out various markings and detailed the history behind the purchase or making of each item which enabled him to spot them. Forsythe also gave considerable detail as to the making of some of the items, their use, peculiar marks and welds.

Mrs. Mitchell, wife of the accused, said that Mitchell had been at the race in Toronto on the week-end of the break-in. She said that many tools had been left to Mitchell by his father.

James Mitchell, brother of the accused also entered the identity race, naming several of the tools as being "very much like" ones owned by the accused and which he had borrowed at times.

Several other charges against Mitchell, involving other thefts and goods, were also reserved to a later date.

N.B. Liberals

She was trying to be the first woman to enter the New Brunswick House.

All cabinet ministers won re-election as the Liberals swept all but two of the 16 contested ridings.

Liberals swept the two cities—Moncton and Saint John.

It was the fourth straight election victory for the Liberals. The party swept Progressive Conservatives out of office in 1935 and remained in power at the 1939 and 1944 elections.

Mackay Wins

Progressive Conservative leader Hugh Mackay won a personal victory in Kings County along with his two running mates.

The only other Progressive Conservative victors were in the three-member Carleton County where one Liberal gained a seat formerly held by the Opposition.

CCF leader Joseph Arrowsmith lost in his bid for election in Saint John City.

The new Legislature — New Brunswick's 20th—was increased by four seats under a partial redistribution. The new seats did not create extra ridings but gave additional representation in existing constituencies.

Uranium Stories May Be Published

PEI 'Wets' Win Liquor Vote

CHARLOTTETOWN, June 29 —(CP).—For the first time since 1878, Prince Edward Islanders voted in favor of liquor sales and did it with a resounding 73 per cent of the vote.

With only a handful of the 239 polling booths still to report, government control defeated prohibition 20,019 to 7,285, revised figures showed. The final outcome was indicated when the first three polls announced their totals and the commanding lead never diminished.

The government control measure, officially called the Temperance Act, cannot come into effect for several weeks because of the paper work involved, Premier Jones said Monday night.

It provides for a rationing system allowing each adult a bottle of liquor or a case of beer a week. The act will be administered by a commission established last April.

aimed directly at Moscow might be unleashed tomorrow or Thursday.

The nature of any such plan was cloaked in strictest secrecy, but signs pointed to a stern note demanding that Russia lift the eight-day-old blockade and quit other unity-hampering tactics—or take responsibility for the consequences.

These were the major developments

1. State Undersecretary Robert Lovett conferred with President Truman Monday and later attended a White House cabinet session.

2. Army Undersecretary William Draper and United States Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas went into a London conference with Foreign Secretary Bevin. Draper then flew to Berlin for conferences with the American commander, Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

3. Prime Minister Attlee summoned Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, chief of the Imperial General staff, to a special cabinet session Monday night.

Australia Wins By 409 Runs

LONDON, June 29.—(Reuters) —Australia to-day defeated England by 409 runs in the second cricket test match at Lord's. The tourists also won the first match, at Nottingham.

England's 10th and last wicket in the second innings fell just after lunch for a score of 186. England's first inning score was 215, while Australia scored 350 i nthe first innings and 460 for seven wickets, declared, in the second.

The end came in the third over after lunch when Douglas Wright, England bowler, was caught off a ball by fast-bowler Lindwall.

The result was a foregone conclusion when play started this morning, with England needing 490 runs with seven wickets to fall. But what was not expected, was England's complete collapse.

Dennis Compton was out to the second ball of the day to a catch by Miller, and the English captain, Norman Yardley, was bowled by Ernest Toshack.

The remaining wickets then fell cheaply.

Toshack had the best figures of the Australian bowlers in the second innings, getting five wickets for 40 runs.

Industrials, Golds Firmed On Exchange

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP). — Industrials and golds firmed in dull trading on Toronto Stock Exchange. Base metals and western oils showed a weaker tone in spotty action.

Papers and refining oils moved upward on fractional gains in industrial groupings. International Paper rose 1¼ and Imperial Oil was up ¼. A few utilities gained but interest lagged and the few issues trading moved in fractional range. Seagrams, Brown Pfd., C.P.R., Bank of Montreal and Abitibi were ahead.

Kerr Addison and La Luz strengthened in senior golds and Eldona sparked juniors, trading actively for a gain of 9 cents. Dulama, Chesterville, Bordulac and Little Long Lac were gainers. Preston, Kirkland Lake, Nicholson and Conwest were 1 to 5 cents easier.

Losses edged out gains in the base metals in spotty action, Waite Amulet, Gulf Lead, Eureka, Sherritt and Quebec Labrador dropped 2 to 10 cents. Silver Miller, Steep Rock, East Sullivan and New Calumet were ahead 2 to 5 cents. Consolidated Smelters and International Nickel were up ½.

Anglo-Canadian Calgary and Edmonton and Home Oil dipped 10 to 30 cents in western Oils. Foothills, Pacific Petroleum and Okalta were easier. Atlantic Oil and Davies Petroleum rose slightly.

2,500 Casualties In Fukui City After 'Quakes

FUKUI, Japan, June 29 (AP). —Allied sources said today the number of dead and injured here would total 2,500 after Monday's violent earthquake.

Fifteen hundred of these were injured seriously but the number of dead was in doubt. All are Japanese.

(A Reuters report quoted a military government team as saying 3,155 were dead and 7,752 seriously injured. The team said that this deathroll covered Fukui city and 39 surrounding villages, and that the city itself had 1,000 dead.)

Those who went through the 'quake here said it was almost as if Fukui was hit by an atom bomb. The city of 85,000 is heavily damaged.

The first tremors burst water mains. Fires flashed but authorities were helpless before the flames without water.

Half the city, mostly wooden houses and structures, went down in the first tremor or so. Ninety-five per cent of what was left was burned an d scorched and turned into rubble.

Governor Harukazu Obata of Fukui province estimated throughout the area that 3,155 Japanese were killed and 7,752 were injured severely. These totals include Fukui city, rebuilt from the ruins of a wartime B-29 raid. It is 200 miles west of Tokyo.

Throughout the prefecture, the governor added, 30,721 dwellings of all types were wholly or partially destroyed.

During the first hours, 1,000 injured Japanese moved through an American first aid station here. Brig.-Gen. Eugene L. Harrison, in charge of the station, said about 10 per cent of the first thousand patients were hurt seriously.

Harrison said 39 bodies had been recovered. Sixteen of them were under a collapsed theatre and th balance under a meeting-house.

Speeding brought fines of 5 and $2.50 costs each from J. D. Moulds, 136 Lakeshore Rd., Mimico; J. H. Darling, Warsaw and Robert Jopling, 436 Brioux Ave.

R. G. Vallery, 305 Rubidge St., and Earl R. Guthries, RR 1, Omemee, were each fined $4 and $2.50 costs for driving through a red light signal.

William Shadgett, 295 Margaret Ave., paid $2 and $1 costs for making an illegal left turn.

Colorado Beetle Invades Britain

LONDON, June 29 — (CP) — Hitler's legions never managed to invade Britain, but a half-inch-long bug has infiltrated the sea-girt country's defences, causing grace concern to the "garrison."

The new invader is the black-striped Colorado beetle, which threatens the 1,500,000-acre potato crop. He comes from Europe, where his grubs feed on potato leaves, destroying the plants.

Some of the beetles, which scientists say came to Europe from Colorado 80 years ago, have been found aboard ships docking at British ports.

Now incoming cargoes are scrutinized closely—there's a fine for bringing in beetles deliberately — while in farms throughout southern England and the Midlands hired hands, land army girls and voluntary workers patiently comb potato fields for traces of the pest. Tractors have been pooled to pull spray equipment through the furrows.

The Agriculture Ministry is distributing an insecticide to stamp out serious outbreaks. The insecticide is injected into the ground. This kills not only the beetle but the grub which hatches on the underside of the leaves and awakens to devour them.

Meantime the idea of an invasion by beetles seems to tickle the British sense of humor.

School Improvement Program Praised

COBOURG, June 29 —(ENS)— Based on the knowledge that competitive interest develops greater results, the Ontario Horticultural Association each year holds a provincial rural school competition and in Northumberland and County and school inspectors have encouraged improvement about their schools. Agricultural representative Ralph Banbury and school inspectors A. A. Martin and W. H. Carlton visited some o fthe schools which have made special effort. In the inspectorate of Mr. Martin the greatest improvement was found in Wades School, Brighton No. 8, which is taught by Miss Marjorie Branscombe. Trent River, Seymour No. 10, was found to be in excellent shape but due to previous improvements was in a position where not much could be done this year.

In the western section the Plainville School, taught by Miss Shirley Drope, was scored the highest. Here a great deal of paint work had been done and a fine community school was the result, with a well-painted sign over the gate. These winners in Northumberland County will be entered in the provincial competition and judged in the near future by John F. Clarke of the Provincial Horticultural staff.

"The school is the next greatest influence to the home in the impressive years of the child, and a community can be judged to a considerable extent by the condition of this property," Mr. Banbury commented.

Make Centennial Plans For Peterborough Now

Mr. James Hamilton has suggested that it is not too early to make plans for the Peterborough centennial celebrations of 1950, and we think that it would be wise to heed his warning. In eighteen months the city will enter the hundredth year of its organization as a municipality, and if the event is to be marked in a fitting manner a central committee should be set up now to consider what form the celebration will take, and to put a plan into action. Peterborough handled a somewhat similar occasion in an able manner when it held its Old Home Week in 1929; citizens who had anything to do with the organizing of that affair will remember that it involved a great deal of work and coordinating of plans. The city has grown since then and the approaching celebration will demand an even more careful master plan. Now is the time to begin work on it.

• • •

Obviously the centennial year will demand an elaborate sports program, and we suggest that it might be the occasion for a revival of water sports in Peterborough. In Little Lake we have a splendid setting for a canoe regatta, and a speedboat regatta might be held at South Beach; such a display would attract great numbers of contestants and a large group of spectators. But if there is to be a regatta in 1950 there must be planning in 1948 and practising during 1949, for a regatta cannot be organized in a hurry.

• • •

A centennial without a parade would be unthinkable, and upon such an occasion the parade should have as its theme the history of the city. Parades need careful organization, and floats depicting historical scenes take a long time to build and careful designing. It is not too soon to begin making plans. We presume also that by 1950 the committee in charge of building the new City Hall and Memorial Centre will have something to show the public, and an exhibition with 'The Peterborough of The Future' as its theme might well be organized and shown in the Public Library, or in some equally suitable place.

• • •

In addition to such municipal efforts, we are sure that many organizations will wish to make extra efforts to mark the centennial year. We can imagine that the Concert Association, the Little Theatre, and the sketching and painting groups of the city will wish to put forth special effort to make the year a memorable one. That there will be special events in the schools is a foregone conclusion. There are few, if any, aspects of Peterborough life which will not be touched by the centennial. Eighteen months is not too long beforehand to make preparations, and we trust that Mr. Hamilton's warning will not fall on deaf ears.

• • •

Indeed, we do not think that the Council could do better than to ask Mr. Hamilton to head a committee to discuss this important matter and make plans. He has the prestige and the experience for such a position, and we cannot think of any man who could enlist a greater measure of willing co-operation.

Russia Counters In Germany

The British-French-American plan to unify their occupation zones in Germany and the recent currency modifications made by them have led to Soviet counteractions. The Anglo-American tactics have been high-handed. They are certainly in violation of the Potsdam Agreements concluded after the war. But these nations have had to ride roughshod over both the Soviet Russians and the Potsdam Agreements.

Russia has been playing a skulking game, either delaying fulfilment of her pledges given at Potsdam or violating them outrageously. Britain and France had to act; to have pussyfooted with the Russians would have meant a perpetuation and extension of the economic ills which now distress Germany, and finally a complete collapse in that unhappy country, out of which Russia would have been able to garner a Communist harvest. The Iron Curtain would have been moved up to the very boundaries of France.

Russia and seven of her satellites have been communing in Warsaw. Out of this meeting have come accusations that the U.S., Britain and France are splitting Germany economically and politically and dismembering the country. This is true, to some extent, but in western eyes a Germany shorn of the Russian occupation zone is preferable to a Germany united under the Kremlin.

The Warsaw conference of foreign ministers presented a program for uniting Germany under a four-power agreement (Britain, France, U.S.A., U.S.S.R.) and called for a four-power agreement on the formation of a provisional democratic all-German government. The program has many points, some of them good. It would be worth considering if the Russians showed any signs of true co-operation. Their performance during the last two years in Germany, in Europe generally and at U.N. has made consideration of Soviet proposals either useless or dangerous.

Partition of Germany seems inevitable. Equally inevitable as a result will be a long period of misery, rancour and frustration among the German people, until war breaks out or the Germans recover their fatherland. A Balkanized Germany will not make for peace and prosperity in Europe. Neither would a united Germany under Soviet rule. The dilemma may not be resolved for years, and then possibly only by war. The present plight of the three million inhabitants of Berlin is a condemnation of post-war international politics.

How To Improve Breakfasts

The Peterborough Branch of the Health League has passed a resolution supporting a project of the Health League of Canada to improve breakfasts—of schoolchildren. We have our own remedies, not limited to the breakfasts of children. We suspect there are more adults undernourished from eight a.m. to twelve noon than children. However, we include children in our program, as long as they are quiet.

The three requirements of breakfast are quiet, leisure, and abundance of good food. Absolute quiet is unnecessary—graceful, light-weighted conversation can be an aid to digestion even in the morning after a heavy night. Breakfast should never be taken on an empty stomach. A maid or one's wife should bring a cup of tea and a biscuit to one's bedside ten or fifteen minutes before rising time. This procedure means one wakens to tea rather than to an alarm clock.

After the usual ablutions, a short stroll with ones' dogs or one's own feet is recommended as a stimulus to appetite. When the merry bell sounds calling one kitchen sounds should cease. In the dining-room (no breakfast nook, please), linen gleams and fresh flowers ornament the table. A chilled half-grapefruit (with cherry), a piping hot bowl of porridge, then one goes to the chafing-dishes on the sideboard, lifts the covers, and makes one's choice. Kidney, bacon, sausage, eggs, French toast; perhaps to vary the monotony, occasionally an additional dish of small steaks. Having partaken of two or three of these dishes, one tapers off on crisp toast and Seville orange marmalade and a second cup of coffee. A cigarette and the morning paper are then permitted.

After a half-hour of reading and untroubled thought, one can then venture out to begin the day's work. How much more blithely goes the day, how much better does one toil, after a proper breakfast....We recommend the formula to the Health League, who popularizing it, need no longer worry, as they now seem to be doing, about devising a plan to encourage correct eating.

Contaminated Otonabee Waters

The local Medical Officer of Health has posted notices that the water of the river below the C.P.R. bridge and of Little Lake is contaminated and unfit for swimming. Half of the city lies below that area, half of the city's children live south of it. They must stay out of those waters, they must go to the north end of the city or swim in the canal because we, citizens of Peterborough, continue to tolerate pollution of half the open water in the city limits.

This pollution is not new. Twenty-five years ago there was a municipal bathing pavilion at the end of Lake Street for children of the southern section of the city. That was closed because tests showed the water to be unsanitary. It is disgraceful that we still allow refuse to be dumped into the water and that our sewage disposal system is still inadequate. A progressive city indeed!

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

LONDON newspapers last week devoted more space to the London dockers' strike than to anything else. There is little expectation that the strike will last long, and probably by the time this is in print it will have been settled. Nevertheless, the whole incident has been very disquieting to the nation as a whole, and has re-emphasized the highly integrated state of modern society, when the battle can so easily be lost for the want of the nail, as the old nursery-rhyme had it.

✧ ✧ ✧

STEVEDORING has always been an unsatisfactory occupation from the viewpoint of regular work and pay. When ships are to be unloaded, workers are required, — and paid,—and when not, they can twiddle their thumbs and wait for the next ship to appear. This has been the traditional pattern, and little wonder that dockers have had more than their share of grievances against our age. The Labour government has attempted a reformation of this age-old system, a new organization of the docks so that a guaranteed regular minimum wage is paid, giving some security for the worker, and more for his wife. This has been done under an administrative Dock Labour Board, and it is the power of this Board that has led to the present strike. The details, as given in the London press, are these: especially difficult or "dirty" cargoes are paid for at a higher rate than the ordinary. Eleven dockers unloading zinc oxide demanded the bonus rate, which was refused. They thereupon refused to continue the unloading.

✧ ✧ ✧

A SPECIAL tribunal established to deal with such disputes found the men at fault, and penalized them by suspending their guarantee for two weeks. An unofficial strike soon broke out in support of the eleven suspended men, and rapidly spread to all parts of the London docks. Eventually, some 120 ships were tied up by the strike, and 20,000 men were idle, and this all against the advice of the Union's leaders. Today, ten days later, troops are being used to unload perishable cargoes after an all-out appeal to the strikers to go back failed. The total wage bill affected by the tribunal's decision was less than £50, but the losses of the strike are now in the millions, losses that can ill be afforded by a nation desperately fighting to re-establish its former position in world commerce. Exports are being held up, congest-food is deteriorating aboard the ships. Shiping the railways and storage centres, and ping, in short supply everywhere, is being wasted, and thousands of dock workers' families are losing their weekly pay envelope.

✧ ✧ ✧

WHATEVER the other charges against the present government, it can scarcely be considered anti-union or anti-workers in tone. The dockyard tribunal was made up of representatives of the Union, employers, and government referee, and to give way to the unofficial strikers' demand that this decision be put aside would completely nullify the Dock Labour Board's authority. The government is naturally reluctant to use troops for dock work, but under the circumstances, they have no choice. The food supply of Britain cannot be endangered by the thoughtless action of a small section of the community, and this is exactly the situation that exists today. To thoughtful people, the most ominous feature is the lack of discipline within the ranks of the Transport and General Workers' Union,—the union concerned,—the biggest in the country. This and the ineffectualness of its leaders in a case in which the justice of the decision is not questioned by anyone who has studied the circumstances. After a well-publicized and attended meeting called by the Union's leaders to persuade the men to return to work, less than 1 in 20 did so, and this finally forced the government to its present action. Critics of Unions frequently complain of their irresponsibility; supporters do not like such active co-operation with the critics.

THE convention of the Republicans at Philadelphia was followed with strained attention in the British press. Many of the papers have special reporters covering the event, and these include such well-known people as Rebecca West and David Low. Since 90 per cent. of Americans are said not to understand the workings of the U.S. convention system of presidential nomination, little wonder the Britisher finds it completely baffling. One cannot but smile at the obvious bewilderment evident in the cables from British correspondents at Philadelphia. But there is a very real interest and anxiety about this convention. The inevitability of a Republican victory this year is accepted in Britain, and the great question from the British standpoint is, will the new president be an isolationist or internationalist, and what of the future of the Marshall Plan? The recent set-back for the Marshall Plan in Congress was unexpected and inexplicable to Europe, and it is a matter of the utmost importance to Europeans to have some assurance that the Marshall Plan will not disappear entirely at the whim of a new Congress and President.

✧ ✧ ✧

LAST Sunday morning I visited a famous London institution for the first time,—Petticoat Lane. It is a street market in Stepney and Whitechapel, districts in the east end of London, and is particularly active on a Sunday morning. There is nothing to compare with it anywhere in Canada that I know of. It covers a number of streets, wagons and stalls on both sides, and tradition has it that your watch will be stolen at one end and offered for sale to you at the other. I suspect this tradition is a gross libel however; I saw no signs of dishonesty, and can vouch for the fact my watch was intact at the end of my visit. An astonishing variety of articles are offered for sale, including many items you would scarcely expect to be sold from street stalls. Clothing of all types, curtains, rugs, china and glassware, jewellery, foodstuffs, etc., and most surprising of all, fur coats. One street merchant who can only be described as optimistic has a sign up "watch repairs in seven days". Prospective customers are to be seen trying on suit coats, balancing precariously on one foot while they try on a shoe, and haggling furiously about prices.

MOST of the articles offered for sale are new, which is a change from pre-war years we were told. Only second-hand jewellery was to be seen in any quantity. The streets were packed with those who had come to buy, and others such as ourselves who had come to gawk. Numerous enterprising stall keepers have even started light lunch bars, where the traditional British tea and bun can be had at small price. We went away with a wholehearted admiration for the merchants of Petticoat Lane. They certainly earn their living the hard way. Between shouting themselves hoarse, bargaining with prospective customers, and watching the others around their stalls,—(on four sides of it at that) they all seemed to be fugitives from a nervous breakdown. They probably thrive on the life however, so our pity is wasted.

Letters To The Editor

TIME VOTERS SNAPPED OUT OF IT

Sir: In the course of some editorial comment on "Smuts' Defeat" by your distinguished contemporary, Manchester Guardian, the following point attracted this reader: "It has been suggested that, without a majority of the total vote, Dr. Malan may not regard himself as mandated to carry out his election program...." (Examiner, June 19).

I was surprised and not much pleased to learn the other day, from a commentary on the Canadian political scene, that "out of a total of 245 members elected at the Dominion general election of 1945, no fewer than 149 members were returned with more ballots marked against them than for them".

Apparently, if the average voter has been lulled into a laissez-fair attitude, largely through the orthodoxy and stability of the historic political parties upon which this nation's economy has been built, it is time he 'snapped out of it' and realized that electoral machinery which worked quite satisfactorily on a bi-party base has become inefficient, obsolescent, and is in danger of falling apart in these days of multi-partisanship, pulling in a variety of ideological directions, and with immature 'voters' unashamedly in the market-place, to the theme slogan of "O Promise Me"?

Among our farm organizations, for run o' mine resolutions a straight majority (however slim) is acceptable; but, in proposals of a major or basic nature, involving changes in the structure of the organization, its management or financial set-up, prior notice of motion is needed, and its approval requires a two-thirds majority of all those entitled to vote! That is safe, sound, and commonsense, Mr. Editor? As you well know, the latter has been described as 'the highest statesmanship'. We hear a great deal about the rights of the minority, and the need to conserve same. I agree, but the majority also have 'rights', and the duty to protect them?

RURAL CANADIAN.

SUGGESTS NEW TRAIN SCHEDULES

Sir: The various letters re our poor train service interest me. I do considerable travelling and find Peterborough has the poorest train service of any place its size in Southern Ontario.

I do not agree with those who criticize the railroads for having slower types of trains and less luxurious equipment out of Peterborough. Small centres between Peterborough and Toronto have to have local trains to serve them. If the C.P.R. did run a diesel coach to Toronto non-stop, I doubt if enough extra business would be stirred up to warrant the extra cost. I can see both the C.N.R. and C.P.R. do their best to keep their local trains through here on time.

Some time ago the C.P.R. was criticized for occasionally putting on a dirty coach and not providing us with better coaches. Apparently they have taken it seriously for the old coaches seem cleaner and they have added a luxury type coach to their morning train. Their service to us now is as good, I think, as we can expect.

The C.N.R. is letting Peterborough down. A good afternoon service is needed to Toronto and better connections to places west of Toronto. The C.N.R. with its splendid main line service through Port Hope is in a position to give it to us.

The local morning C.N. train from Toronto is poorly timed. It leaves Toronto at the correct time, but leaves Peterborough directly at 12.13 p.m., arriving Port Hope 1.25 p.m. Then there is the long wait for trains at 3.24 p.m. for Belleville, 3.55 p.m. and 5.13 p.m. for Montreal. A very neat arrangement could be attained by having this train held here until 2.30 p.m. and having the 3.24 p.m. Port Hope Belleville train passing through Port Hope 20 minutes later than at present. Then Peterborough people would have direct connections for Cobourg, Belleville, Oshawa and other lakeshore towns. For Toronto and Western Ontario, and an attractive afternoon service to Montreal.

Instead of returning at 4.05 p.m., ex., Port Hope to Peterborough, have one train held there for the fast train from Toronto and Western Ontario leaving Toronto at 4.00 p.m. arriving Port Hope 5.13 p.m. Based on present speed schedules a direct connection out of Port Hope at 5.15 p.m. would arrive here around 6.25 p.m. (People from west of Toronto now have a long wait at Toronto and don't arrive here until around 9.00 p.m.) Leave Peterborough 6.40 p.m. — arrive Toronto 9.50 p.m. making direct connections at 10.00 p.m. for Hamilton-London-Chicago and good connections for Western Canada. Leaving here now in the evening people have a lengthy wait at Toronto for above places.

If C.N. officials think the schedule of above mentioned trains cannot be changed, then, at least use a diesel coach to provide the desired connections at Port Hope. The Peterborough-Port Hope line does not pay. Why not try to make it pay? Surely the residents of Millbrook, etc., won't object to getting their mail a couple of hours later if they are provided with an improved train service?

Our bus lines are not afraid to experiment. Through service is provided to Toronto etc. Leaving Peterborough now in the middle of the day for Toronto and west of there it is preferable to go by bus, the train service is so poor.

If people want better train service they must patronize same. Not just when the roads are bad, or something goes wrong with the car, but at other times. It is often worth the difference in cost (especially on week-ends) to enjoy the relaxation, comfort and safety of rail travel.

I hope to see the C.N. have improved train service for Peterborough listed in their new time-tables for next October. Combining that with a newspaper advertising campaign like the local bus lines have, certainly ought to lift their passenger business out of its present low.

If they don't those of us who want to think that the C.N.R. (that we own) was well run as the C.P.R., will conclude that it isn't, and that the management is hostile to suggestions from the public, smug, and more concerned about raising their freight rates than trying to get new business.

Yours truly,
FOR PROPER RAIL SERVICE.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thus saith the Lord the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hosts; I am the first, and I am the last; and beside me there is no God. (Isa. 44: 6.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Fear thou not; for I am with thee: be not dismayed; for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee; yea, I will help thee; yea, I will uphold thee with the right hand of my righteousness. Behold, all they that were incensed against thee shall be ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing; and they that strive with thee shall perish. Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not find them, even them that contended with thee: they that war against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. (Isa. 41: 10-13.)

My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him. He only is my rock and my salvation: he is my defence; I shall not be moved....

God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God. (Ps. 62: 5, 6, 11.)

How Smart Is An Elephant?

(SCIENCE)

MARTIN Johnson credited elephants with a telepathic ability. But whtever it is, it certainly works. David Blunt passed downwind of a herd one day as he was returning from a hunt near the Matundo river, in the Belgian Congo. He turned and saw two elephant calves move across the path he'd taken. They stopped at his footprints, ran their trunks over the ground like vacuum cleaners, then ran to their mothers; the mothers returned to the trail with the calves, sniffed, then rounded up the whole herd and took off. Obviously that required some means of communication.

There's no question about the elephant being smart enough to fool people. His brain is a marvelous thinking machine. He is the only animal known that can be taken in the adult wild state and be completely broken to domesticity in a year's time. Domestic elephants are constantly outsmarting their trainers. For instance, the best cure for a slight elephant cold is a bucket of gin and ginger. Once he's had this, the elephant, who would be a confirmed drunkard if he had the chance, has been known to spend days groaning and faking more cramps just to get another bucket of gin.

Even trickier is his subterfuge when taking sugar coated pills, which mahouts prepare for him against heat stroke. At first bite, the elephant tastes the bitter interior. But he won't spit it out, because he knows the mabout will go for help and cram the stuff down his throat. He tucks the pill in his cheek and makes a great to-do over chewing, jaws going like mad. Then, when he thinks the mahout has lost interest, he swings his head aside, flips his trunk over his back and blows—as though chasing bothering flies. The pill, meanwhile, is spit as far to the rear as possible.

Of course, elephants have been known to do some dumb things, too. One scientist tells how he disrupted a herd with a single shot. All but two elephants lumbered off. Those two stood stock-still, behind a tree, not moving a hair. "Obviously," noted the scientist, "like ostriches, they had the quaint idea that if they kept still behind that skinny tree I wouldn't see them."

Drinking In The U.S.

Of 100,000,000 Americans of drinking age (fifteen years and older), an estimated 58,250,000 use some form of alcoholic beverage, to some extent. The great majority of these, 54,500,000, keep themselves mainly within the category of safe and moderate drinkers, and as such are no part of the public health program. But a minority of all drinking Americans, about 3,750,000 are classified as excessive drinkers, or inebriates, and within this group 750,000 or 800,000 are known, on the basis of hospital and court records, to be chronic alcoholics. Of all excessive drinkers, one in six is a woman.—Science Magazine.

Bite And Die

The Department of Agriculture is looking for a "one-shot" insecticide which, fed or injected into animals or men would kill any insects that bite them. Preliminary experiments have been carried on, but "much work remains to be done."

If the department needs a slightly increased appropriation to speed up this work, we are all for it. Think how wonderful it will be to know that the bees that sting, the mosquitoes that bite and the jiggers that burrow are signing their own death warrants in the process.—Milwaukee Journal.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Today's window is featuring horse shoes. Not the lucky kind, nor yet the pitching type. Not even those for running horses, as the latter usually are fitted with small thin plates which can be manufactured in large quantities. No, we speak now of shoes for the harness horses, the pacers and trotters. On account of we saw an item in the Windsor sheet saying that three colleges—Rutgers, California and Michigan State—now teach the art of horse shoeing. A 14-week course to give 'em the groundwork and, with harness racing pretty popular on this continent now, every graduate steps right into a job. Many ex-servicemen have taken the course.

* * * * * *

Dr. Art Johnston, local veterinary surgeon, says 14 weeks isn't nearly enough. "It is really an art," he says, "and expert shoers must have the precision of tool-makers." The smithy must study the size and shape of each hoof and make the shoe to order. He must know where to add extra weight of calks and figure the right shoe weight. They used to go in for heavier shoes, right up to maybe two pounds, but now the shoe is more likely to be less than six ounces. But many angles enter into it, and that's why years of experience are required for an expert blacksmith handling harness horses.

* * * * * *

"A Mighty Man Is He"

Only one Peterborough smithy makes shoes for the pacers and trotters—and there are about 30 harness horse racers in the city. He is John Galloway. Hence, some of the local horsemen have to take their racers up to Lindsay where William Cain makes and fits 'em. Next nearest is Tweed, Doc tells us, as there aren't too many in this part of the province. Or elsewhere, it being something of a lost art. Many milk and bread companies hire their own smithy. Seems there are some 280 or more designs for harness horse shoes, the common one costing $4.00 for making and setting. Special ones rate higher and might be up to $10 to be made and then $3.00 to be put on. Cost is double what it was some 10 years ago, with fewer blacksmiths.

* * * * * *

Some of the above info we got from the Windsor item quoting the president of the U.S. Trotting Association, and the rest from Dr. Johnston, who is one of the local owners. We're not exactly an expert on the matter, though in our youth we often watched an uncle in Lindsay tacking on the equine oxfords. An oldtimer at the game, he didn't go more than about 150—around our weight today—and yet he could handle balky horses just like lapping up ice cream in a heat wave. But he differed considerably from us in some respect—he had muscles! In any case it is interesting to look back upon an art that is almost lost today. Mm, a 14-week course, indeed!

Speaking Of Soccer

Soccer meeting last night set these games: Phelan Cup match tomorrow here, Lindsay vs. O'Halloran's, W. Harris referee; CGE vs. Petes in Phelan Cup semi-final here Saturday with Tom Garland ref; July 7, Legion vs. winners of O'Halloran's and Lindsay, under Asa Downer; July 17, Phelan Cup final, Tom Garland referee. Last half of schedule will be drawn with games likely Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays except for Legion Wednesday evening matches. Legion players leave from the bus terminal at 9.30 Thursday a.m. for Kingston. No game here on the holiday. Jock Hamilton, Lindsay's ace goalie, has left for the Old Country and he will be replaced by Red Thomas in the Wednesday match.

Girls' softball at the Bowl tomorrow eve: Lakefield vs. CGE and Westclox vs. Marines. No lasses' games on Friday owing to the long holiday week-end. Two tussles were staged last gloaming with Westclox winning from CGE 15-7 while Marines defeated Lock Co. 11-6. The Clockers ran wild in a big fifth frame to tally nine runs and tuck it away. They had a margin in hitting and played errorless ball as the Electrics were loose defensively. Marines had to finish strong to beat the luckless Lock Co. lasses, who keep improving each game, that five- run rash in the eighth settling matters. Race continues tight in the upper half of the standing.

Kingston And Petes

Two COBL fixtures here on the holiday with Kingston Locos, who are now crowding Oshawa plenty with recent victories, playing the Petes at 10.30 a.m. and at three in the aft in Riverside. Like old times to have Kingston ballsters in a twin holiday bill on the park that runs by the river. The slugging Petes will have to be in top shape to take both ends of the double-header as the clubs split on two last week in the Limestone City. Given weather the tilts should attract large holiday crowds. Petes had hoped to get Washington Pilots here next week for an exhibition but received word today that the Pilots were denied entrance at the border. Maybe later.

11-6 Win Marines Take Over Lock

Marines kept pace with Westclox in the Girls' Softball League when they defeated Lock Co. 11-6 at the Bowl last evening. It was a fine fray till the eighth when the improving Lock Co. crew cracked a bit and kicked in with three costly errors as Outboards scored five runs. There were many switches in players and mound changes on both sides. The hitting was even and only a few strikeouts marked up on each side, but errors late in the game made the difference. The win kept the Marines up on even terms with the Clockers while the luckless Lock Co. are still seeking a victory.

D. Westlake and N. Stewart were probably the pick of the losers in the field in this tussle, while A. LaPointe and V. Mitchell turned in an outstanding performance afield for Marines. M. Behand had three safe hits in five times to lead the Outboards at bat, and J. McIntyre, D. Westlake, T. McQuade and C. Michaud each had two bingles for Lock Co.

The teams:

Grover Klemmer, 20-year-old University of California sophomore, set a world record for 400 metres at Philadelphia seven years ago today when he was clocked in 46 seconds flat, 1/10 of a second better than the mark set by another Californian, Archie Williams, in 1936.

Marlene Grandmother

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP) — Movie actress Marlene Dietrich became a grandmother Monday when her 24-year-old daughter, Mrs. William Riva, gave birth to an eight-pound boy. Hospital officials said mother and baby were well.

DOREEN EVERETT—20-year-old Brantford girl, who drowned Sunday near Bala. The girl was learning to swim when she slipped into 20 feet of water in the Moose River.

Westclox Get Victory Over Electrics

Westclox kept up their winning pace in the Girls Softball League last night when they took a 15-7 triumph over CGE at the Bowl. The Clockers cashed in on walks and errors, with a few safe blows, in a big nine-run fifth frame to put it in the bag. Otherwise, it was a pretty fair game. CGE tried a last-inning rally but could get only two markers. M. Kennedy took over from M. Downer in the sixth and fanned nine after the former had whiffed six. M. Perrin relieved J. Hart in the seventh for CGE and struck out one, her predecessor sending four down on strikes. Westclox fielded perfectly but CGE were loose.

M. Hawthorne led the winners at bat with four hits in six tries, two of them doubles. M. Batley and M. Perrin each came through with three safeties for the Electrics, and R. Hewitt homered in the ninth inning. M. Perrin and J. Hart for CGE, with N. Whetung and J. Vass for Westclox looking best defensively in this game.

The teams:

Decide Stage Best Way To Enter Films

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 29 (AP) —Don't assail the walls of Hollywood if you want to break into the movies. Go to the stage

That's the consensus of the stars who have made the grade. The percentage of Hollywood-found stars grows smaller as the industry progresses.

The Associated Press Hollywood forum question for today: what would you advise youngsters who want to break into movie acting? Here's how it was answered:

John Garfield: "stay away from Hollywood or you'll end up a car hop or a bus boy. Go on the stage, either at home or on Broadway. Or try television. . . .

Sir Ralph Richardson: "You can only learn to act before an audience. When you perform, the people will either listen or cough. If they listen, you are an actor. If they cough, you are not."

Stage Best

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.: "Don't try. Unless you have infinite patience and a bankroll to last through 10 years of disappointments, it's better to try other fields. If you are determined to reach the screen, I think the stage is the best training ground."

Jeanne Crain: "Find out all you can about Hollywood—the expenses, the obstacles and the angles. Then find a competent person to appraise yaur acting ability. . ."

Robert Montgomery: "Go on the stage and turn down the first three Hollywood offers."

Joel McCrea: "Get experience first—in stock, community or college drama. Don't take a film test until you're ready for it. . ."

Dan Dailey: "The essence of good acting is timing, which can only be learned from live audiences. Radio and screen aren't good training. Radio audiences aren't honest; they applaud when they're told. The camera is no audience at all."

Relief Hurlers Keep Pennant Dreams Alive

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now is the time for all pennant-conscious mangers to give a note of thanks to those athletes who hold the most thankless job in baseball—the relief hurlers.

Never before have the majors boasted so many fine rescue artists. As a matter of fact, Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York owe their lofty positions in the American League to the splendid work done by that game-saving crew. The same holds true of all the first division clubs in the National League.

Last year, both Bucky Harris and Burt Shotton, respective managers of the Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, were quick to admit that they never would have won the flag without their ace firemen Joe Page and Hugh Casey.

This year, numerous pitchers have come up to challenge Page and Casey for the No. 1 rating. Casey has been temporarily inactive due to an injury, but Page is still carrying on in flawless style. In Casey's place have loomed such relief luminaries as Ted Wilks of St. Louis Cardinals, Clyde Shoun, Boston Braves; Russ Christopher and Ed Klieman, Cleveland Indians; Charley Arris and Bob Savage, Athletics; Sheldon Jones, New York Giants; Harry Gumbert, Cincinnati Reds and Kirby Higbe, Pittsburgh Hornets.

Best Work

The best relief work of the year, day in and day out, probably is being turned in by Wilks, who has appeared in 21 of the Cardinals' 61 games all in relief. He has permitted only 25 hits in 45 innings.

No games were played yesterday, but the torrid warfare resumes today in full force. Each league has four home games scheduled, all but two of them at night.

'A LONG LIST OF BERLINERS in front of the Russian Central Currency Exchange, waiting to exchange old Reichmarks for new Soviet-stamped marks. A little later rioting broke out, resulting in several deaths and injury to many. Germans stood in line all night to be ready to get the Russian-approved currency, which bears a small Soviet stamp.

Robinson Retains Crown Docusen Lasts 15 Rounds

CHICAGO, June 29. (AP)—Ray (Sugar) Robinson's 15-round decision over young Bernie Docusen to retain his welterweight boxing crown is the story of a steak.

The machine-like New York slugger starved himself for two days to make the 147-pound weight limit. Then after tipping the scales at 146½ in yesterday's weigh-in, he drank a quart of beef broth and gnawed through a two-pound broiled steak. This was his first solid food in 48 hours of forced dehydration to shed four or five pounds.

That hunk of beef did it. During most of last night's title defence in Comiskey Park against the 145½-pounder, 21-year-old New Orleans challenger — six years his junior—Robinson was a blur of power and precision. He had to be to beat the dead-pan, polished little Filipino who made the champion go the route. The decision was unanimous.

When, and if, Robinson vacates the welterweight bracket, you can put Docusen down as one of the best bets to succeed him.

Robinson emerged from the scrap a leg-weary, thoroughly tired champion. After having the ninth round taken away from him for hitting low, he opened up in the 10th and Docusen for the first time gave ground in a furious exchange. In the 11th, Robinson nailed his opponent for a nine count with a left hook to the chin. It was the first time the youngster had been floored in a span of 58 victories in 60 bouts.

Docusen, however, refused to be the champion's 59th knockout victim in a remarkable record of 88 triumphs. He struggled up at the count of nine and stumbled into another vicious volley. But Robinson was so worn down from the flurry he couldn't finish him. Docusen brought the slim crowd of 8,883 to its feet cheering by lashing back. He battled the titleholder to a standstill until the bell.

Bisons Down Newark 7-4

By The Associated Press

If Buffalo could handle all of its International League opponents as it has Newark's Bears, the Bisons today would be riding well out in front of the pack.

The Bisons needed one big inning—the seventh—last night to ram across four decisive runs for a 7-4 verdict over Newark. It was Buffalo's 11th meeting with the Bears this season, and the eighth victory for the Bisons.

In the only other league game yesterday, Eddie Erautt scattered eight hits as Syracuse Chiefs walloped the league-leading Montreal Royals 8-1.

Montreal remained 4½ games ahead of the second-place Bears, but Syracuse and Buffalo gained one game as they maintained their third-place deadlock 7½ games off the pace.

Ken Silvestri and Joe Collins clouted home runs for Newark, the latter with one aboard.

Syracuse found the mound offerings of John Van Cuyk and Art Shallock for 10 hits, including four round-trippers, two by Kermit Wahl and the others by Jodi Beeler and Ed Shokes.

Confident Canada To Get Empire Games

LONDON, June 29. (CP) — Canadian Olympic officials, scheduled to arrive here in July, can be confident that the senior Dominion will be awarded the next British Empire games.

But where in Canada to hold them is a problem.

The Canadian Olympic Committee, working in conjunction with the amateur athletic union of Canada, offered the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto the games but the CNE refused to sponsor the event.

So far, no offer has been made to any other Canadian city.

Nevertheless, there's a lot of "behind-the-scenes' plugging for the Dominion going on in London and one qualified source told the Canadian Press "It's in the bag." It is up to Canada to make the bid.

Begin Research To Break Credit Barriers

GENEVA, June 29—(Reuters).—With the backing of 27 countries, the Economic Commission for Europe has begun six months' intensive research on the possibility of breaking down the trade and credit barriers which divide the 16 Marshall Plan countries from eastern Europe.

Reflecting the expressed conviction of both East and West that Europe is an economic unit which cannot recover if divided, the member powers of the commission have instructed its secretariat to pursue two lines of research:

1. On ways of enlisting Western help in the industrialization of eastern Europe. This help must take the form of supplying capital and equipment goods to eastern countries which before the war depended largely on Germany.

2. On ways of expanding trade across the political division between post-war Russian policy and the Marshall Plan. Wider credit facilities would form the backbone of this expanded interchange of Western machinery and goods for Eastern Food and raw materials.

A relatively non-committal formula—to study means of developing European industries and trade—was produced by Sweden, after Eastern and Western Powers had wrangled for four days in secret session at the May meeting of the Economic Commission.

Already technical bodies of the Economic Commission, grouping representatives of countries most directly interested, have been persuaded that Western credits to Eastern countries could be well worth while.

CBC Plans To Open Two New Stations

TORONTO, June 29 (CP)—The CBC said today that it plans to open two new high-powered radio stations in September and to increase the power of transmitters at two other stations this year.

The new 50-kilowatt stations will be CBX, Alberta, and CBW, Manitoba. Station CJBC, Toronto, will soon operate with a 50-kilowatt transmitter and CBJ, Chicoutimi, Que., with a 10-kilowatt one.

The CBC will take over station CKY from the Manitoba Telephone System July 1 and will operate it until the new equipment is fully tested.

The new 50,000-watt transmitter for CJBC has been ready for several weeks. Its opening has been delayed until Sept. 1 at the request of CFRB, Toronto, with which it will exchange frequencies.

Historian, Writer J. P. Turner Dies

OTTAWA, June 29. (CP)—John Peter Turner, historian of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and considered one of Canada's outstanding conservation experts, died Monday morning in hospital here after a lengthy illness. He was 67.

As a young man he travelled widely through the Canadian Northwest, and was a friend of the commissioner of the old North West Mounted Police, the late A. G. Irvine. Following his appointment in 1939 as RCMP historian he wrote several books on the history of the force.

A proponent of wildlife conservation, he was conservation editor of the magazine, "Rod and Gun," and was a member of the Council of Canadian Conservation Association. At one time he was on the staff of the Canadian Geographical Journal as a writer on Canadian wildlife.

Born in Toronto, he worked as a youth for the Dominion Bank of Canada in Winnipeg and later set up his own insurance business there. He is survived by his widow, the former Kathleen Drennan, daugher of the late Col. Melville Drennan of Kingston.

Funeral service will be held here Wednesday.

8 Playgrounds To Open With Staffs On July 1

The Peterborough Recreation Commission will officially open their summer playground schedule at eight playgrounds on Thursday, July 1.

Lions-Riverside, Kinsmen-Inverlea, Fleming Place, King Edward, Turner Park, Prince of Wales, Confederation School and Dixon House will be the locations.

Games, leagues, athletics, handcrafts, story telling, tournaments, and dramatics will be feature activities during the ten weeks program.

Lions-Riverside and Kinsmen-Inverlea will feature Totlots for pre-school aged children with Inverlea having an enclosed area with special apparatus and playhouses for the tiny tots. A hard surface track for tricycles and other wheeled play things will be an important improvement in the playground facilities at the Kinsmen Totlot. Special furniture, tables, chairs, and building blocks will also be part of the equipment featured in the enclosure as well as hobby horses, jungle gum, swings, slide, climbing mound, and sandbox.

Added New Areas

Dixon House in the north end, Confederation School in the south, and Turner Park in the west end have been areas added to the playground system of last year. Dixon House playlot will feature activities for the tiny tots, which seem to be in the majority in that district. Some ground improvements and fence removal is taking place which should make this 100 x 100 playlot one of the most popular.

Confederation School grounds has little to offer in the way of apparatus or facilities such as swings, teeters, sandbox, slide and others. These pieces will be installed as soon as possible. Until they are, the use of the school grounds will fill a much needed gap in the south end. Mrs. Lillian Hewitt will be in charge of this playground for older girls and boys. Mrs Hewitt has a playground background of five years experience on Toronto playgrounds and it is expected that she will be able to offer considerable in the way of experience to the Peterborough playground system.

Turner Park which is being developed as a playground by the B'nai B'rith Lodge and should produce some of the best athletes in town. The Trojan Athletic Club is expected to use this area as athletic headquarters for the grade school students and should produce many championship teams. The B'nai B'rith Lodge has spent considerable money in the erection of a club house. Some grading and filling is needed to put the grounds into playing condition. The Parks Department has assured B'nai B'rith that this work will be done as soon as possible.

The Recreation Commission has trained supervisors and a program awaiting the completion of this ground work and some interior work on the building. As soon as this is done the B'nai B'rith playground will be officially opened with the lodge executive and city officials participating in opening ceremonies and turning the key for the buolding over to the city.

This summer's slogan "Let's play on the playgrounds."

Mission Band Service Held At Millbrook

MILLBROOK, June 29 (ENS)—Service at St. Andrew's United church, on Sunday morning, was in the interests of the Mission Band. The children, under their leaders, Mrs. H. W. Gray, and Mrs. B. E. Ingram, formed the choir, and sang two selections. Hymns were all from the section for the young in the Hymnary.

In his sermon, Rev. G. C. R. McQuade paid tribute, from the congregation and himself, to Mrs. Gray and Mrs. Ingram for their wine service in training the boys and girls for future leadership in the church. Following custom, the offering on Sunday was given to the Mission Band.

Nursing Division Suggested For Health Dept.

SACKVILLE, N.B., June 29—(CP). — Establishment of a nursing division in the department of national healthy and welfare was urged today by Rae Chittick of Calgary, president of the Canadian Nurses' Association.

"Such a division could be of tremendous help to the provinces in developing and co-ordinating their nursing service," said Miss Chittick in an address prepared for delivery to the 600 nurses attending the CNAs four-day bienniel meeting here.

Miss Chittick noted the ever-growing public interest in health and the increasing responsibility governments are taking for the health and welfare of their citizens.

"A survey made by the Canadian Nurses' Association in 1947 showed that about 28 per cent more nurses were needed to staff existing services," said Miss Chittick. "Probably, at the present time, Canada needs only about 7,000 more nurses to carry out existing services."

Nurses Ignored

Miss Chittick noted that the federal government had announced large grants would be paid to the provinces to promote health services. "Yet as far as we can gather from press reports no money is especially earmarked to increase nursing services."

Miss Chittick listed four other points the CNA should take as its objectives:

1. Gradual reorganization of the education of nurses.

2. A national nursing survey to determine where emphasis should be placed in recruiting, education and employing nurses.

3. A drive for large and more diverse assisting staffs in hospitals.

4. A continuing program to improve working conditions for nurses.

5. An informative public relations program.

Inside Story Predicted In King Mahidol Murder

BANGKOK, SIAM, June 29—(Ruters)—The insid story of the death of 21-year-old King Ananda Mahidol in his bedroom at the Royal Palace here two years ago may be revealed when the trial of the late king's secretary, Naio Chaleo Pratumrot, on charges of murder, opens next month.

With Nai Chaleo Pratumrot in the dock will appear two other officials of the Siamese Royal Household, charged with complicity in the murder.

Secrecy is being maintained regarding the findings of a special investigation committee which for nearly six months has been collecting evidence on the circumstances of the king's death.

This committee, headed by the chief of the Siamese criminal police, has just returned here from Lausanne in Switzerland, with a 10-page statement by King Phumiphon Aduledej, Ananda Mahidol's brother, who succeeded to the throne two years ago.

The officials are also said to have obtained "important evidence" from the late king's mother and members of the royal suite at Lausanne.

Maj.-Gen. Phra Phinit Jonagadi, chairman of the committee, said that evidence gathered from members of the royal family at Lausanne "confirmed what were hitherto mere conjectures" regarding the king's death.

The investigators said the king was the victim of an assassin's bullets. They suspect a large-scale conspiracy, involving some of the leading personalities in the kingdom.

Deaf School Changes Asked

OTTAWA, June 29 —(CP)— The Ontario Association of the Deaf today urged reorganization of the Ontario School of the Deaf at Belleville.

A resolution passed at the Association convention said the school authorities have claimed it is approved by the Conference of Executives of American Schools for the Deaf.

"It is well known that the great majority of such public residential schools in North America are operated on the combined system with deaf teachers as valuable and vital members of the school staff."

Therefore, the school should be reorganized "in order to become worthy of its membership on the distinguished conference through use of the combined system."

Another resolution urged "intelligent use of the manual languages in the religious development of all deaf children."

It said there has been evidence "of the most undesirable results in mentality and morals arising from the lack of proper means of religious instruction to the children at the Belleville school."

MP Declares Abbott Put On Spot Over Excise Tax

OTTAWA, June 29. (CP)—J. M. MacDonell (PC, Muskoka-Ontario) told the Commons today that it now is apparent that a Canadian Press story last week predicting the removal of austerity excise taxes was "perfectly true down to the last 'i' and the cross of the 't'."

He made the statement during debate on the report of the Commons Price Committee, tabled on Friday, which included among its recommendations one suggesting that the 25 per cent taxes, imposed last Nov. 17, be lifted.

He recalled that the CP story was published a week ago today and Finance Minister Abbott, in reply to a question from Mr. Macdonell told the chamber he had "no alternative" but to say the report was "without foundation."

Mr. Macdonell added:

"That was a nice position to put the Minister of Finance in, was it not? He had to say in this House last Tuesday that this rumor which we now find out is perfectly true down to the last "i" and the crossing of the 't' was without foundation.

"That seems to me one of the extraneous and quite unnecessary circumstances which results from this way of doing business."

Rotary To Aid Old People; Picnic Planned

Dr. R. A. Kelly, speaking on the work of the crippled children's committee at the final meeting of the year of the Rotary Club on Monday at the Empress Hotel, said that crippled children's work has a place in Rotary service but that it is now necessary to look for a new field as a main objective.

During the past year, 28 cases of crippled children were taken into consideration by the Club, but in only five of the 19 new cases was financial aid required. Dr. Kelly attributed the small amount spent by the committee and the little demand for financial help to the present economic conditions, the fact that other social agencies are helping and lastly to prepaid medical care. It was the last reason that he stressed and he said that prepaid medical care was decreasing the importance of Rotary's work.

Major Charles Watt, chairman of the newly formed social service committee, outlined the program of that committee. "There are a tremendous number of old, forgotten people,' he said, "and we think we can do something for them." While he did not wish to minimise the importance of youth work, he said that there was a great field of humanitarian work to be done in the assistance of old people. A picnic for 50 old people is planned in July and it is hoped to have similar functions throughout the year.

Les Woodruff, chairman of the vocational service committee, proposed the holding of three meetings throughout the year with talks devoted to labor-management relations, and cooperation with the secondary schools in vocational training.

Gordon Carveth, chairman of the boys work committee, suggested that the sponsorship of lacrosse and other sports teams be discontinued and that assistance be given to "underprivileged boys."

Charles Cummer, retiring president, thanked the officers and committee chairmen of the club for their work during the past year. "It has been a good year," he said, "and we are heading into good times for Rotary in Peterborough." He was presented with the past president's pin by Ross Dobbin.

W. J. Hamilton, new president for 1948-49, thanked Mr. Cummer for his work during the past year.

Plan To Re-Seed Burned Forests

TORONTO, June 29.—(CP).—Even before greedy flames have been quieted in Ontario's wooded north, the Lands Department has announced a plan to re-seed devastated areas from the air.

A statement Monday said erial seeding of trees, a new phase of forest conservation, will be tried this fall by the research division of the department.

Meanwhile, the weather office at Toronto said showers were expected during the night in the heavily-burned Mississagi and Chapleau areas, and would continue tomorrow.

Scattering black spruce seed from the air is an experimental process. Numbering 300,000 to the pound, the seeds would be largely wasted if not processed. Current treatment is to coat the seeds. They are made immune to birds, insects, rodents and fungi and the coating is designed to dissolve in the spring moisture to allow germination.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

MORE JOBS for Young Canadians

TODAY CANADA'S manufacturing capacity has been increased—and diversified—to an extent never thought possible in pre-war years. Now Canada can do more — can make more — offers far more opportunities to young Canadians commencing their careers today. While established industries have been expanding, new ones have been springing up. Over 200 new products formerly imported are now being made here.

CAPACITY for steel production doubled; chemical output more than twice 1939 level; pulp and paper mills operating at 50% above pre-war: everywhere the magnitude of the advance is evident.

EMPLOYMENT figures, too, tell the story of our emergence as one of the world's great industrial nations; today almost twice as many Canadians are engaged in manufacturing as there were before the war.

DEVELOPMENT continues: on new plant and new equipment nearly four times as much was spent by Canadian industry last year as in 1939.

"... UNTOLD OPPORTUNITIES"

"If one wants to give service and work, Canada is full of untold opportunities — greater than ever. It is well, too, for young Canadians not to overlook small towns and rural parts, because in these places the door is ajar, life can be gloriously free and very full."

... says ROY SHIELDS of Coboconk, Ontario. He and his brother Charles have, by industry and initiative, supported by loyal, hard-working employees, attained a remarkable success as General Merchants in their rural community. Their store has been referred to as the "Biggest Little Department Store" in the country.

Will Expropriate 20 Acres In North End

A friendly expropriation of 20 acres of the Wm. Brown estate, across the highway from the filtration plant, for the Utilities Commission is to be instituted by the council as recommended by the board of works Monday night.

Peterborough's expansion and increase in population is reaching out to its waterworks, and the commission is beginning, in this proposed purchase, to prepare for enlargement of the filtration plant and reservoir. Part of the property will be left for public park purposes.

Mr. A. L. Elliott, solicitor for the Utilities Commission explained the circumstances of estate restriction preventing Mr. Klondike G. Brown from selling part of the property to the city. Possession has been in the Brown family through generations back to patent from the Crown. On account of circumstances attaching to inheritance the present owner is not permitted to sell the 20 acres. Consequently, and with Mr. Brown's consent, the Utilities Commission must resort to expropriation.

And as the Commission is only an administering body, it has to ask the council to make the purchase of the Brown property.

It is understood that the Department of Highways has a plan to reduce the bend in the road at the foot of the filtration plant stretch of the Lakefield Highway. When the property is obtained by the commission a strip of it on the outer and western side will be offered to the Department in exchange for the present roadway, thereby enabling the incorporation of the present two properties on either side of the highway into a larger area for the future of the waterworks and filtration plant.

In this planning the commission is providing for some park accommodation extending the existing grounds to which the public has entry.

Expropriation proceedings were recommended to the council in a motion by Alderman Grant Miller and Gordon Armstrong.

Hickey Appeals To Council Re Used Car Lot

Peterborough Automobile Dealers Association in a letter to the council, which was considered by the board of works Monday night, supported the application of Wm. J. Hickey for a temporary permit to carry on a used car business on the east side of Stewart St., second lot north of Charlotte St.

Mr. Hickey, appearing before the board, said the government's austerity program cutting off imports from the U.S., deprived him of new cars. He was forced into the used car business as were many of the leading dealers in Toronto and other cities in the province.

"I certainly won't do harm to any of the residents of that locality," Mr. Hickey said. "The lot is vacant and is adjacent to two garages at that corner. What I have in mind will be an asset instead of a debit to property. The lot is overgrown with weeds. I intend to spend $600 to $900 fixing it up. There won't be any repairing and washing of cars. I am asking only for temporary consideration until I have time to look around for a permanent place. The lot will be presentable at all times."

From enquiries Mr. Hickey said he had learned that some of the residents who had opposed his request had signed the petition casually.

The Automobile Association letter was signed by James L. Gillespie, president.

"We all know Mr. Hickey's reputation as a sound business man," said Mayor Ovens when the board later dealt with his application for a used car permit. "We have asked town planning committee to define that locality."

A motion by Aldermen Armstrong and Swanston directed that the letter be sent on to the town planning committee with a request that if possible they provide the council with a reply by next Monday.

Stage Sit-Down Strike When Outside Men Hired

When four Toronto carpenters were brought into Peterborough on Thursday with a 15-cents-an-hour boost in wages plus expenses for travelling and board, it touched off a strike on Monday morning at the Empress Hotel. Local workers of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, 219 (AFL), protested against this move and went on a sit-down strike until the four men were disengaged and headed back for Toronto.

Men in the Peterborough union said they were receiving $1.35 an hour and they regarded it as unfair that other workmen of the same trade should be engaged for $1.50 an hour with travelling expenses and board provided.

Members Of Toronto Union

Roy Locke, president of Local 219, Carpenters and Joiners, said, "We felt it wasn't right that one group of workers should do the same job as another with higher wages plus expenses of board and travel."

He claimed that the four carpenters who were members of Local 27, Toronto, agreed with them in principal; and he added that there was no thought of discrimination against the additional help because they were not from this district, but solely because of the discrepancy in pay.

Mr. Locke said that Kenneth King, personnel manager for the Davidson Construction Company which hired them, was informed of the union's attitude on Friday and replied that if the local union could get four men to replace the Torontonians he would send the latter back. He said the union was unable to supply the four men but was still unwilling to accept the new workmen at the job.

Sit-Down Strike

The foreman, Jack Osborne, was informed by the union that an increased wage was wanted to match the four Toronto men's pay cheques or the latter should have their wages scaled down. As Toronto union men do not work for less than $1.50 an hour this possibility was thrown out and when they were still employed on Monday morning, the 15 local union men went on a sit-down strike for an hour and a half. After negotiations with Toronto, the men who were the centre of the controversy left.

Parking Meters Yield City $600 Every Week

The city has a good investment in parking meters. They bring in about $600 a week in nickels and coppers, and in April of this year, 200 more motorists paid parking fines than in April, 1947.

In April, 1947, $69.00 was paid to the city in the way of parking fines. This year, motorists handed over $268.00 during April.

Thursday, the 15th July, 1948, is the dead line to get your 1948 Bicycle Licenses. Any person found riding his or her bicycle in the City after that date without his or her bicycle license will be subjected to prosecution.

Beef Prices Drop

TORONTO, June 29 — (CP) — Beef prices in Toronto stores have dropped nine cents a pound since June 17. A slump on the livestock market has left 3,500 cattle milling in Toronto stock-yards with sub-normal sales reported Monday. Choice beef now averages 65 cents a pound.

Band Stand Gets Go Signal

In the expectation of getting $11,000 from the City Trust Commission for the band stand of concrete construction at Nicholls Oval, board of works recommended to the council last night that the contract agreement with Eastwood Consruction Co. be signed by Mayor Ovens and City Clerk Outram.

"They've already got started up there," said Ald. Swanston.

"They're only putting up a shack for their use while the work is being done," Mayor Ovens said.

"It's got to be done sometime, I guess," was the remark of Ald. Swanston.

But the council is not certain yet that it is going to get the $11,000 from the City Trust Commission. They hope and expect, but they are still lacking full assurance. However, the job is under way wtih the last step in proposals and discussions extending over the war period at least.

The stand may be used for band concerts, theatrical performances, dances and so on. Its need grew out of the industrial picnics being drawn to Nicholls Oval. Robert S. Cotton, in his aldermanic days, used to urge the advantages of the park for local picnics. The new stand is to be erected on the west side near the Park Hill Road gate. It has been designed for later improvements.

Plant Too Noisy Citizens Complain

Outboard Marine causes too much racket at its George St. plant according to a complaint of 24 residents of the Romaine St. corner vicinity to the board of works last night. Their petition used the sharply condemning phrase "infernal racket," and all day. They say they lived in that neighborhood before Outboard moved into the factory south of Westcott St. Some opinion was expressed that mufflers might be used.

In the meantime Mayor Ovens was asked by the board to convey the objections to the heads of the company.

"Outboard Marine officials are always willing to do anything they can," said Ald. Max Swanston. "I'll get a report for next Monday night" Mayor Ovens promised.

Duck Ponds On Sidewalks Irk Lawyer; Wants Repairs

"Duck Ponds," graphic phrase of G. N. Gordon, describes hollows time has formed in the sidewalk on the north side of Charlotte between Nos. 210 and 218. They should not be tolerated any longer, he wrote the board of works last night, as basins for rain.

Mr. Gordon demands that the walk be repaired and raised. He even threatens the council with another action for a mandamus order to get something done after 20 years or more of tolerating a nuisance to pedestrians.

The Gordon letter led to a proposal that broken sidewalks should be rebuilt, and their cost should be charged as local improvement, instead of all of it coming out of the general fund.

That was City Clerk Outram's suggestion. Some of the concrete walks have been in use 50 to 60 years. The debentures that paid for them have been retired long ago.

City Engineer Chalmers said he had already on his list enough new sidewalk work to keep him busy all summer.

Seven or eight years ago, maybe more, James Dutton, as alderman, had urged the council of the time to assume a sidewalk repair program. There were miles of walk requiring attention, he said.

"If we are not going to do it this year, why waste the Engineer's time asking him for a report," said Ald. Swanston. "It would be time enough for a report to the new council in January."

Mr. Chalmers said he couldn't get enough men for the work that requires doing. Ald. Swanston suggested that he might do some temporary repairs where conditions demanded them, and "whenever he can get it done." Mr. Chalmers could give the council a report on the extent of sidewalk backlog and an estimate of the cost.

Presumably, the mileage of concrete walk broken by frost and trees and other causes has not decreased since Mr. Dutton used to utter warnings against accidents to the public, and urging the footpaths be made straight, safe and neat.

Claims There Is No Choice But To Pass Bylaw Closing Service Stations

Gasoline station owners who have applied for an early closing bylaw are being requested in a Board of Works motion Monday to revise its terms in the interest of summer tourist accommodation. The alternative appeared to be a sentiment to instruct City Solicitor W. F. Huycke to contest application by Garage Owners' Association in the Supreme Court of Ontario requiring the council to pass the bylaw as required by provincial legislation.

The board's motion seeking a meeting with garage operators "in regard to the proposed early closing bylaw" was proposed by Ald. Herbert Young and Ald. Dick Raine. Previously, Ald. Swanston had moved, seconded by Ald. Anglesey, that Mr. Huycke be directed to prepare a case supporting the action of the Council last week rejecting the bylaw embodying the early closing features sought by 42 of the 47 retail gasoline and service stations in the city. This motion was withdrawn.

Leopold Macaulay of Toronto, solicitor for the signatories of the petition for the proposed closing regulations, wrote the Council that if the bylaw was not passed an action would be taken for a court order requiring the Council to pass it as provided in a 1948 amendment of the Factory, Shop and Office Claims Building Act. If such a bylaw was signed by not fewer than three-quarters of the gasoline and service station proprietors, its passing became mandatory upon the Council within one month of receipt of the petition. Mr. Macaulay wrote that the bylaw was signed by more than three-quarters of the operators, and he asserted to the Council "you have no recourse under law."

"Mr. Macaulay is threatening the Council with a motion of mandamus," Mr. Huycke told the board. "I want to know whether the Council wishes me to oppose that proposed motion. It could be brought on within seven days' notice."

"We were fully aware that such action might be brought when this question was dealt with last week," said Ald. P. J. Anglesey. "They are now trying to scare us. It appears that a majority wants to use us as tools to carry it out."

Mayor Ovens remarked "that there must be 20 of these bylaws which have been passed at the request of different groups of merchants." The only question raised was whether a certain store was correctly placed and rated in the gent's furnishings group. "I agree with the attitude of certain operators, but I don't think it is a good example to flout an Act of Parliament."

Ald. Adam Sands said the proposed bylaw could be punched full of holes. One clause permitted a 24-hour service by any service station that had been operating 24 hours a day continuously for 365 days prior to April 1, 1948. That condition went back indefinitely to the first days of gasoline stations. Such operators who could show the required continuous service could get a permit on application to the city clerk, and could do business as they do today. "If one was taken to court I don't see how he could be convicted. Therefore, it is not a good bylaw."

Heard One Side

"We haven't heard the side of the service stations who signed the petition," Ald. Max Swanston said. "We have their petition, but we have not heard their reasons for it. If there is no bylaw, the gosoline companies will compel their agents to stay open 24 hours a day. Where is there one of them that can do it?"

Mr. Huycke said there might be a loophole in the fact that the legislation did not declare that "gasoline outlets" were shops.

"If the majority of the garage men had come here and presented their case as effectively as did those who opposed the bylaw, I think it would have passed," said Ald. Raine. "One of those dealers told me he realized that it was not properly presented. What we have been concerned about is sufficient provision for night service during the tourist months. If those dealers had come here they might have been able to give us that assurance. Then, if we must pass the bylaw, why should we have any vote on it? If our no is not as powerful as our yes, it isn't a vote; we're just going through the motions."

Ald. Swanston: "We could instruct the City Solicitor to prepare a case against the application for a court order. If we lose, all the other bylaws that have been passed could be tossed out."

Opposed In Toronto

Ald. Doug Miller cited a letter in a Toronto newspaper asking how long the dealers in that city were going to keep the ridiculous closing rule in force. "They don't seem to be too happy about it in Toronto."

Ald. Raine said he felt sympathetic to those people who wished to avoid working unnecessarily long hours. "But, I would like to know that the gasoline stations are going to provide sufficient service for the night trade during the summer months."

Ald. Swanston said the grocery shops closed, and they were affected by the tourist trade.

"It is a matter for the different associations to figure out their own schemes," Ald. Anglesey remarked.

"But, we can't know that" said Ald. Waddell.

Mayor Ovens commented that "it might go through all classes of business" if one was excepted.

"I wouldn't want that to happen," said Ald. Raine.

"If 75 per cent of the dealers in a business want early closing, all the legislature does is to direct the municipality to give them what they want," City Solicitor Huycke said. "For that, it cannot be said the Legislature is acting in an undemocratic manner."

"Let us see if we can get together with the garage owners before next Monday night," Ald. Raine suggested.

"There would be no serious difficulty if it was left until July 5," Mr. Huycke said.

June 30 Deadline

Mayor Ovens: "But it would still be contrary to the Act." His Worship was referring to the 30-day time limit. June 30 is the "dead line", according to the date of the local petition.

In regard to the seeking of conciliation, City Clerk Outram said that a new bylaw would have to be drawn, and the petition would have to be signed again.

"It might be August before that was completed and we had a new bylaw," Mayor Ovens observed.

"And by that time it won't matter much," said one of the members.

Ald. H. Dodds was chairman of the meeting. All the members of the council were present.

Start Canvass For Funds To Build Arena

Final city-wide canvass in aid of the Civic Arena campaign opened on Monday night. Only 32 people, other than members of the organizing committee, attended the meeting at the Market Hall prior to the start of the canvass. However, another 60 or so canvassers were already at work under Percy Killingbeck, of the Civic Arena committee.

Dick Ouimet, chairman of the secondary rink campaign, gave a short address on the importance of the present drive and emphasized that the outcome of the entire project depended upon the canvass. Clare Collins gave a short talk on selling the idea of the Civic Arena to the general public, and John Black explained the organization of the canvass, which is based on the city polling divisions.

Owing to the poor response to the appeal for canvassers, 24 of the 50 polling divisions in the city were not covered in the first night's drive, but it is hoped that more people will turn out to assist this evening.

Early returns from canvassers on Monday night showed that the majority of people in Peterborough were not contributing to the campaign due to the fact that the Memorial Centre, to which they contributed, has not yet been built. Canvassers reported that 90 per cent of questions asked had to do with the Memorial Centre and not the Civic Arena.

Mrs. W. Addyman was in charge of the preliminary organizing work, when more than 9,000 pledge cards were typed and cards and receipt forms placed in typed envelopes.

Plenty To Do On July 1 Across District

If rain does not spoil the day there should be plenty of fun for holiday makers on July 1. In Havelock and Hastings local branches of the Canadian Legion have sponsored programs of sports and entertainment culminating in giant street dances in both villages. And in Lindsay, Dominion Day will see the opening day of 10-day Old Home Week. Peterborough, too, will celebrate the occasion with several sports events and a field day at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club.

Many families, however, are expected to turn their backs on the urban regions and head for the open countryside and the cool Kawartha Lakes, free from the heta and glare of city streets and noisy crowds.

It will be a great day for fishermen as well for then the bass and muskie season opens. Many anglers who have not as yet done any serious fishing will be poised ready to indulge in their favorite hobby right at the opening gun.

In Peterborough there will be two Senior baseball games, one at 10.30 and the other at 3 p.m., both between Kingston and Peterborough. Then at the Riverside Bowl there will be a couple of men's softball games commencing at 7 p.m. Combines will play Legion and then Knights will take on Comstock's.

Anybody that can wield a golf club is welcome to the Field Day being held at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club. Last year there were 80 entries in this event and at least 45 have already signed for this coming one. The club will be open from 9 a.m. on, and refreshments will be served. Prizes will be awarded.

Old Home Week

The much heralded Lindsay Old Home Week will begin and a real attraction has been planned. Garden Brothers have provided a midway to lure the younger children while the Peterborough Civic Band will play for those who like more serious entertainment. In the afternoon the big event will be staging of the motorcycle races at the grand stand. And in the evening the motorcycles will give way to a variety show. This will be followed by a dance to be held in the Automotive Building.

Hastings is expected to draw a large crowd, including visitors, to the Canadian Legion Gala Day being staged there. The local branch (106) has made all arrangements. Six softball games held in the afternoon should give this sport-minded village plenty to cheer for. Thirsty spectators will be able to buy refreshments at the booth run by ladies of the Home and School Club.

In the evening the main street will be closed to traffic and will become a combination dance floor and midway. Those who prefer games of chance to following the rhythm of a dance band will find numerous booths to indulge their hobby.

One of the feature events will be a draw for an electric kitchenette which should gladden the heart of some housewife.

Havelock's big day follows a like pattern. In the afternoon there will be a baseball tournament and other sporting events A street dance will follow in the evening.

Lakefield hopes to have its community wading pool open by July 1, but so far as is known there will be no special festivities.

Council Defeats Move To Aid Swim Program

In the closing day of the June session of County Council last week it was decided to approve a provincial request for a superannuation scheme benefiting jail employees.

Under this scheme the employee earning $1500 or less would have five percent of his salary deducted; if more than $1500, six per cent. The county would put up a like amount.

When the Fish, Game and Tourist Committee made its report, Reeve William Grant of Lakefield asked that the Department of Game and Fisheries be requested not to catch any more lunge in Katchiwanooka Lake for several years. He said that after these catches there were frequently a large number of dead fish in the area.

Request by the Lakefield Red Cross and Lakefield Home and School Association for a Health Unit in the city and county of Peterborough similar to that in Durham County was laid over until the November session.

Reeve Ernest Leason of Havelock asked that the new chief of police of that village, Alan Rogers, be made a county policeman. Council proved sceptical to the suggestion and no action was taken.

An interesting exchange resulted when Reeve Charles Flynn turned in the report of the Planning and Development committee. One of the items was a $100 contribution to the Board of Trade at Norwood to help in building dressing rooms for swimmers. Reeve William Packenham of Norwood pointed out that it was a worthy cause because it gave children supervised swimming during July and August. He was strongly supported by Reeve Leeson.

Reeve W. W. Dawson said, "I think its a good idea, but how can the County Council help one project and not another?" He was supported in this view by Reeve Melville Johnston, North Monaghan, who said, "if this request had come in at the beginning of the year I would have supported it."

Both Reeves Packenham and Leeson said they felt justified in part because they were not receiving the 75 per cent rebate on the county road rate. "The county is getting a subsidy on our money sent in but we aren't getting a cent on the money we sent into the county," said Reeve Packenham.

Reeve Grant entered the debate to say he sympathized with the view, pointing out that Lakefield had been running a similar project for four years. And this had been partially subsidized by a small grant from the Department of Education.

The motion was finally defeated with the three village reeves and chairman of the committee Reeves Flynn the only ones voting for it.

Reeve Dawson of Otonabee delivered the address in reply to the Warden's speech. A full County Council was present at the time.

Say Kuomintang Nearly Broke Since On Own

NANKING, June 29 (AP). — The Kuomintang, after 20 years as a well-kept partner of China's government, is finding life as a grass widow a serious, belt-tightening process.

Since the coalition with minority parties, the Kuomintang's bills no longer are paid by the national treasury. Its leaders admit the party faces financial troubles familiar to divorcees the world over.

Separation of the Kuomintang from the government was a friendly one. The party got an exceedingly rich settlement whose details still are a closely guarded secret.

It is known, however, that the party took title to valuable properties, ranging from a Tsingtao brewery to light industries in Formosa, real estate in various parts of China, 22 party newspapers and the official Central News Agency.

Despite this generous settlement—and most party members think they earned it by mothering the national revolution—the Kuomintang after one year of self-support is finding it hard to keep up the standards to which it has become accustomed.

The party's economic difficulties were aired publicly recently when 100 staff workers clashed with police and guards when they tried to hand the Kuomintang standing committee a petition requesting pay equal to that of government employees.

Collections from members has taken a sharp drop as result of a "reregistration order." Members were ordered to join the party and submit reports on their income and wealth.

Party leaders say the reregistration is "very satisfactory" but other sources indicate membership has dropped from nearly 6,000,000 to around 3,000,000.

Prayers were offered by the Venerable Archdeacon F. A. Smith of Belleville while the address was given by Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie of Marmora.

Other clergy present were Diocesan Commissioner Rev. A. B. Payne, Kingston; Rev. C. Wright, Bancroft; Rev. J. B. Hall, Maynooth; Rural Dean F. Ware, Tamworth; Rev. J. Dawe, Parham; Rev. F. Beazer, Roslin; Rev. F. Downing, Tweed, and Rev. S. Coleman, Carrying Place. Burial took place in St. George's Cemetery, Trenton.

The late cleric who was a native of Cornwall, England, died Thursday at a nursing home in Queensboro. He retired from the active ministry a year or so ago due to ill health.

He had served the parishes of Trenton, Parham and Tamworth besides the Bannockburn Mission to which he was twice appointed. In earlier years he was a music teacher and organist. He is survived by his widow and one son Kenneth, both of Bannockburn.

Pleads Not Guilty In Guide's Death

BROCKVILLE, June 29 (CP). —Walter Seward of Portland, Ont., Monday entered a plea of not guilty on a charge of dangerous driving causing the death of a fishing guide last week. He elected trial by jury and will be tried at the general sessions of the peace at Brockville.

In a preliminary court appearance, police said the guide, Delbert Hockey, was cleaning fish in front of a parked car when struck by the Seward vehicle and killed.

Seward told the court he thought the parked car was moving towards him. He admitted he had earlier consumed [illegible] of beer. Although Seward claimed he had applied his brakes, provincial constable Kenneth Dennis said no skid marks were noticeable.

Magistrate Wright stated he found sufficient evidence to place the accused on trial.

WHILE PARLIAMENT is in session, few government publications are more frequently quoted and offer more human interest than Hansard. Better known under its familiar name, Hansard is the official report of the House of Commons debates. Experienced reporters are constantly in attendance in the House, sitting opposite the clerk's table where the Mace is displayed as a symbol of authority. Reporter Charles Leslie Empringham (upper left) takes in shorthand an almost verbatim report of what the members are saying. Relieved by another Hansard reporter at the end of a 10-minute stint, he returns to his office to dictate his notes to a fast typist, Miss Muriel Black (upper right). A similar system is followed in the Senate. After the copy has been prepared for publication by the debates editor, it goes to the King's Printer to be handled by the night staff. There, Hansard is cast into type, as shown by linotype operator Roger De Gagne (lower left), proof read, bound and distributed the next morning by about 10 o'clock. Within the next hour, the daily edition of Hansard reaches the desks of members of Parliament, government officials, press correspondents and all those entitled to a free copy, and is mailed to the general public for $3.00 a session. A complete French edition is also published daily. As soon as Hansard is available, many a writer (lower right) takes the first opportunity to scan through a full account of the House proceedings on which to document a feature artice. (NFB).

Hint Trygvie Lie Plans To Put Berlin Crisis Before UN

LAKE SUCCESS, June 29 (CP)—An authoritative source said on Monday night United Nations Secretary-General Trygvie Lie is studying the question of putting the Berlin situation before the Security Council.

This source, who would not permit identification, said Lie has on his own initiative made tentative inquiries of some members of the big powers about bringing up the Berlin deadlock.

Lie's office would not comment on the report.

The reaction of those with whom Lie has made contact has not yet been made known, but replies were expected soon. One delegate said he had not heard of the move and then asked: "What good would that do?"

Lie would act under Article 99 of the United Nations Charter if he did raise the question in the Security Council.

Article 99 of the charter provides that:

"The secretary-general may bring to the attention of the Security Council any matter which in his opinion may threaten the maintenance of international peace and security."

It was said Lie acted on his own account, after watching the situation in Berlin develop.

41-Year-Old Seth Linton, Well-Digger, Stands Trial In Murder Case

SIMCOE, June 29. (CP)—Seth Linton, 41-year-old well-digger of nearby Charlotteville, late Monday was committed for trial on two charges of murder. He will appear again at the Norfolk County fall assizes.

Although Linton was not asked to plead, Magistrate H. P. Innes ordered him committed after witnesses related the happenings of June 6 when Lewis Stewart, 44-year-old Simcoe plasterer, and his brother-in-law, John Kipp, 30, of nearby Vienna were shot to death on Linton's farm.

First to testify was Mrs. Stewart, widow of one of the victims and former housekeeper for Linton. She told of going to Linton's home after 14 years with her late husband and of taking her daughter Jo-Ann with her. About the end of May, this year, she decided to return to her husband.

The night before the fatal shootings she met her husband in a local hotel after shopping with Linton. She said she had "a couple of beers" with her husband and had gone to the home of Ezra Linton, Seth's brother, and there decided to return to her husband.

Mrs. Stewart said Stewart, her brother, John Kipp and she went to Seth's to get "my daughter and my clothes."

Phones Police

She said the trio had gone up to the verandah and Kipp had knocked loudly on the door. Seth did not answer, so she advised her husband and brother to go out to their automobile while she phoned police from the home of neighbor Len Maylin.

Stewart and Kipp left the car and Kipp kicked in the front door of the house, she went on.

"There was a shot from inside the house and my daughter ran out the back door. Both of us ran."

They crossed the road to a farmhouse. From a window she said she saw Seth Linton "standing over" her husband as he lay on the lawn. She believed he was striking Stewart with the butt of a rifle.

Maylin, a neighbor, said he also heard Linton "advising" Kipp to get off his property. Later, under questioning, he said: "I did see the pump action part of the gun in accused's hand."

Dr. E. S. Copeman, coroner, said Stewart's death was due to shock, a hemmorhage and a fractured skull. Kipp died of gunshot wounds.

Heavy Exodus From Cities Expected On Dominion Day

By The Canadian Press

Almost-deserted cities will dot Canada Thursday when families head for the countryside to celebrate Dominion Day with picnic outings.

A Canadian Press survey today indicated that the holiday exodus on this 81st anniversary of Confederation might break records. The last general holiday, Victoria Day, was cold and dreary in many areas but, with good weather expected almost everywhere, July 1 shapes up as a humdinger.

Many business places plan to close from Wednesday night until Monday morning.

By Saturday, Americans starting their celebration of the July 4 Independence Day week-end will join holidaying Canadians.

Highway department officials, for what may be the heaviest week-end travel of the year, put special emphasis into their pleas for careful driving and walking. Last year there were 42 Dominion Day fatalities, most of them in traffic accidents and many others in Drownings.

To Fire Salutes

Twenty-one gun salutes were set to be fired on Quebec City's Cape Diamond and near the Saskatchewan Legislature Buildings in Regina.

The Maritimes looked for a great rush to the ocean beaches. As elsewhere in Canada, the railways offered reduced rates for holiday trips.

Ottawa expected a quiet holiday with Senators and members of parliament away for the summer recess and most of its 20,000 civil servants and other government workers gone from the capital for the day.

It was believed Prime Minister Mackenzie King would be on vacation at his summer home at Kingsmere in the Gatineau hills north of Ottawa. Opposition Leader John Bracken was expected at his Manotick farm, south of the capital.

ONE GOT AWAY—Owner of this Cadillac limousine being loaded into the hold of the Yugoslav ship Radnik, which sailed from Montreal, had his export permit in order. Many of the 500 departing Slavs had to leave behind automobiles, washing machines and refrigerators which were seized by customs because the necessary permits were not obtained.

Change Location Of Great 'Tented City' For International Plowing Match Contests

LINDSAY, June 29 (ENS)—The site of the 1948 International Plowing Match in Victoria County this year, has been changed. Assistant Agricultural Representative and Secretary of the local Plowman's Association, D. H. Miles, has announced.

"Up until a few days ago plans were being made to centre this great plowing match south-west of Lindsay—with the tented city on "Kaymur Farms" on the land of W. J. Murphy. However, when the Lands Committee visited the farmers of that locality to definitely determine the fields to be plowed it was found that only about half enough land could be secured to successfully run off this great event," said Mr. Miles.

Feeling that they should have about 450 acres of land lined up, the Lands committee, said Mr. Miles, found a suitable area four miles west of Lindsay, just north of No. 7 highway on the County road to Cambray.

"The farmers in that area were very co-operative, with Jack Chambers giving the use of his sod field for the tented city," he added.

Mayor Hiram McCallum announced Monday. The province will contribute $1,000 a unit for the 56 units. The project calls for construction of 1,056 low-rental housing units; which the ratepayers more than two years ago agreed to subsidize with municipal funds.

Expanding Dairy Firms Snuffed Out Cheese Plants

By HARRY THEOBALD

The inverted ice cream cone is a symbol of the extinction of the cheese industry that flourished in the Peterborough district at the turn of the century, and for years afterward. Of most of its buildings only a vestige remains.

More than 50 factories sold their output on the local board, whose sales meetings used to be held in a long and spacious room above the Bank of Montreal. Auctions were weekly, sometimes fortnightly, attended by representatives of the factories and by buyers of the big exporting firms of Montreal with British orders in their pockets.

Of the network of factories still operating in this county, the remnant group comprises: Warsaw, Warminster, north of Warsaw; Pine Grove, north and east of Lakefield; Daisy D, west of Norwood; Killarney, north of Norwood; Ormonde at Hastings; Selwyn and Indian River.

The others have vanished, except perhaps here and there the unrecognizable relics of buildings that were once the solid props of that long sustaining branch of agriculture. Not one is left in Durham county, and the factory at Bobcaygeon is the sole survival in Victoria. Growth of the cities, Toronto, Oshawa and Peterborough with their expanding dairies, changing dietary habits of the people, motor truck transportation, the ice cream cone, gradually snuffed out the cheese factories. The Peterborough group sells on the Campbellford board, with Northumberland and some Hastings factories.

Expansive Milkshed

Boundaries of the dairy country of which Peterborough board was the focal point are suggested by Apsley, Warkworth, several of the south townships of Victoria and on to Manchester in Ontario county; also from Hastings on the east through the Monaghans and across Durham to Courtice on No. 2 highway. That was an extremely broad area for the horse and buggy days, embracing all Peterborough and Durham and sections of Northumberland, Victoria and Ontario counties.

The volume of cheese production is indicated by two old records. Only July 7, 1897, the cheese made at 41 factories during the last half of June, 5,039 boxes sold at 7 15/16 cents a pound. Total return to the factories was approximately $32,249.

On June 18, 1902, 46 years ago, 50 factories boarded 5,756 cheese for which the top price was 9⅝ cents. Ormonde topped the board with 258 cheese, Westwood 240, Keene 230, Norwood 225, Cavanville 215, Lakefield and Lang 210, Oakdale in Dummer and Melrose Abbey, between Norwood and Havelock, 200 cheese each. The others trailed off as low as 35 for Dalyduff at Pontypool. The Peterborough factory four miles east of here, sent 90 cheese; Otonabee Union, on the Ernest Deyell farm in the Stewart's Hall section, sold 75.

Otonabee factories were: Keene, Villiers, Otonabee Union, Lang, Indian River and Shearer near the Keene Road corner of No. 7 highway.

Factories Only Memories

Some of the others, as recalled for The Examiner, by G. A. Gillespie, who first made cheese and subsequently became a buyer, were Central Smith on the 4th line, long since a dairy; North Smith continuing as Selwyn; Oakdale in Dummer; Missing Link in east Emily; Maple Leaf on the Warsaw Road; Myrtle in Ennismore.

Young's Point, at the village; the Lang factory in Otonabee was a little to the north of the hamlet on the Indian River; the Fraserville factory was on the Madill farm, east of the Peterborough-Port Hope highway, at the Cavan turn. North Dummer was at Hall's Glenn.

East Emily factory was to the north of the Peterborough-Lindsay highway, in the Fowler's Corners section. Trewern was on the middle line of Smith. That factory was demolished by an explosion of its boiler. John Chittick, the cheesemaker, was instantly killed. Equipment and splinters of the wooden structure were scattered about the fields for a radius of several hundred yards. It was not rebuilt.

Bensfort in South Monaghan suggests its location. Cedardale in Harvey; Stony Lake on the 9th line of Dummer, and near the lake; Cavanville, Crown at Garden Hill in Durham; Mount Pleasant, Perrytown and Blackstock were other Durham plants.

Norwood, Buckhorn and Apsley sites are readily identified. Fleetwood was west from Mount Pleasant. Oak Leaf was beyond Havelock, near Oak Lake. Darlington Union was at Courtice on No. 2 Highway. South Burleigh was north of Mt. Julian. Hope was a Durham factory. Brickley was between Hastings and Warkworth; Shamrock at Roseneath; Percy factory was at Warkworth; and Dartford was also in Percy township. Orono and Kendall were in Durham. Several other factory names were: Missing Link factory in Smith, south of Fowler's Corners; Lakevew was also in Smith, beyond Bridgenorth at the turn east to Lakefield; Cherry Grove and Perrytown were in Hope township, Durham; New Model was in Percy township.

Began In 1870's

Mr. Gillespie said the first cheese factories in this district were built in the 70's. One of the earliest was on the Albert Armstrong farm on the 4th line of Smith, and also South Dummer.

They were built by James Elliott, an uncle of George Elliott, still an active officer of Daisy D factory west of Norwood, on No. 7 highway, and for years a director of the Eastern Ontario Cheese Producers' Association.

A factory was erected in Otonabee, north of the C. N. R. at Blezard's station. It was operated by James Bean, and after a comparatively short period of produc it was moved to Westwood by a Mr. Persall. Later it was under the control of James Ryan and William Thompson who also had the Shearer factory.

Loose Marketing Custom

During the decades of years, the 1880's and 1890's many factories were erected throughout the district, and around that time 36 factories sold on the Peterborough board. In the first years of cheesmaking, Mr. Gillespie said, buyers used to drive from one factory to another. They made their purchases at whatever prices were agreed upon. Eventually in the 1880's cheese boards were set up, and the system of auctioning to the highest bidders came into effect.

"It was always an anxious day for the salesmen and their patrons of the different factories to see which factory was selected for the highest price and first call" Mr. Gillespie said. "Buyers invariably had received telegraph or telephone instruction from their firms informing them of the top prices they could bid. Variation was necessarily narrow.

Day of Milk Trains

Conditions that usually affected highest bids were not only the quality of product and the factory's reputation in that respect, but also convenience for inspection and proximity to railway stations for freighting purpose.

Gradually Toronto dairies began to invade the townships of the old cheese board. Population was increasing with steadily mounting demand for milk and butter. Peterborough had its milk trains in those days. The C. P. R. local was one that picked up the farmers' 8-gallon cans all along the way, probably from Tweed, to Toronto. They came back empty in the evening.

Empties From Peterborough

Corresponding milk trains provided business for the C. N. R. Percy Stinson of Millbrook supplies details of that heyday of passenger service into and out Peterborough. There was a morning train from Belleville, arriving here about 8.30, connecting with a Port Hope train to Toronto. It carried milk cans. Some of them for the local creamery and others were bound for Toronto. That train returned to Bellville after dinner, and delivered the empty cans from here. The first stop, for instance, was Drummond's station. Quite a collection of the 8-gallon containers were tossed out there, and were taken home by Otonabee farmers to be steamed and cleaned and made ready for the night and morning milk.

The old Grand Trunk also ran a train from Peterborough to Port Hope at 7 a. m., arriving back at noon. Its milk sources began here, continued at Fraserville, Millbrook and on through Cavan and Hope. Connection at Port Hope with a fast west bound train delivered the milk into Toronto by 10 a.m.

Eclipse of the cheese industry in this district was a result of the gradual development of the modern dairies with increased consumption of milk and butter. Cheese itself remains just as valuable a food as ever, but locally it has lost its place in the line of dairy products.

Butter, milk, concentrated milk, chocolate milk as a beverage, and certainly not the least, ice cream represented more by the universal cone than by the brick form. The milk bottle of the nursery is followed almost immediately by the ice cream cone. It might be regarded as a symbol of the sweeter and doubtless better standard of living.

If good Ontario Cheddar cheese isn't on every table, so much the worse for the table.

CLIFFORD DUNN, manager and cheesemaker at Killarney factory, north of Norwood, actively represents (left above) an industry that spread its units through Peterborough, Durham and Victoria counties prior to the first war. More than 50 factories sold their cheese on the local board in the Bank of Montreal building. Gradually, big city dairies diverted the milk from the factories for butter, ice cream, condensed milk and other dairy products. The ice cream cone and the chocolate milk bottle became channels that left cheese factories high and dry with no raw material to work with. Maurice Dunn (right) is helping Clifford salt the cheese of a recent day's make that will probably go to Britain. Killarney (below) is typical of the common pattern of the old cheese factory. G. A. Gillespie says one pound of butter makes 2 3/5 lbs. cheese; and one pound of cheese "is worth 2½ lbs. of the best meat you can buy." Cheese, whole wheat bread, honey. Plain fare, but it has everything.

Report McLean With Greschuk Before Holdup

SAULT STE. MARIE, June 29 —(CP).—Two witnesses testified Monday they saw Mrs. Margaret McLean with Edward Greschuk last April 22 shortly before the armed holdup of the Royal Bank of Canada branch. Greschuk has been convicted of the holdup.

The Crown's case against Mrs. McLean on a charge of armed robbery arising from the holdup opened here Monday.

Twelve other witnesses said they had seen a man and a woman in an automobile near the bank, but none took particular notice of the occupants and none could make positive identification.

Police charge Mrs. McLean was an accomplice of Greschuk and that she drove the getaway car.

The 28-year-old mother of three children was arrested with Greschuk a few hours after the robbery. Police said they recovered more than $8,000 loot and a revolver believed to have been used in the robbery.

Woman Outlines Grouches Of Disgruntled Husbands

Dorothy Dix

The perpetual grouch with wives is that they can never please their husbands, because they never know what the unreasonable creatures want to make them happy and contented. Hence when Friend Wife is breaking her neck to please her lord and master, she often finds that she is doing the very thing that gets most on his nerves. And to avoid this catastrophe a woman, who has had a long and varied experience with husbands, send the following list of their quirks to this column. She says:

"A husband likes to throw newspapers and ashes on the floor ...He likes to invite friends to dinner unexpectedly, without briefing his wife...He likes a lot of paint on other women, but doesn't care for much on her... He wants to drive the automobile himself, without any suggestions from the back seat. He resents being told that he is getting old or bald.

"He never gets reconciled to paying the family bills, and he never ceases to wonder what his wife did with the money that she says she spent for household expenses...He resents all suggestions for personal improvement, particularly if they come from his wife...He regards home as a place where he can park his good manners and affability, leave off most of his clothes, and work off the spleen he has accumulated during the day.

Inconsistent

"He will lose $100 at a poker game, then gripe because a 6-day-old ham bone was thrown into the garbage can before he got around to it...He will buy his wife a $1,200 fur coat then make a scene if she loses $1.20 at bridge...He feels sure he would be rich if only he had stayed single.

"He raises ructions when his wife buys a new gown or hat, but he takes pride in her being well-dressed...He boasts to others about what a good manager and crackerjack cook his wife is, but he would die rather than pay her a compliment...He has the head-of-the-house complex, and bitterly resents it if his wife doesn't ask his permsson to buy a spool of thread, or go to church, but after she makes the gesture of obeisance he doesn't really care what she does.

"He may love his wife devotedly and work his fingers to the bone to give her every luxury, but she has to guess at the state of his affections. He will never tell her that he thinks she is the greatest woman in the world... Before marriage he could spend hours telling his Sweetie how beautiful and wonderful she was and how he adored her. After marriage he never mentions the subject again. Before marriage he was never too tired to take his Girl Friend out stepping. After marriage his feet always hurt him of nights.

"While the baby has the colic and howls and the kids are noisy and obstreperous, he always refers to them as his 'wife's children,' but after the girls grow up to be beauties and the boys are taking honors at college, they become 'MY children.'

"And so on and so forth, but being as husbands are like they are, is it any wonder that wives do not always know how to handle them?"

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 30

A brilliant idea, a happy inspiration, even a gay or amusing approach to complex or involved situations, may turn the tide from menace and defeat into a bright and shining means for victory and outstanding achievement. But this must be sustained by shrewd manipulation, as well as carefully organized plans executed with persistent effort and application. This would be sure to attract substantial support from influential sources, ready with a friendly hand as well as solid recognition for work well done. It is an auspicious time for fulfilled hopes and wishes in all contacts.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may look for a lively and interesting year, with duplicity and snares far behind, all intrigues and suspicions disposed of, probably due to a sudden idea of more than common perspicacity. A quick grasp of menaced situations, and amusing episode, or the intervention of social prestige, all backed up by astute and determined effort, should turn the tide to brilliant achievement. Good work backed up by sound plans skillfuly executed should win friendly aid from influential and generous sources, ready to lend a hand and bounteously give token of appreciation. There may be festive celebrations, romantic as well as domestic social enjoyments, to bring happy climax to worthy efforts.

QUESTION I want to know two things: one is how to steam rice, and how to make a good two-egg cake. I can make a good one-egg cake, and a good 3-egg cake, but my two egg cake seems to be sort of sticky. You often mention steamed rice in your menus but I do not know how to cook it.

Mary Ridge.

ANSWER:

Steamed Rice

Place 1 cup washed raw rice in top of double boiler with 1 teaspoon salt and 1½ cups boiling water. Place over boiling water in bottom of double boiler, cover, and cook 40 minutes when rice will have absorbed the water. Stir in about 1 tablespoon butter with a fork, and serve with fork to prevent packing.

Two-Egg Cake

One-half cup shortening or shortening and butter, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, yolks and whites separated, 1¾ cups sifted cake flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon vanilla. Cream shortening until very light then gradually add the sugar while beating. Add beaten yolks and beat well. Sift together the dry ingredients, then add them 1-3 at a time, alternately with the mik and vanilla. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn batter into buttered and paper-lined layer cake tins, or square pan and bake at 375 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes for the layers, 50 minutes for square.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Could you find room sometime for printing some recipes for your readers for using wieners for dinner. My family likes wieners and they are not as expensive as most of the other meats but I would like to serve them occasionally without making "hot dogs" of them.

Sharon.

ANSWER:

Frankfurters In Casserole

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in frying pan, add 1chopped onion, and saute until onions are transparent. Stir in 3 tablespoons flour, then add 3 cups canned tomatoes, stirring until thick. Add 2 cups diced carrots, 1 tablespoon catsup, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper. Split 8 or ten weiners and place, cut side down, in buttered baking dish. Pour the tomato mixture over and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes.

Devilled Frankfurters Wieners

Split wieners lengthwise almost through. Spread cut side with mustard and fill slit with long thin strips of cheese. Wrap each wiener in ½ strip of side bacon, fasten with toothpick, place on broiler rack and broil, turning once when topside of bacon is done.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION Would you have some recipes for moulded salads that would be a nice change on a salad plate? My husband likes cold meals but until our own tomatoes are ripe I find it hard to make changes.

Betty Jane.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Try this strange-sounding one—we like it.

Orange Tomato Aspic

One tablespoon gelatine, 1 cup orange juice, ¾ cup canned condensed tomato soup, ¼ teaspoon salt, dash of cayenne, ½ cup chopped celery (or more if desired, or use half and half celery and chopped green pepper.) Soak gelatine in ½ cup orange juice for 5 minutes. Dissolve over hot juice, soup, salt and cayenne. Chill add celery, mould, chill.

HONEST POSTMEN

EDMONTON (CP) — Workers at the Edmonton Post Office display a post card as evidence of the efficiency of the mails and the honesty of its handlers. The card, from Sacramento, Calif., had a $1 bill affixed to transparent tape. It had been handled en route by five collectors, sorters and dispatchers.

SUNLIGHT TRADE

Under French law, 14th century butchers could deal in one type of meat only and could sell it only under natural light; sales by candle light or lamp were taboo.

SARTORIAL BALANCE—More often than not, the right hair-do makes it possible to wear almost any type of hat. It is a matter of balance. And so the combined skills of the miliner and hairdresser become more important and fashion wise than ever. To create a properly balanced picture for this pretty hat, here is a convertible hair-do. The hair is five to seven inches long and is combed forward to form a compact and definite frame to the lower part of the face, completed by the bonnet brim. The hat is small cloche bonnet with a beret type crown, is in white, set off with a black glycerined feather and soft mesh veiling.

Training Young Cooks Well Will Keep Standards High

By MARY MOORE

Ambition without know-how... ...that describes some of the brides and some of the teen-age daughters of my friends, and my own daughter.

But I love them all the more for it because they want so much to have such exotic foods dramatically served. Little do they realize how much thought and time and experience goes into some of the lovely meals that are served to them.

But I do think that these embronic cooks should be trained from the very beginning of their potentially long careers as cooks to make every dish they serve glamorous.

For instance they should be taught with the first pot of coffee that they brew the exact proportions of water and coffee and time, and how we (their mothers) expect it to taste. Or the first poached egg on toast that they, perhaps, bring to us on a breakfast tray of a Sunday morning should be delicately garnished and cooked the exact number of minutes to give it an opaque coating on top without making the yolk hard.

If they are taught to dramatize and glamorize the serving of the plainest of food, their standards will never be lowered and they will acquire a reputation of setting a "beautiful" table in spite of station in life or simplicity of menu.

We were guests at a lovely little birthday party for Peter — given by his music teacher—who is a hard-working gal—but simply because she used her great grandmother's eggshell china, and beautified the table with genuine alabaster candlesticks, we all felt it was especially charming.

All of us can do it—for there's scarcely a home in Canada without some treasure that cannot be spot-lighted on the dinner table.

If you have a chafing dish by all means make the following dish in it—right in front of your guests. If no chafing dish serve it in a deep silver platter, bordered with puff paste triangles or triangles of melba toast, and garnished with tiny tomato wedges or strips of pimiento and rings or green pepper.

Sea Food A La King

Into chafing dish or top of double boiler put 4 tablespoons butter and 4 tablespoons flour, and ¼ teaspoon salt, shake of pepper and shake of cayenne. Mix to blend, then add ½ cup each thin cream or top mlik and ½ cup milk, and stir until thick. Add 1 teaspoon each paprika, Worcestershire sauce, and cook about 10 minutes. Add 1 cup drained canned or cooked fresh shrimps from which black vein has been removed, and 1 cup drained canned or cooked fresh clams or oysters or crabmeat. Heat through and serve as suggested above. A lovely summer dish for item on a dinner table in summer when you want only one hot dish.

Crab Or Tuna And Grapefruit Salad With Almonds

Arrange on large salad plates three well-cupped lettuce leaves for each service. In one leaf place either crab or tuna meat; in the second place three or four membrane-less sections of fresh grapefruit; in the third place a tablespoon of mayonnaise and top this with 1 tablespoon slivered toasted almonds; garnish with sprig of mint. Serve with hot tea biscuits or corn or bran muffins.

This dish, if of sufficient size, is enough for a one-course luncheon, if a satisfying beverage such a rich iced coffee or a malted iced chocolate drink accompanies it.

For a more economical dish try

Beefburgers In Pepper Rings With Creole Sauce

Place pan fried hamburgers each in a thick green pepper ring on a round platter. Pass Creole Sauce: mix and brown 2 tablespoons each butter and flour; add 1 cup strained tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, black and cayenne pepper to taste, and 1 chopped green pepper. Simmer 10 minutes, serve very hot.

Mrs. Leonard McNeil went to Long Branch Thursday to attend the graduation exercises at the Ontario Hospital there. She poured tea at the reception following the graduation exercises.

Miss Wilda Harker, who has resigned after teaching at Whitfield's school for the past three years was presented with a pair of bone china cups and saucers on Friday by her pupils. The address was read by Ross Gillis and the presentation made by Lynn Hanna. Miss Harker thanked her pupils for their kindness and invited them to accompany her to Cobourg beach for a picnic following the presentation.

Mrs. Robert Howden, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Howden and their daughter Muriel were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moncrief, Millbrook, on Sunday.

CAREER IN A THIMBLE — Some junior colleges this spring made excellent showing of their own creations in their graduation fashion show. Girls who had put in their lesson periods swatting up on the whole management regime of department stores, plus lively periods with pattern cutting and dressmaking, paraded in the fashion show wearing their brain children as finished products. The one shown above is a candy pink silk crepe afternoon frock, of easy drape and good neckline, accessoried with rose trimmed white hat, linen slippers dyed to match the dress, and white shortie gloves.

Grandma's Day Lending Ideas For Bathing Dress

Bathing suit designers are at a dead end. Their efforts to reduce women's swim costumes to a patterned film of sheer nothingness have been so successful that mermaids cannot possibly wear less without being totally indecent.

Now, they are turning to conservatism in their creations. How far can they retrogress if they follow the trend in fashions?

Glancing back into history we see that up to the middle of the 18th century bathers wore only what Nature endowed them with. The Greeks would have thought anyone mad who dressed to go in the water. When civilization became more "civilized," sea bathers ventured out into the brine under cover of a "Bathing machine" — an umbrella-like contraption which supposedly protected them from the curious. But even in those days ladies wore floor-length flannel robes tied around their necks as a further measure of protection.

A radical departure from these was a voluminous suit with baggy pantaloons, thick, long-sleeved dress to the throat and an abundance of frills and flounces.

In the mid-eighties the leading designer of the time popularized a daring, one-piece, short-sleeved affair which covered the wearer from neck to knees. Bound to maintain their shapliness at all times, the women wore their corset beneath this stunning outfit.

Apsley Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. S. McColl all of Lasswade Messrs. C. McColl and Fred Mann of Apsley spent the week-end on a motor trip to Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Leard of Peterborough visited the latter's parents on Sunday prior to leaving on a motor trip to Mr. Leard's home in Prince Edward Island.

Your Fruit will make 50% MORE Jam or Jelly WITHOUT RISK OF FAILURES if you use CERTO

It's simply wonderful . . . the difference in jam and jelly-making when you use Certo. You get jams and jellies that look better, taste better, are better . . . and much more of them. That's because Certo is "fruit pectin" — the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell" — extracted and refined ready for your use.

THE CERTO BOIL IS SO SHORT

With Certo you boil only one-to-two minutes for jams — a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies. NO prolonged, tedious boiling to make sure your jam or jelly will set. Certo makes all fruits set "just right". This extremely Certo short boil means:

1 You get 50% more jam or jelly because practically none of your precious fruit juice is boiled away.

2 The time you spend is cut down to a fraction.

3 The natural colour and taste of the fresh fruit are retained. The Certo boil is too short to dull the one or spoil the other.

If you are only a beginner, don't worry. You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Since different fruits need different handling, there's a separate, kitchen-tested recipe for each one.

BE ECONOMICAL — BE SMART — MAKE JAM AND JELLY THE QUICK EASY MODERN CERTO WAY. ASK YOUR GROCER FOR CERTO TODAY.

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

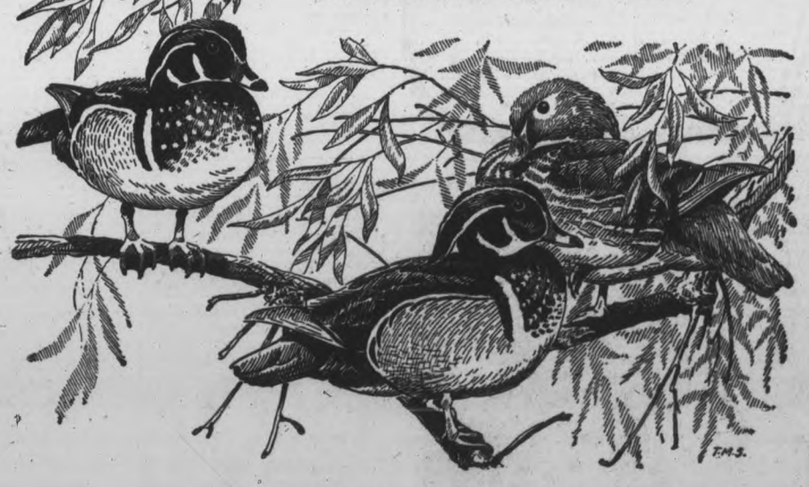
Doomed to extinction?

A duck that nests in trees and prefers wooded swamps to open water! That's the Wood Duck, the most beautiful of our waterfowl. They are well protected by law, but the draining of wetlands and clearing away of the dead tree trunks they nest in presents a serious threat to their survival. Everything you do to preserve their natural nesting areas will help to conserve the Wood Duck for years to come.



The Labrador Duck became extinct before 1900. Today 44 stuffed specimens are all that remain of this little sea-duck, showing what happens when sound conservational practices are neglected.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WON'T LET YOU LOSE

THERE are some opponents who will play against your contract in such a way that it seems you are bound to make out all right no matter what you do. If you never went up against any other kind of resistance, you would find bridge a pretty monotonous matter and would have to be a wonder in order to keep yourself really trying to play your best. When against such players, however, the truly able declarer makes certain that the other side gets plenty of chance to perpetrate mistakes in his favor.

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♦	Pass	1 ♠	2 ♥
2 ♠	3 ♥	3 ♠	4 ♥

Against most opponents he meets, East would not have bid the 4-Hearts, but would have decided to play against the 3-Spades in the hope of defeating the contract, which should not have been too hard to do, judging from the way the bidding sounded. But it was rubber bridge, and he rated the mistake-making tendencies of the particular defenders as worth at least a trick to him. So he reached out for the game.

South scored his spade A and though he saw the 10 fall from East, decided to repeat the suit, with the 5, not the J. North was sure now that East had played the 10 from the J-10, so stuck in the K, surely setting up the Q in dummy. The 9 would have been sounder play anyway, even if East did win it with the J, as the Q would not then have been made available for the discard of a loser.

East cleared trumps with the K and A and led the club 2, on which South played the 8. If East had now used the dummy's K, he could have discarded a club on the spade Q and conceded a trick in each minor to have his contract. But the 8 tempted him to play dummy's club 9, which the J won. When the Q came back, South played his 10 to let the K win. The spade Q brought a discard of the diamond 8—funny play—and the club 6 was given to the A. South was endplayed. With only his spade J and diamonds, he saw the spade lead would mean a discard of the dummy's low diamond and a ruff by East, so he led the diamond 5. This ran to the Q, the diamond A was scored and the established club 5 brought a discard of the diamond 7. Two hearts then finished the hand. You will see worse play, but not often.

But they little know the sorrow
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Mock Wedding Held At Bethany Shower

BETHANY, June 29—(ENS)—Miss Aileen Cummiskey was presented with a shower of miscellaneous gifts on Wednesday evening in honor of her forthcoming marriage to Mr. Preston Neals which will take place in Bethany United Church July 3rd.

The church basement was beautifully decorated for the occasion with pink and white streamers, wedding bells and baskets of flowers.

A mock wedding provided some hilarious entertainment with Miss Ruth Henderson as the groom and Miss Doris Stinson, the bride. Miss Betty Waddell played wedding music and Miss Evelyn Mantle sang "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Ray Robinson acted as the minister. Miss Elsie Richardson recited "The Christening" and a chorus of eight school girls, accompanied by Miss Bernice White sang "The Bells Are Ringing For Me and My Gal".

Miss Cummiskey was then escorted to the chair of honor and Miss Ruth Henderson read the address of congratulations and good wishes from the community.

Included among the shower gifts were an electric iron from members of the United Church choir and a set of kitchenware from her girls' Sunday School class.

Miss Cummiskey has lately been employed in the Bethany branch of the Bank of Toronto. Formerly she was in Peterborough with the Canadian Tire Corporation and the office of Zeller's Ltd.

RCN Fairmile Galley Afire Off Oakville

OAKVILLE, June 29—(CP)—With flames leaping from her galley hatch, the Royal Canadian Navy Fairmile ML-106 put into harbor at Oakville Saturday, where local firemen and citizens helped to extinguish the blaze. The ship was en route from Hamilton to Oshawa when she made the emergency stop.

The fire broke out in the launch's galley when she was about five miles off Oakville. Distress rockets were fired and firemen and scores of onlookers gathered at the town wharf to watch her arrival.

500 Yugoslavs Quit Canada For Home

MONTREAL, June 29—(CP)—The Yugoslav steamship Radnik sailed from here Saturday night with 500 Yugoslav-Canadians returning to their homeland.

One of the last to go aboard ship was Edward Yardas, chairman of the Canadian Council of South Slavs which organized the movement of Yugoslavs going home to help in the rehabilitation of their war-torn country under Marshal Tito's government.

Yardas, who had to undergo a skin search in his cabin, protested afterwards that he would never return to Canada.

Report Few Mosquito Bombers In Canada

LONDON, Ont., June 29—(CP)—Five Mosquito bombers at London city airport are among the few left in Canada. In the last year a large number have been shipped to China.

Their days of flying are pretty well over. They now are playing the role of guinea pigs for the experimental section of the maintenance command RCAF.

The planes are muffled in a coat of plastic which covers them from propellor hubs to tail light. The waterproof "cocoon" is an experimental method of storing the planes for indefinite periods.

Prime Ministers Likely To Meet In October

LONDON, June 29 — (CP) — Prime Minister Attlee today told the Commons that it is "almost certain" a meeting of Commonwealth prime ministers can be arranged in October.

At the start of his statement, Attlee said that he had been in consultation with his fellow Prime Ministers for some time, proposing an early discussion on broad questions.

The difficulty had been in finding a time suitable for the prime ministers to meet in view of their heavy domestic responsibilities. But he had "every reason to hope" that there would be an October meeting although the final reports were not yet in.

CBC Charges Paper Uses "Pressure"

Separate Operations Must Be Maintained Under Dual Ownership

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — The CBC board of governors in a statement today said it was of the opinion there "has been some undue influence in favor of the Edmonton Journal with regard to broadcasting over station CJCA which is not in the public interests" and state that where there is dual ownership of a newspaper and a radio station the operations "should be distinctly separate one from the other."

The Board said it will "keep the broadcasting activities of station CJCA under observation and will review them carefully when the present licence comes up for renewal."

The board's statement was made in connection with charges of Gordon S. Henry, former station manager for CJCA, that the station operated with restricted freedom and in a manner inimical to public interest.

Regret Charges

Mr. Henry's charges were heard last May 19 and the company's reply in Montreal Tuesday. The broadcasting company maintained at the earlier sitting it was prepared to go ahead with its defence and asked that both the charges and the defence be heard at the same time. This was refused by the board on the ground the company had been notified of the charges.

The company also "regretted" that the charges had been made public before investigation and termed the charges trivial and frivolous.

STRAWBERRY HARVEST TIME is just past its peak in Peterborough's market gardens and the recent heavy Sunday rain prolonged precious picking time and destroyed part of the too-ripe crop. Dock Workers Return To Jobs

LONDON, June 30.—(Reuters). —London's great dock area, strike-bound for 17 days, sprang to life again today as workers obeyed their leaders' call to bow to the government's proclamation of a state of emergency to save vital supplies.

Authorities at London, Liverpool and Birkenhead, the three major ports affected, reported "a complete resumption of work; it is a 100-per-cent response."

Barges were untethered and cranes heaved into action, but it was thought likely that the effects of the hold-up would be felt until the end of the year.

Clerks, lightermen, bargemen and stevedores who had joined in the dispute were also back on the job, as were sympathy strikers on Merseyside, on England's northwest coast, and Tilbury, down-river from London.

Human Torch Dies On Way To Hospital

HAMILTON, June 30. (CP)—Miss Bertha E. Van Sickle of Troy died Tuesday in the ambulance which was taking her to Brantford General Hospital. Miss Van Sickle, who was 39 years old, was found by a neighbor at her home on the old Troy road, near Highway No. 5 Tuesday, with her clothes a mass of flames.

Her clothes had apparently become soaked with kerosene and had caught fire. When ambulance arrived from St. George, her clothes and hair were almost entirely burnt off. Provincial police at Dundas are investigating and further information may be disclosed at an inquest.

Miss Van Sickle, who was born in Troy, had lived for several years in Toronto, returning to Troy about 15 years ago, after being seriously injured in an automobile accident from the effects of which she had never fully recovered.

Sailors Beaten On Ship, Offer $1,000 Reward

TORONTO, June 30 (CP). — A reward of $1,000 has been posted for information leading to the conviction of men who boarded the Canada Steamship Lines freighter Martian at Port Arthur and injured five members of her crew.

The steamship company, one of four involved in a dispute with the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) over contracts announced posting of the reward yesterday.

At the same time CSL spokesmen said shotguns would be issued to all its vessels and the crews ordered to shoot "unauthorized persons" attempting to go aboard.

Martian crew members said 10 men armed with baseball bats and rubber-encased steel rods swarmed aboard the Martian at dawn yesterday. The set upon the sleeping crew members, smashed the galley and dishes and fled before police arrived.

The companies in the dispute—the CSL, Northwest Steamships, Sarnia Steamships and Colonial Steamships—have announced their refusal to deal with the CSU on grounds it has Communist leadership. The lines have manned their ships with members of Pat Sullivan's rival Canadian Lake Seamen's Union (Ind.) with which they say they have signed contracts.

These were other developments:

Labor Minister Mitchell told the House of Commons that, so far as he is concerned, no government controller will be appointed for the companies involved in the dispute.

British Leave Palestine After 31-Year Occupation

HAIFA, June 30—(CP).—The last British troops left the soil of troubled Palestine today, ending 31 years of British military occupation of the Holy Land. In strict military order, the few remaining soldiers withdrew behind barbed wire barricades to troopships and landing craft.

Lt.-Gen. Gordon H. A. MacMillan, Britain's last military commander in Palestine, was the last British soldier to leave Palestine, in the evacuation which began May 15.

He stepped aboard the ship's boat at 1.41 p.m., local time, just a few moments after the Union Jack was pulled down from the harbor office.

2,500 Leave

About 2,500 troops in all were in the last group to be evacuated, leaving Haifa, last British control point in the Holy Land, in Jewish hands under supervision of United Nations truce observers.

Jewish port authority police took over control of Haifa port as the last British troops left.

"The British went out of their way to hand over the port in good order," the Jewish port manager said.

MacMillan shook hands with the port authorities before leaving.

"It is a rather historic moment," he said.

Original plans called for final evacuation Aug. 1.

(In Cairo, Jamil Mardam Bey, Syrian prime minister, told reporters Tuesday that the Arab governments have protested to Britain against withdrawal of her troops from Haifa ahead of schedule. Mardam Bey said Arabs consider this a violation of the Palestinian truce.)

As British troops were brought in from their army camps to the dock area, tanks took up positions around the harbor district and a strict curfew was imposed on all civilians.

Settle German GovernmentPlan

FRANKFURT, June 30—(AP). — Top American, British and French occupation authorities worked out a plan here today for creating a new central government for western Germany.

Allied commanders said they would meet with German Ministers-president tomorrow to set the plan into motion.

The meeting will be open to both allied and German newspaper men. This was an indication that complete agreement had been reached on all controversial questions.

The plan for a central government was drawn up recently at the six-power meeting in London. The Russians rejected it and met in Poland last week with Foreign Ministers of other eastern European countries to set up a counterplan.

Lt.-Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, commander of French forces in Germany, was present for today's meeting.

2 Aldermen Disagree Punch Each Other

HAMILTON, June 30.—(CP). —Two Hamilton aldermen exchanged blows, then grappled briefly on the floor in an altercation at a city council meeting Tuesday night.

The two men, Ald. William Warrender and Ald. James Newell, received minor face bruises in the scuffle which arose when the latter charged Ald. Warrender with "having no sense."

Ald. Warrender had suggested tenancy of converted army huts be restricted to six months to encourage occupants to make a "serious effort to locate permanent lodgings."

He was interrupted by Ald. Newell's remark and asked that it be withdrawn. When this was not done, he crossed the chamber and closed with Newell.

Two Kings Forget Enmity Striving For Arab Unity

CAIRO, June 30—(Reuters)—King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan and King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia "reached complete agreement on national and patriotic objectives" at their first meeting in 25 years, according to a joint communique issued by the Arab league today.

The two Kings were "doing their best to ensure for the Arabs their complete independence," the communique said.

They met Tuesday at Ryad, Saudi Arabia's summer capital, for the first time since emnity sprang up between them nearly 25 years ago over Ibn Saud's annexation of the Kingdom of Abdullah's father, King Hussein, and his brother, King Ali.

The communique said: "The present circumstances require agreement and unity and the bearing in mind of two fundamental principles—faith in God and loyalty in defence of our existence.

"We place our full trust in the Arab league and its political committee and make known our belief that it will study the present situation fully and recommend the suitable attitude to be taken in favor of the Arab cause and the guaranteeing of Arab interests. We are sure the Arab League strives towards the establishment of peace in the Middle East.

"We are sure if the league is forced to take up arms it will be in defence of fundamental Arab interests—honor, liberty and peace...

"We declare that we are in agreement in our thoughts, our opinions and our objectives, and that we are particularly in agreement in our support of the Arab League in all the decisions within the frame of the league charter and in the limits of its responsibility specially in regard to Palestine, where we are doing our best to ensure for the Arabs complete independence and sovereignty, and to rescue the country."

Fly To Palestine

GENEVA, June 30 — (Reuters). — The United Nations Security Council's Kashmir commission decided Tuesday to fly to Pakistan July 5 and then proceed to New Delhi to hear the case of the Hindu dominion of India in the dispute involving predominantly-Moslem Kashmir's accession. Later an on-the-spot study will be made in Kashmir.

King Holds Conference; No Statement

Say Western Allies Considering Direct Approach To Kremlin

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)—Canada was confronted today with a request to take part in the Anglo-American aerial measures to buck the Russian blockade of Berlin, and her government was in silent, secretive consultation.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King intimated to the House the importance attached to the British request for all available Canadian transport aircraft when he parried questions and termed it a matter of "far reaching" significance. He declined to say whether an answer would come later today.

One ministerial source said the government was confronted with deciding whether it wanted to send Canadian planes into a tense situation that could conceivably explode into active hostilities.

Defence sources said that no requests have been made to them. Dispatches from London said Britain had asked the four senior Dominions for transport aircraft to help the British and American planes flying in food and other supplies to Berlin.

"No Comment"

Whether this would also mean Canadian air crew to fly them was problematical. External Affairs officials met questions with "no comment."

RCAF officials declined to say how many transport planes they have.

It was estimated unofficially that the total number is beyond 100, but not all of these would be available.

The prime minister, in the Commons, was at his cautious best.

He told John Hackett (PC—Stanstead) the matter was of such "far reaching" importance that he could not reply immediately because of the inferences that might be drawn from what he said. The matter would have to be discussed with various government departments.

Mr. Hackett asked if a reply could be expected later today.

Mr. King said that would depend on what seemed the proper thing to do.

The RCAF has two transport squadrons which might contribute to the Berlin task.

Direct Approach

In London Foreign Secretary Bevin said today the western allies are considering a direct approach to the Kremlin in an attempt to settle the Berlin crisis.

Barrage Rumor

BERLIN, June 30 — (AP). — One tired old barrage balloon raised a false scare today that the Russians were putting up a new obstacle to the aerial food ferry route into Soviet-blockaded Berlin.

Excited United States Air Force officials, suspecting a threat to the air lifeline to Berlin, found a supposed mass of obstacles was

Newspaper Man Jailed For Life

BOSTON, June 30. (AP) —Robert H. Best the American newspaper man and radio propagandist for the German Nazis for $200 a month, was sentenced today to life imprisonment for treason.

The sentence was imposed by Judge Francis J. W. Ford, who also ordered Best to pay a fine of $10,000.

Judge Ford imposed the sentence after hearing T. Vincent Quinn, assistant attorney-general of the United States, appeal for imposition of the death penalty.

Best's counsel, Charles W. Bartlett, asked the court for leniency on the ground that Best was "a fanatic, a crusader—doing what he thought was best for his country."

Best, a native of Sumter, SC, was given a Pulitzer prize by Columbia University for travel and study in Europe more than 25 years ago. When the Second World War broke out he decided to remain in Germany.

"Meanest Thief"

LINDSAY, June 30 (ENS). —A new type of "meanest thief" bid for that title on Tuesday when more than 800 Lindsay children and the parents went by special train to Orillia for the annual Sunday School picnic. Mary York of Fenelon Falls, after enjoying a swim in Lake Couchiching, found that all her clothes were missing. She was forced to make the return trip in her bathing suit before buying a new outfit in Lindsay.

Skull Fractured Child Dies Struck By Car

CAMPBELLFORD, June 30 — (Special)—Richard Mack, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mack, Seymour township, died early this morning in Belleville hospital from injuri.. received Tuesday in a car accident.

According to Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg, Hastings, the child with two companions was on the highway, about four miles north of Campbellford. A car driven by Richard W. Unmitz, 81 east 233rd St., Euclid, Ohio, was proceeding north, and another driven by H. McNicholl, Trent River, was going south when the accident happened. The child darted across the highway between the cars and was struck by the Unmitz car.

Mr. McNichol drove, Mr. Unmitz and the injured child to Campbellford, where Doctors Baker and Jolliffe gave emergency treatment. They had the child taken to Belleville General Hospital for an operation to relieve pressure on the brain, as the child's skull had been fractured. Death occurred at 6.20 a.m.

Mr. Unmitz has been spending his vacation in the Trent district for the past 20 years, and was staying at Puff Ball Inn.

The victim has five brothers and sisters, and his father is employed at Campbellford.

An inquest will likely be held.

Try To Settle Rail Strike

MONTREAL, June 30 (CP).— A government-appointed mediation board resumed sittings today in Montreal in another attempt to avert a threatened rail strike that would tie up the Canadian railroads from coast to coast.

The board, reconstituted from the conciliation board which first dealt with the question, resumed hearings only one day after Frank H. Hall, chairman of the negotiating committee of 18 international brotherhoods involved, set July 15 as the strike deadline.

Small Twister

OWEN SOUND, June 30 — (CP). — A resident of nearby East Linton, Wilfred Pike, said Tuesday that a "twister", about 20 rods wide, suddenly appeared like a big black cloud near his home Monday night. He said that rails from fences were tossed into the air, trees were twisted like rope from the ground and a mower was badly damaged.

Cominform Headquarters To Leave Belgrade; Rift With Russia Easing

Athens Reports Hearing Guns Across Border, In Tito's 'Family Quarrel'; Bulgaria Maintains Friendly Relations

BELGRADE, June 30—(CP).—The Cominform headquarters is to be moved from Belgrade, it was learned today. It was reliably reported that the new headquarters of the International Communist Information Bureau will be in Bucharest where the recent Cominform meeting which expelled Yugoslavia from the organization took place.

Premier Tito, Alexander Rankovic, Minister of the Interior, and other Communist leaders were reported in conference here today.

It was emphasized that the decision to move the Cominform from Belgrade came from the Cominform members themselves and not from the Yugoslavs.

Hear Guns

At Athens, a spokesman for the Foreign Ministry said heavy machine-gun and mortar fire were heard again today in Yugoslavia just across the border from Phiorina. He said the firing also was heard Tuesday.

The rift between Yugoslavia and the Cominform on" ideological differences" appeared to be lessening when the Yugoslav Communist party announced it would do everything possible to strengthen co-operation with the Soviet Union and other "people's democracies."

The party's program to be presented by the central committee to its fifth congress made it clear to Yugoslavia the controversy was a "family quarrel" rather than a permanent clash.

Though the program did not directly mention the criticism of Yugoslavia by the International Communist Information Bureau Monday, it was published in the official party organ Borba alongside the text of Premier Josip Tito's sharply-worded answer on Tuesday night to Cominform accusations that Yugoslav Communists were "deviating from the Marxist-Leninist line." The answer denied the charges and referred to them as "lies and slander."

Tuesday night the Bulgarian fatherland front, dominated by Communists, said Cominform criticism of the Yugoslavs "in no way alters the friendly relations

Post-War Baby Boom Seems Nearing End

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP)—Canada's post-war boom in marriages and births seems to be coming to an end.

The family allowance board reached this conclusion when the number of applications it receives for allowances began to decrease six or seven months ago.

Until then, the board explained in its annual report tabled in the Commons today, the bill for family allowances had been rising by about $50,000 a month. However, in the final five months of the last fiscal year the average rate of increase dropped to $38,000 a month. At the end of the fiscal year on March 31 it appeared to be levelling at $30,000.

Without Food Three Days After Explosion

CEDAR KEY, Fla., June 30 — (AP)—A harboring story of three days without food and drinking water in the Gulf of Mexico after the fishing boat Hazel exploded and burned was told today by two survivors of the ill-fated craft.

Mrs. Merle Potts and William Sanders, both of Ocala, Fla., were found Tuesday by "Dad" Collier, caretaker at nearby Seashore Island.

The body of Mrs. Ted Hill, a third member of the party of 14 aboard the 38-foot boat, was found off Snake Key by persons who joined in the surface hunt.

Sheriff G. T. Robbins said Sanders told him four other members of the party may be alive. They broke away from a group of nine survivors clinging together in the water Monday morning and swam for an island. That was the last Sanders saw of them.

Two of the remaining five sank Monday night, including Sanders' wife. Mrs. Hill went down Tuesday morning.

Sanders and Mrs. Potts, rescued from a bird rack off Sea Horse Island by Collier, were suffering from exposure, shock and numerous scratches which Sanders said were made by needle fish.

The explosion occurred Sunday morning after the boat put out from Yankeetown, Fla., Sanders said. The boat caught fire and sank within 15 minutes.

R. Burnett of Yankeetown, Fla., owner of the craft, was badly burned and is believed to have died soon afterwards. Life preservers were given to the women in the party while the men clung to wreckage.

Housing Loans Aid Flood Area

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP). — The Government, in a new step to help flood-stricken British Columbia, today proclaimed for that province a section of the National Housing Act which provides for loans for home improvements. It will come into effect tomorrow.

The section has not been put into effect because home construction itself had need of all materials available. The Act, passed four years ago, was designed "to promote construction of new houses, repair and modernization of existing houses, the improvement of housing and living conditions and the expansion of employment in the post-war period."

The announcement was made in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette.

Grand Jury Indicts Woman Over Taxes

NEW YORK, June 30—(AP).— A Federal Grand Jury today indicted Eleanor Louise Patenotre, former owner of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and her son, Raymond, charging attempted evasion of $2,000,000 in Federal income taxes and failure to report a profit of more than $8,000,000 in the sale of the paper.

United States Attorney John F. X. McGohey said the indictment charges tax evasion in 1930. Mrs. Patenotre owned a controlling interest in the Inquirer, he said.

Martin Gathering Support To Head Liberal Party

TECUMSEH, Ont., June 30—(CP)—Liberal delegates of Essex East riding who will support "favorite son" Hon. Paul Martin for leadership of the party at the Ottawa convention in August, were appointed here Tuesday.

Adrian Tellier, a voting delegate and unofficial head of the delegation to the Liberal roundup at Ottawa, said the group would fight for Martin "right down the line." his was the only name mentioned as a successor to Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, retiring Liberal leader. Mr. Martin is the present minister of national health and welfare. The Essex East member has not stated whether or not he will allow his name to stand at the convention.

Officials of the East Essex riding reported that the Brantford Association has indicated that it will support the Martin ticket at the convention.

James Sinclair, M.P. for Vancouver North, suggested that his vote and possibly those of his constituency delegates, might swing to the Martin forces.

Mr. Sinclair said that the Minister of National Health and Welfare "captures the imagination of people as no one can."

He unrestrictedly lauded the minister for the capable way in which he handled Opposition arguments against the prices committee report and culminated his attack by putting in record Progressive-Conservative party approval of all 14 points in the report.

Says Miners Forced Into Union

Charge UMW Men Blockaded Exits Till Workers Signed

WASHINGTON, June 30—(AP)—A unit of the United Mine Workers of America (Ind.) was charged today with blocking 445 miners underground in West Virginia to compel them to join the union.

Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, announced the charges in a formal complaint against District 31 of John L. Lewis' UMW.

Denham's complaint said UMW members blockaded the exits of four Preston County, W.Va. mines last March, forcing the miners to stay underground until they signed union membership application cards.

Beatings of some non-unionists and mass picketing of the four mines — all in violation of the federal Taft-Hartley Labor Act—also were charged in Denham's complaint.

The incidents were said to have occurred during this spring's six-week country-wide coal strike in the United States. A second motive for them was said to be shutting down production of the four mines to make the strike more complete.

Company Charges

Denham's complaint is based on charges brought by the four companies owning the mines — the Ruthbell, Hartman, Borgman and George Kefover coal companies. The charges have been investigated by NLRB region director, Paul F. Shupp, at Pittsburgh.

An NLRB trial examiner will hear the complaint Aug 10 at Kingwood, WVa He will receive evidence and then come to a decision An appeal is possible later to the five-man NLRB

Another NLRB complaint brought by Denham last fall charged the UMW with violence in an organizing drive at a Kentucky coal mine This proceeding was suddenly dropped when the mine changed owners and the new owner withdrew the charges.

The UMW is under NLRB charges of failing to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers' Association in the recent contract negotiations. Lewis, president of the UMW finally agreed to bargain with the association after Denham obtained a federal court order. But an NLRB examiner's hearing on the matter is still set for July 12.

Child Accuses Boilermaker Of Beating Her In Field

TORONTO, June 30—(CP)—Eight-year-old Teresa Dowling yesterday accused Gordon Harvey, father of a 19-day-old baby, of beating her May 17 and leaving her for dead in a suburban York township field.

The trial of Harvey, 21, who is charged with abduction, assault occasioning bodily harm and indecent assault, was adjourned until Friday.

The slim little girl, standing on a chair so that she could peer over the witness box, pointed to Harvey and said he was her assailant. The young boilermaker's apprentice met her accusing finger calmly.

Teresa said she was accosted the evening of May 17 while shopping near her home for a school spelling book. Her voice so soft that at times she had to be urged to speak up, she said a man took her by the hand and led her into a field. The man told her to lie down.

"He had something in his hand and started pounding my head," the girl said.

"What happened next?" she was asked.

"I don't remember. He walked away."

"What next do you remember?"

Found By Police

"The police came and got me. I had been in the field all night."

The girl was found, dazed and blood-smeared, May 18 among shrubs in a field. Her skull was fractured and she had to undergo a brain operation.

Police said that on the night of June 21, while touring the neighborhood of her home with her mother and officers in a police cruiser, she pointed to Harvey as he walked along a street. Police arrested him immediately.

Many of the 123 passengers were immigrants who arrived in Australia only Tuesday.

Three bodies were recovered shortly after the derailment from the wreckage, which was strewn for hundreds of yards along the right-of-way. Two persons suffering critical injuries were flown to Sydney, 237 miles to the northwest.

LONDON, June 30.—(CP). — The Commons Tuesday night gave third reading without division to the monopoly (inquiry and control) bill aimed at "rooting out the lack of enterprise which might be associated with monopolistic or restrictive practices."

The bill would set up a commission to investigate such alleged practices in British business firms. The commission would issue reports on the investigations and make recommendations in connection with them.

existing between the Bulgarian and Yugoslav republics."

The program recommended several steps for "general strengthening" of the Yugoslav army, by tightening up discipline and supplying the forces with "modern war technique."

Protects Freedom

"The Yugoslav army," it said, "protects the freedom and independence of the people of Yugoslavia."

"The national independence of the people of Yugoslavia is the condition for their road to socialism and their progress in general," the committee said in presenting the following program:

1. "Further strengthening of moral and political unity for the people of Yugoslavia."

2. "Strengthening and further developing of tight co-operation with the Soviet Union."

3. "Strengthening and further developing of tight co-operation with the peoples' democracies."

4. "The most tight co-operation with the peoples' republic of Bulgaria and the peoples' republic of Albania . . ."

5. "Peaceful co-operation with all countries who wish to co-operate with the federalist peoples' republic of Yugoslavia . . ."

6. "Activeness and co-operation of the federated peoples' republic of Yugoslavia in the struggle of the democratic anti-imperialistic forces of the world, headed by the Soviet Union, against the anti-democratic imperialistic forces and war-mongers."

Want Peace

7. "The federated peoples' republic of Yugoslavia will keep backing all countries and all movements fighting for peace, who are against interfering in the internal affairs of other countries and for respecting their independence, and those who are for peaceful co-operation based on the principles of the organization of the United Nations."

8. "Moral and political help for the working people of Yugoslavia in workers' movements, democratic movements and national liberation movements, and to the people who are struggling for liberty, democracy and socialism."

Near Agreement

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP). —The United States and Yugoslavia were reported near final agreement today on a financial deal which would net Marshal Tito's government about $30,000,000.

The extended negotiations over this money accord may have been one of the issues that set off the cominform attack Monday against the Belgrade chief.

For several months the United States government has been seeking payment of about $20,000,000 in claims for American property nationalized in Yugoslavia. Tito, on the other hand, has been laying claim to some $50,000,000 in Yugoslav assets which the United States froze in 1941 to keep it out of Axis hands.

About a month ago, however, the Yugoslavs appeared anxious to reach a reasonable settlement on the nationalized property. They are reported to have proposed a figure somewhere near the $20,000,000 asked by the United States.

The American government, in turn, appeared ready to unfreeze the $50,000,000 in Yugoslav funds as its part of the two-way agreement.

Company Offer Reported To Be 8 Cents

Negotiations between CGE and the United Electrical Workers (CIO) are continuing today in the Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Latest reports say that the company has raised its offer from the previous four cents an hour to eight cents.

According to W. R. Cambers, district representative of the union, the company offer has certain conditions attached, including: dropping of union demands for improved union security; exclusion from the agreement of clauses on pension and welfare plans; also dropping of demands for a 40-hour week, and retroactive wage fixing when an agreement is reached.

Latest additon to the CGE-UE Joint Conference Board is Cobourg which joined the four Toronto shops and the Peterborough branch in negotiations with the company after Monday's vote making the UE bargaining agency.

At the request of Labor Minister Daley discussions were continued at Queen's Park with James Hutcheon, conciliation officer, Department of Labor, and J. B. Metzler, secretary of the Ontario Labor Relations Board, present.

Mr. Cambers who was this morning in touch with C. R. Sullivan, secretary of the joint GE-UE Conference Board said that the union has asked for three sittings a day—morning, afternoon and evening—until a settlement is reached.

just an old balloon that has flown a long time in the corridor between Berlin and the British zone.

The false report, presumably based on information from pilots, first came from Frankfurt and was quickly questioned by American air authorities here.

Pilots already had been warned to fly above the 5,000 foot level of the supposed obstacles.

The report on the balloons, used during the war to prevent low-level attacks on cities, came after Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky had cautioned against any air traffic violations by the United States and Britain in their effort to feed Berlin with sky-borne supplies.

May Ease Blockade

BERLIN, June 30. (AP)—Russia dangled hints of hope today that the Soviet food blockade of Berlin may end soon. At the same time Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky cautioned against any air traffic violations by the United States and Britain, striving to feed the city with sky-borne supplies.

The Russian commander, replying to a British demand that he lift the land blockade or shoulder the blame for starving some 2,000,000 Berliners in the American, British and French sectors, said Tuesday night he had learned the city had enough food to last for "several weeks".

"I hope that in this time we can have the trains running as usual," he said in a letter to the British commander, Gen. Sir Brian Robertson. The letter was made public by the Soviet-licensed news agency, Adn, only a few hours after the Berlin City Council appealed to the United Nations to intervene in the city's crisis to forestall "urgent danger to world peace."

Rejects Appeal

At Lake Success, Trygve Lie, Secretary-General of the UN, said he has decided against seeking Security Council action concerning Berlin at this time. He made his decision after Britain, France and the United States indicated they did not think UN intervention proper at this time.

United States Air Force planes landed at Berlin's American airfield at eight-minute intervals on Tuesday in an effort to stretch our available food supplies in the western sectors until late July or early August.

The RAF also took an active part in the shuttle service.

Sokolovsky also announced that the highway to Berlin from the west would remain closed indefinitely "to stop illegal importation of currency from the western zones to Berlin."

Alberta Opens Door

EDMONTON, June 30 (CP) —A group of former members of the Palestine Police Force may come to Alberta under this province's British immigration program.

John Ferguson, immigration superviser in the Economic Affairs Department, said he had telegraphed the government's office in London, England, approving the idea. The Alberta Government does not help immigrants financially, but does try to arrange their passages and obtain jobs in this province.

3,155 Killed In Earthquakes

FUKUI, Japan, June 30.—(AP). —Relief supplies poured today into a 55-mile-long strip of western Japan laid waste by Monday's great earthquake that crumpled this city of 80,000 and left in ruins a score or more other towns.

The Allied military government, granting that many bodies may never be found, stuck to an estimate of 3,155 dead and 7,250 seriously injured throughout the area.

(Occupation headquarters in Tokyo, however, on the basis of American medical workers' reports from the scene, put the recovered dead at 56, seriously injured at 1,600 and slightly injured at 4,000. It obviously did not include the 200 children reported by military government officers to have been crushed in a movie theatre.)

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP). — Prices were mixed in very light trading here. Golds and base metals showed a slightly firmer tone and industrials and western oils were easier.

New Brunswick Voting Lighter Than In 1944

FREDERICTON, June 30 (CP)—With about 10 per cent of the vote still to be recorded, this year's New Brunswick election figures were slightly lighter than in 1944—506,135 to 584,016.

While the total possible vote was somewhat reduced by the fact that five members were returned by acclamation in Gloucester, this in turn was almost offset by the addition of four new seats, one in each of four multi-member constituencies. One of the new seats was in Gloucester itself; In Moncton city electors could vote for two candidates compared to one in 1944; in Restigouche and in Madawaska they could vote for three instead of two.

Therefore, leaving the acclamations out of it, the electorate this year had 47 men to elect compared to 48 in 1944.

With one less man to elect, the Liberals ran their total vote from 282,367 in 1944 to 290,343 in 1948, increasing the average vote per Liberal candidate from 5,882 in 1944 to 6,177 in 1948.

The Progressive Conservative total dropped from 233,401 in 1944 to 157,080 in 1948, but they had only 40 candidates running, compared to 48 in the previous election. The Progressive Conservative average-per-candidate was down from 4,862 in 1944 to 3,927 this year.

Similarly, the CCF total dropped from 68,248 in 1944 to 32,595 this year. With only 20 candidates running, however, compared to 41 in 1944, the average-per-candidate was little changed—1664 in 1944 and 1629 yesterday.

Smiths Falls Seeks License

MONTREAL, June 30—(CP)—Supplementary information regarding applications for radio station licenses, for operation at Smiths Falls, and Roberval, Que., were heard Tuesday by the CBC Board of Governors. Decision was reserved.

Clarence Warner appeared Tuesday for Warner, Warner, Pollie, Cullen and Company, seeking the Smiths Falls license.

Mr. Warner, asking for a 250-watt broadcasting licence, said he already had $6,700 lined up in national advertising business. From a survey he had made he is confident Smiths Falls could withstand another depression if one should come.

He would like to start operations in September. At first the transmitter building would be used for studios. There now is $12,500 cash on hand for financing.

A Department of Transport witness said their investigation showed the department is prepared to negotiate with the Federal Communications Commission of the United States concerning a 250-watt station in Smiths Falls. If there was difficulty with the F.C.C., the station's power might have to be reduced to 100 watts.

Booklet Advertises Lakefield Area

Five thousand copies of a 20-page booklet advertising "Lakefield, Key to the Kawarthas" are on their way this week to add to the efforts to attract tourists to this area. A project of the one-year-old Chamber of Commerce, this booklet has been planned as the first of a annual series. Larger and more elaborate presentations of the district's attractions are included in the Chamber's proposed 1949 booklet.

The two-color cover features an aerial view of the village. Inside reading matter gives brief, pithy descriptions of Lakefield, the surrounding tourist playgrounds, accommodations available and the lure of its fishing, natural beauty and peaceful atmosphere. A quick reference to open seasons, catch limits and sizes is also printed.

Centre spread of the booklet is a sketch-map of the Kawarthas, with main tourist establishments marked. Officials hope to make this a fold-over map of a larger size with more detailed pin-pointing of resorts, villages and road net work in next year's issue.

Bulk of the 5,000 will be distributed at eight major entry points to the province from the United States, through tourist bureaus of the Provincial Department of Travel and Publicity.

Copies will aso be supplied to tourists through local resorts and other points of inquiry in the district.

IN PETERBOROUGH

Once again Armstrong Lumber leads in the introduction of the latest in the building world -- this time it's RUSTIC LOG CABINS introduced for the first time to Peterborough citizens.

There is something essentially natural, beautiful, rugged in real log cabin construction. In the past, many who contemplated the construction of natural log cabins, cottages, homes, resorts, etc. have been discouraged by the difficulties and expense of having logs carefully selected in the forest, peeled etc.

NOW -- Armstrong Lumber brings you AIR LOCK logs manufactured in St. Catharines, Ont. with immediate delivery to your site.

"Air Lock Logs"

Designed to enhance the beauty of log structures—to make them weathertigh for year-'round occupancy, rough logs a they come from the woods are turned 'arge wood lathes, removing the b nd eliminating the taper.

The heart or centre of the log is the ored out its entire length, thus eliminat ng the possibility or heart or other types f rot setting in. A tongue and groove is hen cut into the full length of the log. hus AIR-LOCK Logs are made.

he fact that no studding or framing s necessary, combined with the easc vith which logs can be fitted together ontributes greatly to lowering the co f construction.

Thoughts For Dominion Day

The day before our national holiday it will not be amiss for us to turn our thoughts to the responsibilities which rest upon the men who are charged with the administrative work of our country—the Prime Minister and the Cabinet. Last week there was a debate in the Senate in which it was suggested that the salary of our Prime Minister should be increased and that a pension plan should be prepared for those Cabinet Ministers who had given long service. These are suggestions which should be carefully considered.

* * *

There are many people in Canada who are alarmed by the present extent of Government expenditure and who are opposed to any increase in ministerial salaries or benefits. They must remember, however, that in the past thirty years the position of Prime Minister of Canada has become vastly more demanding than it ever was in the days of Macdonald or Laurier. They must remember, too, that Canada wants the best possible men at the head of her government, and that a $15,000 salary does not look very big to such men. At present the total emolument of the Prime Minister is $23,000; the kind of man we want as Prime Minister could earn much more than this, with half the trouble, in private business. When Senator Felix Quinn suggested a salary of $50,000 for our Prime Minister we think that he was wide of the mark; we do feel, however, that the Dominion of Canada might well pay its chief executive $25,000, to which his honorarium and a private member would be added.

* * *

As for the Cabinet Ministers, we feel that they deserve greater consideration than they get at present. Some of these men make big financial sacrifices to do the nation's work. They give years to public service during which they might otherwise expect to provide for their families and establish an inheritanee for their dependents. Civil servants are not expected to serve the public without pensions, and we do not see why Cabinet ministers should be asked to do so.

* * *

Politics in Canada is becoming a pursuit for old men, for very few young men can afford to spend the six months yearly in Ottawa which is demanded of a private member, much less the twelve months unremitting work which must be given by a Cabinet Minister. If we want the best men in politics, and if we want politics to be a career which young men can enter with some confidence that they will not be ruined, we must provide salaries which are commensurate with the responsibilities, and we must give that assurance of future security which is already enjoyed by the Civil Service. We must afford these advantages, because we cannot afford the devastating expense of filling our big national positions with second-raters.

School's Out

Civilization has devised nothing more universally, perpetually unnatural than schools. There is nothing natural in a young human animal sitting in the same seat in the same room for five or six hours of the day, day in day out, year in year out. One of the rewards of adulthood is that this harrowing discipline is passed. Adults whose memories of youthful agony are short should try sitting at a school desk for two or three consecutive hours listening to a speaker, who, unlike the teacher, does not demand that they add to the sedentary experience the excruciating effort of thinking. Teachers' lives in school hours are at least as unnatural as the pupils'. Neither Adam nor Eve was expected to spend six hours of the day, day in day out, year in year out, catering to and caring for forty children, other people's children. Even a fond parent with only three children tends to become frenzied after spending three consecutive hours with the three offspring.

The two months of summer are not a whit too long for either children or teachers. Forty weeks of artificial living in the hothouse environment of schools (and especially in the last weeks when the heat of June is turned on) are enough to break the spirit of even the sturdiest human colt and fray the reins of the most equable sulky-driver. A "return to nature" is necessary, and the summer recess provides the opportunity.

"Nature" means our lakes and woods, animal frolic and laziness in the sun. Some people loosely identify the term with "reality" and think of this reality in terms of dollars and cents. There is not much harm in older children taking summer jobs—they need a change more than a rest—and they can be preconditioned to the reality of earning a living by a spot of dollar-grubbing in the summer. Teachers will not be so readily beguiled by the lure of dollars. They have been working for a living, they need rest. They need primarily mental and spiritual refreshment, through study, travel, and surcease from shrill voices. They do not willingly squander two months of leisure for a mess of pottage.

Tribal Friction In Palestine

The clearest indication we have that something more than an armistice might come out of the present truce between Jews and Arabs in Palestine is the violent reaction of the Irgun Zvai Leumi. This is an extremist, ultra-nationalist Jewish force which has been battling the Haganah (the now official army of Israel) and has pledged rebellion against the Jewish Government.

Some remarkable statements have been published in a recent advertisement in Toronto papers, appealing for funds to support the Irgun. "Everyone has abandoned Jerusalem except Abdullah and the Irgun". "Only the Irgun stands in the way of surrender...(it has) the only program which does not open the doors to further appeasement and annihilation". "The very survival of Israel depends upon the continuation of the struggle which forced the state into existence. Partition was a death trap. The state of Israel cannot survive in its current mutilated form".

The Irgun was supposed to have been incorporated into the Haganah, according to its own earlier announcement that > within the area of the State of Israel and in any other section of the homeland under Jewish rule it will not maintain an armed underground organization or a military organization. Our soldiers will enter the Hebrew Army and be active in its fighting as battalions.

However, the Irgun H.Q. interprets the State of Israel to be the whole of Palestine, and possibly Transjordan and any other parts of the Middle East its hotheads may think of as 'The Homeland'. Apparently the Haganah is not too anxious to have Irgun battalions in its ranks.

Extremists are useful in the incubation period of a new state or a measure of reform, but when these are within grasp, extremists are a scourge and an embarrassment. The new Israeli Government and the Haganah are now on the receiving end of their immoderate supporters' activities. The reality of responsibility compels them to disown, disarm, and, if possible, dismember the Irgun. The difficulties they may have in doing this may be as great as their difficulties with the Arabs. Canadian people whose money is solicited by the Toronto advertisement and Canadian airmen whose services are being sought for Irgun forces will not serve the cause of peace or Israel by giving support to the extremist.

A Rent In The Iron Curtain?

The Communist International Information Bureau ("Cominform") has been talking turkey to Marshal Tito and his Jugoslav henchmen. It accuses the Yugoslav Communist leaders of pursuing "a hateful policy in relation to Soviet Russia" and leaning sympathetically toward western methods. It is interesting not only that this outburst should have occurred, but that the Prague conference which issued the 3,000-word resolution condemning the Yugoslav leaders was not attended by Yugoslav representatives.

We in this western world should not be too delighted at this evidence of rift in the Eastern front. A Communist is a Communist. But as the workers of the world did not unite in 1914 but responded to their several national patriotisms, and German workers did fight French workers, so in the "New Democracy" fathered by Stalin, the fellowship of communism does not preclude national sentiment nor take the kinks from the dictatorial bents of men like Tito. It will be a long time before Europeans forget their fatherlands and meekly accept the "New Democracy" under Soviet Russian domination as a worthier ideal than their country's private good. The new Russian empire will require more policing than Caesar's and its despotism could bring about its own disintegration.

Why Women Fail

By LADY VIOLET BONHAM-CARTER
In The London Sunday Times

"WHY have women not produced bigger and better fruits from the tree of their emancipation?" I hope that I shall not be branded as a blackleg to my sex if I confess that I never expected from that Symbolic Tree more than the fair-to-moderate bunch of bananas which it has in fact yielded up to date.

Mrs. Mary Stocks's assurance in a recent article in The Sunday Times that they are "very full of vitamins and that the body politic can digest them with advantage to all concerned" is grateful and comforting no doubt. But we cannot blink the fact that they are not the Golden Apples of which our Feminist forbears dreamed when they set out, armed with their "bows of burnished gold" and "arrows of desire" (together with a few hatchets, pepper-pots and other weapons of a more practical kind) towards the Promised Land of Women's Emancipation. It was not a pocket of vitamins they were after, but a new Heaven and a new Earth. And it is not perhaps unnatural that we, their less illusioned heirs, should today be called upon to explain away the "gap" that yawns between their romantic hopes and our somewhat pedestrian performance.

IN the old days of high hopes and great expectations I was often arraigned for my "bear-ish" inability to share them. Was it, I was sometimes asked, because I took a low view of my fellow-women? Or of politics? I protested that I thought highly of both, but that I could not see "politics" in terms of sex-alignments, nor could I see "women" suddenly operating as an inspired and indivisible political unit. There are all kinds of men; there are, if possible, even more kinds of women. They would fall into their natural political sockets, either as fiery progressives, stick-in-the-mud reactionaries, or tepid mugwumps, just as men have done.

IN our youth we used to play a game called "Great Men of One Letter," in which we were allowed three minutes to write down all the "Great Men" we could remember beginning with "X"? or "Y"? I remember vividly the pang I felt when I first learned that we could not play "Great Women of One Letter,' because there were not enough "Great Women" to go round the alphabet. It had to be just "Great Women"—of any letter. And, most regrettably, they invariably turned ou. to be the same. Sappho—Madame Curie—Joan of Arc—Elizabeth Barrett-Browning—Cleopatra—Florence Nightingale....Why, oh why, were there so few? Because, and only because (so I was assured by my female Elders and Betters), women had never had "the vote." "But would the vote," I asked, "have made us poets? painters? architects? musicians? dramatists? philosophers?" Yes, I was solemnly assured, the gifts of Michelangelo, Beethoven, Shakespeare and Aristotle had vainly seethed within us since creation and been denied an outlet by centuries of masculine oppression. One visit to the polling booth would do the trick.

"When the women get the vote"....what hopes, what fears hung on that, once remote, contingency! There was going to be no more war, no more disease, drunkenness, overcrowding, sweating; some even hinted no more men. And then the other side of the picture was presented — a lurid pendant. Chivalry would be killed stone-dead, women would grow long beards, homes would be ravaged, hearths grow cold, beauty would shrivel, babies cease, life would resolve itself into one long ugly scrap between the sexes. It seemed too good, or too bad, to be true.

AND so indeed it has proved. The vote, that magic talisman, has neither gloriously freed women, nor hideously unsexed them. We have learned that citizenship is not a necessarily disfiguring experience nor an instrinsically ennobling one. We are just beginning to learn that it is a highly skilled calling in which it takes some time, some trouble and some talent to graduate. You cannot turn a woman (or a man either for that matter) into a citizen merely by passing an Act of Parliament.

✧ ✧ ✧

OUR apprenticeship is proceeding with the appropriate Meopian "inevitability of gradualness." I find myself regretfully unable to agree with Mrs. Stocks that "the fruits of our emancipation in politics have been of swift and almost spectacular growth," nor that it has been followed by "an expanded spate of social legislation." within living memory occurred, I fear, just before our emancipation, in the years between 1906 and 1918. Nor can I recall anything "spectacular" in the social measures of the Labour Coalition and Conservative Government, which followed. The grant of Widows' Pensions can justly be claimed as a concession to women voters, but the great battle of Family Allowances was not won until a few years ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

I AGREE wholeheartedly with Mrs. Stocks that women are natural social reformers—fearless, selfless, uncompromising, apt at times to concentrate with an almost fanatical singleness of aim on a single issue. In politics neither caucus, catchword nor theory can intervene with any effect between them and the things they feel need doing.

✧ ✧ ✧

ELLEN Wilkinson was to my mind our most accomplished and effective Parliamentarian. But, with the one towering exception of Eleanor Rathbone, we have not as yet produced any politician who bears the stamp of greatness. No woman of the stature of Elizabeth Fry, Mrs. Besant, or Beatrice Webb has as yet left her mark on Parliament. I scour the horizon in vain for one who might qualify for the position of Prime Minister, Foreign Secretary, and I am regretfully unable at this moment to think of any who could fill the bill.

How are we explain this dearth of female "Alpha" quality in a profession for which women should have by nature a peculiar aptitude I can suggest at least one explanation.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE most distinctive contribution which a woman can make to public life is her intimate knowledge and understanding of private life. It is perhaps because the difficulty of striking a balance between the two so often presents an insuperable problem that the most vivid, human, and representative women are driven to "contracting-out" of politics. They are ironically excluded by the compulsion of those very human claims which they are best fitted to champion, interpret and express.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE right and natural time for a woman to enter politics is not in green youth, nor yet in the grey years when, "all passions spent," her hopes and aims have cooled, but in the full-blood-tide of life. And it is exactly at this moment that her human ties and duties are most imperious. It is true that men hold directorships, run businesses and carry on Bar practices at the same time as being members of the House of Commons. But the claims of children are far more difficult to regulate and to confine within limits, and they are quite impossible to deny, whenever and wherever they occur.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUITE apart from domestic duty, I am convinced that from the purely political angle the shelving and starving of these vital human relationships may well sterilize and atrophy the very qualities that make a woman's presence in politics so invaluable. Immersed in a "career," she may lose touch with the source of all her wisdom, and, misplaying private life in public life, may drop the substance for a shadow. Here is a dilemma to which I can find no answer, but which may explain in part the absence from our political life of many of those women who might have brought to it much human wisdom, warmth and light.

✧ ✧ ✧

BUT far more important than the number of women who sit in Parliament, or even in the Cabinet, is the number of women outside in the country whose minds and hearts can break through the narrow confines of their own lives, and see beyond. Their ability to realize the responsibility and use the power which are theirs today is the true fruit of our emancipation, and by this we shall be judged as we deserve.

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, 'freedom of the press'?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers. It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy, but freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom, because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public issues. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless. An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic world.

If any proof be needed, it is provided by the record of the Fascist and Nazi dictatorships. Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the corner-stone upon which those regimes were founded. Without it, they could never have held power. With it, they could do as they pleased, to the eventual ruin of their own peoples as well as much of the rest of the world.

This disastrous chapter of history should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough. The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment. Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

With liberty of course involves obligations. The obligation of a free press is to be truly free. It must be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure. It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground. It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understands it.

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the English-speaking peoples have traditionally granted to their press. Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.

Letter To The Editor

PETERBOROUGH'S LIBRARY NEEDS

Sir: Mr. James Dutton's letter recommending a Community Building for the South End of the city has focussed public attention on the primary needs of that section of the city, which ultimately affects the city as a whole. As of December 31st, 1947, there were 7,689 borrowers registered, at the Public Library. According to library standards, registration in a city this size should be 30 to 40 per cent. of the population, or 10,000 to 14,000 people.

One of the reasons, the chief one I believe, for low registration is the lack of a branch in the southern section of the city. A library can adequately serve within a radius of a mile; compelling housewives and children to travel three or four miles is most unsatisfactory to all concerned. Children, most of all, should have adequate library facilities, and should not be forced to travel long distances across dangerous streets.

To build a separate branch today would mean a large expenditure. Niagara Falls, with a population of 20,000 is building a branch costing $50,000. For this reason many cities are postponing building branches until costs come down and are using bookmobiles to bring books nearer to the people. Mr. Dutton, I think, contradicts himself when he says "the mobile library is not the answer—people should not have to walk or even ride long distances in order to get books." The bookmobile precludes that very situation, for it would stop at several locations in the area, thus giving people even more opportunity to obtain books. In addition, the bookmobile would also serve the other sections of the city, and in summer, the city's playgrounds.

I would also offer another suggestion for consideration, that of building four or five stories in the future shopping section (which is the best library location) placing the library on the second floor. This has been done quite skilfully in England. Thus the library pays for itself, and eventually is provided with additional revenue for the purchase of books. This concept is being carefully considered on a major scale in Vancouver where they are planning to build a skyscraper office building twenty stories high, with the library on the top three floors.

I hope the citizens of Peterborough will give special thought to this matter of extension of library services as well as to the other contents of Mr. Dutton's stimulating letter, so that their opinions will be helpful to the Public Library Board and the City Council when the time comes to discuss the plan or policy to be followed.

Yours very truly,
WILLIAM L. GRAFF,
Chief Librarian.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jacob went out from Beer-sheba, and went toward Haran. And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep.

And he dreamed, and behold a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven: and behold the angels of God ascending and descending on it. And, behold, the Lord stood above it, and said, I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: the land whereon thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed ...And, behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest, and will bring thee again into this land; for I will not leave thee, until I have done that which I have spoken to thee of.

And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and he said, Surely the Lord is in this place; and I knew it not. (Gen. 28: 10-13, 15-16.)

The Lord of hosts is with us; the God of Jacob is our refuge. Selah. (Ps. 46: 7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Whither shall I go from thy spirit? or whither shall I flee from thy presence? If I ascend up into heaven, thou art there: if I make my bed in hell, behold, thou art there.

How precious also are thy thoughts unto me, O God! how great is the sum of them! If I should count them, they are more in number than the sand: when I awake, I am still with thee. (Ps. 139: 7, 8, 17, 18.)

Advice To Statesmen

But I sometimes remember the story about Bulstrode Whitelocke, Cromwell's envoy at the Hague. He was tossing sleepless on his bed, when his servant, who was sleeping in the same room, said, "Sir, may I ask a question?" "Yes." "Do you believe that God governed the world well before you came into it?" "Yes." "And that he will govern it well after you have left it? Then, sir, cannot you trust Him to govern it well while you are in it?" The tired ambassador went to sleep.

While I wait for that well-contented day when that churl Death my bones with dust shall cover," I remember the manifold blessings that I have enjoyed, and also how many men, wiser than I am, have predicted evils which have not come to pass. The body politic generates anti-toxins as well as toxins; pendulums swing, and civilization is fairly tough. If we escape another war, our grandchildren may after all see happier times than I can venture to hope for them."—By Dean Inge in Hibbert Journal.

NOT EXACTLY A LIFE LINE

MP's Want Bigger Grant To Aid BC Flood Areas

OTTAWA, June 30—(CP).—The BC floods, receding on the west coast, roared into the Commons Tuesday night and washed out any hope of a late-hour prorogation. As the Chamber drove to clear the decks for the official closing ceremony George Cruickshank (L—Fraser Valley) and a crew of Opposition members dropped members into a two-hour whirlpool over the size of the Federal contribution toward flood rehabilitation.

They criticized the $5,000,000 grant and suggested final settlement be left until the total flood damage has been assessed. At the same time, they thought a new $1,000,000 dredge should be bought to provide more efficient dredging of the Fraser River.

Just to block the prorogation further, CCF members launched a midget-sized cost-of-living debate in an unsuccessful attempt to learn what the Government plans to do abodt the recommendations of the prices committee.

The Chamber passed 291 divorce bills providing for the separation of couples in Quebec, the only province without a divorce court.

At the House opening, Prime Minister Mackenzie King said Canada will be represented at the commonwealth conference of prime ministers in London next October and indicated he might possibly be the dominion's representative.

Has No Report

Agriculture Minister Gardiner declined to indicate when the ban on beef exports to the United States will be lifted.

Labor Minister Mitchell said no government controller will be appointed for companies involved in the lake shipping dispute.

Opening the flood debate, Mr. Cruickshank felt the government could do more than grant $5,000,000 for the relief of the 2,500 farmers in the Fraser Valley. It had found all the money it needed to fight the war and had made large grants towards European relief.

He did not believe it was the wish of the Canadian people that only $5,000,000 be provided for the flood victims.

E. D. Fulton (PC-Kamloops) saad rough estimates indicated damages in Fraser Valley alone would come to $30,000,000. This did not include the cost to the other flooded areas.

Mr. Cruickshank was joined by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver Centre) in urging more extensive dredging of the Fraser river.

Waits For Experts

Works Minister Fournier, whose department handles dredging, said he would act on the recommendations of his engineers, now in British Columbia. Should they recommend extensive dredging operations, he would try to find sufficient funds for the work.

In the side debate on prices, Finance Minister Abbott reiterated that he could not say when the government would remove the 25-per-cent excise taxes imposed last November in the dollar-conservation program. This was one of the recommendations of the Prices committee.

However, the government would give "immediate" consideration to the committee's suggestions, which also included a request for re-imposition of some price ceilings and revival of some subsidies.

Not Doing Recruiting

VANCOUVER, June 30 (CP)—The Israeli government is not recruiting Canadians to fight in Palestine, a director of the Zionist organization of Canada said Monday. Harold A. Freeman, a Vancouver lawyer, said Hagana, the Jewish army of 80,000 men, received only subsistence pay. "Israel needs supplies of food and clothing more than she needs fighting men," he added.

Bracken Raps Present Wildlife Policy

CLEAR LAKE, Man., June 30 (CP). — John Bracken, Progressive Conservative Leader, said in a speech read for him here, that Canada's wild-life resources should not be "sold out" to help meet the country's shortage of United States dollars.

Mr. Bracken's statement was read at the annual meeting of the Manitoba Federation of Fish and Game Association. He was unable to leave Ottawa to attend the meeting.

He said an increase in "meat hunting" was contributing to the quick depletion of Canada's game resources. "There can be no doubt there has been an increase of mass murder of game by some persons who have no right to the title of 'sportsmen'," he said.

A recent case in one province revealed that a party of six tourists caught an aggregate of 180 pounds of trout in a single day. There are authenticated cases in which tourists have shipped their kills to the United States, and sold the meat at prices adeqquate to cover the entire cost of their trip to Canada, as well as yielding a profit. Gross profits of up to $1,000 per moose have been reported.

"Surely our birthright in natural assets is not to be sold to provide such a small mess of pottage."

Commercialization of sport also was contributing to depletion of resources.

"There is an increasing tendency to regard our game-resources as an exportable commodity with which we can earn dollars. As one of our most respected sporting magazines expressed it recently, "To advertise for more anglers and hunters, in the face of known dangerous depletion, is more than the common sense of our sportsmen can take."

"To which I should like to add my own view that our wild-life resources are a common heritage which ought not to be sold out to compensate for the fiscal failures of government. Our total gain in foreign exchange from tourist hunters and fishing in 1947, would only meet 8 per cent of our adverse trade balance in that year."

Dismiss Charge In Horse Shooting

A charge of wantonly shooting a horse was dismissed by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in court Tuesday afternoon. It was laid against Stanley Beasley, now of Muskoka. In dismissing the charge, the magistrate said the evidence had been not enough to show the charge beyond the benefit of doubt to which the accused is entitled.

"It would be hard to imagine any motive for an ac tlike this," he said.

Evidence was given by Melville McKee, Smith township farmer who had been Beasley's employer. He said the horse had been shot on May 28 and had died the next night with much pain. Evidence of the death was given by veterinary surgeon Dr. Art Johnston, Peterborough.

Provincial Police Sergeant Price Morris told of his examination of the hide and carcass of the horse and tracing the path of the .22 bullet which had been the cause of its death, from a ruptured stomach.

Gerald Blodgett, 17-year-old neighbor, testified that he had met the accused the morning of the 28th and that the horse had been bleeding then. He said that in reply to a question, the accused had said "I shot him." Beasley denied having made that statement and denied shooting the horse.

Delivers Farewell Message At Bethany

BETHANY, June 30 — (ENS) —On Sunday evening the Rev. J. P. Henderson conducted a most impressive farewell service in Bethany United church, prior to his moving to Rednersville next week.

The choir sang an anthem and Miss Doris Driver, accompanied by Norman Lowes sang a solo, 'The Lost Chord.'

Taking as his text, the 11th verse of 4th chapter of John, "Beloved, if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another," Mr. Henderson said "John's message is just as important today as when it was first delivered"

The Scripture lesson was taken from the 121st Psalm and John 2, verses 10-17. Hymns during the service were 'Take Up Thy Cross and Follow Me,' and 'The Lord's My Shepherd.' The service closed with the singing 'Blest Be the Tie.'

Combines Take 3-0 Win Over Comstock's

Once again the R-E Combines took sole possession of top place in the men's softball loop when they blanked Comstock's 3-0 last night at the Bowl before a fair-sized crowd. It was a snappy tilt with Ron Akers continuing his shutout pitching as he gave but four hits and two walks, while fanning three and getting perfect support. Reg. Gordon also threw fine four-hit ball but walked four and had one miscue behind him. The game zipped right along with few mistakes made. The loss left Comstock's second.

A hit by Akers and a homer by Crowe meant two R-E runs in the second and they counted one more on Hawkes' single in the seventh and a three-base error as it got through Mackness. Only one Comstock runner reached third throughout. The only hitters—one each—in the game were: Cournyear, Castle, Mackness, Gordon, Hawkes, Leether, Crowe and Akers. The winners had a double play.

Kawartha Golf News

By JERRY SEABROOK

A field day is being held at the club this first of July. Lex Robson, in appreciation for the patronage he has received, is donating the prizes for this event. Three handicap flights will be operated on medal play and a fine turnout is expected. This competition is a "no charge" affair and was a huge success last year. It promises to be bigger and better than ever this year. Let's all get in behind Lex on this affair.

Congratulations (belated) are extended to Fraser Dunfield and Norm Finnie on the very creditable showing they made in the Ontario amateur tournament in Toronto recently. The same goes also to Anne Clarke for the fine showing she made in the Toronto and district ladies golf tournament. Anne and Fraser just missed the championship flight by a hair and considering the competition at hand they did a mighty fine chose.

Don't forget: Qualifying round for club championship to be played by July 4; first round in Glover trophy competition (men's two-ball) to be played by July 4; to get out to the club Thursday and win for yourself one of Lex's fine prizes.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Baseball, soft ball and golf attractions await Peterborough people who prefer to stay at home on the holiday tomorrow. Morning and afternoon COBL contests listed for Riverside, a men's softball twin bill in the eve at the Bowl, and a golf tournament at the Kawartha Club all day. Maybe some minor ball and other sports' offerings, too, but these are the main ones. No soccer match, and the Petes' lacrossers are away on July 1. But these sports should prove sufficient and help to keep local folks in the city on the first big summer holiday. Next one is Civic Holiday and then Labor Day as summer draws toward a close.

Bantam lacrosse tonight, commencing at 6.30, has Montreal House meeting Tudhope's, with St. Paul's playing Kiwanis. In games the other night, Bill Jones sparked St. Paul's to an 8-2 win o'er Tudhope's, while Montrealers edged Clapper's 6-5 in overtime, Lefevre and Cupoli being outstanding. The kids gather there tonight for tadpole and peewee organization—and the ambitious gutted-stick officials may soon have a "diaper" class going! Meantime, the senior "B" Petes, who go to Orillia tomorrow have a Friday fixture in Miller Bowl against the strengthened Scarboro Grads. A nine p.m. group game and it should be lots better than that exhibition here last week.

Kingston Locos clash with the Petes at 10.00 tomorrow morn in Riverside Park, and the same squads meet there at three in the afternoon. The odd double-header in the spread-out COBL helps cut down on heavy travelling expenses, and the Petes last week split a twin bill in Kingston. Both games here should be real battles and the Kingston crew are getting stronger every start. We think they'll finish ahead of Batawa and Oshawa yet, and give the hard-hitting Petes plenty of trouble before playoff time. Eddie Murphy has Bill Edger and Doug Loucks available for slab duty. Big crowds are likely.

Two girls' softball games tonight at the Bowl d'Ashburnham, if the weather is right. Lakefield plays the Electrics at seven and may give the CGE-ers a real fight. While Westclox and Marines, tied atop the heap, except that one has played one more game, go in the nightcap. Sure to be a nigty struggle all the way as these clubs at present look like the pick of the senior squads in this loop. No girls' games this Friday night, as too many players will be away for the long holiday week-end. Westclox will not be seen in action after tonight for two weeks as their shop is on vacation. Regular play will resume Monday.

Combines blanked Comstock's 3-0 and Legion took Knights 7-1 in men's softball melees at the Bowl last night before a pretty fair-sized crowd. Each game lasted exactly 55 minutes, which shows the snap these guys are putting into it in this loop this season. It helped a lot last eve, too, as it was starting to rain the last few frames of the final fixture. It's a dog-fight all the way, and now the R-E crew are out in front with Comstock's second, then Legion, and with Knights last, but only three games between the top and bottom teams. They go again tomorrow night with Combines playing Legion at seven, followed by Knights against Comstock's.

Ron Akers continued his shutout pitching to win the first game but Gordon also was good and each side got but four hits. There was only one error in the snappy scrap. Dalton had a little hurling edge, but not much, on Woods in the second struggle—a bit loose defensively—but Legion put their blows together when there were ducks on the pond to win out. Dalton, Harrison and Bill Walton were their big stickers while Willshaw, Wade and Tompkins thumped best for the losers. Several of the Knights were late arriving and Freddy Garvey had to start with a few out of position—such as a pitcher at shortstop. But 'twas a tidy tilt and it's still anyone's guess as to how they'll finish up.

The proposed fight between Billy Thompson, British lightweight, and King of Toronto earlier this week was cancelled owing to excessive demands made by Thompson's manager. Not only did he demanded a flat guarantee of $6,000 tax free, but he wanted it in American money — and then he insisted on a referee and a judge from across the line. The crust of this dude is something at which to marvel (U.S. money and officials not in Canada, indeed!) particularly when it is remembered how poor a showing English fighters almost invariably make on this side of the pond. Changing the subject somewhat, we're glad to see that the 17-day Olympic Games in London expect to make a profit of about $1,275,000, and we recall Andy Lytle's gloomy predictions that the English would lose their shirts on the spectacle.

Knights Lose To Legion In Fast Fray

Legionnaires beat Knights 7-1 at the Bowl last night to take a firm grip on third place, just a game behind Comstock's, and drop K. of C. into the cellar. It was another fast fray with Legion clinching matters with a five-run drive in the fourth on singles by Dalton, Loucks and W. Walton and a double by Harrison, plus a wild pitch, an error and a double steal. Dalton's double and an error added one in the fifth and a single by Dalton and a triple by Harrison got them one in the seventh. Wade's homer in the eighth was the only run for Knights.

Dalton threw six-hit ball but Woods pitched almost as well, but for one frame. Both sides weere loose defensively. Dalton's three for four led the Legion hitters and Harrison got a homer and double in four tries. W. Walton hit two in four appearances. Willshaw led Knights with two in three as Wade and Tompkins each had two in four. Several of the Knights' regulars were late arriving.

Midget Lacrosse

McGillis Hotel midget lacrossers edged out American Hotel 2-1 and Cavanagh's beat Comstock's 4-0 in a twin bill at Miller Bowl to start off the week. Rogers, Killen and Nichols went best for the McGillis bunch while Heffernan, Jones and White stood out for their opponents. Goals were scored by Killen, Rogers and Heffernan. Buchan, Curtis, Daniels and Brioux tallied in the second game, with Brown, Crough, Batley and McKenzie also going well for them. Galley, O'Dette and Hope were the pick of Comstock's. Next games are July 7. Teams:

McGillis: English, Rogers, Davis, Jones, Gooley, Dewar. Withers, Bertrand, Killen Armstrong, Tobin, Kelly, Clement, Nichols, McTague.

Southenders Win

Southend midgets took a 12-1 decision over the westenders last night in a City Baseball League contest. They count three runs each the first two innings, added two in the fourth and four more in the fifth, cashing in on hits and walks, with a few errors. The losers got their only marker in the fourth as Murphy pitched two-hit ball in the five frames played. The teams:

South: Anderson, 2b; Batley, rf; Prest, rf; Jensen, cf; Jones, lf; Grant, 1b; Douglas, 3b; Young, ss; Bigford, c; Murphy, p.

West: Mongraw, 2b; Gordon, 3b; Morrissey, c; McIlraith, 1b; Miller, lf; Holbrook, ss; Connelly, p; Kent, cf; Buott, rf.

Taylor Weary Of Athletic Roles

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 (AP) —Olivia De Havilland's hopes of playing Shakespeare's Juliet on the stage will have to wait for her film career.

"I think I should have one picture in release and two finished before I take off time for the stage," she tells me. That means she'll do another film after "The Heiress" before embarking on "Romeo and Juliet." She made the unreleased "Snakepit" last year.

Al Undecided

Al Jolson says he doesn't know" whether he'll portray himself in the "Jolson Story" sequel. That's the first time he has admitted there is a possibility. My guess is that he'll heed the call of grease paint and play the Larry Parks role. (and don't tell me he's not the type.)

Robert Taylor, informed that M-G-M plans the dashing "Quo Vadis" role for him, replied "They'd better hurry up; I'm getting too old for those athletic roles. I've grown tired of that routine of lifting barbells to get in shape."

Royals Dump Syracuse In Twin Bill

By The Associated Press

Montreal Royals are beginning to pile up a commanding lead in the International League's pennant scramble.

Manager Clay Hopper's hustling crew opened a 5½-game lead over the runner-up Newark Bears last night by taking both ends of a twin bill from Syracuse Chiefs 6-5 and 10-6.

In the opener, the Royals spotted the Chiefs three runs in the first inning and then came back with one in their half and five more in the second to take a lead that they never relinquished.

The Royals piled up a 7-0 lead in the first five innings of the nightcap behind Don Newcombe. Clyde King relieved Newcombe with one down in the eighth and held Syracuse hitless the rest of the way. Newcombe, Al Gionfriddo and Jimmy Bloodworth led the Royals 13-hit attack by clouting homers.

Drop to 5th Place

The double defeats dropped the Chiefs from third to fifth place. The rained-out Bisons moved into third and Rochester Red Wings hopped from sixth to fourth by taking a twin bill from Jersey City Giants 4-3 and 10-5.

Red Wing rookie Frank Gravino homered in each game to boost his output for the year to 15.

As a result of their double setbacks, the Giants fell from fifth to six place, a game in front of Toronto Maple Leafs who turned back the last place Baltimore Orioles 4-1 and 5-2.

Lou Possehl halted the Orioles on three hits in the first encounter and Jock Thompson checked the hapless Orioles on nine blows in the finale.

Charles Signs For First Elimination Bout

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP) — It's been less than five days since Joe Louis laid his crown aside but already there is considerable stirring in heavyweight boxing ranks.

Here are the rapid-fire developments:

1. Ezzard Charles, Cincinnati light heavy weight a leading contender, is reported ready to "fight from one to 10" for the championship and, as a starter, is signed to meet Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland in Washington Aug. 2.

2. Gus Lesnevich, world's light heavyweight champion who is one of the "big three" in the heavy picture that includes Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott, expressed delight over the prospect of a September bout with Walcott.

3. Walcott said he didn't think much of a proposed tournament to decide Louis' successor. He figured his two bouts with the Brown Bomber earned him a sort of "Crown Prince" role that he should fight either Charles or Lesnevich, not both, for the title.

4. Jack Solomons, leading British promoter, counted himself in on the deal and announced he plans to have a part in the series to determine the new champion.

Lesnevich arrived in England yesterday for the July 26 defence of his light heavy title against England's Freddie Mills. He said he thought a fight with Walcott would be "any boxer's dream."

JOE LOUIS, who successfully defended his world heavyweight boxing championship title against Jersey Joe Walcott, is shown at the Engineers' Club in Roslyn, Long Island, NY, as he and his wife, Marva, played a round of golf. Having announced his retirement from the ring, Louis is looking forward to a pleasant life of golfing and looking after his varied business interests.

The Canadian Association of Amateur Oarsmen will be asked to reopen the question of an Olympic singles representative for Canada, the executive of the Ottawa Rowing Club decided Tuesday night. Secretary Gordon Smith was instructed to wire the club's decision to J. L. Murray, secretary of the CAAO.

The singles in the Olympic trials at St. Catharines last Saturday was won by Winnipeg's Theo Dubois, but he was not named to the Olympic squad after it was reported the Olympic rowing selection committee found his winning time not up to standard. Meanwhile, the sculler's mother, Mrs. Alice Dubois suggested Theo row for his native Belgium at the Olympics and said she would pay the expenses.

At Toronto, the Ontario Lacrosse Association decided that three players who recently returned to Ontario from Quebec will be eligible to play in Ontario. The players are Jack Porter and Nick Powliss of Ohsweken, near Brantford, and Vince Ready. The Association executive also upheld a ruling that Jack Dorney, a senior player, must play for Weston.

Practising what they preach, Ontario sports writers took to the links Tuesday at Hamilton Golf and Country Club at Ancaster Al Proud of the Guelph Mercury took low gross honors with 82 Ivan Miller of the Hamilton Spectator turned in low net score of 71, while Jim McKay of the Woodstock Sentinel-Review came second with 72.

The pace-setting Owen Sound Crescents stretched their lead to five points at their home rink Monday night with a 14-6 Ontario Lacrosse Association senior victory over Mimico Mounties. Tommy Skordoff was the higher scorer with four goals and an assist for the winners, while six men shared the Mimico goals.

Says Yanks To Win Pennant As Team Bowls Over Sox

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Bucky Harris of New York Yankees put his neck in a noose today by predicting flatly his world baseball champions would win the American League flag again.

This sudden burst of frankness might have been prompted by last night's 7-0 victory over Boston Red Sox.

It wasn't the result of the victory so much as the fact that the triumph came on the anniversary of the start of their epochal 19-game winning streak of last year, which made a shambles of the American League pennant race.

A season record Yankee Stadium crowd of 70,491 saw Ed Lopat make it three straight for the New Yorkers.

The red-haired southpaw handcuffed the Sox with three singles. Ted Williams got one of these to extend his consecutive hitting streak to 15 games, but his league-leading average dropped three points to .412.

The victory enabled the Yankees to move into second place, one game behind the leading Cleveland Indians.

Feller on Toes

Fireballer Bobby Feller gave a display of his old-time form, pitching the Indians to a 6-2 triumph over Detroit Tigers. Feller fanned eight and scattered eight hits in beating his old rival, southpaw Hal Newhouser. It was Feller's seventh victory against eight losses.

Washington snapped Philadelphia Athletics' seven-game winning streak with a 5-3 victory. The victory boosted the Nats into fifth place ahead of the Tigers. The Penetanguishene pitcher, Phil Marchildon, was the loser. It was his sixth defeat against four victories.

Chicago White Sox moved within 2½ games of the seventh-place St. Louis Browns by defeating the Brownies 4-1. Lefty Bill Wight pitched seven-hit ball for his fifth victory.

The fourth place New York Giants emerged from their batting slump with a vengeance, poling five home runs to swamp Warren Spah and Boston Braves 11-3. Sid Gordon paced the Giants' 17-hit attack with two home runs.

The Braves retained their first-place lead of half a game over St. Louis Cardinals as the Redbirds were whipped by the Cubs in Chicago 3-1. Johnny Schmitz downed Harry (the Cat) Brecheen in a southpaw duel.

A pinch single by Howie Schultz in the 14th inning scored Ted Kluszewski from third with the run that gave Cincinnati Reds a 6-5 victory over Pittsburg Pirates in the longest National League game of the year.

A two-base muff of a fly ball by centre fielder Carl Furillo paved the way for two Philadelphia runs which gave Blix Donnelly and the Phils a 2-1 victory over Ralph Branca and Brooklyn Dodgers. It snapped Branca's seven-game winning streak.

English Look Grim, Italians Happy Dr. Yelland Reports After Visit To His Son's Grave

Men were chipping mortar off bricks from the mounds of rubble that once were houses and stores, and were piling them as salvage material for the slow rebuilding of Cassino as Dr. H. M. Yelland passed through it on his recent visit to Italy.

Grain was gently waving with the breeze in the valley land of the hilly countryside around Monte Cassino. Fields that were strewn with disabled and shattered tanks four years ago were reclaimed to agriculture. The land had been cleared of the debris of war and restored to the use of farmers.

In the British Empire Cemetery half a mile to the south of Monte Cassino, Dr. Yelland came upon the grave of his only son, Major Reginald C. Yelland of the 12th Canadian Tank Regiment, who was killed in action nearby on May 23, 1944. The three men of his tank crew lie beside the young Peterborough officer who had earned his majority with the 8th British Army, and died in his early twenties.

There are 4,600 British graves in that cemetery at Cassino. They are laid out in the last files of the dead, long row after row. It is a flowered place, and at the head of each grave is a temporary wooden cross and circle, with identifying inscriptions. Exceptions that impressed Dr. Yelland are the community of 400 British troops from India. The symbols at the head of their graves are shaped like the handle of a canoeist's paddle, only larger, thrust into the ground.

Designed Like A Wheel

"This cemetery is laid out in the form of a circle," Dr. Yelland told the Examiner yesterday. "At the centre is a great flower bed, 25 feet in diameter. The rows of graves radiate from it as spokes of a wheel. Flowers are planted in smaller beds among the graves. The headstones will eventually be of permanent granite such as I saw in the British cemetery at Assizi where there are 1200 graves. The cemeteries are under the care of the British War Graves Commission, and it is British policy that the dead should not be removed. Americans are gradually bringing home their men who are buried abroad. At one British office where I called I learned that the body of a young Norwegian who was with the R.C.A.F. was being taken home from one of our cemeteries in Italy."

Dr. Yelland's thought and probably desire may have been reflected in his remark that with the extension of Russia influence in eastern Europe its future encroachment could not be predicted.

In the vicinity of Cassino Dr. Yelland was treading ground which the Allies wrested from the Germans in the spring campaign of 1944, driving from the south to liberate Rome. That objective was accomplished June 4. The road from Cassino to Rome was one of the avenues of advance. British troops were reported as the spearhead of the attack that breached the enemy's strong lines along the Cassino front, and among them were Canadian forces, and his own son had passed that way.

Major Yelland was with the Three Rivers Tank Corps. His father said he had learned that the North Irish had lost 19 tanks and the Canadians many others when they went in. Major Yelland his crew were killed by small arms fire after their tank was put out of action and they had to abandon it, indicating their nearness to the German lines.

"The town of Cassino was badly smashed up by our own air attacks and German bombardments in the spring of 1944," Dr. Yelland said. "You saw there all the evidence of war about which we have read. Many of the people are living in cellars and makeshift houses partly repaired. It was there I saw the men working through the rubble, recovering bricks to start all over again. I was not up to the top of Monte Cassino where the old Benedictine monastery was demolished after the Germans seized it and used it in their observations and part of their line. It was one of the key places, Cassino, in that Gustaf line the Germans tried so desperately to hold."

From there they withdrew to the Hitler line which Field Marshal Kesserling later held briefly as the last barrier to the Allies in their delivery of Rome from the Germans.

Weapons Still There

Dr. Yelland said it seemed strange to observe in growing grain the fields where such bitter fighting with heavy armament had passed. Tanks and guns and other material left in the war's wake had been dragged out of the way of plows. Peace had returned at least to the land and its tillage.

"There was little or no evidence of the war in Rome. Of course, it was a free city, but at every turn I noticed the slogans and other propaganda of the recent national elections. They were printed and written all over the place.

Around Assizi and generally on all sides the Italians cultivated every bit of land available, even to the making of terraces on the hills. Most of the work appears to be done by hand. I did not see a tractor anywhere I went in the country. Their crops looked good, the people healthy and comfortably dressed, and they were smiling and friendly."

Courteous Police

Dr. Yelland told of an incident in Rome when he asked a policeman to direct him to an address at which he had an appointment. He said he could not speak Italian, but he showed the address in writing.

"Come on I'll take you there," was the policeman's reply. The place was a block away.

You meet quite a number of people who know some English, but you get around more easily if you can speak French. The wife of the proprietor of the Windsor Hotel in Assizi was from London, Ont. I marvelled at the fine quality of marble I saw in many places. I mentioned it to a Dr. Pizzoneria who also conducts a travel agency in Assizi. His reply was, "We haven't much but marble in Italy. It is cheaper than wood."

Dr. Yelland said he did not see much evidence of the reputed courtesy of the French in Paris. Customs officials were inclined to be difficult rather than polite. Coupons are required to get bread rations in the hotels. The porter can obtain a week's supply at a time. The bread is about the shape of a baseball bat and is of darkish, gray color as if it might have been made of flour mill sweepings.

The happiest looking people Dr. Yelland saw in his travel were the Italians. His impression of the London crowds was that they looked a bit grim, as if they had been through a long severe trial and had not yet emerged from its hardships.

"They appeared to be well nourished, but I can say that I didn't notice many smiling not even children. The little ones apparently do not play the way ours do. Certainly they can't buy ice cream and chocolate bars which are so common here."

"Hotel meals are restricted to three courses, and if you have bread that is one of the courses. Taxes are terrific. There are purchase taxes and duties on goods going into the country as I discovered on several articles I took along. Meals do not cost more than five shillings. Some people in business manage fairly well by having one of their three meals in a restaurant, the two others at home. As for the income tax, if a man makes $5,000 a year, the government takes $3,000, and if the income is more than $5,000, the tax is 19 shillings and sixpence out of every 20 shillings. There has also been a capital levy at certain levels this year.

"Englishmen tell you they did not mind it during the war, but it is now three years after the war and living conditions are worse, with no hope of let up for another five years. Clothing coupons provide just about enough to get by on. You see some women with jewellery that is more conspicuous because their clothes are quite ordinary.

Met Peterborough Girl

"My wife and I had luncheon with a former Peterborough girl, Beatrice Blewett, now Mrs. Willyams, and her husband, who live in Cornwall. Mr. Willyams said his wife just bought two towels out of which she was going to try to make a waist because she had no clothing coupons left. He was certain it couldn't be done but was waiting to see the result as something of a miracle."

Dr. Yelland mentioned that the National Health Insurance scheme comes into effect July 5. The older doctors are not happy about its regulations, but the younger men and those who have come out of war service were attracted by the government's guarantee of £600 a year to begin with. Dr. Yelland briefly remarked that this national scheme and its results were beyond any present estimating. Time would determine whatever merits it might develop.

One impression that remains with him is that the design of Britain's socialist government was the levelling downward of that large section of the people who had given Britain her prominence in the past.

"We met Russ Kitchen in Glasgow. He is in charge of the new factory Western Clock Company is building at Alexandria, outside Glasgow. It will have 150,000 sq. ft., and is actually being built by the government because private contractors are unable to get supplies. He took us on a drive through the Trossachs and we had dinner at West Balloch. One amusing information was from a brother of T. T. Rodger, whom we met in Scotland. He told us they had wood coupons. He had saved in eleven months enough coupons to build a garage, and he was hoping he could get the roof on it."

BRITAIN'S WAR-TIME Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill waves an acknowledgement to the cheers of a crowd which gathered to greet him as he walked up the High Street of Luton, Bedfordshire, to attend the Conservative Party's eastern area fete.

U.S. Ships Most Wheat Abroad

CHICAGO, June 30.—(AP).—The United States today closes the books on its third post-war crop exporting year, a year in which it shipped abroad more wheat than any country in the world's history. Most of it has been shipped free.

Wheat and flour exports in the crop year now ending—July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948—have totalled about 475,000,000 bushels. The exact figure isn't yet known and probably won't be for some months.

The per capital consumption of wheat as a food in the United States is less than four bushels a year. On that basis, United States exports of wheat in the period under review would fill the wheat food requirements of 114,250,000 Americans for a full year.

Prior to the war, the United States ranked fourth as a wheat exporter. Argentina, in the four years before 1939, exported 41 per cent of the total world exports, Canada 18.2 per cent, Australia 9.7 per cent and the United States only 4.6 per cent.

After the war, the United States and Canada took the lead, with the United States exporting 41.3 per cent of world exports in the 1945-46 crop year. Canada exported 37.5 per cent, Argentina 13.7 and Australia 3.6.

Warn Beekeepers Of Price Drop

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP)—Canadian beekeepers were warned today not to expect the current high prices for honey to continue much longer. The trouble lay mostly in the surplus in the United States.

F. R. Armstrong of the Agriculture Department's Marketing service today told the Ottawa Valley Beekeepers' Association there was no doubt there will be a considerable carry-over of honey this year.

He felt Canadian beekeepers would be "very lucky, indeed, if any significant quantity of Canadian honey was moved under the European Recovery Plan." United States had a surplus of 50,000,000 pounds of honey, said Mr. Armstrong, "and they are holding the ERP money bags."

C. A. Jamieson, of the bee division, Central Experimental Farm, said the cause for a slackening in the demand for honey was due to the return of sugar to the kitchen shelves and the high price of the product. As a luxury food, added Mr. Jamieson, honey was taking it on the chin.

Short Course Mooted

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP) — A two-year training course for nurses is seen as a possible solution for the nurse shortage across Canada by Miss Marion Myers, president of the New Brunswick Association of Registered Nurses.

Find Estimates Startle Senator

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — Senator W. M. Aseltine (PC—Saskatchewan) said Tuesday night the government's $2,192,000,000 estimates for the 1948-49 fiscal year are "startling, to say the least."

However, he told the Senate, there seems little that the Upper Chamber can do about it. He spoke after Senator Wishart Robertson, government leader, summarized the estimates and compared them with the 1939 total of $552,000,000.

Senator Aseltine, acting Progressive Conservative leader, drew attention to a $100,000 item for continued planning of the national capital scheme.

It was a "terrific" sum, Senator Aseltine said, in view of the fact that the planning has been under way for years. He believed the time had come when the government could dispense with the services of some of Jacques Greber's associates and turn the job over to Canadian engineers and architects.

Fine For Relief

VANCOUVER (CP) — A man here recently pleaded guilty to permitting his spaniel to hunt game birds. He was given suspended sentence after costs were paid. He then handed over $10—the fine which would have been imposed—to food relief.

Man-Made Rain Halts North Bay Doubleheader

NORTH BAY, June 30 (CP).—Puzzled officials of the Gateway Fastball Association called off a doubleheader Monday night by radio announcement—and then looked out the window to see that the drenching downpour had stopped.

The downpour, produced by an Ontario department of lands and forests plane, also caused a resoaking of the Monday wash and made residents of this city of 16,000 scurry for shelter.

But Mayor Ced Price didn't think there would be many kicks.

"I imagine there are enough citizens with gardens which needed rain badly to offset any possible protests," he said with a chuckle when questioned by reporters.

Airmen who have been dropping dry ice into the clouds to start them raining over northern Ontario's forest fire areas, have not been able to discover many suitable clouds over the forest fires.

Monday night such a cloud was encountered over nearby Powassan when an RCAF Lancaster bomber, lent to the department for the experiments, was winging home. The crew seized the opportunity to gather more information on the fire-fighting innovation and dumped 800 pounds of dry ice along a 40-mile track while flying at 22,000 feet.

When the plane dropped below the seeded clouds for the return trip to North Bay, it flew through a heavy rainstorm.

The pay-off for the Fastball Association—the brief rain left the playing field in perfect condition.

Lindsay Expects 10,000 At Old Home Week Celebrations Start July 1

LINDSAY, June 30—(ENS)—Most of Lindsay's 2,500 homes and the many hotels and lodges are opening their doors to the influx of thousands of visitors from across Canada and many points in USA who are arriving for the 10-day Old Home Week which opens Dominion Day. More than 10,000 visitors are expected.

Despite the rain and the humidity, Lindsay is a gay sight these days. Kent Street has been colorfully decorated with flags and bunting and merchants are decorating their store windows. A giant, golden key has been erected at the town hall where the many Lindsay old boys and girls will register July 1.

Motorcycle races at the Exhibition Grounds feature the Dominion Day program, while on Friday and Saturday the first Lindsay Horse Show will be presented. The show, which will be opened by Hon. L. M. Frost, is jointly sponsored by Lady Eaton, MFH, and Frank Proctor, MFH.

Special Services

Sunday is "Back To Church Day" with special services in all local churches where former choirs and ministers will be in attendance. In the afternoon decoration services at both the Roman Catholic and Protestant Cemeteries are scheduled, while in the evening a community church service will be held at the Exhibition grand stand.

Monday, July 5, is American Day, when products from all 48 states will be on display. A variety show at the grand stand will be the main feature during the afternoon and evening. Miss Victoria County will be chosen July 6, which is Victoria County Day. Ex-Lindsayites living in Toronto will take over on the seventh. They are coming by special train and are supplying their own entertainment.

Harness horse races, with $1,300 in prizes, will be the big attraction on Pioneer Day (July 8). Hal. B. Watson, well-known Toronto writer and horseman, is acting as race secretary and already entries are coming in for the three events. Pari-mutuel betting will be allowed for the first time in Lindsay in many years.

Scottish Day

Friday, July 9, is Scottish Day. This day is devoted to a colorful program of Scottish events attended by highland pipers and bands from many centres. The ten-day reunion will come to a close with Warriors' Day when veterans of all services and military bands will put on a gigantic display.

Many bands are coming in for the big event, including the Peterborough Pipe Band, the Royal Canadian Regiment Band, the Lindsay and Peterborough Salvation Army Bands and the Winona Pipe Band. The midway will be in full swing through the ten-day period and a variety show and radio frolics will feature the grand stand performance. Old time dancing and street dancing and bingo are also included in the program.

Gets Appointment

STRATFORD, June 30—(CP)—The appointment of Sidney L. Ireland of Toronto as manager of the Perth Mutual Fire Insurance Company was announced Tuesday by President H. W. Strudley. He succeeds J. A. C. Kay who died last January. A former resident of Stratford, Mr. Ireland is a graduate of Queen's University and at present is manager of a Toronto insurance firm.

PROVINCIAL CONSTABLE LLOYD McCLURE has been promoted to the rank of corporal effective June 1. A veteran police officer, Constable McClure has served in this district for many years and before that was at Hawkesbury. He is now patrol corporal in No. 8 district, third senior officer in the district under Inspector E. V. McNeil, and Patrol Sergeant Price Morris.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

PIGEON HITCH-HIKES

Although people curse pigeons a good deal, one of them showed his love for humans today on Charlotte St. It fluttered around, landing on the heads and shoulders of several people, until finally it found its proper niche. It disappeared from view, riding proudly on the hood of a car.

WHAT NEXT?

A Rogers street resident is wondering whether he should anchor his verandah more securely. Last week he put a garbage can filled with refuse at the street curb. In the morning when he was going to work the can including the garbage, was gone and the collectors had not been around yet.

TRUCK CATCHES FIRE

A broken gas line was the cause of fire shortly before noon on Tuesday in a truck at the Canada Bread Co., 421 Chambers St. Workmen found they were unable to put out the blaze and phoned for the firemen who finally put it out with chemical. Damage was described by the company as slight.

CAR SIDESWIPED

Minor damage, about $15, was caused the car of George Johnston, 839 Water St., when, police said it was sideswiped by the truck of Cecil Lloyd, Campbellford, about 10.15 Tuesday night. The car was parked near the corner of George and Rink streets. PC E. McDonald investigated.

CHEMONG PARK

A meeting is to be held to reorganize the Chemong Park Cottagers' Association at 8 p.m. on Friday evening at the home of Dr. A. G. Howson at Chemong Park. If the association is reformed, a regatta and sailing events will be planned to take place this summer. The association has been inactive since the beginning of the war.

LIGHTNING FIRES PINE

Sister of James Comstock, Asphodel township, was passing a large pine tree on the family farm during last Wednesday's violent electric storm when lightning struck it and started an immediate fire that endangered several rods of workmen fence. She summoned help and a bucket brigade was organized to extinguish the blaze.

Anglers Galore To Compete For Derby Prizes

Fishermen in the hundreds will throng the waters of the Kawarthas on Thursday as the season opens for bass and maskinonge. Many too will be gunning for a black bass or a muskie large enough to put them in the running for the prizes given in the Grey and Bruce derby.

The derby starts with the opening of the season July 1 and runs until Sunday night, July 4. Final judging will be in the market hall at ten o'clock Monday morning, July 5. On the four days of the derby, Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, arrangements have been made to weigh and measure fish at the Market Hall, between eight and nine o'clock each evening. This is a convenience to fishermen who think their catches might shrink, or who have no facilities for storing the fish.

First prize in the maskinonge division is a 16-foot cedar strip skiff, and second award is a rod, reel and line; third prize is a tackle box filled with Lucky Strike baits. In the small-mouth black bass division, first prize is a sport-twin Evinrude outboard motor; second and third prizes are the same as in the muskie division. Judges will be Mayor William Ovens, Bob McCabe, president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association, and Pete McGillen, Outdoor Editor of The Examiner. Doug Vaisey, tourist chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will assist at the weighing in of entries.

In this contest no entry form is needed, the fish itself being the entry. It must be weighed before official witnesses at the market on any of the nights mentioned. Weighing in will not be done at any other hours. Late anglers may produce the fish before ten o'clock on Monday morning.

95 Write Exams At Collegiate

Tuesday afternoon was the end of the Primary School road for 95 students, who hope shortly to enter high school. They wrote off four entrance exams on Monday and Tuesday, and by next week they will know whether they knew the answers.

Students wrote English composition and grammar, and English literature on Monday morning and afternoon respectively. On Tuesday, they wrote mathematics and spelling. In social studies and other subjects not already mentioned, students will be graded in their own schools.

Toronto Youth Gets Large Speckled Trout

Fishing last night in a creek three feet wide, Bob Bryans, Toronto, landed a 2-pound, 14-ounce speckled trout about a mile south of Havelock. Using a telescopic fly rod, with a worm for bait, Bob was fishing a deep hole when the fish struck. The battle was short, but vicious, he said. The creek runs into the Trent River.

Bob is spending his holidays at Trent River with his family and Joe Hortop, a friend. It was about five in the afternoon when the fish was caught. Bob said he has taken several other trout over a pound from the same stream.

GOING TO HAMILTON

C.G.E. Pipe Band has been invited to attend the Highland Games being held Saturday in Hamilton. This organization with its gay colored kilts is expected to gain prominence very rapidly across the province.

THIRD GRADE GIRLS of St. Mary's Convent won highest points in the city in the Junior Chamber of Commerce school ground clean-up campaign; ten classes gained 100 per cent but their class of 35 girls showed the maximum effort by a minimum number of pupils. Shown above, Dr. R. A. Kelly, medical officer of health, presents the $10 award to Mary Jane Ryan as Patsy Anne Colville and Lynne Doris look on. Behind them, T. McMillan, left, and D. Vaisey of the Jaycees watch the ceremony. The pupils will spend the money for books for their classroom.

Low Pressure Data Sent To Utilities

"To be remedied as soon as possible" is the tag on a motion by Ald. Hugh Waddell and Mayor Ovens sending Western Clock and Chief George Smith's correspondence regarding water pressure at Hunter St. east and Armour Rd. to the Utilities Commission.

"If a serious fire broke out in the Westclox plant, the hospital or the school, there is not half enough pressure on the nozzles for an ordinary fire," Mayor Ovens said at the board of works meeting Monday. "Steps should be taken immediately to rectify that condition. You couldn't put out a fire with the water we saw the other day. It was pitiful."

Ald. Herbert Young asked whether the pumping station pressure had been increased at the time of the test by Chief Smith as station practice when a dial indicates a large outlet in the main system.

A gauge on the main domestic line within Westclox plant and on the factory side of their meter showed that when four hoses were in use from two hydrants by Chief Smith pressure was down to eight pounds a sq. in. A letter from J. H. Vernor said "that would not be sufficient to operate sprinklers on the ground floor, let alone those floor higher up." The pressure range during the test was from 49 lbs. down to 8.

Chief Smith reported that with two lines from a six-inch main the pumper pressure was 15 lbs. and at the nozzle 110 lbs.; hydrant pressure was 40 lbs. That was on Hunter St. east of Armour Rd. At the hydrant, corner of Hunter St. and Armour Rd., eight-inch main, two lines of hose, hydrant pressure was 40 lbs., pumper pressure 120 lbs., nozzle pressure 96 lbs.

With both pumpers working at two hydrants, pumper pressure was 75 lbs., nozzle pressure 54 lbs. "Hydrant pressure was not great enough to operate the two pumpers," Chief Smith noted.

Put In New Power Poles

Three new poles have been installed in the block streching from King to Charlotte streets, along Water St. Utilities Commission says that the extra demand for power made necessary by the enlarging of the Empress Hotel and the building of two new theatres meant heavier power supplies. While these were being installed it was decided to replace the old poles as well.

St. Mary's Convent Pupils Win $10 Clean-up Prize

The Junior Chamber of Commerce distributed school ground clean-up cards to all the schools in the city in an endeavor to encourage neatness and beautify city property at the same time. When the cards were called in a few days ago to compute the winners, they were amazed to find the average far higher than they had anticipated and that 10 classes have achieved 100 per cent.

The Jaycees finally decided that the top prize of $10 went to the third grade pupils of St. Mary's Convent, a group of 35 small girls. By their efforts they had reached first place in over 100 city public and separate school class rooms.

On Tuesday morning D. Vaisey, secretary, and Tom McMillan, chairman of clean-up committee of the Jaycees joined Dr. R. A. Kelly, medical officer of health, who distributed the cards for the Chamber at the Convent. The principal, the Rev. Sister Doloretta, chose Patsy Anne Colville, Mary Jane Ryan and Lynne Doris to accept the cheque on behalf of their class from Dr. Kelly. They made a pretty appropriate speech of thanks and said the class had decided to spend the funds on books.

Berry Picking Delayed Again Too Much Rain

Rain early this morning held up locally the picking of strawberries. With uncertain clouds in the sky at noon growers were not sure whether they could get into the patches after dinner. Trade advice to housewives, especially those expecting to buy a crate or two, was briefly take them when you see them.

The berry crop has had too much rain in the last ten days. Three weeks ago it was badly needed, but the weather was then prolonging its dry period. Fruit from the Leamington district arrived here much later than usual Receipts from that quarter came on Friday and local berries followed on Monday. Usually there are about two weeks in that gap.

The Thursday holiday is complicating the local market. One of the retailers said some of the growers were expressing fruit to Toronto and Ottawa. Mendell Braund, Chamberlain St., received a dozen crates this morning from a grower near Port Hope, and with Thursday a blank he was letting them go at 24c a box. There should be an ample supply Friday and Saturday, but uptown opinion expected higher prices for the later berries next week.

CBC Expenses Under Fire In Commons

OTTAWA, June 30 (CP).—Canadian Broadcasting Corporation expenditures came under criticism in the Commons Tuesday.

Rev. E. G. Hansell (SC—MacLeod) called the Corporation and the Government's international short-wave service a "tremendous drain on the taxpayer."

He said there was a feeling in some quarters that the short-wave service was "a sort of cow that is fed by the taxpayers and perhaps milked by the CBC."

Mr. Hansell was critical of the Government's proposed expenditure of $3,000,000 to buy and renovate the Ford Hotel in Montreal as a joint headquarters for the CBC and the short-wave service.

He said he had thought some day Canada might have a "Radio City" of its own. He never had visualized the purchase of an old hotel.

Douglas Ross (PC—Toronto St. Paul's) said he did not grudge the money for the Ford purchase, but he was critical of the expenditure of $571,000 to collect radio licence fees.

"Nonsensical"

He said, too, it was "nonsensical" that individual owners of more than one radio set had to pay a separate fee for each set.

Revenue Minister McCann, explaining the Ford purchase, said it would enable the Government to reach a long-sought objective—concentrating its CBC and international service facilities in one building.

The purchase price was to be $2,050,000. In addition, the Crown was buying from the Ford concern a $50,000 building adjoining the hotel and was paying $150,000 to compensate persons having leases on that second building. Alterations to the hotel building would cost $800,000.

Mr. Hansell said the building would be obsolete in a few years "and not much of an advertisement for our radio." He had thought the "Young Radio City" would be in Toronto, but had no brief for any particular city.

Troops Take Gurais

NEW DEHLI, India, June 30—(AP)—The government radio said today Indian troops have captured Gurais, communication junction 49 miles north of Srinagar, capital of Kashmir. Indian troops have been in Kashmir since last October. The Hindu Maharajah of the predominantly Moslem state acceded to the Indian union and asked for protection against invading Moslem Pathans. The United Nations has sent a good committee to mediate between India and Pakistan over Kashmir.

Driveway Rights

TORONTO, June 30 — (CP). — The provincial highways department has posted signs on four-lane and controlled highways, cautioning persons to determine properties. A provincial statute forbids new entrances being opened on such highways as the Queen Elizabeth Way.

A 10-NATION CONFERENCE to arrange for free navigation on the Danube river has been set for July 30, following agreement by Russia to allow Austria to attend as a "consulting nation." The Danubian meeting, tentatively scheduled for Belgrade (1), will be the first international conference since the war in which the Soviet will have a majority vote. Attending will be the Big Four and the Danubian countries, shown in the above map, which emphasizes the importance of the Danube as a means of water communication between eastern and western Europe. At the end of World War II the Big Four agreed in principle to keep the Danube "internationalized" and Balkan peace treaties contained a clause that the river "shall be free and open." Last March a conference was to have been held, but Russia balked on inviting Austria.

Summer Insects Worse Than Cold In North Wastes

By CHARLES B. LYNCH.

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory, June 30 (Reuters). — Summer insects hold greater terrors than winter blizzards for the men who roam the trails of the Yukon.

A man on the tramp in the Yukon carries plenty of matches and netting with him. He "dopes" his skin with special preparations. If he stops for a meal or a rest, he builds a circle of "smudge" fires and sits in the middle.

There is many a tale of men frozen to death in the Yukon snows, but for sheer horror they cannot rival the stories told here of prospectors lost in the hills and unable to protect themselves from the swarms of mosquitoes and black flies. One search part last summer found a missing man sitting on a tree stump, crying softly.

usually no bigger than the head

Clouds of black flies, an insect of a pin, have been reported height of 25,000 feet, resembling reaching from ground level to a the "funnel" of a tornado.

Besides interfering with everyday life in the north, these insects present a problem for military authorities, who since 1942 have been studying the operating efficiency of military forces in the sub-Arctic regions. So far, these experiments have had to do mostly with cold, but now the Canadian Defence Research Board is turning its attention to bugs.

Experts Busy.

Eight field parties are spending the summer in the north this year, under the auspices of the Defence boratory investigations will be Research Board. In addition, lacarried out at Fort Churchill, Manitoba.

It is hoped to compile complete information on many types of mosquitoes, black flies and deer flies, and to investigate control methods. The parties will fan out across the north, from the river delta, Southampton Island, Goose Bay, Ungava Bay and Frobisher Bay. The parties are being taken in by air, and will continue their experiments until the end August.

of the Arctic summer, late in Their job will be to collect insects, observe breeding and biting habits, note the effects of weather and vegetation and compile 24-hour timetables of insect activities. Various repellants and control methods will be investigated and a new pest-proof suit will be tried out.

Last year, a check at Fort Churchill identified 10 biting and various non-biting types of mosquitoes, 12 species of black flies and nine or 10 deer fly types. It was stated that the pests appear in round the clock shifts.

Most fertile breeding grounds are said to be in the barren lands, where spraying methods are described as ineffective because new hordes of insects move in as soon as an area is cleared.

One project envisages spraying snow with insecticide, designed to kill insects when the thaw comes.

The research teams also will conduct experiments to see whether it is possible to create artificial immunity to insect poisons in humans. Members of parties, many of them students or faculty members of Canadian universities, will be inured with various preparations and will expose themselves to insect bites.

Labor Government Scored For London Redistribution

BY JAMES COOK

LONDON, June 30 (CP)— The historic city of London will have one member instead of two in the next parliament and be merged with other districts, despite conservative protests against the labor government's "lack of imagination."

Home secretary Chuter Ede, piloting through commons a bill for the redistribution of seats, said that although he accepts the historic importance of the city of London he cannot forget it has fewer than 5,000 resident electors while the average constituency has 55,000.

Instead of retaining a proud individual statues which allowed its two members to sit on the government front bench wearing silk hats on special occasions, the city of London will be merged with Finsbury, Shoreditch and the inner and middle Temple areas when redistribution is effective.

Fog Grows Thicker

Beverley Baxter, Canadian-born Conservative member for Wood Green, said Labor arguments in favor of the revised constituency reveal "this creeping common sense, this grey averageness which the party opposite is creating. . This grey fog grows thicker and thicker under the manipulation of the party opposite."

Long ago the city of London, with its guilds and city companies, had given refuse to members of the commons who had the courage to vote against a king.

"I look upon the progress of politics in this country and I think there may come a time when some of us will also have to go down the river and hide from wrath to come. . .

"There is the real spirit of the socialist party, to destroy anything which has roots in the past, to build a world upon our little second-rate selves. That is what the socialist party is doing in this country."

Ede said the government recognizes London's place in history but each generation or parliamentarians has to deal with the facts of its time.

Look For Increase

"I hope that the time will come when there will be a substantial increase in the residential vote in the city of London," he added.

The city of London constituency covers the old city where the Romans built their first settlement about 2,000 years ago. Beyond this sprawls the vast development of streets and suburbs that comprised the more modern city where other constituencies elect their representatives to parliament.

Good Economy Canada's Aim U.S. Editors Told

OTTAWA, June 30.—(CP). — In trade, defence and friendship, the affairs of Canada and the United States are interwoven in a pattern of mutual support, three cabinet ministers Tuesday told a group of United States editors.

Guests of a two-day conference of business paper editors, representing some 35 New York and Chicago publications, were External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, Defence Minister Claxton and Resources Minister MacKinnon.

Mr. MacKinnon said it was not enough for Canada just to consolidate wartime trade gains, neither was it to be accepted that the Dominion was "to become a self-sufficient nation."

"What Canada is trying to aciheve," said the minister, "is a greater measure of stability in our domestic economy and restoration of a multilateral trading system on a sound basis."

Defence Minister Claxton proposed the erection of a memorial at Ogdensburg, N.Y., "where the pattern for Second World War operations" had started.

He said the Ogdensburg declaration between Prime Minister Mackenzie King and the late President Roosevelt formed the pattern of joint action which brought ultimate victory.

Joint defence between Canada and the United States proved that no other two countries in the world have such capacity to work together. He traced its history to the Ogdensburg agreement.

External Affairs Minister St. Laurent emphasized the importance of North American solidarity and said the United Nations Security Council was not sufficient.

Reporters Tackle Entrance Exam Find It Isn't Too Easy

Three reporters, who have been on an average 18 years out of public school, picked each other's brain Tuesday afternoon for an hour, trying to find the answers to a high school entrance exam. They were trying their hands at the arithmetic problems that all candidates had to tackle in writing the entrance examinations at the Collegiate this week. Maybe the reporters didn't do so good, but according to their methods of proving answers, all are correct.

Old timers who pride themselves on their knowledge of "figuring" will probably be delighted to try this examination, and compare it with the ones they had to do half a century ago.

Answers for parts of two questions are missing, one because no protractor was available, and the other because it's been a long, long time.

"How many feet in a rod?.... How many yards to an acre?.... Hey, multiply this, will you?"

Anyhow, here they are, the answers in brackets after the questions:

1. (a) Find the average of the following: 86 lb., 45 lb., 57 lb., 39 lb., 68 lb., 59 lb. (59 lb.)

(b) Multiply 86.97 by 780 and check the correctness of your answer by division. (67836.6).

(c) From the sum of 3⅛ and 4 2/3, subtract 2 5/16. (5, 7/16).

(d) Divide 8 2/5 by 16 4.5 (½).

(e) Find 2¾ p.c. of $160. ($4.40).

(f) Arrange the following in order of size, placing the smallest first: ⅜, 6.5 p.c., .25. (125, ⅜, 6.5 p.c.)

2. (a) Last week Irene made 50 marks out of a possible 80 in Social Studies test. This week she made 49 out of 70. How much greater is her second percentage than her 1st percentage? (7.5 p.c.)

(b) Find the original cost of the rod and reel advertised below. ($14).

For Sale — Fishing rod and reel, first class condition. $3.50. This is only 25 p.c. of original cost. Phone 3600, evenings.

3. (a) A sporting goods store bought softballs at $18.00 a dozen. The balls were sold at a gain of 33 1/3 p.c. of the cost price. Find the selling price of each softball. ($2).

(b) On a bill of $48, Jim Hill was allowed a discount of 5 p.c. What did he pay to settle his account? ($45.6).

4. George Johnson's house is valued at $7,400. He insures it for 85 p.c. of its value at 60 cents per $100. What is the amount of the premium he pays? ($37.74).

5. Jim Elgie's 100-acre farm has 8 acres of fenced, unpastured bushland free of assessment and taxation. The remaining acreage is assessed at an average of $35 per acre. Buildings on the farm are assessed at $1,700.

(r) Find Mr. Elgie's total assessment. ($4920).

(b) Find the amount of his taxes at a rate of 27 mills. ($13.28).

6. A Grade VIII class of 42 pupils is having a final gathering before the holidays. The food committee has calculated its requirements as follows:

Rolls—22 cents a dozen.

Weiners—3 for each pupil (9 weiners to a pound);

Doughnuts—2 for each pupil;

Milk—1 1/3 glasses for each pupil (4 glasses to a quart).

(a) Find the total cost of food for the party if the storekeeper charges the following prices:

Rolls—2 cents a dozen;

Weiners—35½ cents a pound;

Doughnuts—36 cents a dozen;

Milk—17 cents a quart.

(b) What will each pupil's share of the cost be? (29c).

7. Bill wants to buy a bicycle for use on his paper route. He cannot pay the cash price of $49.50, but on inquiry, he finds thta he can make a down payment of $5.00 and 10 additional monthly payments of $4.95. His uncle is willing to lend him the $49.50 for 10 months at 4 p.c. per annum.

Strikers Parade In Oshawa Streets

OSHAWA, June 30 — Marking the first seven days of their strike over wage negotiations, employees of the Skinner Co., Ltd., paraded through city streets today. One hundred and fifty of the workers, who are all members of Local 222, UAW-CIO, started out from the plant and marched up Simcoe St., following a route that took them past the General Motors plant. Here they were cheered by some workers gathered at windows.

After a favorable strike vote over the week-end, the motors employees are awaiting word of a Rand formula vote to be supervised by the Department of Labor.

The Skinner strike continues with regular picketing in progress. Today's march was conducted in an orderly manner and there were no untoward incidents.

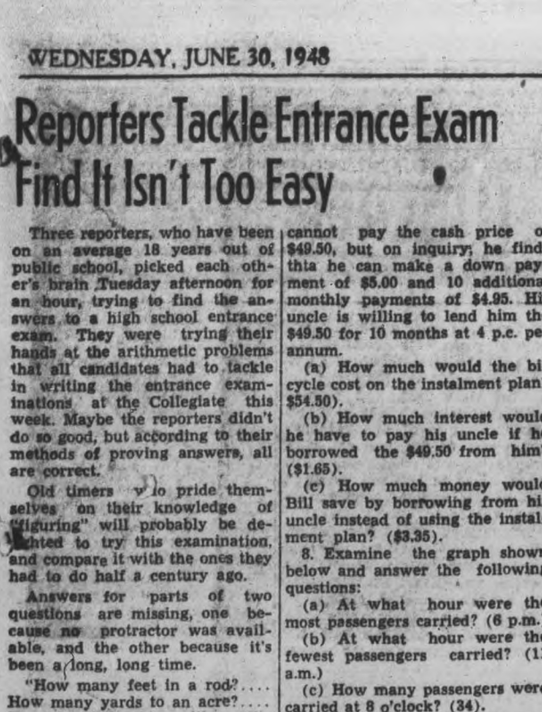
EARLY TILES

Wall tiles of a highly decorative character were made as early as the 12th century in Persia.



JOHN MIKULAI, of Dorval, Que., near Montreal, left, and his brother George, of Pottsville, Pa., talk things over at their first re-union in 43 years. George's children had never seen their uncle, but one of them recognized him on the street "by the way he walked."

PREMIER JOHN B. McNAIR (left) was re-elected in the New Brunswick election for another term as his Liberal party gained 47 of the 52 seats in the new provincial legislature. His entire cabinet was re-elected with the exception of Education Minister C. H. Blakeney, who lost the nomination. Hugh MacKay (centre), Progressive Conservative leader, will provide leadership for a five-man opposition in the legislature. New Brunswick voters again turned down a woman candidate, Mrs. Gladys West (right), who ran in Queen's county under the CCF banner.

Rising Prices Explained In Statistics

OTTAWA, June 30 — (CP). — The government, digging deep into a lot of all-too-true figures, has come up with another answer to the irksome question of why plain living is so darned expensive.

The Bureau of Statistics issued a report Tuesday giving these reasons:

1. Canada's trade status has been upset by "austerity" restrictions on certain imports.

2. Capital expenditure—investment in buildings, machinery and equipment—is at a high level.

3. Income still is zooming.

These are the facts on that income question: salaries and wages jumped from $1,413,000,000 during the first three months of 1947 to $1,607,000,000 in the same period this year.

What's the answer? The Bureau puts it this way:

"It would seem evident that these pressures will not abate until there is some reduction in the rate of capital expenditure or some increase in the economy's rate of saving."

(That last part means that the best thing Canadians can do is save more and spend less.)

In the long run, boosted production could help stem the price rise because supplies of durable goods are built up as the demand goes down.

CPR Raises Amount Given To Pensioners

MONTREAL, June 30—(CP)—To help in meeting the increased cost of living, the Canadian Pacific Railway has decided to supplement temporarily the allowances payable to pensioners receiving less than $45 per month, it was announced here Tuesday.

Pensioners who now received, or who will receive under the pension rules from $30 to $40 monthly will see this amount increased by $5, and those receiving from $40 to $45 will have their monthly total brought up to the latter figure."

Bring Out Nurses In D.P. Camps C.N.A. Urged

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 30—(CP)—A plea to the Canadian Nurses' Association to assist in bringing out nurses now in displaced persons camps came Tuesday night from Madeline Taylor of Montreal, who has just returned to Canada after three years of working in the war-devastated areas of Europe.

In an address to a dinner meeting of the nursing sisters of Canada, Miss Taylor sai dso far only 694 fully qualified nurses had been found in the D. P. camps. Britain already had accepted some of these nurses, and she hoped Canada would follow suit.

More than 70 nursing sisters, most of whom served in the armed services in the Second World War, attended the meeting, held in conjunction with the CNA biennial convention.

"Many of Canada's nurses of the last war now are serving in veterans hospitals," Mary Edgecombe of Saint John, N. B., national president of the N. S. A., said in an interview earlier. "A lot of them also have been using their gratuities to get nursing degrees."

At an arlier meeting delegates to the C. N .A. convention heard Agnes Macleod of Ottawa warn to meet all the needs in nursing that if the association was going education it must do research.

The values of central schools of nursing also was discussed by Miss Macleod. She said many professional nurses believed that, eventually, present nursing problems would be largely solved by the establishment of such schools. Already several provincial associations had made tentative plans.

DOROTHY DIX

Expert Supervisor Needed To Regulate Youngsters

DEAR MISS DIX.—We are a well-to-do family with four children. Three boys, 10, 8 and 5 years old and a girl of 4. These youngsters are beyond my control and I can do absolutely nothing with them. They fight with each other. They talk back to me, and pay no attention to anything I say to them. Whipping does no good and I am becoming a nervous wreck.

Dorothy Dix

My children are good-looking and healthy and appear to be normal, but they are such little hellions they are making my life unbearable. What is your advice?

A MOTHER IN DISTRESS.

ANWER: Any woman who admits that children as young as yours are beyond her control should ask herself whether she has used any system of intelligence or firmness in rearing them.

If not, you have spoiled your children from the time they were born. You have never taught them to respect laws, and that is the reason that they defy you and behave like little savages.

The best thing that you can do now is to get a woman who is a trained nurse for children to come and take charge of them for a couple of months. Turn them over to her completely and she will give them the discipline that you have been too weak to give them, and that they will take from her without question because she is a stranger. And don't interfere with her methods in any respect. Don't let the children appeal to you.

Absence Helpful

It would be a fine thing for you to go away from home while this reformation is in progress. But if you can't do that, at least give the woman a free hand. And don't undo her work as soon as it is done.

DEAR MISS DIX.—I am madly in love with my employer, who is twice my age. His wife went out of town for several months and during her absence we had some beautiful times. Now she has returned and he wants me to drop out of the picture, but the trouble is I am crazily in love with him and I feel that I just can't give him up. What would you advise me to do?

DISTRACTED GIRL.

ANSWER.—I should not only advise you to drop out of the picture, but to take the lesson it teaches you to heart and henceforth to avoid figuring in any more such amorous affairs.

For can't you see in what an unenviable position it puts you when you are cast aside like a toy of which he is tired? Your married lover amused himself with you while his wife was away and now that she has returned he wants to get rid of you. And it is nothing to him that he has won your love and that he leaves you with a hurt heart and a damaged reputation.

Of course, there is nothing you can do about it. When a man shows a woman the door, all she can do is to make as good an exit as she can. For a girl to have an affair with a married man is always playing with fire and nearly always she gets burned, which is perhaps no more than she deserves, but she suffers all the same. So in the future avoid the married philanderer as you would a serpent.

DEAR MISS DIX.— Is it right to share your griefs and troubles with your friends? I have tried so hard to keep my sorrow to myself, but it seems I cannot any longer. I have always hated to burden my friends with my worries, but if I could just talk a little about them I know it would help me.

UNHAPPY WOMAN.

ANSWER.—It is the high privilege of friendship for it to help bear your burdens and share in your grief, so do not hesitate to go with your sorrows to those who love you.

Of course, each heart knows its own bitterness, but there is solace for all of that in talking over your troubles with your friends and knowing that they sympathize with you.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, July 1

Plans for change, journeys, travel and new adventures are accelerated and most propitiously aspected, according to stellar configurations. While such efforts may be directed maintly toward a prolonged holiday schedule yet it might be profitable to take more realistic and far-reaching programs under consideration, as the mentality is keen and inventive faculties are stimulated. The romantic tendencies are likewise under favorable drive.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves stirred to change, new adventures, perhaps a sudden impulse to put over their very bright, ingenious and original schemes or plans, in which there may be long-range and quite unexpected denouement. There is an urge to the novel, strange and unorthodox, with far vista to distant pastures. The emotions are also under happy stimuli for romance, new contacts and fresh fields of conquest. Imagination and intuitions are also accelerated. These may assist in planning a safe and pleasant itinerary.

A child born on this day is possessed of much ingenuity, exceptional talent, creative impulses together with imagination and intuitive leads.

For Friday, July 2

While it is probable that the interest and ready intent of cooperation from those in responsible positions may center on new propositions or programs already incubating, yet there are signs of some rather deep-seated currents of disconcerting or sinister purpose. A rash, audacious or provocative move in the wrong direction could jeopardize such support, and magnify the danger of fraud, treachery and evil purpose. Indiscretion, wild proposals bombastic or exaggerated, might prove a bubble burst by the inflation. Shun feverish moods, speculative and dishonest transactions.

For the Birthday

Those wrose birthday it is, may be the victims of their own rash, speculative or sensational urges, incited by wild and deep-seated drives to overplay their hands, when contacting those ready to give generous support. Dishonest or exaggerated ideas or propositions could become sinister and dangerous and ignominously defeat very ambitious plans or propositions. For safety and security, hold to sane and above-board evaluation of long-range issues. Danger and risk are rampant in many phases, physical, moral, as well as moetary.

A child born on this day while holding promise and important ideas, may nullify lucrative and secure prospects by its rash, exaggerated or equivocal tactics.

LOONY LOON

The saying "crazy as a loon" originates in the laughing sound made by the loon bird.

YEAR AROUND ATTRACTION—Like the suit, the print frock has become an almost year around fashion, which means that there are always new and beautiful designs available. High style for high summer is this charming frock, cool and comfortable, and very pretty. Alluracel crepe is the fabric for a design that, while it subscribes to the prevailing mode, is in no mood to be extreme. The short sleeves are full and there is a dainty mandarin collar and self belt. The print is one of an Alaskan-inspired series.

TRYING OUT THE NEW LOOK in diapers, these babies appeared quite unconcerned in their likes and dislikes and were unable to express themselves more fully than "Glub," "Co" or "Urgulug." New Look for the crib trade is a piece of cotton flannelette or birdseye cloth of about 27 inches square. Canadian babies use up to 3,000,000 diapers annually, most factory made, requiring 1,700,000 yards of cloth.

Nursing Schools Can't Keep Up With Demands

By KAY REX

SACKVILLE, NB, June 29 — (CP).—Canada's nursing schools are turning out more nurses than ever before—but they can't keep up with the demands of this country's rapidly expanding health and hospital programs.

That's the problem uppermost in the minds of the more than 600 delegates to the Canadian Nurses' Association biennial meeting now in progress at Mount Allison University.

And they tackled it Monday at the opening of the four-day convention when they approved a resolution that the CNA send a delegation to interview the Federal Government about establishment of a nursing division within the Health and Welfare Department.

The delegation would also ask the Federal Government "to require provincial governments to use a portion of their health grants for specific purposes which will conserve the present supply of nursing service and produce more nursing service."

At a meeting Monday night Ethel Johns of Montreal also referred to the "increased burden" which new hospital and health services would put on the nursing profession.

She spoke during a special convocation when she received an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from Mount Allison.

In conferring the degree, Dr. W. T. Ross Flemington, president of the University, paid tribute to the "great contribution" Miss Johns has made to Canadian nursing.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

CARDS ARE LIKE HUMANS

EVERY experienced player has noted the perversity of certain cards that seem to take a fiendish glee in thwarting the best-laid plans, also the apparent sympathetic instinct of others which rush in to save the day in the most unexpected fashion. Why doesn't some great writer or writers describe a bridge hand from the standpoint of such a card, recording its thoughts, motives and feelings as it moves into the deciding role of the mimic drama? At last somebody has, and in most impressive and brilliant style.

(Dealer: South. North-South vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
2 ♥	Pass	2 NT	3 ♦
Pass	Pass	Dbl	3 ♠
Dbl	4 ♣	Dbl	Pass
4 ♥

You would hardly expect the modest Jack of Hearts to be the hero of this deal, but he is, in the account given by Robert Darvas, Hungarian tricky-hand wizard, and Norman DeV. Hart, talented British writer, in their startling book, "Right Through the Pack," which takes each of the 52 cards and makes it the hero of one episode, a book published by Stuyvesant House in New York after Ely Culbertson said it will make you, "quite painlessly, a better bridge player."

"I little thought the whole of the play was to turn on the way I was handled," said the Jack of Hearts. West led the diamond 6 to the J. East cashed the K and returned the 5. The declarer ruffed with the Q.

"Without hesitation," added the heart J, "West seized me and played me to the trick. East glared angrily at West. South looked surprised, but not pleased. Do what he could, he could not enter dummy, and had to lose two spade tricks to East."

West had to get out from under. If he had not exited with the heart J, South could have stripped him with two top spades and the club A, then thrown him in with the heart J. He would have had to lead a club to the dummy, whose club tops would have brought South success.

"I take pride," says Dr. Paul Stern, great European star, for having aided with the book.

"Dear Jesus may he rest
We miss him much, but still we know
Thy Holy will is best
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by his wife and family.

SMITH— In loving memroy of Mrs. Herbert Smith who passed away June 30, 1940.
Silently the angels took mother
Into the mansion above,
There shall she rest from earth's toiling,
Safe in the arms of Gods' love.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

Doll-Carriage Parade Features Picnic

BRIDGENORTH, June 30 — (ENS)—About 150 people attended the gala program of straight and novelty races held on Friday at the annual Home and School Club field day and picnic.

The picnic opened with an impressive flag-raising ceremony by the school children which was followed by the races and other events. Mrs. Karl Blewett was program convener.

One of the highlights of the day was the decorated doll carriage parade with 12 entrants. Gail Fry and Winona McKay received first and secvond prize, respectively.

Miss M. Coutts, who is retiring from her teaching post, was given a parting gift on behalf of the school children. An unexpectedly athletic team of mothers defeated their children in a heavy-hitting softball game to finish off the program.

Probe Eagle Attacks On Human Beings

LANSING, June 30—(CP)—Reports of eagle attacks on humans were being investigated today by startled state conservation officials.

[illegible] recently at Riverdale in Gratiot county when a bird, described as half grown, tried to jump on Julius DeMeyer, a farmer, driving his tractor in a field.

DeMeyer leaped from his vehicle and ran for cover.

The second attack was reported by Sam Alevander, who was driving his truck in a pasture when a bird flew straight at his truck, alighted on his arm and closed its claws on his hand.

Alexander pried the bird loose and captured it alive. Conservation officials said the bird's behavior suggested it was partly trained for falconry and alighted in Norman fashion to be fed.

NOT THE SAME AT ALL

UNWILLINGNESS to bid a four-card major suit on the first round is quite a fetish with some of today's players who have not learned from expensive experience that it is unwise, especially when opposite a partner who has the same attitude toward his responses. Some of these players will tell you that they have just as good a chance to reach a fit of four cards opposite four in a major by showing the suit on the next round. But it is not true. Every once in a while they block showing the major at all.

That reviews the bidding at three tables of a pair duplicate. At others North chose to open with 1-Club instead of 1-Diamond and the progress was either as in the No. 1 or No. 2 sequence above.

One pair which bid as in the first sequence lost the tournament because of it. North could not venture the strong 2-Spades "reverse" bid over the No Trump. In the 1-No Trump contract the best South could do was get three tricks in spades, one each in hearts and diamonds and two in clubs to make his contract right on the head. That gave him 40 for tricks plus the 50 point bonus allowed in match-point play for making a less-than-game contract, or a total of 90.

Those who played with spades as trump made two in every instance, losing one in trumps, plus two each in the red suits. That gave them 60 for tricks plus 50 for contract, or 110. So these people tied for tops, whereas the No Trumpers tied for bottom.

You will notice that unwillingness to open with a four-card major does not hurt so much if the partner will respond with one, as in No. 2. But when both shy away, it is bad.

Bank Manager, Driver Found 50 Feet From Overturned Car

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., July 2 (CP)—Provincial police investigating the murders of a Trois Pistoles bank manager and a taxi-driver were reported today on the trail of the killer and expected to make an arrest shortly.

The shooting of 53-year-old Louis Philippe Breton, manager of Trois Pistoles branch of La Banque Canadienne Nationale, and 40-year-old Wilfrid Dumais, occurred last night on a lonely back road between Trois Pistoles and St. Modeste 10 miles of Riviere Du Loup on the south shore of the St. Lawrence river.

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., July 2—(CP)—Maurice Lebel, 35-year-old backwoods trucker, today was detained by police as a material witness in the Dominion Day shotgun-slaying of two men near St. Modeste.

No motive for the shooting, reported to have been carried out with a small calibre firearm, was known immediately. The victims were thought to have been shot from the back of Dumais' car a few miles inland a short distance ter 8 p.m., while they travelled a from St. Modeste village.

Their bodies were found about 50 feet from the overturned car, one in front of the car and the other behind it. They were brought to a morgue here for an inquest this afternoon.

Third Man There

Trois Pistoles coroner, Dr. Marcel Catellier, a cousin of the bank manager, said he was with Breton shortly before he left yesterday for his business trip to Riviere Du Loup, about 30 miles away.

Dr. Catellier said Breton, father of six children, was sitting in the front seat of Dumais' taxi with the driver and a third individual he did not know but believed to be a man from one of the back range parishes near Trois Pistoles.

Work Begins On New Chemong Bridge

Work has finally commenced on the controversial Chemong bridge which is being erected to replace the present wooden, floating bridge. The floating bridge has been described as beyond repair.

According to a Department of Highways estimate, total cost of the new structure should be $233,000. This will be paid for by a grant of 80 per cent from the Ontario government. The city of Peterborough has contributed a sum of $10,000, and the balance will be made up by the county and the township of Ennismore. The county will give eight-elevenths of this sum and Ennismore three-elevenths.

The uncertain factor is whether the estimate of $233,000 is sufficient to cover construction of the long-discussed bridge. Cost of the fill, the major expense item, has been set at $216,500. Laying the top surface, a stabilizing surface and mulch, inspection and surveys, and posts and guide rails have all been budgeted for and included in the final figure.

The Thompson Construction Co. has been awarded the contract for the fill and it began preliminary work, Wednesday morning. Before doing so it had presented a bid cheque for $32,475 and a performance bond of $108,250 (50 per cent of the estimated cost of filling operations).

Get More Trucks

At present the company has five dump trucks bringing the broken limestone from the property of David Gifford, half a mile away from the Ennismore approach to the bridge. It was stated that as many more trucks would soon be brought in to speed up dumping. A steam shovel is kept busy digging the limestone out of the hill and a bulldozer is levelling off the loads.

Only a limited amount of stone can be removed in this manner; blasting will be necessary to break loose most of it.

Filling in has started at two separate points: to the west of the wooden bridge in the lake itself and further back on the land—a spur that will cross the heavy

Believe Spencer Hit By a Cramp In Midnight Swim

Two young men, both 26, one from Peterborough and the other from Toronto were drowned early this morning, the first at Lindsay and the other at Bobcaygeon.

Tommy Spencer, 26, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Garret Spencer, 610 Armour Road, Peterborough drowned while taking a midnight swim at the lock in Lindsay and his body was found at 10.45 this morning. At Bobcaygeon, Rodney McDonald, 26, 9 Harrison Crescent, Toronto toppled into the water off the pier in the village while fishing and didn't come to the surface. His body was recovered five minutes later by his brother-in-law Reuben Thomas of Weston, but resuscitation efforts failed to revive him.

Spencer, who had a splendid record with the Royal Canadian Navy during the war in which he served five years had been taking a rehabilitation course at Kingston. Anxious to make some extra money he obtained employment with Arthur Moffat, Peterborough, selling Kinsmen car tickets on commission. Thursday he worked at Lindsay where Old Home Week celebrations are underway. He had intended to return to Peterborough with Mr. Moffatt and the latter's son-in-law Foster Ronco, but met several of his war-time buddies and they decided to attend the official opening of the new Legion Hall. The friends were to give him a ride back to the city.

Finds Clothes

At 6.30 this morning, rookie constable Gordon McCartney, a Peterborough man now on the Lindsay police force discovered Spencer's clothes, with tickets, stubs, and a sum of money in the pockets. A search was started at once, and shortly after 10 o'clock this morning the body was recovered.

Police had not been able to find any of Spencer's companions up to press time today to obtain details of his movements. He was a good swimmer, and it is believed he took a cramp and was unable to reach the ladder leading up the lock wall.

Arthur Moffat was unaware of the tragedy until he reached Lindsay this morning and made enquiries for Spencer.

Second Drowning

The tragedy at Bobcaygeon was sudden and no person knows exactly what caused McDonald to

Denies Berlin Mayor Ordered Obey Russians

BERLIN, July 2.—(Reuters).—Berlin Communist leader Herman Mattern tonight said he had "made a mistake" when he said the Russians had instructed the capital's acting mayor, Frau Louise Schroeder, to accept their orders alone.

He made his admission to newspaper reporters who sought him out on finding that no such Soviet order had been delivered to Frau Schroeder.

Earlier, William Draper, undersecretary for the United States Army, said the United States must take steps to end the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Draper told a press conference it would "certainly be very difficult even to keep Berlin's industry going if the blockade continues."

The Western Powers set up a "shadow Kommandatura" to run their sectors of the capital.

Some officials said the air lift was beating the Soviet food blockade.

They said that by July 15 the service will have bolstered the western sectors' food stocks enough to assure a supply until Sept. 1.

By that time, enough airborne food to last a month will be piled up in Berlin. Added to the stocks already on hand at the time of the Russian blockade, the officials said, these will give the western sectors a six-weeks' supply.

Drop Coal Supplies

Plans now are on foot for the British and American planes to fly in coal supplies as well as food. The coal will be dropped on a number of areas in the city, including the vast stadium built for the 1936 Olympic Games.

The American deputy commander of Berlin said Thursday that the United States would not consider the Russian action in quitting the Kommandatura official until Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, was so informed by Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Soviet military governor.

Tear Gas Used By Guards To Quell Riot By Prisoners At Burwash

Protest Over Quality Of Food Being Served Spark Setting Off Outbreak; Window Glass, Furniture Badly Smashed

SUDBURY, July 2—(CP).—Tear gas was used by guards to quell a riot in Burwash Industrial Farm last Monday night, it was revealed today. Hundreds of panes of window glass were broken in the dormitory and several tables were smashed. The riot was reported to have centred in Camp 2, largest camp which serves as headquarters for the farm. About 225 prisoners were involved but there was no trouble at the jail farm's other two camps.

It is understood that the spark for the outbreak was set off over a protest about the quality of food being served.

The same jail farm was the scene of a major riot last fall when prisoners objected to their meals and general living conditions. An investigation was made by a board appointed by the Department of Reform Institutions.

It was reported that last Monday's riot broke out when a guard slapped a piece of butter forcefully on a slice of pie and it splashed over the arm of a prisoner. After remonstrating with the guard, the prisoner threw his pie on the floor and was removed from the dining hall.

Lasts Three Hours

Guards were reinforced and the prisoners were ordered to return to their cell brock. When police surrounded the dormitories carrying rifles and tear gas, occupants kicked out windows and pounded steel grills with heavy 12-foot tables.

The demonstration lasted almost three hours and tear gas was thrown in "B," "C," and "D" dormitories.

In Toronto, George H. Dunbar, Ontario Minister of Reform Institutions, said: "There was lots of noise but no action was taken by prisoners. It's all over now."

Mr. Dunbar said some prisoners next day locked themselves in their dormitories and did not come down for breakfast. He said the demonstration began when "a hot head" threw down his meal to the floor and then friends of the prisoner started "a rumbling" in the dining room.

The men demanded that the

Yugoslavs Ask Stalin Clear Tito Of Charges

BELGRADE, July 2. (AP) — Yugoslavia's Communists appealed directly to Prime Minister Stalin today to erase what they called the Cominform's "false accusations" against Premier Marshal Tito and his lieutenants.

About 15,000 party members sent the Soviet leader a telegram asking him to "do everything in your power" to bring out the "truth" in answer to the charges of the nine-country Communist international information bureau.

Chanting "Moscow-Belgrade" and "Tito-Stalin" they heard speakers profess loyalty to Yugoslavia's leader and hope for durable friendship with Russia.

The mass meeting sent a second telegram to the central committee of the Yugoslav Communist party expressing faith in both Tito and the committee.

Both were named in the Cominform resolution. It accused them of "errors" of nationalism, "grandoise ambitions" and betrayal of the principles of Marxism. It said they had been anti-Russian.

The committee later denounced the accusations as lies and slander.

The Cominform bulletin was published in Bucharest Thursday night, thus indicating that the headquarters of the agency have

Russia Refuses To Return Lend-Lease Ships To US

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP).—The United States demanded in January, it was disclosed today, that Russia return immediately 28 naval frigates and three ice-breakers "lend-leased" to the Soviet during the war. The ships still have not been returned. The fact that the United States had asked return of the vessels came out incidentally during State Secretary Marshall's press conference. He said the request was made during discussions with the Russian Ambassador on a final lend-lease settlement.

The American Government has been trying for the last 14 months to reach an agreement with the Soviets winding up the $11,296,000,000 lend-lease account.

Other officials said later the State Department had demanded the return of the 31 vessels in January. Thus far, they said, Russia has "stalled" about turning them back.

Marshall said today the state department is consulting congressional leaders and conferring with Britain and France on dealing with the Russian blockade of Berlin.

At a press conference, Marshall said United States policy is being determined in consultation with Chairman Arthur Vandenberg (Rep. Mich.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and Charles Eaton (Rep. N.J. of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Marshall said the United States government has been closely engaged in considering the various developments in Berlin and particularly engaged in discussions with the government of the United Kingdom and France.

Recapture Two Escaped Men

HAILEYBURY — Two of the prisoners who escaped from the Timiskaming district jail last night, were recaptured today. Details were not immediately available.

HAILEYBURY, July 2.—(CP).—Four prisoners escaped from the Timiskaming district jail Thursday after sawing through bars of an upper window and scaling a wall.

They were identified as Andrew Peacock and Charles Daley, awaiting transfer to Kingston penitentiary to serve two year terms for theft, and William G. Lewis and Peter Vahey, held on lesser charges.

Police said the men overpowered two guards on duty in a cell block. They trussed one with blankets and gagged him, then locked the other guard in a cell. One of the men fled in an automobile, the others on foot.

Thirty provincial police constables have been detailed to search for the missing felons, Police Inspector S. Oliver said.

"Our men have been working all night and will continue through today," he said. "We believe that the fugitives are hiding in the bush and will stay hidden until they believe the alarm has died down."

The police are covering the district from the north of Kirkland Lake to the Cobalt region. Thousands of acres of dense bushland and lake areas are being fine-combed.

Volunteer posses from Haileybury and all surrounding districts have joined police.

Bob Falkenburg Wins Wimbledon Singles

LONDON, July 2—(CP).—Bob Falkenburg, 22-year-old American from Hollywood, Calif., won the Wimbledon men's singles tennis championship today, defeating Australia's John Bromwich, 7-5, 0-6, 6-2, 3-6, 7-5.

The lanky Falkenburg, ranked third in the United States in 1947, thus succeeded to the coveted title held by another Californian, Jack Kramer, until he turned pro in December.

Bromwich twice came from behind to square the match, winning the second set at love after Falkenburg banked out a 7-5 opening margin.

Falkenburg again took the lead with a 6-2 victory in the third set but the ambidextrous Australian copped the fourth by a 6-3 score. This left it up to the fifth set of the gruelling match played on the famed centre court. The young Californian had what was needed for a 7-5 margin.

Four People Beaten By Unknown Attacker

TULSA, Okla., July 2.—(AP).—Mrs. Ruth Norton, 42, was found cruelly beaten to death in her apartment today only a few hours after another woman and two teen-aged girls living in the same neighborhood were discovered savagely bludgeoned in a similar attack.

Mrs. Norton's body was found lying on the bed of her bedroom, nude from the waist down. The head had been beaten with a heavy, sharp instrument that inflicted deep gashes.

Police termed the murder one of the most brutal the city has ever had.

Earlier Mrs. J. B. Cole, 32, her daughter Doris, 13, and a neighbor girl, Levon Gabbard, 14 who was spending the night with the Coles, were found savagely beaten in their apartment. Police said the assailant left the names of two teen-aged boys in indelible ink on the legs of the girls.

U.S. Army In Korea Finds Uprising Plan

SEOUL, Korea, July 2—(CP).—The United States Army yesterday released a translation of a confiscated document purporting to detail plan for a Communist uprising in United States-occupied South Korea early in July.

The document said:

"Fighting will be started early in July by which time all Russian troops will be withdrawn from North Korea. The people's army (North Korean Communist Army) will then march down to South Korea and unite with the South Korea Labor Party (Communist Party). Weapons will be brought in."

The document added that guerrilla groups would continue fighting until a unified government was realized.

Biggest Surplus

WASHINGTON, July 2.—(AP).—Treasury Secretary Snyder said today the United States government's "true" budget surplus for the fiscal year 1948 was $8,419,469,843.81, by far the biggest in history.

Snyder said the figure represents "the actual excess of receipts over expenditures in the fiscal year," which ended June 3.

Three Perish In Fiery Crash

CHAPLEAU, Ont., July 2 (CP)—A few hours after she won a prize in a Dominion Day beauty contest, a 19-year-old girl and two companions died in the flaming wreckage of their light aircraft as it crashed into the muskeg near this town, 150 miles northwest of Sudbury.

Dead are:

John Oltean, Welland, pilot of the plane.

Lillian McCorkill, Chapleau.

Mrs. Lyla Chambers, Chapleau, a bride of 11 months.

Shortly after Miss McCorkill placed third in a summer queen contest held in conjunction with Chapleau's annual Dominion Day pageant, the two women asked Oltean to take them for a flight.

The plane, a pontoon-equipped Fairchild Huskie owned by Nickel Belt Airways, took off, but apparently developed engine trouble and crashed into the shore of Mulligan Bay, two miles east of here. Darkness prevented recovery of the bodies from the rough terrain.

Provincial Police are investigating the cause of the crash. Oltean's widow and four-year-old daughter live in Welland.

Oltean, a well-known Niagara district hockey player, went north early in May to fly as bush pilot for the Department of Lands and Forests and was engaged for a time fighting fires in the Sudbury district. Mrs. Chambers' parents left Toronto today for Chapleau.

Find 6 Children Shot Father Under Arrest

SYDNEY, Australia, July — (AP). — Six children of an Australian family were found shot dead in bed today. Their father was charged with murder.

Police found their bodies lying in a double bed in a three-room shack where they lived at Glen Innes in northern New South Wales.

The children's ages ranged from two to 13. Their father, Charles Hall, 65, a laborer, is in hospital under police guard. Their mother is in a maternity hospital, where she gave birth to a still-born child last week. She has not been informed of the tragedy.

Nickel Company Reaches Argeement With US Dept.

TORONTO — International Nickel Co. of Canada, Ltd., announced today that anti-trust proceedings against it and its American subsidiary, International Nickel Co., Ltd., have been ended by agreement with the United States Department of Justice.

The announcement said the proceedings were terminated by entry of a final judgment in the district court for the southern district of New York "without any finding that the companies have violated any law."

The "consent judgment" disposes of an action started May 16, separation of the business of International Nickel and its American subsidiary.

The judgment provide that any special forms of nickel rolling material which International Nickel may be supplying to its own rolling mill at Huntington, W. Va., for the production of non-ferrous high-nickel rolling mill products, are to be supplied also to other United States rolling mills which may desire to make these particular products.

Prices are to be as favorable as the company's general prices for nickel sold to the ferrous and other large nickel-consuming fields in the United States.

The announcement adds:

"If International Nickel should have occasion to sell nickel rolling material to other foreign producers of such material or of rolling mill products, it will not be a condition of the sale that such producers not import their own production into the United States.

"The judgment recognizes the position of International Nickel as a Canadian company. It expressly provides that the company is not required to refrain from doing anything outside the United States which is called for under the laws of Canada or of other countries.

Belleville Man Hurt In Crash

HAVELOCK, July 2 (Special). —Only district highway accident reported for the Thursday holiday resulted in more than $400 damage and one broken leg. Cars of Melbourne Barriage of Belleville and Grange Elliott, RR 11, Peterborough, were in collision about two miles west of Hayelock on No. 7 Highway about 4 p.m.

Barriage was thrown from his car as it struck the rear of the Elliott car. He skidded on the pavement while the car crashed into the ditch. Lawrence Peets, Belleville, a passenger with him received the only serious injury, a broken leg. Three other Belleville men in the car, Edward Smith, Jacques Muir and Lawrie Flagrer, were uninjured.

Hugh Richmond, in the Elliott car, was uninjured.

Damage to the Barriage car is estimated at $400, about $25 to the other.

Havelock Police Chief A. Rogers and Provincial Constable Keith O'Shaughnessy investigated.

Rail Mediation Board Continues Sittings

MONTREAL, July 2 — (CP). — A mediation board set up to avert a paralyzing nation-wide rail strike continued its sittings today with representatives of the railways and 18 international brotherhoods but a spokesman for the board said there would be no comment while the hearings into the wage dispute lasted.

The board, headed by Mr. Justice J. C. A. Cameron of the Exchequer Court of Canada, has met during the last three days with representatives of the railways and of a negotiating committee representing the 122,000-member brotherhoods.

Arabs Reject Peace Plan As Bernadotte Plans Parley In Cairo

Suggests Arab Palestine Should Be Joined To Trans-Jordan Area; Also Accept Israel As Jewish State

CAIRO, July 2—(AP).—Count Folke Bernadotte is expected in Cairo tomorrow to try to salvage his Palestine peace plans in the face of threatened Arab rejection. An Arab League informant said this last night after Arab leaders refused to send representatives to Count Bernadotte's Rhodes headquarters. They asked the United Nations Palestine mediator to come here if he wished to talk with them.

Count Bernadotte arrived in Jerusalem last night to straighten out truce problems, including food allotments for the city's 100,000 Jews.

Archbishop Guytavo Testa, Vatican envoy, is in Jerusalem inspecting religious buildings to determine the damage caused by the recent siege.

A high Arab League source said the league will turn down Count Bernadotte's proposals for a permanent Palestine peace.

The Nationalist newspaper Al Misri said here Count Bernadotte had proposed that Arab Palestine be joined to Trans-Jordan and that the Arabs accept Israel as a Jewish state.

Al Misri said the plan would revise the U.N. partition scheme and give the Negeb desert in the south to the Arabs.

Both sides have the right to give counter-proposals.

Main Points

Count Bernadotte's plan has not been released officially, but Al Misri listed the following as the main points:

1. The area of Palestine shall be restored to what it was before the Trans-Jordan was separated from it.

2. The total area shall be partitioned into independent Arab and Jewish states.

3. The Jewish state shall include areas provided for in the partition plan, except the Negeb southern desert, to be included in the Arab state, the Arab-assigned territory in the Sea of Galilee region, to be joined to the Jewish state.

4. The Arab state shall include Arab areas in Palestine and Trans-Jordan.

5. Special arrangements shall be made under U.N. supervision regarding the status of Jerusalem and free access to holy places.

6. A central council shall be formed by representatives of the two states. Differences between the two states shall be submitted to the Council.

7. Co-ordination of defence, foreign and economic affairs shall be made by the central council.

8. Disputes between the two states not solved by the central council shall be referred to the U.N. trusteeship council.

9. The Jewish state shall have the right to admit immigrants into its territory but in numbers not exceeding the capacity of the land.

Jolliffe Lashes Fire Handling

BELLEVILLE, July 2. (CP)—A charge that the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests was "utterly inadequate" to cope with the forest fires was made Wednesday night by Ontario C.C.F. Leader E. B. Jolliffe.

"In years when the fire hazard is comparatively low or just average, the department makes a fair job of fire suppression, but when a bad year comes they just haven't got what it takes," said Mr. Jolliffe in a speech prepared for delivery at a C.C.F. garden party here.

"Urgently necessary steps" he suggested were an intensified education campaign, road patrols in forest areas to interview all travellers about dangers of starting fire, "more courageous" action by the government in closing roads in fire hazard areas and more secondary roads through Northern Ontario to enable fast transportation of men and fire-fighting equipment.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Keep Home Fires From Burning!

Today, home builders are fire conscious! They 'build in" protection by choosing fire-proof materials. One of the most popular is a Johns-Manville asbestos siding shingle known as "Cedargrain".

Made of two imperishable materials — asbestos and cement—Cedargrains are absolutely fireproof — even the white heat of a blowtorch won't burn them. In fact, in over 35 years not one J-M asbestos shingle has ever burned—not one has worn out. What's more, Cedargrains are rotproof, and weatherproof — they need no periodic painting to preserve them.

Johns-Manville Cedargrain Asbestos Siding Shingles are strikingly attractive, too — have all the beauty of fine weathered wood. Ask your nearest J-M dealer for free illustrated folder, Peterborough Lumber Co. Ltd., Phone 4655.

TORONTO, July 2 (CP)—Police Thursday arrested four men on vagrancy charges after the captain of the Canada Steamship Lines excursion vessel Cayuga reported that the wheelhouse window was shattered by a missile as the ship passed through the eastern gap at the entrance to Toronto harbor.

The men gave their names as John Roberts, Owen Sound, and George McMahon, 23, John Sholea, 19, and William Anderson, 22, all of Toronto.

Police said they made the arrests after a chase during which they found two slingshots and two mesh bags of marbles hidden in shrubbery.

Traffic has not been halted on the wooden bridge and there is little likelihood that it will, at least for some time.

The work budgeted for in the $233,000 estimate is not the completed project. Construction of the swing section of the new bridge will be financed by the Dominion Government through the Department of Transport.

This marks the beginning of the end for the famed floating bridge which was unique in its design. Engineers said it was deteriorating so rapidly that it would soon be unsafe for travel, and the value of temporary repairs was dubious.

Russia Threatens To Veto Ceylon's UN Application

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, July 2—(CP). — Russia threatened Monday to veto Ceylon's application for membership in the United Nations. A Russian suggestion made during a meeting of the Security Council Membership Committee, that the small Commonwealth country is not independent, was immediately challenged by Canadian representative George Ignatieff.

Ignatieff, principal advisor to Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, who heads the Canadian delegation, said the Ceylon Independence Act, by which the former Crown colony became a full member of the British Commonwealth last Feb. 4, was evidence of its soveignty.

After a bitter wrangle, the committee voted 7 to 2, wtih Canada and Britain abstaining, to defeat a Russian proposal to reopen discussion of the application.

Russian representative Nikolai Molliakov, supported by the Soviet Ukraine, said Russia would be compelled to object to the admission of Ceylon to the United Nations.

29th Veto

A veto of the application would mark Russia's 29th use of the power which allows the Big Five to throw questions out of the Security Council.

Russia has vetoed membership applications of Finland, Ireland, Italy, Portugal and Trans-Jordan.

Andrei Galagan of the Ukraine, committee president this month, said he called today's meeting when informed that the Russian delegation had received instructions from its government and was ready to speak.

Several members protested that the committee had made its decision and the matter could not be re-opened.

Faith In Stalin

In the message to Stalin, the meeting expressed a "deep belief" in Russia's leader and the belief he will "take off these false accusations that were slung at the whole country, party and central committee.

"Our love towards you and the whole Soviet Union and everything you did for humanity is unlimited, as well as our belief that you will do everything in your power that the truth will be brought out in a very short time.

"Long live your teacher of love towards the Soviet Union, Comrade Tito, and long live our big friend, Stalin."

(In Moscow, Tass and Pravda carried a resolution of the central committee of the Soviet Union's Communist party approving the Cominform action. Stalin is both a member and secretary of the committee. The committee's approval was unanimous.)

Greeks With Cominform

Belgrade dispatches to Rome newspapers said yesterday the Greek guerilla radio of Markos Vafiades had sided with the Cominform. They said it broadcast a charge that the Yugoslav Communist party was trying to "upset Balkan equilibrium" by proposing a Balkan bloc.

United Nations commissions have accused Yugoslavia of helping the guerilla fight against the Greek government.

The Hungarian, Austria and British Communist parties, like Russia's endorsed the Cominform attack. All three said they hoped the Yugoslav Communists would correct the errors alleged.

But a Yugoslav army division and the Communis' central committee of Slovenia, a Yugoslav state, voiced faith in Tito. A Belgrade broadcast picked up in London protested "organized insults" to Tito in Albania.

The Belgrade newspaper Borba accused Bulgarian Communists of "unprincipled methods" in approving the Cominform's action.

The coroner said Breton made similar trips around the country frequently in connection with his business.

This one, he understood, was at the request of the unidentified travelling companion who had telephoned Breton earlier Thursday and arranged to meet him.

The bank manager, the taxi driver and their mysterious companion were reported to have left Trois Pistoles about 7 p.m.

It was not clear if they were on their way to Riviere Du Loup at the time of the shooting or had done their business in that neighboring town of 9,000 and were on their way back home.

Police said the double murder was committed on a lonely 10-mile stretch of dirt road between the villages of St. Ephiphane and St. Modeste.

Chalk River Employees Win 10-Cent Increase

TORONTO, July 2.—A wage grievance that has festered for seven months among the 600 organized workers at Canada's Chalk River atomic energy plant has been brought to an end with a government promise of a general wage increase of 10 cents an hour, dated back to May 1.

The story of union organizing at the atomic energy plant has been hidden behind the curtain of secrecy and the hush, hush atmosphere that covers the Chalk River project.

But the story of how the AFL built up a strong union organization at atomic energy plant and has fought for seven months to raise the wages rates of the organized workers at the project, has now come to light.

End of the wage dispute came this week after two AFL representatives, A. A. McArthur of the Teamsters Union, and Russell Harvey, AFL general organizer, met in Ottawa with Labor Minister Mitchell and Deputy Minister Arthur MacNamara.

Organized workers at the Chalk River plant are in an unusual situation. Although they are members of unions, they are beyond the scope of collective bargaining processes, since they are government employees.

In addition to the 10-cent-an-hour promise, the government has also indicated it will carry out a job-evaluation survey and introduce merit increases.

Present Cheque For $65,000 From Canadians

CANTERBURY, July 2. (CP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, seated in the ancient chair of St. Augustine in Canterbury Cathedral, opened the Eighth Lambeth Conference of Anglican Churchmen Thursday.

The 330 bishops, among them 23 from Canada, heard the archbishop call for "all Christian people to work for unity and fellowship" in God.

The Primate of All Canada, Most Rev. George Frederick Kingston, presented a cheque for $65,000 from the people of Canada for the Canterbury Appeal Fund. Canada expects to raise $100,000 before the campaign is over.

Lambeth conferences—so named after Lambeth Palace, London home of the Archbishop of Canterbury—were held each 10 years between 1870 and 1930 to consider whether church doctrine needed modifications in the light of world affairs and trends. The war prevented a meeting in 1940.

Dr. Fisher attacked unnamed beliefs which ignore God and "poison the wells of truth and justice."

"To that tradition of Christian experience which, by the circumstances of history, has come to bear the name of anglican, we are united in a common loyalty and devotion," he said.

Rodney McDonald, the drowning victim with two brothers-in-law Lloyd Thomas, Thistletown, and Reuben Thomas, Weston had arrived at Bobcaygeon for some early-morning fishing. The three men mixed with the crowd along the piers, locks and dam. About 5.30, one angler heard a splash, but thought it was a jumping fish. A few seconds later he noticed the man who had been nearest him on the pier had disappeared. Running to the spot he saw McDonald sinking, and shouted for help. Reuben Thomas, dived into the water, and had the body in less than five minutes. Artificial respiration was started at once. Dr. W. D. Weak Cattle Market Toronto Reports

TORONTO, July 2.—(CP).—A weak livestock market this week saw only 1,450 head of cattle received as compared to 2,200 for the same week last year—and that was about all it could handle. Consumer buying resistence left large stock of unsold beef. Early in the week the market was slow at steady prices at last week's decline, but Wednesday interest perked up slightly and there was an increased demand for choice to good butcher cattle, although few were offered.

Included in the run were about 800 western stockers which, along with a similar number from Ontario sold at steady prices ranging from a low of $10 to a top of $18. The cattle carried over for next week's trading will number about 600, all of which are stockers.

Weighty steers brought from $18-$21.50; butcher steers from $17-$21. Heifers ranged from $15-$20. Good cows sold from $13-$14.50 with a few light heifer cows up to $15.50. Canners and cutters sold downward to $6.50. Bulls were $14.75 and down. Fed yearlings sold from $19-$21 with a few at at an extreme top of $22. Ordinary quality milkers and springers were $100 to $160 each. A few grain cows sold from $9-$13.

Calves totalled 1,600 head. Choice yealers opened steady at $21.50-$23.50 but by mid-week only a few outstanding ones sold at $23.50 with the high for the bulk at $23.50. Common to medium sold downward to $12 on a slow market.

Hogs totalled 2,500 head. Grade A sold strong at $31.75 with B1 at $31.35. Sows, dressed were $23.

Sheep and lambs were 1,250 head. Good spring lambs dropped $2 for the week, selling at $23. Good light sheep sold at $9 a hundredweight with a few at $10. Fairly heavy sheep were slow and hard to sell at $6-$7.

Cancel Field Day

Farm officials said today normal routine has been resumed but a field day, scheduled for Thursday, has been cancelled. Eight men were placed in solitary confinement.

Superintendent Ralph Ayers said there had been tension at the farm for the last two weeks.

"I can't understand what is back of it all," he said. "We feel that we may have been treating the inmates better this past winter, and have given them every consideration in their complaints up to now. There was no reason for this outbreak."

Two Escape

Two prisoners who escaped from Burwash industrial farm yesterday were described by jail officials as "trustees." They walked off yesterday during a sports program at the farm.

The men who escaped are: Admiral Killingsworth, 32, of Hamilton and Leonard Irwin Staley, 25, of Toronto. Killingsworth is five feet nine inches tall, weighs 134 pounds, has blue eyes and dark brown hair with scars on his right arm and the bridge of his nose and a tatoo mark on his left arm. He was serving two years for forgery. Staley is five feet two inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has brown eyes and black hair and is dark complexioned. He is tattooed on his chest arms and legs. He was also serving two years.

King Clarifies Intentions At Prorogation

OTTAWA, July 2.—(CP).—Interest in the approaching national Liberal convention engaged the capital today as the prorogued session of Parliament and all its attendant functions faded into the past.

Liberal headquarters has become a hive of activity with just a little more than a month before the three-day convention opens Aug. 5. Preparations are being accelerated for the reception of more than 1,000 party delegates to fashion a new party platform and choose a successor to Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Spicing organization activity s speculation about possible candidates for the leadership.

Mr. King sought to clarify his intentions in a farewell speech before Parliament prorogued Wednesday night.

He told Government and Opposition members that he could declare "without any reservation" that he would be out of both offices by the time Parliament meets again next spring.

In fact he would give the Governor-General his resignation as Prime Minister a few "odd" weeks or a month or two after the convention.

Makes Reservation

But there was a reservation—world "circumstances" (interpretated as the remote possibility of war) might force him to remain in office longer.

Meanwhile there were two candidates who might appear to be definitely in the running for the leadership — External Affairs Minister St. Laurent, 66, and Agriculture Minister Gardiner, 64.

Opposition leaders expressed their regret at Mr. King's departure but a note of discord entered the tributes when Jean Francois Pouliot (Ind L-Temiscouata) said critically that he felt Mr. King could have been closer to the members of his own party instead of being the "big boss."

In the last round of official announcements, Labor Minister Mitchell said the new Federal labor code, passed this session, will be proclaimed as soon as possible.

Finance Minister Abbott said parliament will be asked next session to approve the Geneva trade agreement.

Interesting Proposal

WASHINGTON, July 2—(CP).—The proposal of Defence Minister Claxton of Canada for an international memorial to mark the site of the Ogdensburg declaration in August, 1940, of Canadian-United States defence cooperation was described as "new and interesting" by United States park officials here Wednesday.

Deloro Wins Tourney At Havelock

Close to 500 people streamed to Havelock Memorial Park Thursday afternoon to witness the annual softball tournament between Havelock, Deloro and Norwood. Sponsored by the Havelock-Belmont Legion 309, the tournament was the beginning of the second annual Dominion Day celebrations.

Deloro cleaned up in the tournament, first defeating Norwood by a score of 18 to 1, and then walloping Havelock, 20 to 0, to win first prize of a plaque and $5. Sandwiched between the two men's games was a girls' softball game between Trent River and Havelock, in which the visitors were beaten 17 to 2.

The fish derby was disappointing as only one entry came in. J. Harcroft, Trent River, won the prize for small-mouth bass with a 2½-pounder.

Despite cool weather, almost 700 attended the street dance and carnival in the evening. The committee who helped make the program a success included: J. Hermans, H. Smith, D. McLean, J. Green, D. Green, B. Melville, G. Quackenbush, H. Kennedy, R. Hart, and T. Forsythe.

CHRISTOPHER G. JANUS is shown at the wheel of the 230-horsepower automobile in which Adolf Hitler toured the conquered areas of western Europe during the blitz of 1940. The car arrived from Sweden on the liner Stockholm. Mr. Janus became the owner in a deal involving machinery instead of money. The car was built to Der Fuehrer's own specifications. It weighs 9,500 pounds, thanks to the armor plate that protected Adolf on his outings. It has bullet-proof glass and pistol and machine-gun compartments in all four doors. Mr. Janus plans to take the car on tour and exhibit it for the benefit of starving children of war-ravaged countries.

Sabu Returning To India; Make Own Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 2 (AP).—After a 14-year absence from his homeland, Sabu is returning to India to film his own production.

Sabu, who left India at nine, has big plans for a jungle picture on his own hook. He'll take a location troupe from here and shoot wild animal scenes north of Delhi. "We will adapt the script to the scenes we shoot," he reports.

The actor would like to use "Return of the Elephant Boy" as a title, "although Mrs. Rudyard Kipling owns rights to the name and is asking $200,000 for it."

Love On the Set

Mr. and Mrs. Cornel Wilde are currently emoting in "The Lovers," and we can hope that it won't do serious damage to their marriage. Cornel happily admits his wife's role is better than his, so that's a good sign. She was set for the picture first, then he was added when Columbia couldn't find another film for his final commitment there. It's doubtful if their profession teaming will become a habit. His home studio, 20th-Fox, frowns on it.

Jimmy Stewart has two pictures of Ann Blyth in his "you gotta stay happy" dressing room. He hasn't even met her—just an admirer from afar. I doubt if she'll be the one to make Jimmy settle down to a home life. He thinks she's too young for him.

Random Shots

Everybody wants to get into the act! Now Anne Shirley is writing a Hollywood column. Her husband is Adrian Scott, one of the "unfriendly 10" who appeared before the un-American activities committee . . . "The Drunkard" staggers into its 16th year next week. The local version of P. T. Barnum's ancient drama must hold the all-time theatrical record.

"Easter Parade" (MGM) brings Fred Astair back to the screen with a bang. His great routines are reason enough for the film. The familiar backstage yarn is neither unpleasant nor unpredictable. Judy Garland, Ann Miller, Peter Lawford and Irving Berlin tunes lend support.

Westwood United Honors Minister

WESTWOOD, July 2 — (ENS) —Rev. J. E. Glover preached his farewell sermon at Westwood United Church Sunday morning to a large congregation.

It is the second time in his pastorate he has left this community. Thirty-two years ago, as pastor of the former Methodist Church, he said farewell, and for the past nine years he has ministered to the Hastings-Westwood charge of the United Church.

Mrs. Glover nas also given generously of her time and talents.

At the close of the service, in recognition of their faithfulness, an address was read by Miss Ruth Mortlock, and an occasional chair was presented by the ushers, Ronald Warner and Leslie Sargent.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Glover expressed sincere appreciation.

The New Brunswick Elections

The Liberals in New Brunswick won on Monday an electoral victory which might be termed a sweep, a landslide, an unprecedented torrent. They took 47 of the 52 seats and polled 57 per cent. of the votes. Premier McNair has therefore an absolute majority. In the 1944 elections the Liberals secured 36 seats and 48 per cent. of the votes, the Conservatives 12 seats and 40 per cent. of the votes. Now, with an Assembly enlarged from 48 to 52 seats, the Conservatives took only five seats and 31 per cent. of the votes. The C.C.F. did not win a seat.

* * *

Political forecasters are surveying the various Provincial election returns of this summer in attempts to assess the chances of Liberals, Conservatives and the C.C.F. in the Federal elections anticipated next year. If they depend on the New Brunswick results a Liberal victory seems assured; if on the Ontario a heavy Conservative vote seems certain, if on the Saskatchewan and urban Ontario results, a C.C.F. surge. Provincial elections results are not in this country sure indications of Federal voting trends. In 1945 Premier Drew called an Ontario election a week before the Dominion elections. His Conservatives won 66, the Liberals only 12 of the 90 seats. Did this mean a Conservative sweep of Ontario in the following Dominion elections? Seven days later the Ontario voters elected 82 Federal members: 48 Conservatives were elected and 34 Liberals.

* * *

These observations may be made about Provincial trends. The Conservatives are losing some ground, the Liberals are at least holding their own, and the C.C.F. is gaining support in urban areas and losing it in rural.

Probing High Prices

The Parliamentary Price Committee presented its report on Friday. On Saturday the Commons had a six-hour debate on the cost of living. This debate continued on Monday. The establishment of the Parliamentary Committee, its report and the eleventh hour round of talk in the House serve to show that the people and therefore the politicians are worried about the high cost of living. They also show that nobody can do or is doing much about it.

The reasons for this are not hard to find. The most important single cause of the rise in the Canadian cost of living is the rise of prices all over the world. Nothing short of complete governmental control of the whole national economy can prevent the cost of living in Canada responding to outside influence. Nobody really wants that complete control—and that is the second important reason why little will come of the investigations or recommendations. The companies whose unusual profits have been brought to public light by the investigation do not want it. Housewives do not want it: the outcries when lettuce and tomatoes disappeared from winter tables due to the import bans showed this. Labour does not want it, for labour would reject ceilings on wages and any curtailing of the right to strike.

Each group might like partial control—controls that would control the other fellow but not oneself. Labour might approve ceilings on profits but not on wages. Housewives would approve price ceilings but not limiting of the husband's take-home pay or the rates they could charge boarders. Company officials might approve restrictions against the power of unions but not of their own rights to hire and fire freely. House-renters want ceilings maintained on rents but landlords want them removed so that they can charge higher rents to pay for repainting, higher municipal taxes and good interest on the investment.

The Parliamentary Committee made some half-hearted, half-way recommendations—relaxing the import restrictions on vegetables, revision of rent controls to alleviate the suffering of landlords, reimposition of some price controls, more stringent laws against profiteering, removal of the 25 per cent. excise tax from "commodities in common use", consideration given to imposing special taxes on excess profits, continuation of the existence of the Committee. Whether or not the Government acts on these recommendations, this is certain: high prices are here to stay unless numerous all-embracing subsidies are made (for which the consumers eventually pay) or unless the Government undertakes to control business and industry from stem to gudgeon. Or unless there is a Depression, like the one of unhappy, unhallowed memory.

The End Of Prohibition

A legislative error usually takes longer to rectify than to commit. This has been so with legislation prohibiting the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages in the United States and Canada. On June 28th Prince Edward Island became the last Canadian province to divest itself of irrational and by now farcical "prohibition". It has taken a long time to rid the Canadian nation of this undemocratic legislative folly. However good the motives were, the method and results were not. We hope that Canadian parliaments and people have learned the lessons which twenty to forty years of 'Prohibition' have painfully made apparent.

Prohibition in P.E.I. had become a statutory delusion. It was on the books, but tens of thousands of bottles of liquor were legally sold each year and tens of thousands of dollars of revenue obtained by the Province. The law stated that liquor could be secured on physicians' prescriptions "for medical purposes and not as a beverage". Physicians became in reality liquor agents. In 1945 an amendment to the Prohibition Act permitted one prescription to cover six months' requirements (for medicinal purposes, of course). As a result of Monday's plebiscite, doctors will no longer have to prostitute their profession. The people will be able to buy a bottle of spirits or a case of beer a week on a government permit. The new law is redundantly grandfatherly. A permit may be revoked if a Justice of the Peace finds that the owner is harming his health or financial welfare by drink.

Summer Schools In Peterborough

Some weeks ago in these columns we remarked that Peterborough was conveniently and agreeably situated for special schools like summer schools of art or branches of university departments. Moreover, the civic life would benefit from the presence of staff and students. A city of Peterborough's present development and potentialities needs more than industrial and educational factories if it is to have an enriched future. In his letter published last week the Honourable G. N. Gordon put forward a useful suggestion that we should have summer schools here.

There will be one this summer, a very small one, when fewer than two dozen young teachers will study matriculation subjects at the Collegiate. Why could we not have at our Normal School summer courses like those to be given in the Normal Schools of Toronto and North Bay? Has the Minister of Education an aversion from Peterborough? The Normal School is sufficiently commodious, its grounds are very pleasant in summer and there are rooming houses available—especially those which cater in the winter to Normal School pupils.

The Provincial University gives numerous summer courses. Surely Peterborough would be a central and fresh place for some of the courses which do not require special laboratories and large technical libraries? Students and professors would probably hail with delight the opportunity to migrate from hot, dispiriting Toronto to this district. Local alumni of the University of Toronto would well serve both their Alma Mater and their own city by urging that some U. of T. summer courses be held in Peterborough.

We wonder, too, why our art enthusiasts do not inveigle two or three painters to come to this district and set up a Summer School of Art, like the one at Doon (near Kitchener) or the one G. A. Reid used to operate at Port Hope. Lakefield is well endowed for such a school, and perhaps The Grove School might make some of its facilities available.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A New York woman is suing for $165,000 because a surgeon failed in a face-lifting operation. If it's as bad as that she deserves some compensation.

Signs are now posted at the principal intersections which read "Pedestrians Cross With Green Light". Is the message mandatory ('pedestrians must cross', etc.), hortative ('pedestrians should cross') or merely hopefully assertive ('pedestrians do cross with green light')? Whatever it is and no matter what laws are lacking to enforce it, it is a good, safe idea.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions intended for our new "Notes and Queries" column, which will appear regularly on Fridays, should be addressed to "Alpha, Notes and Queries" in care of this newspaper. Questions or information relating to local history will be particularly appreciated.

SIR: Why is George Street called George Street?

ANSWER: George Street is called George Street because Peterborough is a loyal and patriotic place. It is named after a king, of course, one of the six George's. It cannot be George III, because he died (mad) in 1820. It cannot be George V because he did not come to the throne until 1910, long after George Street became George Street. Ergo, it must be George IV, who followed George III and died in 1830, three years after Peterborough became Peterborough. It is remarkable how many Ontario towns have George Streets, and most, presumably, named after the same loose-living, gay, profligate eldest son of the mad George. George IV would be considered a wicked man in the Ontario towns which have streets named after him. Perhaps it is fitting to have him commemorated in street names and Queen Victoria in lumps of marble. George IV was unfaithful to his wife Caroline, and moreover treated her badly. When he was crowned in 1821, Queen Caroline was not invited. She tried to force her way into Westminster Abbey but was booted out. Perhaps as a result of this she died the next year.

SIR: Why has the price of beer gone up?

ANSWER: You have caught me without a mug of suds in my hand. I am querying the Liquor Control Board and the Association of Brewers, and hope that next week I may be able to answer your question.

DEAR ALPHA: When my husband came from overseas he was using a lot of funny foreign words that I don't understand like "prego" and "merde". He must have learned them in Italy or France or somewhere. I don't mind, but he uses them around the house and at me. Do you think that is proper?

ANSWER: Dear Questioner—not knowing you, I would not dare to say whether it is proper or not. It is not generally considered polite to air a vocabulary which one's hearers might find incomprehensible. For instance, some people like to make a parade of big words, like the man who said "Weeds disseminate themselves most luxuriantly". The answer to that is "Yes, they spread like the dickens". Some people have a propensity, I might almost say penchant, for embellishing their phraseology with "purple patches"—or as Horace has said: "Inceptis gravibus plerumque et magna professis purpureus late qui splendeat, unus et alter adsuitur". I run the risk of offending against your classical education by translating, but really it is for the sake of other readers whose Latin may have become a bit rusty—'Often to weighty enterprises and such as profess great objects, one or two purple patches are sewn on to make a fine display in the distance'. I doubt that your husband's ejaculations fall into this category. Why not try answering him back one day with a delicate word like "canaille"?

SIR: Which is correct — "The crowd was angry", or "The crowd were angry"?

ANSWER: Neither or both. We should not think of speech as being correct or incorrect. It is either good usage or bad usage, better usage or poorer usage. Rules of grammar do not make speech; in English at least, the speech makes the grammar. Speech comes first, grammarians analyse it and then try to find rules to fit it. Therefore English grammar is based on the best current usage, which varies from century to century. The word "crowd" is singular (the plural is "crowds"). According to strict schoolmasterish grammar the verb after it should be singular—"was". But "crowd" means more than one. If you are thinking of all the people in the crowd, you could properly say, "The crowd were angry". If you are thinking of the crowd as one blob, a unit, then you would probably say "The crowd was angry". The use of a plural verb with a singular collective noun subject is less common in Canada than in England, and hardly ever heard in the U.S.A. The reason for this is that most English people have learned to speak good English from their parents and not from schoolteachers. In Canada and the United States fewer parents spoke good English, or any English. There were not enough cultivated adults around whose speech youngster's could comfortably copy. Schoolmasters came to be recognized as the authorities on language. They patterned their speech on dictionaries and rules. Thus came into being the very odd notion that speech was either correct or incorrect, and the still odder notion that schoolteachers were models to be copied religiously. Not all schoolmasters and mistressses are cultured people, and they themselves admit that they do not operate a cartel of knowledge and wisdom... The main thing is not "was" or "were" the crowd angry but were they really angry. Were they bullish, bearish, or just chewing the fat or their cud?

SIR How many churches are there in Peterborough?

ANSWER: According to my count, 28, but you may find out for sure by this method: Count the church advertisements in Saturday's paper; multiply by three and divide by two. If there is a half left over, that will be the Lutheran Church, which has a congregation, but as yet no building of its own.

❖ ❖ ❖

FOR THE RECORD: Peterborough's first Superintendent of Schools has been appointed, the effective date being July 1, 1948. He is Mr. K. S. Wightman, B.A., B. Paed., who before his appointment was Inspector of Public Schools. He will continue his inspectoral duties. The B. Paed. means "Bachelor of Pedagogy". Pedagogy is the science of teaching. Toronto is the only Canadian university that now grants this degree, and perhaps it is the only one in the world. Other universities give degrees like "Bachelor of Education".

THROUGH THE IRON CURTAIN

Letters To The Editor

DEFEND JOHNNY RUSSELLE

Sir: The local branch of the Canadian Legion should defend Johnny Russelle and several other small service station operators, who did not hesitate to don the khaki, a few years ago while several of the local car dealers were reputedly making a handsome profit in car sales at grossly inflated prices. These so-called big car dealers, with the co-operation of their kindred associates elsewhere have the audacity to engage Mr. Leopold McCauley, a former bosom pal of Franceschini of Dufferin Construction Company fame for the express purpose of dominating and forcing the hand of the Peterborough City Council. Local autonomy would be wiped out by these same gents almost along the same pattern followed in Central Europe, a decade ago and, alas, democracy would be no more. The attitude and active support of Alderman Armstrong was highly commendable; likewise the pessimistic view of the city solicitor and two other ex-service men on the aldermanic board was quite noticeable; apparently they were already under the domination of the big interests much to the detriment of the smaller ratepayers and travelling public.

Another Vet,
ARTHUR G. BELL.

Arndon Ave., Peterborough.

RECOMMENDS TWO-PARTY SYSTEM

Sir: In view of the Canadian Press compilation of the recent Saskatchewan vote, it appears that the editorial regarding the elecpaper, is more of a vindication of previous tion results appearing in the same issue of the opinion than a well thought out study of political action.

While the editorial gives some credit to the Liberal leader, the figures indicate that the Liberal gain in seats was due almost entirely to keen political strategy. These figures show a C.C.F. gain of 6,198 over 1944 figures, while the Liberal gain was only 2,703. Of the additional 62,000 or so votes cast in this election above the 1944 figures, the Social Credit Party was the big gainer with an addition of about 37,000, but so generally distributed as to be ineffective. In view of these figures it seems that all the credit should go to Walter Tucker, and the defection, if it can be called such, from the C.C.F., to the Social Credit Party.

As the editorial states, the Conservative Party seems to be entirely out of the running in Saskatchewan, and in other provinces the two old parties seem to be growing about as like as two peas in a pod in many instances. We have a good example of this similarity in the local contest. Both of the old parties were represented by good men with Harold Scott suitably fitted for the government post which he holds. However, there was no clear cut political issue between the two. All pre-election clamour seemed to be to vote for the one that would best serve sectional self interest.

Of course Mr. Brethen may hold that it was the intense thirst of Liberal Ennismore that swung them behind the Drew Government, but there are some of us naive enough to believe that water had more to do with it, and that some of the good work (politically, at any rate), of the Conservatives recently cited by your Bridgenorth correspondent, consisted of moving equipment into that town to start the Chemong Causeway.

With such similarity becoming increasingly apparent, it seems that those who look forward to an active effort in the advancement of the general social status, to the fullness of life which is the basis of Christian ethics in society, are going to turn to the C.C.F. as the vital agent of advancement. Movements of social advancement usually include what what appears to be radicalism, which tempers out with the development of the advancement, as Prime Minister King could well testify with his "radical" ancestors with prices on their heads.

Society, of Christian character, is based on the freedom of the individual. What people are beginning to realize is that a greater fullness of individual freedom of life is obtained by co-operative action and effort. Man's individual freedom to pick up a gun and a fishing rod and hunt and fish whenever, and wherever he pleases is gone; destroyed by his own selfish abuse of individual rights, and in its place he must derive a greater fullness in his co-operative effort to keep the lakes and forests stocked, and so add to the general pleasure and welfare of the country. All clubs, societies, and associations are expressions of this desire for greater individual freedom through association and effort of groups having certain social ties.

Of course this is not saying that such co-operative effort is not misdirected at times. The recent case of the garage men forms a good example of misapplied co-operation. A group of men in a like trade decide that their general welfare will be benefitted by certain closing hours, which would undoubtedly be true. Yet, recourse to law in order to coerce a minority opinion is only justifiable when such a minority opinion adversely effects the general welfare of society as in the case of the fish and game laws. If the garage men forget about the rugged individualists and go ahead on a schedule which provides adequate service to the public, they will find that the greater fullness of life which they receive will offset the competitive losses to the self centered dissenters. However, garage men and gasoline dealers should not lose sight of the public responsibility of their position. As servers of a means of transportation, they might almost be classed as an adjunct to a public utility, and so face the responsibility of service to the travelling public at all times. For this reason the location of available service should be thoroughly publicized.

The world is scarred with the results of actions of abuse of individual freedom in the guise of selfishness, and the ever increasing restrictive laws are the direct results of this abuse, coupled with a social demand for a greater fullness of life. Parents desire a better fullness of life for their children, and advancing society must mould itself to provide this. It is only logical that they should demand more, yet many an "old timer", looking back with justifiable pride at the really fine accomplishment of his own efforts, can see no reason for group action for better conditions.

Under the present level of political thought and action, it should be a good thing for the country, if the two old parties were to unite with the C.C.F. as the opposition party. This should raise the level above sectional selfishness and provide clear cut issues really deserving of careful thought and discussion. Of course the C.C.F. has much to learn but like any of our every day co-operative social function can be moulded by active participation.

Yours truly,
RALPH G. KILBON.

Bailieboro.

ED. NOTE: We agree with our correspondent that a two-party system is desirable, but suggest that as neither the C.C.F. nor the Progressive-Conservative parties have nation-wide support at present, they are the logical ones to join forces.

Petes Victors By 3 to 2 Against Locos

The Petes tightened their grip on top spot in the COBL Thursday afternoon when they edged out Kingston Locos 3-2 before a big holiday crowd. It was their second win against Locos the same day and dropped the visitors a bit further into the cellar. Doug Loucks hurled five-hit ball but was wild in the fifth to give the losers two markers. Stan McTaggart gave but seven hits in a neat mound showing, too, and it was a 1-1 game on earned runs. While each side kicked a few around, play was snappy all the way and the tilt lasted little better than an hour and a half.

Howie Dalton continued his terrific hitting for the Petes, getting a triple and two singles in four attempts. Edwardson came through with two in four. None of the Locos got more than one safety. A running one-hand catch by Walsh and a fine grab in right by Foley were defensive standouts. Pagett handled seven chances at short smartly without a slip.

THE HERO — Manager Ed. Murphy of the Petes was the hero in yesterday morning's COBL game with Kingston. His pinch-hit single in the ninth tied the game up and he later scored with the winning run.

Kingston Loses To Petes In Ninth Inning

Eddie Murphy's pinch-hit single in the ninth scored the tying run and he later came in with the winner on an error as the Petes pulled out an 8-7 COBL win over Kingston here Thursday morning. It was a loose but exciting game with Bill Edger having a little hurling edge over Jack Stone, who had poor support. The visitors had two big frames and the Petes had to fight an uphill battle the last half with their ninth-inning drive winning out.

Howie Dalton led the home attack with four for four, one a double, Tommy Foley getting two for three and Larry Edwardson two in four tries. Jack Mackness tripled. Al Walsh and Tony Conner topped Kingston at bat with three for five each, Udall, McGregor and Conner hitting doubles. Kingston reeled off no less than four double plays and the Petes had one. A catch by Foley and a pickup by Garvey were fielding features in the snappy struggle.

Kennedy Fans 21 In Girls' Game

Westclox beat Marines 6-1 in a fast girls' softball fray at the Bowl on Wednesday night to take over sole possession of first place. Norma Kennedy (formerly Strickland) threw four-hit ball and fanned 21 in a swell slab showing, walking five batters. Her support was good but they hadn't much to do behind that type of twirling. E. Whittaker also pitched well, but gave 11 hits and a walk as she fanned three, with three errors hurting.

B. Morrow, N. Whetung, V. Mitchell and A. LaPointe went best defensively in this tilt which was run off in little over an hour. The losers reeled off two double-plays. Two hits each were garnered by A. Anderson, N. Kennedy and N. Whetung, the latter having a homer. None of the losers got more than one safety.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Scarboro Grads come to town tonight for a nine p.m. OLA senior "B" fixture with the Petes in Miller Bowl. The fast-stepping Petes expect stiff opposition this time and it should be a dandy scrap. As a matter of fact, Manager Doug Miller—peeved at the poor exhibition Brampton put up here last week—phoned Scarboro to make sure the full team would be present Friday. And he was told they'd added several players and would field a much stronger squad than earlier in the season. And fans will recall how tough they were to take in senior "B" group finals last autumn. Yeah, the Petes will have a battle on their hands this time.

Whitby juniors play the local Kiwanis (formerly called Aces) at two Saturday aft in Riverside, a scheduled game. Our junior team is now known as Kinsmen and they play Cobourg here Saturday at four bells. So, it's a junior Lakeshore Loop double-header, and fans will be surprised at what good ball these boys play. The seniors keep using 'em regularly and will be signing a number of them next season. The intermediates go to Whitby on Monday and then play the Whitby crew here next Wednesday. Two peewee tilts tomorrow, East City vs. Crawford's Grove in the Ex. while west and south play in Riverside in the a.m. West and south bantams mix on Monday. Schedule in today or tomorrow.

Petes Tuck Two Away

Senior Petes pulled out two fine COBL wins here on the holiday to hang firmly onto the top rung. Beat Kingston 8-7 in the a.m. before a so-so crowd with two runs in the ninth. While Edger pitched good ball and Dalton hit like nobody's business, we'd say Manager Eddie Murphy was the hero. Sick with the flu, he put himself on the spot by going in as a pinch-hitter with the tying run on second in the ninth. And he singled it in, later scoring the winning run on an error. Kingston were loose afield but came through with four double-plays to make it awfully close. Foley was good out in right in both games and Garvey, who tries for everything, went well.

* * * * * *

Second game was a 3-2 squeak for the locals as Doug Loucks—who threw swell five-hit ball—went wild in one frame to give the battling Locos a couple of markers. Fair fielding again in this tussle with Walsh and Foley featuring on catches. Dalton slumped badly at the plate to only get three for four, one of them a triple! The guy has a wonderful eye and hits bad pitches out into the country. Edwardson, who had two for three in the first fray, got two in four this time. McTaggart also pitched a pretty fair game. In fact, the big afternoon crowd saw a nice number, and the a.m. joust was okay, too.

Two Nifty Contests

Honestly, you'd think they had it rehearsed. Men's softball games we mean. For weeks now we've been looking for a bad break—a one-sided game or two. But no, they're tight every night. The twin bill last e'en at the Bowl saw B-A (yeah, they got some dough so they're taking the B-A name again) lose to Legion 4-1, while Comstock's edged Knights 4-2. Two swell scraps before a goodly gathering. Fine flinging on both sides in each tussle and good fielding by all the squads. Crowe, Pagett, Harrison, Coughlin and McCarthy were the main stickers. Comstock's are again tied for first with B-A, with Legion close behind and Knights in shooting distance. They go again Tuesday.

Couple of colleens' contests on Wednesday night. CGE finished strong to take an 11-8 decision over the up-and-coming Lakefield lasses, while Westclox started their vacation by pulling out a 6-1 win against Marines. Norma Kennedy—who used to be Norma Strickland—was in great form to throw four-hit ball and fan no less than 21, though the Marines made it a battle all the way. It's beginning to look like Westclox will beat out Marines and CGE for the senior title, but the race is still close. No games tonight and they go back with a double-header Monday.

Missing J.J. Turns Up

And back to lacrosse again for a moment. The Petes pulled out a 14-12 verdict in Orillia last p.m. to keep unbeaten in group games. But it was mighty close and plenty rough again. J. J. Hill was with the Petes earlier this season and looking for a place to live. They finally found him accommodation, but then they couldn't find J.J.! Yeah, he disappeared but last night showed up in Orillia livery. The Petes are still puffing over the Orillia game and they have to tackle Scarboro here tonight, and go away Monday to Scarboro and Tuesday to Oshawa. That last one will be a scrap. Oshawa took Huntsville 21-8 the other night. In bantam lacrosse here, Montrealers beat Tudhope's 7-3, led by Griffin and Jones, while Kiwanis took St. Paul's 8-0. Monday aft tilts: St. Paul's vs. Clapper's at three and Tudhope's vs. Kiwanis at four.

Electrics Take 11-8 Win Over Lakefield

Electrics improved their standing in the Girls Softball League and dropped Lakefield back to a second-last place tie at the Bowl Wednesday night when they won an 11-8 game. While both sides were loose defensively, the Lakefield errors hurt most in the listless tussle. The hitting and pitching were about even, with few strikeouts, and each team committed five miscues but the CGE crew cashed in better on their chances.

A. Collins, M. Batley, R. Maloney and H. Dunford were best in the field during a so-so performance. M. Perrin and I. DeCarlo led the winners at bat with three hits each, one of the latter's being a triple. R. Hewitt got a homer and single in four times at the plate. For Lakefield, N. Clements was easily the best with five hits in six tries, while D. Nichols banged out a triple and single in five.

Royals Dump Jersey City In Doubleheader

By The Canadian Press

Clay Hopper, popular manager of Montreal Royals is being touted as the "manager of the year" in many International League circles today.

Despite the uncertainty from day to day as to the make-up of his team, Hopper has his Royals out in front today by eight games.

The parent Brooklyn Dodgers have made a few raids on his squad, lifting such route-going pitchers as Hank Behrman, Paul Minner and outfielder Marv Rackley without sending any replacements.

Yesterday, the Royals took both ends of a doubleheader from Jersey City Giants 6-5 and 9-1 while the second place Newark Bears lost a twin-bill to Toronto Maple Leafs 12-3 and 4-1.

Jack Banta breezed to his ninth victory in the second game. Banta held the Giants to three hits while his mates collected 12, including homers by Chuck Connors and Al Gionfriddo. Gionfriddo's belt was his 16th.

Veterans Nick Strincevich and Oscar Judd of Ingersoll, Ont., went the route for the Leafs against the Bears. Strincevich yielded 12 hits but he was tough in the clutch. He also drove in three of his team's 12 runs.

Judd gave up only five hits in outpitching young Bob Porterfield. In addition, Judd doubled home two runs. The victory was the 38-year-old lefthander's seventh against two losses.

Rochester Red Wings nosed out Baltimore Orioles 2-1 in 11 innings. Eddie Cihocki's error with the bases loaded and two out in the second extra frame enabled the Wings to score the winning run.

Extra base hits enabled Syracuse Chiefs to clip Buffalo Bisons 5-3. Chet Laabs poled his 26th round-tripper for the Bisons.

Sain Gets 10th Victory Bounces New York 4-1

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Sain, tobacco-chewing righthander of Boston Braves, has reached the half-way mark in his bid to become the first National League pitcher since Mort Cooper to win 20 games three years in a row.

Sain pitched the league-leading Braves to a 4-1 victory over New York Giants yesterday for his 10th victory. He's the first senior circuit flinger to win 10 this season and now has a 10-5 record.

The 29-year-old hurler has won seven of his last eight starts and appears a cinch to reach the coveted 20.

Cooper, while pitching for St. Louis Cardinals, won 20 games during each of their pennant-winning years of 1942, '43 and '44.

The victory yesterday enabled the Braves to increase their lead over the runner-up Cardinals to 2½ games. The Cards dropped a 4-3 decision to the Cubs in Chicago.

Stan Musial of the Cards became the first batter in the majors to collect 100 or more hits. He singled home a run in the first with his 100th safety and whacked No. 101 in the third.

Knock Off Reds

The third-place Pittsburgh Pirates knocked off Cincinnati Reds 5-2 and jumped within half a game of St. Louis.

Ageless Fritz Ostermueller throttled the Reds on six blows.

Philadelphia Phillies pulled within one percentage point of the fourth-place Giants by beating Brooklyn Dodgers 4-2 behind Schoolboy Rowe.

In the American League, Philadelphia Athletics closed in on the league-leading Cleveland Indians by taking a 3-2 night decision from Washington Senators while the Indians were beaten 9-5 by the Tigers in Detroit. Philadelphia now trails by half a game.

Hal Newhouser relieved starter Fred Hutchinson in the top of the eighth during a three-run Cleveland rally and was credited with the victory, his 10th.

The third-place New York Yankees crept within a game of the Indians with a 10-7 triumph over Boston Red Sox.

Red Sox slugger Ted Williams went hitless to end his consecutive game hitting streak at 16.

In a night game at St. Louis, the Browns scored three runs in the eighth inning to snap a 5-5 tie and went on to beat Chicago White Sox 8-5.

Three Canadians In Spotlight

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 2. — (CP). — When the white-clad marshal leads the pacers to the starting line tonight for Roosevelt Raceway's $25,000 National Invitation Pacing Derby, three Canadian drivers will be in the spotlight.

Dr. Stanton, often heralded as "the wonder horse of the decade" and owned and driven by W. L. (Lindy) Fraser, of Forest, Ont., goes to the post as a 3-2 favorite—shortest opening price ever quoted for a stake event at the Long Island raceway.

Joe O'Brien of New Glasgow, N.S., driving Indian Land and Ralph Baldwin of Lloydminster, Sask., behind Goose Bay are expected to be the biggest threats for Fraser's large-boned seven-year-old gelding. They were the only horses to beat "the Doctor" this year.

An outside favorite is Forbes Chief at 15 to 1 in the first position. The black four-year-old horse, owned by Newport Stock Farm, was a regular second to Dr. Stanton at Santa Anita last winter.

Remember When . . .

Joe DiMaggio joined baseball's immortals seven years ago today when he hit safely in his 45th straight game to surpass the record set by Willie Keeler in 1897. DiMaggio went on to run the streak to 56 games.

Aitkenhead Rink Captures Ovaltine Trophy

By HERB MARTIN

Alex Aitkenhead's rink of the local club will hold the Ovaltine Trophy for one year, having won the right yesterday in the annual mixed rink tournament. Harry Northey came second with three wins. Jimmy Cullen was high with two wins; Percy Moore second high with two wins and Ross F. Downey high for one win.

Sixteen local rinks, plus one from Port Hope and one from Campbellford made up the entry. It was by far the smallest entry in many years. Maybe the long week-end holiday had something to do with it.

The afternoon games were played in fine weather, but the night game was not so hot. In fact it became quite chilly.

Three 15-end games were played and the tournament was all over around 10 o'clock.

Down at Port Hope Wednesday Miss L. Allen, Mrs. F. Dawe and Mrs. B. MacLean came home with the first prize, while Mrs. W. Hepburn, Mrs. N. Killingbeck and Mrs. L. Riley took second money.

Tonight it will be men's rinks. Draw from the board at 7.30 o'clock. There should be a good crowd out for this week-end tourney.

Winners

1st—Mrs. H. Wilson, H. Williamson, Mrs. J. Arnold, A. Aitkenhead, skip—Ovaltine Trophy.

2nd—Mrs. H. Northrop, L. Bearne, Mrs. L. Bearne, H. Northrop, skip.

3rd—Mrs. J. Cullen, F. Dearborn, Mrs. R. Hopkins, J. Cullen, skip.

4th—Mrs. P. Moore, R. Brown, Mrs. J. Reid, P. Moore, skip.

5th—Mrs. Cameron, V. Hill, Mrs. L. Ackford, R. F. Downey, skip.

IT WAS ALMOST a "honeymoon in a hearse" for Norman P. Goodhue, 28, of Vaudreuil, Que., driver of the auto shown in the photo above. Goodhue was on his way back from his honeymoon—with his wife, and three in-laws, when he momentarily lost control of his auto which crashed into a CPR workmen's shack in Montreal recently. All were taken to St. Luke Hospital where they were released after treatment. Appearing in Criminal Court on a charge of dangerous driving Judge Oscar Gagnon said: "Well, here's a wedding present for you—sentence, suspended."

Lindsay Falls In Soccer To O'Hallorans

O'Halloran's eliminated Lindsay from the Father Phalen Charity Cup play on Wednesday evening by a 5-1 count, and now meet Legion next Wednesday night in the semi-final. Lindsay team will have to get into the city early as the fans are leaving because of the late starts.

Lindsay turned up one hour late; while O'Halloran's waited patiently with a full eleven and the many spectators drifted away before the kick-off. The visitors were without their regular goalie and Red Thomas failed to appear at the game. Within 10 minutes O'Halloran's took advantage of an inexperienced custodian to register two goals through Featherstone and Lindsay replied with a smart counter by Appleton from a Taylor pass from the wing. O'Halloran's steadily increased their count through Cribbis and Duffus to make it read 4-1. Then just before the interval, Featherstone beat three men in a row to register his third goal.

There was a different story on resuming. Lindsay carried out repeated attacks to bring out the steady ability of the local defense around goal. Wilis, Lindsay, at centre-half, was conspicuous with his interception of combination to block O'Halloran's offerisive tactics. Cox and Barbee, at full-backs and still playing well over the 50 mark were unbeatable. Hennessey, in goal for Lindsay, held his citadel intact throughout the last period with a masterly exhibition.

Lindsay— J. Hennessey, goal; Reg Cox and Vic Barbee, full-backs; D. Best, S. Willis and D. Crawford, half-backs; J. Nye, R. Snowden, N. Appleton, J. Taylor and E. Moir, forwards.

O'Halloran and C. B. Smart, full. O'Halloran and C. B. Smatr, full. backs; D. Gray, H. Pyle and A. Downer, half-backs; J. Chamberlain, E. Duffus, W. Cribbis, A. Featherstone and D. Creal, forwards. Sub, D. Duncan.

Decide Not To Ask Planes From Empire

LONDON, July 2 — (CP). — A Foreign Office statement yesterday says that commonwealth governments will not be asked after all for aircraft to help supply Berlin unless further developments in the situation should require this.

(A Foreign Office spokesman said Wednesday that Dominion high commissioners in London had been asked to request their governments to lend all available aircraft.)

Orillia Beaten By Petes In Lacrosse Go

The Petes' lacrossers pulled out a 14-12 senior "B" win in Orillia last night. It kept intact their victory streak but was another close contest and a typical Orillia-Petes' battle. They roughed it up all the way in the keen going with the Creighton crew drawing 11 of the 14 penalties passed out. Orillia were strengthened by the addition of J. J. Hill, who had started the season with Peterborough but recently dropped out of view. Still licking their wounds after this hot tussle, the Petes have to tackle Scarboro Grads here tonight.

Orillia got the only goal of the first chukker, the Petes had a 5-3 margin in the next heat, it was 5-3 for the homesters in the third quarter and the Petes outscored Orillia 6-3 in the furious windup chapter. Dugan was in on the final four goals to clinch the contest. The whole team clicked well and had to work hard every minute in the speedy, rough and tight tilt. .

The teams:

Petes: Goal, B. Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan and Connelly; rover, Foote; alternates, R. Breakspear, Horton, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Gordon, Smith and Dundas. .

Legion Cops 4-1 Win Against B-A

Legionnaires pulled out a 4-1 win over the B-A bunch at the Bowl last night to improve their position in the men's softball loop. It was a fast tilt marked with good fielding and four Legion double plays helped their cause a lot. Dalton and Guilfoyle pitched on pretty even terms and each side had but two miscues. Crowe got the only B-A run in the first on his double and Blewett's single. Pagett got one in the first for Legion on a hit, wild pitch and two errors. Two walks, a wild pitch and a hit by Pagett meant two in the second and Scriver homered in the sixth.

Pagett, who fielded well, had two in four as did Harrison for the winners, and Withers got a double. Crowe was the big hitter for B-A with three in four tries, one a double, while Borland clicked for two in four attempts. Loucks had a nice running catch as a fielding feature, but the four twin-killings stole the show defensively.

Comstock's Get Close One From Knights

Comstock's edged Knights 4-3 at the Bowl last night before a good crowd to climb into a top place City Softball League tie with the B-A squad. Like the first game of the night the pitching was pretty even, both Crowley and Eakins hurling low-hit ball but walking a lot. Woods took over in the eighth as Crowley tired. The winners had more errors but a three-run homer by Hermie Castle in the seventh gave them the tilt. They added one on walks in the eighth. Knights used two walks, an error and Ralph's hit for their two in the eighth frame of a neat tussle.

McCarthy led the winners at bat with two for five, and the only extra-base blow of the game was Castle's four-bagger. Don Coughlin topped the losers at the plate with three safeties in four appearances. A liner taken by Cournyea at third in the fifth stanza was probably the best of fielding in the contest.

Record Light Death Toll Of 22 As Canada Has 81st Birthday

By The Canadian Press

Canadians enjoyed a safe and sane Dominion Day.

A Canadian Press country-wide survey showed a relatively light fatality toll: 22, compared with 98 in last year's long week-end celebrations.

Three of the deaths were in a plane crash near Chapleau in Northern Ontario. Two were those of Quebec men believed shot by hitchhikers whom they had given a lift.

Except for rain in parts of New Brunswick and Alberta, the weather for Canada's 81st birthday was good. The sun shone and skies were blue for the hundreds of picnics, sports days, regattas, baseball games and horse racing cards.

Many Canadians continued the celebration today and planned to carry it through the week-end. They were employees of firms which closed Wednesday night for a long week-end.

Ontario reported 10 violent deaths, Quebec six, Nova Scotia three, and Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia one each. In all, plane crashes took four lives, traffic deaths seven, drownings nine and the Quebec shooting two.

Traffic Victims

Traffic victims were: Lionel W. (Bill) Dancy, 21, Toronto, killed in a car crash on his way home from a pre-wedding party; Sam Patterson, 48, Toronto, who suffered a seizure after being struck by a runaway automobile; Mrs. Grace Freeman, Kincardine, killed when a car driven by her husband overturned; Carol Derosbie, two, struck by a car at Blind River.

Murray Nixon, 21, Montreal, was killed when the motorcycle he was riding collided with an automobile at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

Mary Zapotochny, 21, of Komarno, Man., was killed when a car overturned on the Stoney Mountain Road.

Milton Dibblee, 21, of Ladner, B.C., was killed when a motorcycle went out of control on a Ladner track and crashed into a fence.

The Chapleau plane crash victims were John Oltean of Welland, and Mrs. Lyla Chambers and Lillian McCorkhill, both of Chapleau.

A crash of a light plane at Hamilton killed Peter Revie, 23, of Hamilton, and injured Aloysius Lamarsh, 33, also of Hamilton.

Drowning Victims

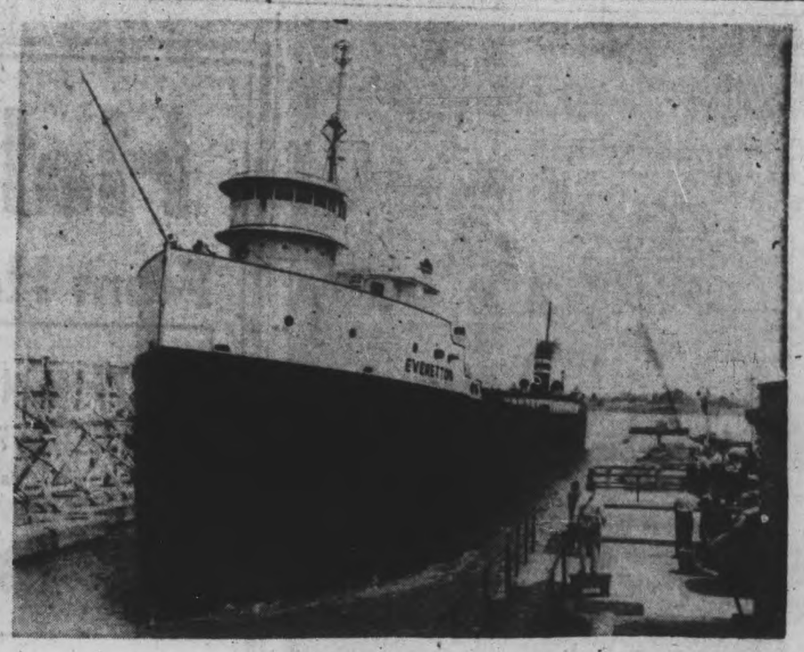
Drowning victims were: Mrs. Henry Vacheresse, Stellarton, N.S.; Sandy Terry, Truro, N.S.; Harvey H. Johnson, 16, Halifax; Lilles Lacombe, 19, Montreal; a 15-year-old Montrealer named Tremblay; Andre Richer, 19, Montreal; Fairlie Candlish, 32, Hamilton; Mrs. Grace Becker, 46, Buffalo, N.Y.; and Ann Weightman, 10, Regina.

Louis Philippe Breton and Wilfrid Dumas, both of Trois Pistoles, Que., were found shot to death near Riviere Du Loup, Que. Police said they believed hitchhikers killed the men.

But the holiday had its bright side, too.

In Ottawa the Governor-General and Viscountess Alexander received more than 3,000 diplomats and high government officials at a garden party at Rideau Hall.

Members of the Canada Club in London entertained Prince Philip at a dinner. A message was read from Prime Minister Mackenzie King saying that a warm welcome awaits Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip whenever they are able to visit Canada.



FOUR STRIKEBOUND SHIPS left the Welland Canal yesterday after being manned by Canadian Lake Seamen's Union crews despite efforts by the rival Canadian Seamen's Union to prevent the men going aboard. Honor Miss Margaret Green Former Pupils Stage Surprise

At the Legion Hall Tuesday evening more than 200 ex-pupils Prince of Wales School gathered for a reunion honoring Miss Margaret Green, former teacher in Grade 7 from 98. The gathering was a complete surprise to Miss Green, who was a dinner guest at the home of a former pupil before arriving at the hall. She was greeted by David Fowler and led into the darkened room to the march of the bagpipes, and there welcomed by Mayor William G. Ovens.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Ovens said "These pupils wish to pay tribute to a teacher who has understood and inspired her pupils, gaining their affection, so that through the years memory of the days in her room will remain, making happy thoughts of their schooldays."

Miss Dolly Frost presented a gift and a book in which all pupils participating had registered.

Shaken with emotion, Miss Green replied, "The fact you have gathered here tonight to welcome me with the same enthusiasm, love and goodwill of those Prince of Wales schooldays has simply overwhelmed me, and for once, I am almost bereft of speech. That success of a teacher and friend for which you give me credit was not attained by my efforts alone. First, the good training and foundation my pupils received from their previous teachers, then the co-operation and backing of your parents in the home, the advice, help and friendship of other teachers and principal on the staff, also that confidence between pupils and teacher that brought cooperation, love and goodwill, making the work a pleasure."

Miss Green said she vividly remembered the first day in Prince of Wales school when she arrived to teach a class of 43 pupils in Grade 7. Being only a few years older than many of them, about a week later she overheard two boys say, 'Gee, she isn't bad to look at, but she sure can make you work, but when she smiles, Oh boy!' "It was then I learned that pupils do not mind working if their efforts are appreciated or if treated with kindness and consideration."

In conclusion the honored guest said "I have realized what the schooldays meant to me, but now I realize what they mean to the pupils and the great part a teacher can play, inspiring her charges and moulding their lives. I thank you for the honor which will long remain in my memory."

The committee which organized the reunion was composed of nine former pupils of Miss Green's: Audrey Killingbeck, Dolly Frost, Roy Adlam, Mr. and Mrs. David Fowler, Beulah Milburn, Carl Bowes and Mrs. Don Metheral.

Demand Unchanged For American Funds

Peterborough people are not showing any greater desire to travel in United States than last year a bank manager said today. He added that local people visiting across the border tend to save their exchange credits for one big trip instead of making several smaller trips.

The regulations covering funds allowed to tourists have not changed during the past year. Canadian visiting the United States are allowed $150 in American money during the year. From his required for all funds in excess of $10 American and $15 Canadian. Any funds brought back from a trip in the United States cannot be credited to the tourist's exchange account and used on a future trip.

Another bank official said that there is an increasing demand for American funds at the moment, being the beginning of the holiday period, but the same increased demand took place last year at this time.

There was general agreement that tourists are only taking the the money they require and are not abusing the exchange privileges. People are going to the United States to visit, not to purchase.

Pipe Shortage Solved For Lindsay Arena

LINDSAY, July 2 — (ENS) — The artificial ice question in Lindsay is brighter these days with word that one firm has been able to secure tubular piping to take the place of the steel piping.

Both the Lindsay Curling Club and the local arena hoped to have their artificial ice plants installed and operating this winter, but shortage of pipe in Canada and the United States has been delaying proceedings, the committees report.

This new type piping, it is learned, when treated with a surface paint has lasting qualities just as great as the steel piping.

Stony Lake Reminds Writer Of Lake Albano Near Rome

By RALPH GREENHILL

Lakes have a fascination and certain emotion mingling memory and pleasure. I saw Stony Lake for the first time recently and its attraction was immediate. The "lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore" added to the beauty that was essentially Canadian, and memories began to crowd in upon me.

Something, possibly the vivid, bare color, reminded me of Lake Albano near Rome, and of Castel Gandolfo, the dirty but delightful town overlooking the lake. I suddenly remembered sitting at a cafe table in the small piazza in front of the Pope's summer palace, and noticing on a half whitewashed wall of a house one of Mussolini's bombastic proverbs: "Many enemies, much honor."

Crater of a Volcano

Lake Albano lay in the crater of an extinct volcano and on three sides towering cliffs fell practically sheer to the water's edge. On second thoughts, it was quite unlike Stony Lake with its feeling of space, its countless islands and wild grandeur.

Nothing I could see reminded me of the English Lake District—Coniston, Bassenthwaite, Derwent Water. There heavy, black clouds and not a deep, blue sky had seemed part of the scene, as were the narrow winding roads through the hills with the occasional inn at a lonely crossroads. In comparison to Stony Lake, the English Lakes were narrow stretches of water which dwindled into mere pools.

Sitting by the camp fire at night on the rock shore, I thought of the many lakes I had seen. They had an emotional appeal difficult to explain. Certain features of one would be repeated in another and yet each had its own fascination varying from the rest. All seemed to reflect something of a particular country to such an extent that it would be impossible to visualize any one of them in a different land. I wondered what made Stony Lake seem so Canadian.

The absence of surrounding hills or mountains was distinctive, as were the hundreds of islands which dotted the lake. The astonishing diversity of trees—pine, cedar, poplar, maple, birch, basswood and oak, I had never seen elsewhere.

Most of all it was the impression of space that I enjoyed and which was missing in other parts of the world. Looking from Eagle Mount, there seemed to be no end to the scene.

Buckhorn Road Improvements Now Underway

Despite the handicap of recent rain, work is proceeding on the Buckhorn Road. It is hoped to have the first 11-mile stretch properly graded, widened and with a foundation ready for subsequent paving before winter comes.

Whether an additional mile and a half in Smith Township that was handed over to the County and Suburban Roads Commission at the last sitting of the County Council will be similarly treated, remains to be seen. This short piece links the Buckhorn Road up with Highway 28 approximately one mile southwest of Lakefield.

J. A. Fletcher, former engineer and road supervisor for Peterborough County, is engineering this project. When pressed for an aswer whether the road would definitely be finished by fall, he replied that he hoped so, but would feel much more confident of success if he had an extra tractor adaptable to use as either a scraper or bulldozer.

He pointed out that there were only two machines being used at the moment and that three were needed. He said it took about an hour to change blades on the tractor from scraper to bulldozer, or the reverse.

Under the existing agreement the Department of Highways pays for the actual road but the Commission must purchase the right-of-way. This right-of-way means 10 feet on either side of the road; and in places after re-surveying a small diversion from the original route is made. Cost of re-fencing must also be borne by the Commission.

According to Department of Highways regulations the road must be 86 feet wide, compared with 66 feet previously. This must be carefully adhered to, particularly on hills.

A clear vision of at least 500 yards is sought. By topping peaks off hills and filling in the valleys a relatively level grade is obtained.

At the June session of the County Council $25,000 was authorized to help finance building of the Buckhorn Road. The Province will re-imburse it later.

Children Find Park Neglected

Employees of the Parks Department had failed to prepare the King Edward Park for occupation as a playground with the result that opening activities were curtailed on Dominion Day. The supervisors of the playground when they went to their jobs found the debris of the skating season piled up in the various rooms of the rest room and the whole place in a very much neglected condition.

Children asked during the day to be permitted to go in the wading pool erected a few years ago by the Kiwanis club and given to the city but the pool has not as yet been placed in operation or the loose and missing boards around the edge replaced.

In the park paper and litter lay on the ground and the receptacles where the paper is to be placed were full leaving this fine southend park in a neglected condition.

Civic Arena Committee Disappointed With Support Given In City-Wide Canvass

A total of $912 in cash was collected during the three-day canvass this week in aid of the secondary rink campaign. Dick Ouimet, chairman of the Civic Arena committee said today, "It is very disappointing, and means that the committee will have to try other means of raising money. We don't intend to give up at this stage of events." He added that the 22 polling divisions of the city that were not covered in the three-day drive will be canvassed as soon as possible.

Charles Kingan, chairman of the business men's committee, said, "I intend to keep right on and keep on calling until we get what we want." He said it would be a nice gesture on the part of people to mail their cheques and contributions to the campaign, instead of waiting to be approached by canvassers, and added that he had received two cheques by post today.

No Increase In Assessment If Ordinary Repairs Made

By HARRY THEOBALD

Property improvements in the course of ordinary repairs and upkeep of buildings are not taken into the reckoning of the assessment department, Bert C. Graham, assessment commissioner, told the Board of Works this week.

If the house is shingled, the verandah fixed up, or other alterations in that category are made, having little or no effect on the actual value of the property, except that it is partial replacement—the assessors pass them by.

But, change the verandah into a sun porch, as a minor example, or make other improvements that increase the value of the property, and the assessor puts it down in his big black book.

Causing Resentment

It is just possible that the five-mill boost in the tax rate this year has been causing resentments among the property-owning and taxpaying public, and that a more sharply critical spirit directed toward all things civic has been an indication of the trend of reaction. At any rate, some members of the council have been getting letters and button-holing of late about increases in assessments, and in the sense that the customers should get service, Mr. Graham was asked to talk over with the board the general practice of his department with any particulars that might be helpful.

Mr. Graham incidentally read his oath of office setting forth the outline of the things that are required of him as an assessor. As for the ancient lament about new shingles attracting the eye of the assessor, Mr. Graham said it was merely imagined. He did say that actual increases in the value of buildings required the attention of the assessment department.

Increases in replacement costs are 75 per cent more than in 1940, a fact which added value to old houses. Present sales levels are also noted and considered. Many houses have been selling at three times their cost of construction 30 to 45 years ago.

"We consider sales, but not much," said Mr. Graham, "if we did we would be doubling assessment values."

Assessments Lagging

The inference from that assertion to the council was that present assessments of many Peterborough properties are lagging far behind the values that are being indicated in the monthly statement of local sales obtained from the registry office.

From memory Mr. Graham recalled circumstances of values of a house in the factory district. In 1940 it was assessed for $1,600 and sold in 1941 for $2,500; then, in 1947 it was assessed for $2,500 and sold this year for $5,500.

"We have been working on the basis of 1940 replacement costs," said the Commissioner, "but we can't stay there forever."

Ald. Swanston asked "what about oil burners?" Mr. Graham said the council would probably regard it as debatable, but those furnaces were considered as adding to the value of a house and therefore were assessable.

Ald. Sands suggested that the burner was not a permanent fixture, and Ald. Doug Miller mentioned it caused less work, eliminating removal of ashes, and presented less risk of fire.

Permanent Fixture

Mr. Graham said the detail of the oil burners had been determined in a court case as being permanent fixtures. Assessments were trailing both costs and sales values. He quoted approximate building costs of 1940 and today: plastering up from 33c a sq. yd. to 50c; brickwork up from $40 a thousand to $80-$100; hemlock lumber up from $33-$35 to $75 per 1,000 ft.; average plumbing job from about $460 to $750.

"I'd be quite happy to discuss any complaints with ratepayers if they think they are not being fairly treated in our valuations," Mr. Graham said. "We try to be fair, and do our work according to the oath we have taken. Besides, the Assessment Act tells me what I am required to do, and what I have to take into consideration, and we do. Mr. S. A. Couper, city treasurer, has sent out 13,300 tax bills of which there are 1,400 business assessments. That is an indication of the work that has to be done. Our population in 1940 was 24,530, and last year it was 34,424; the acreage of the city in 1940 was 2844 acres, and last year 3,923.4 acres. If any citizens are not satisfied with our work they can always go to the Court of Revision and submit an appeal."

Ald. Adam Sands said complaints to him were that no improvements were made to certain houses in the last five years, but the assessment had gone up.

Establish Normal Value

"We try to establish a normal value and work from that," said Mr. Graham. "In regard to the assessments in the last five years, replacement costs have advanced as I quoted, and we can't continue at the assessment levels of 1930-1940. If a man is going to sell a house he gets the present high values. We don't pay much attention to those values. We try to hit some normal level because as everybody knows values now up are likely to recede."

Ald. Swanston said that several complaints to him were that the Court of Revision met objections with the question: "Would you sell for that?"

"If that is all the answer they can give, it is time they were out of there," Ald. Swanston said.

The discussion ended with a proposal that Mr. Graham make a review of his work, and have it published for the information of property owners.

Citizens' Band Heard In Lindsay

Peterborough Citizens' brass band took a prominent part in the opening day ceremonies of Lindsay's Old Home Week held Dominion Day. Dressed in very smart new uniforms, and mustering 38 pieces, the band played for Midland Regiment veterans in their parade to the Cenotaph. By a happy coincidence, they played the "Standard of St. George" which happened to be the regimental march of the Midlanders. At the memorial services, Cec Gallagher sounded the Last Post, and Jack Sage the Reveille. Both are members of the band.

Band captain Wm. Peryer, was asked to bring his men back during the Fair, and they will be in Lindsay on Sunday for the Decoration Day services.

The band played again during the afternoon in the opening parade to the exhibition grounds, and provided the music between the motorcycle races. These American Motorcycle Association races, run off before approximately 10,000 spectators, were probably the chief feature of the day. $1300 in prize money was contested for in ten events by American and Canadian alike, but short, stocky Torontonian, Tony Elia, won the feature race when he captured the Canadian championship three-mile event for the John Carew trophy in his second straight annual win.

Gardens Abloom

Many of Peterborough's gardens presented this morning floral reminders of Christmas in their reflection of Ann Hathway's cottage of the festive greeting cards. That is the reverse view of the picture. Some of the Christmas pictorial items try to recapture the colors and brightness of summer and its gardens. And no garden could be regarded without a perennial border, and no border withoutthe background of delphiniums now opening spikes of bloom in all shades of blue, just as in the Hathaway cottage of the old English scene.

Resort Owners Report Fewer Tourists

A survey of four tourist resorts in the Peterborough area shows that owners are split on their opinions concerning the volume of tourists for this summer. Two expect an increase, while the other two believe things will be about the same.

"We've got slightly fewer guests than we had at this time last year, but going by reservations, I'd say the volume will increase. The fishing's been good, so far." This is the opinion of Percy Farr, proprietor of the Rice Lake Inn.

Tom Lawlor at South Beach Hotel said: "We definitely haven't as many guests as last year. Things will be slow until July 10. I think the volume will be about the same. You see, tourists spent a lot of money in Canada last summer."

"We have 60 in the hotel now. That's more than last summer. From what I've seen so far, there will be an increase in the number of tourists," said Mrs. C. Fife at the Park Hotel at Burleigh Falls.

Mrs. Stokes at Buckhorn Lodge also thinks the volume won't change much. "I don't think everyone is booked solid for the summer. People seem to be slower making reservations. But business will be good."

All four agree that bass fishing was good on opening day, though they report the muskie catch as light. At Burleigh, a four-pound black small-mouth bass was caught.

Car In Garage? Police Says No

"There's somthing strange about this," said Magistrate Philp, "but I'll give you the benefit of the doubt." The accused, Russell Williams, 46 Ware St., was found not guilty of going through a stop sign.

PC George Shaw testified that a car registered in Williams' name had driven through a stop sign on June 8. He was positive of the date and the car number, he said.

Evidence of George Temple, an employee of Williams, was that the accused had been out of town on that day and that the car had been laid up in a garage awaiting repairs. The accused also gave this explanation, saying he was in Prescott the time of the alleged offence.

Constable Shaw repeated, from his notes, the number of the car.

Visitor Collapses Dies At Lindsay

LINDSAY, July 2—Lindsay's old home week was marred by the sudden death of a Lindsay old boy, Herbert Gregory, of West Palm Beach, Florida. Mr. and Mrs. Gregory and three others motored to Canada and spent a week at Doe Lake, near Huntsville, before arriving here Wednesday afternoon. The Gregory's pulled into the home of Mr. J. FIRST LOCAL LION to achieve this distinction, Stanley A. Darling, Weller St., was recently elected District Governor of District "A-3" which includes 43 clubs in central Ontario. He is a past president of the Peterborough club and a consistently enthusiastic member of Lions International.

Stanley Darling Named District Governor

Highest office ever held by a Peterborough member of Lions International came to Stanley A. Darling, Weller St., when he was elected District Governor of District A3 at the Lions Convention which ended on Wednesday at Timmins.

His governorship will include altogether 43 clubs in Central Ontario. The territory stretches from Bancroft to Owen Sound and south to include the Toronto region. Peterborough delegates were elated when it was announced that the former president of the local club had been elected to his new office by acclamation.

More than 500 delegates with their wives and friends crowded Timmins and the adjoining towns of Schumacher and South Porcupine during the convention which began on Sunday afternoon and ended on Wednesday night. Lions from clubs in District A which takes in all of Ontario and Quebec decided to sample northern hospitality this year when they held their annual convention and according to all reports they found it up to the mark.

On Monday the delegates participated in a huge parade which included bands and floats. They were reviewed by Walter C Fisher, St. Catharines, Second International Vice-President, District Secretary Bruce Malcolm, the mayor of Timmins and other civic dignitaries.

Present from Peterborough were Mr. and Mrs. Darling, Ron MacGee and Mrs. MacGee, Gord Shier, T. F. Doughty, George Hildenbrand and P. D. Scollard, president.

1,000 Children At Playgrounds; One Child Hurt

More than 1,000 children attended the seven playgrounds, organized by the Recreation Commission, which opened on Thursday morning. Jack Dane, Recreation Director, said that the attendance was smaller than expected and attributed it to a number of local plants being shut down and parents taking their children on holidays.

There was only one accident on all the playgrounds. Six-year-old Marilyn McCulloch, of 191 Perry St., cut her foot on a piece of glass when wading in the swimming area at Inverlea Park. A police cruiser took her for treatment.

Mr. Dane is appealing to the public not to throw bottles and other refuse into the water at swimming areas and swimming pools. Considerable trouble and several accidents were caused last year by people throwing bottles into the swimming pool at Riverside Park.

Softball was the most popular sport on the playgrounds. Other organized games such as soccer, rugby and basketball were also held. The younger children thoroughly enjoyed themselves with the slides, teeters and swings. A "jungle gym" at Inverlea was extremely popular with children climbing all over the apparatus.

In spite of the cool weather, there was a surprising large number of swimmers at Inverlea Park, which had the largest attendance of the day of 410. At Riverside, where there were 230 children during the day, only a few swimmers were seen.

The small playlot at Dixon House was well attended. Sixty-five children of all ages played everything from rugby to building blocks. Attendance at other playgrounds was as follows: King Edward 186, Prince of Wales 87, Fleming 80 and Confederation 30.

One playground at Turner Park has to be levelled by the Parks Department before it will be opened to children by the Recreation Commission.

FLOWERS ARE LAID by artists on the main street of Genzano, a small town near Rome, in a painstaking design to represent religious scenes. The flowers were laid on designs previously made on the street. When finished they present a spectacular picture through the entire town. The work was finished this week to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the annual flower festival of Genzano.

Council Claims Site Ideal For Apartments

If anybody wants a lot for an apartment house, five minutes walk from the post office clock and all that sort of thing, they will be steered by the city council to the property next to Mark St. United Church on Hunter St.

The official board of the church did not oppose the application of McColl Frontenac Co. to build a service station on the vacant lot that has been in the McGregor family more than a century. The letter from A. W. Gamble expressed hope the council would give serious consideration to "the future needs of Ashburnham and especially to applications designed to build stores, apartments and offices. We wish to thank the council for its kindly efforts on our behalf."

City council previously frowned on the theatre permit for the property two years ago. Members of the board of works said they did not wish to continue holding up the sale of the property by Mr. McGregor, but everywhere they look around town their eyes fall on service stations, and especially at choice corners, bought by powerful oil companies.

It was said Mr. McGregor was not in favor of a service station atter holding the property so long, but it might be some time before he received another attractive bid.

Ald. Max Swanston moved that the McColl-Frontenac application for a service station be not granted. Mayor Ovens seconded the motion which affirms that the council will do anything within its influence to direct some business or apartment investment to that property.

Honest Visitor Releases Muskie

A virtuous story from Hiawatha that strains even credulity said today that an American fishing for pickerel hooked a muskie, "the biggest I ever saw in the eight years I've been coming here". And because the season for maskinonge doesn't open until July 1 he had to loosen it from the hooks and let it go. In that freeing this visitor cut his hands on some of the fins. It was suggested that he might have anchored the line until Thursday, but so correct in his sportsmanship was this man that he compiled with the letter of the law. That's the story George Robertson told today and as Marc Antony said of Brutus, Mr. Robertson is an honorable man who wouldn't descend to stretching or elaborating a fish story.

Saw Cheese Weighing 3,547 Lbs. Native Of Cheddar Claims

W. J. Cottrell, of Marmora, in Hastings County which is one of the largest cheese producing areas in Ontario, was born in the village of Cheddar, Somersetshire, England, where the famous cheese of the same name was first made.

In an old book published in 1586, he said, the following paragraph appears: "West of Wells, just under the Mendip Hills lies Cheddar, famous for the excellent and prodigious great cheeses made there, some of which require more than a man's strength to set them on the table and are of delicate taste, equalling if not exceeding that of Parmesan."

Today, however, the Cheddar Valley is given over to the mass production not of cheeses but of strawberries, but Mr. Cottrell can remember the time when a few farmers in Cheddar and the neighboring villages still made their own cheese.

"Cheddar," he said, "has been a great English centre for the retailing of cheese and small truckles, as they are called there, weighing only a few pounds were taken away by tourists before the war as short-lasting souvenirs. When I was last there in 1921, I saw an old advertisement in the store of William Small and Son, chief and oldest of the cheese retailers. It read: "Almost any weight in whole cheese from one to one hundred pounds each." In 1901, I saw a shipment outside the same store of 3,547 pounds of cheese destined for the S.S. Discovery, shortly to leave on the National Antarctic Expedition under the command of Robert Scott."

Mr. Cottrell can remember as a boy seeing Samuel Small boring cheese with a gouge and sampling it. Mr. Small was an expert cheesetaster and used to sample an average of a hundred cheeses a day. He used to say "Good Cheddar cheese is the best meal a man can have and there is no need for bread or biscuit with it either."

Today, Canada and New Zealand are the great producers of Cheddar cheese. The word "Cheddar" applied to cheese, explained Mr. Cottrell, signifies a definite type which must be made with whole milk and have a fat content of not less than 45 per cent.

Although a true "Cheddarite," Mr. Cottrell's family have lived in the village since at least the seventeenth century, he once lost his taste for the cheese. Now, he is once again a great supporter of the world-famed cheese in deed as well as in word.

He said that although both the poets Wordsworth and Coleridge wrote of the grandeur of the Cheddar Gorge, they did not make any mention of the cheese. However, the Rev. Frederic Skey wrote a play called "Cheddar Caves," in which Mr. Cottrell played a small part. One of the choruses went:

"I love the Cheddar Valley,
And forth I like to sally,
And in its meadows dally,
From morning until night.
I like the ocean breezes,
I love the Cheddar cheeses,
For nothing else appeases,
My appetite so well."

The election of officers was postponed until after the Ottawa convention.

Some representatives were then appointed for the different sections.

DOROTHY DIX

Proxy Mother Complex Often Hopeless In Wife

DEAR MISS DIX: I have dated a young lady several times, but my friends warn me not to get too serious, as, although she has worked at one place for 15 years, where she earned $65 a week, she hasn't a penny saved. She spends all she makes on her sister's children and she says that after marriage she will continue to do so. She doesn't even dress herself properly. She says she can't afford good clothes. There are six children and the father and mother are both well and hearty.

Dorothy Dix

I am a bachelor of 33, making $75 a week, but I am saving to but a home when I marry, if I ever do. What do you think of this girl as a matrimonial prospect? Do you think she would ever change? I would not like to spend my life working to support somebody's lazy family—DAILY READER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I would take a dim view of the young lady in question as a wife, for when an old maid develops the proxy mother complex and goes shabby so that her nieces and nephews can be well-dressed, the case is hopeless, any man she might marry would always play second fiddle to her sister's kids, and she would always play second fiddle to her sister's kids, and she would always expect Friend Husband to turn over his salary to buy the youngsters fancy clothes and bicycles and football outfits and the other paraphernalia that the modern child demands.

Sacrifice Husbands

It is a very common thing for wives to sacrifice their husbands ruthlessly to their poor relations. I have known many cases in which men who were thrifty and industrious and highly competent in their line, were never able to accumulate a dollar because their wives spent every cent they made on their own families.

Always somebody was getting sick, or having a baby, or had gotten behind with the rent, or Mother wasn't feeling well and needed a change, and the poor, hard-working in-law had to foot the bill. Otherwise the wife's family would have had to roll up their sleeves and go to work, which would have been just too bad.

Of course, it may be very altruistic thing for an old bachelor to qualify as a mother's helper in a case where there are six small children, but before you do it you had better count the cost.

DEAR MISS DIX: My husband has been dead nine years. I have reared my five sons to Christian manhood and feel that I now have a right to whatever happiness I can get from life. In fact, I am thinking about getting married to a man with whom I have been friendly for fifteen years and with whom I have many things in common.

But his wife has not been dead very long and, while neither of us mean any disrespect to her memory, we feel that we need each other badly. So our question is: How long after the death of a husband or wife is it permissible to be seen with the opposite sex? How soon can one remarry without bringing criticism down upon him or her? If we were to marry within a seven or eight month period, would people have a right to criticize us? Would it be disrespectful to those whose memories we hold dear?—A. W. N.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Circumstances alter cases. You and your fiance are two lonely old people who need companionship far more than any young person does, so I think you are very wise to get married, and that it is perfectly permissible for you to do as soon as you please.

FOR REDUCING DIETS — ALL-BRAN — TWO SIZES

SMART AND FLATTERING — There's been a book about a green hat, but surely a library of books could be written about the pleasing effect of a pink hat and what it has done for women through the years. Pink with its flattering shades and shadows is particularly lovely for a hat with a softly curved brim. This one is in delicate pink shantung straw. The brim, upturned in back, is piped with black velvet ribbon to match the band that girds the shallow crown. A lacy black veil lends additional softness to the silhouette.

People used to make a cult of mourning and accounted it unto themselves for righteousness never to get over the loss of anyone they loved. Now they bring more phisolophy and courage and real faith in God to the situation, and they lock their sorrows up in their own hearts and try to make the best of what is left of life for them.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We are three high school girls who are very fond of three young boys who recently have been sentenced to jail for their participation in stealing a car. This was not their first offense. However, this doesn't dampen our feelings towards them. We are respected highly in our community and we would like your opinion as to what we should do.—IN NEED OF ADVICE.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You certainly are in need, not only of advice, but of a few grains of common sense. If there were a first offense it might be charged off as a prank, but since these boys continuously indulge in lawlessness, you must face the fact that any girl who associates with thieves is bound to sink to their level, and that you would ruin your lives by your folly.

For Saturday, July 3

While there are signs of much stirring-about and excitement with the energies, faculties and impulses under stress and tension, yet there may be much to contend with it in the way of delays, limitations and probably postponements. Disappointments, obstacles, congestions, are in sight, with probable unforeseen outlay, loss or extravagance due to tricky or bewildering circumstances. An attitude of patience and serenity might compose disturbing situations rather than a wild and irritable "flying off the handle."

Those whose birthday it is, may encounter a year to challenge their ideas of discipline and good sense, since there are indications of conflicting and trying disturbances. While matters are keyed to definite and constructive attack, with the energies and faculties stimulated to movement and aggressive action, yet there are equalsy as forceful and tenacious obstacles, impediments and conflicts to negotiate, and which make for delays, disappointments and various form of frustration and cross purposes. Forcing the issues seems important, therefore the wisest course may be reignation, patience, serenity and studied composure. Turn disaster into discipline, fuming into philosophy.

A child born on this day may have many conflicts of character, with dominant drives for strenuous action and constructive purpose, yet it may encounter frustration, impediment, perhaps inherent inertia or lack of urges.

ONCE IN A WHILE McGill University officials in Montreal get the opportunity to welcome two students from the same family. Sometimes they have as many as three members from the same family, but rarely if ever do they register a mother, a son and a daughter. It happened recently. Above are shown Miss Phyllis R. Ostrolenk, Mrs. Mina I. Ostrolenk and David G. Ostrolenk, from Washington Cross, Penn. The three studied and travelled in France but they like it better in Montreal.

BONES OF FOSSIL whale 100,000 years old which were found at Uplands, near Ottawa, are painted with preservative by Joseph Skillen, technician of the Geological Survey of Canada. Ugly blunt skull structure indicates that it belongs to white or beluga whale family, similar to those caught in Hudson Bay and the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

U.S. Visitor Seeks His Family History At Hastings

HASTINGS, July 2—(ENS)—Arthur J. Hagerman of Colorado Springs, Colorado, visited Hastings last week to find the house in which his mother was born. She was Melissa Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Rishor. Mr. Rishor was employed in the old tannery at the foot of Front Street, operated by Isaac Thorns.

Charles Huycke was able to direct Mr. Hagerman to the old "Orishaw" house on Clyde street, now the home of Giles McGuire.

With Mr. Hagerman was his wife and her father, Mr. Davidson, who was visiting the Canadian home of his parents in Western Ontario, and Miss Hagerman, a teacher of music, who was interested to learn from Mrs. Huycke that her grandfather was also musical and played the violin exceptionally well.

Mr. Hagerman has asked for any other information concerning his family. His mother was born March 25, 1865 and left Hastings when she was four years old.

ROLL YOUR OWN THRILLS

ON MANY a deal your thrills, if any, come from the way the cards have been distributed or from something done by your opponents, since you do nothing yourself except observe the mechanics of the soundest technique you have learned. At other times, however, you have an opportunity to figure out some line of action which is original, strictly your own. If it works as you hope, you can quite naturally get a form of excitement which is impossible to attain in any other way.

The bidding given in the first sequence is what was not done, but would have been if most conventional bidders equipped with the Blackwood mechanism had met this deal. The second sequence is what actually developed when the deal arose in a rubber game at Gage, Alberta, Canada, as reported by E. W. Bromley.

In the South sat Mrs. Ken Ferrie, of Fairview, Alta., opposite her husband, whom she clearly trusts more than most wives will trust their mates. Mr. Bromley reports: "The Ferries are not in the class of experts, but just small town farmer bridge players, but I feel Mrs. Ferrie bid the hand like an expert."

First comment after the hand, says he, was "Why did you not bid your spades before?" and she answered: "I was just feeling around to find out what my partner had and I did not need any information from him on spades."

Asked for our comments, we must point out that she took several risks. The 2-Hearts might have sounded like a sign-off and been passed. And the 7-Spades might have been put into 7-No Trumps, which would merely have caused loss of the score for 150 honors. But this much is sure—she certainly got more fun out of that bidding than with standard procedure, and after all isn't fun what you seek when you play bridge?

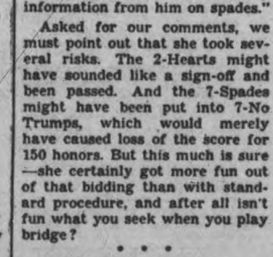
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: West. Both vulnerable.)

Following sound early bidding, should South prefer clubs or No Trumps as the declaration for a grand slam on this deal?

ALBANIA BREAKS WITH YUGOSLAVIA

Israel Charges Canada Oversteps Mark In Restricting Migration

Angry Zionists Declare Action Unwarranted Deny Truce Resolution Calls For Banning Entry Of Men Of Military Age

LAKE SUCCESS, NY, July 3—(CP).—Israel charged on Friday night that Canada overstepped the provisions of the United Nations truce resolution by imposing restrictions on migration to Palestine. Aubrey Eban, Israeli representative here, said in a letter to Trygve Lie, United Nations Secretary-General, that the Israeli government learned "with keen regret" of restrictions on migration of men of military age.

The official communication, which also named the governments of Switzerland and Panama as taking action "on their own initiative," said such restrictions were "not warranted" by the terms of the Security Council resolution May 29 or by the interpretation of that resolution by Count Folke Bernadotte United Nations mediator.

Eban said neither the truce resolution nor the mediator's interpretation banned the entry into Palestine of "men of military age."

One of the main provisions of the four-week truce, scheduled to end July 9, was that neither Jews nor Arabs would gain any military advantage during the period.

The letter said that certain European governments were "misinterpreting the truce provisionally restricting migration of persons bound for Israel.

Continue Restrictions

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP) — Canada would continue to restrict Canadians of military age from proceeding to the new state of Israel for the duration of the truce, an authoritative source said Friday night.

He was commenting on a charge by an Israeli representative at Lake Success that Canada overstepped the provisions of the United Nations truce resolution by imposing restrictions on migration to Palestine.

"So far as we know, all nations are applying the restrictive measure," the source said. "It is one of the obligations of the peace act."

Reserve Decision In Toronto Beating Case

TORONTO, July 3 — (CP). — Magistrate O. M. Martin will rule July 9 on whether Gordon Harvey, 21, must stand trial on charges of abducting and assaulting eight-year-old Teresa Dowling.

When hearings of the case resumed Friday, Magistrate Martin said he would consider it a preliminary hearing. Thus whether Harvey goes free or faces trial in a higher court depends on the weight the magistrate attaches to evidence presented June 29 and Friday.

The slender, brown-haired girl pointed to Harvey in the courtroom Wednesday and said he was the man who led her into a field last May 17, beat her and left her for dead.

The defence sought to show that the girl, who underwent a brain operation after being found in the field, was confused in her claimed identification.

Inspector Albert Gray of suburban York township police said that after the girl pointed to Harvey on the street and Harvey was brought to at police cruiser, he inspector asked the girl:

"Have you ever seen this man before?"

The inspector said the girl answered "no."

Harvey was then told he could get out of the automobile. But Detective-Sergeant Walter Corson, who was also in the cruiser, repeated the question.

The detective told the court the girl's answer then was "yes."

Defence counsel Eric R. Marsden urged that Harvey be set free. He told the court:

"I suggest that you have no alternative. I can't see where you can put a man on trial on such flimsy evidence."

Plane Missing With 14 Aboard

MEXICO CITY, July 3—(AP)—Commercial and army fliers were searching today for a missing plane carrying 14 employees of the joint United States-Mexico commission fighting foot-and-mouth disease in cattle.

The commission plane, a two-motored DC-3, left Minatitlan, Veracruz state, Friday en route to Veracruz and Mexico City on a routine flight. It did not reach Veracruz.

Central airport here declared a general emergency in the Veracuz area and authorized commercial airliners to detour from their routest to look for the plane.

Commission officials said the missing craft was on a regular twice-weekly flight to Minatitlan with personnel, supplies and machinery for the fight against foot-and-mouth disease.

Crack Numbers Ring UAW Man Arrested

DETROIT, July 3.—J(AP). — Edward Hester, a committee man for the United Automobile Workers (CIO), was arrested Friday as suburban Dearborn police claimed to have cracked a $5,000,000-a-year numbers ring inside the Rouge plant of the Ford Motor Sompany.

Police Chief Ralph Guy said a warrant charging bribery would be asked against Hester.

Hester was arrested, Guy said, in the chief's office in a trap set by police.

Six People Arrested In Fatal Clubbing

TULSA, Okla., July 3 (AP)—Six persons were held for investigation today in the fatal clubbing of an attractive divorcee and the brutal beatings of two teen-age girls and another woman.

Police Chief J. W. Holinsworth said the "one" of those arrested was a 25-year-old man. He was taken into custody after one of the victims regained consciousness briefly and gave a short statement to officers.

Mrs. Ruth Morton, 42-year-old divorcee, was found dead in her apartment Friday. She had been badly beaten about the head.

Ask For Invitation

LONDON, July 3 — (Reuters).—Britain has proposed that the British, United States, Soviet and French Ambassadors to Yugoslavia should approach Marshal Tito with a request that he should issue invitations to a Danube conference in Belgrade July 30, it was authoritatively learned today. Political quarters here believe the Soviet response to Britain's proposal will give an indication whether the breach between Belgrade and Moscow extends to questions of foreign policy.

Arabs Forward Answer To Peace Plan

CAIRO, July 3 — (AP). — The Arabs handed to Count Folke Bernadotte today their reply to his proposals for a settlement of the Palestine warfare. The reply was not made public.

Arab spokesmen had said earlier the seven Arab states warring upon Israel would reject the suggestions of Count Bernadotte, United Nations mediator.

Count Bernadotte flew to this city today from Rhodes, where he has been negotiating for an extension of the current four-week truce. He may receive the Jewish answer early next week.

In Tel Aviv the Israeli foreign office announced the cabinet will meet tomorrow to draft the Jewish reply to the Bernadotte proposals.

The four-week Palestine truce is due to expire next Friday. County Bernadotte said he would have the Arab and Jewish replies before the deadline.

UN headquarters at Lake Success said the mediator's peace proposals will be made public tomorrow afternoon. A UN spokesman said the 1,500-word text, submitted to the Arabs and Jews June 28 and 29, would be given out simultaneously in Lake Success, Cairo, Tel Aviv and Rhodes.

In Baghdad, Premier Muzahim Al Pachachi told the Iraqi senate he did not believe the UN proposals would be acceptable to the Arabs.

Lake Success informants said publication of the peace proposals was decided on as a result of the printing in a Cairo paper of a plan purporting to be that offered by Bernadotte. A high U.N. source said the published plan was "not entirely correct."

It was understood that aides of Trygve Lie, U.N. Secretary-General, hoped publication of the plan might open the way for a move to extend the Palestine truce.

Lie told reporters Friday at Lake Success that he hoped for an extension of the truce in the event Count Bernadotte was unable to obtain a Jewish-Arab agreement on permanent peace.

Bandits Get $4,000

VANCOUVER, July 3—(CP)—Bandits who held up a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada here Friday escaped with $4,000, bank officials reported. The two masked and armed gunmen passed up another $20,000 in their hurried dash from the bank.

Ask Berlin Highway Be Cleared Now; Plan To Fly In Coal

BERLIN, July 3.—(AP).—Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British military governor, demanded today that the Russians lift their blockade on the highway to Berlin at once. He suggested an immediate conference with the Soviet commander.

Sir Brian also demanded in a letter to Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, the Soviet commander, that the Russians say when rail traffic to the isolated city can be restored.

Sir Brian was prepared to meet Sokolovsky right away "to discuss times and methods of reopening communications."

The Socialist newspaper Telegraf quoted informed German Communists as saying Sokolovsky, this month's chairman of the Allied Control Council for Germany, might summon his western colleagues to a meeting.

The paper said Sokolovsky's purpose would be to "declare that the Control Council had failed in its function as trustee for German sovereignty and that would be the Council's last meeting."

If correct, this would mean the Russians planned to make a formal withdrawal from the four-power governing body for Germany similar to their withdrawal from the Berlin Kommandatura on Thursday.

The British commander's demand that the Berlin highway be opened brought no apparent result this morning. The British-zone border control point at Helmstedt said nothing was moving along the road except German pedestrains with adequate interzonal passes.

Officials at the control point added there was no rail movement yet either.

Increase Air Service

As the letter went out, planes roared over the city in the expanding British - American attempt to shuttle food from western Germany to some 2,500,000 western Berliners.

Allied experts said "flying coal cars" soon may join the growing air armada.

American and British officials indicated that the shuttle soon would be increased to more than 500 flights and 2,000 tons of food a day.

Sir Brian's letter was in reply to one from the Russian commander earlier this week in which Sokolovsky held out hope of completing "technical repairs" on the Helmstedt-Berlin rail line before the city's food supply ran out.

Sir Brian renewed his offer to discuss the use of a single kind of money in Berlin under four-power control. The three western Allies and the Russians have issued separate currencies in their respective Berlin sctors.

PROGRESS is being made at Peterborough Civic Hospital by the Eastwood Construction Company. This front view shows the framework of reinforced concrete. The centre feature will be eight storeys high and each of the wings, six storeys high. Exterior brick work was started two weeks ago, but does not show in this view of the building. The hospital will be one of the most modern on the continent.

Use Guns, Gas To Quiet Mob In Strike

ROME, July 3 — (AP) — Dispatches to the Rome press said today Carabinieri fired sub-machine guns in the air and used tear gas to disperse an angry mob during Friday's half-day national industrial strike.

Several persons were hurt in fighting and 27 demonstrators were arrested.

The dispatches said the skirmish, near Verona, started after a titled landlord tried to drive an automobile along a road blocked by demonstrators. There was a quarrel, the man was attacked and the Carabinieri rescued him and took him to their barracks, the stories said.

The mob surrounded the barracks and the Carabinieri fired over the people's heads to keep them off. The landlord's automobile was overturned. The dispatches said reinforcements of Carabinieri arriving from Verona used tear gas to break up the mob.

The Communist-controlled General Confederation of Labor (C.G.I.L.) set the stage for a series of national strikes running from Tuesday through Friday.

Meanwhile, the Italian senate gave Premier Alcide de Gasperi a 184-to-67 vote of confidence on his recovery and reform plans Friday night.

Friday night the chamber approved a Marshall-Plan agreement with the United States signed earlier this week. The vote was 264 to 76.

Crew Abandons Burning Ship

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP) — Flames swept the 5,000-ton Swedish steamship Dagmar Salen today, forcing its crew to abandon the vessel 10 miles off the Delaware coast.

Part of the crew was reported in lifeboats near the burning vessel; others had been taken aboard another ship, the SS Perla.

The master of the Perla radioed the Associated Press:

"We have half the crew on board.

"The captain (of the Dagmar Salen) and the rest of the crew are staying close to the burning ship on two lifeboats."

The Perla captain added that a United States Coast Guard cutter had arrived to pick up the rest of the crew.

The Coast Guard gave the location of the stricken ship as 10 miles east of the Delaware coast.

The United States coast guard said all the ship's crew except the captain and the chief engineer had taken to lifeboats.

One crew member was reported injured. The coast guard said it has dispatched a plane to return him to a hospital.

A coast guard cutter, the Gentian, was reported on hand to pick up the crew from lifeboats.

The cutter radioed that flames were sweeping the vessel amidships, enveloping the bridge and sending up towering billows of smoke.

Canada Terrible Country Sailor Asks Russ Refuge

MOSCOW, July 3—(Reuters).—All Russian newspapers today gave prominent play to the story of a Canadian-born sailor, Reginald Hubbard, who wrote to the British Ambassador in Moscow saying he wished to renounce his British citizenship, become a Soviet citizen and stay in Russia.

Hubbard, 43, wrote a similar letter to the Mayor of Odessa, where he landed from the 7,198-ton American ship Edward R. Squibb. In it he made formal application for Soviet citizenship.

He said only the Soviet Union could provide him with the chance to work without the constant threat of unemployment he had experienced most of his life.

He was single, because he had never had the chance to support a wife and family.

"My request is caused by the fact that during many years I have convinced himself that the political system in capitalist states, where it has fallen to me to live, cannot secure for each person the possibility of work and of normal existence in view of the injustices to which the system gives birth," he said in his application.

Hubbard has also written to the British Ambassador in Moscow that he wishes to give up his citizenship.

"I am 43 now but have no education — the aim of my whole life," Hubbard said when giving details of himself in his application for Soviet citizenship.

He added:

"I was born in Canada. My father, who was an engineer, held the position of Canadian Consul in the United States from 1913 to 1933.

"In 1922, when my father had lost his position, our life changed and I had to abandon my dream of getting educated and start working for my living.

"I had all kinds of jobs: postman, mechanic of a gas company, carpenter on a house-building project, cook in a restaurant, gardener.

"In the last few years I have had the job of sailor on American and Canadian ships."

Have No Record

External Affairs department officials at Ottawa said their files showed no record of an employee named Hubbard in the department at that period and that in any case, there were no Canadian consuls in the United States between 1913 and 1922.

"The first Canadian consulate in the U.S. was opened in New York in 1943," a spokesman said.

Refuse To Take More Prisoners

MONTREAL — The Sisters of the Good Shepherd today suddenly reversed a previous decision not to admit any more prisoners to east-end Fullum Street women's jail.

MONTREAL, July 3—(CP)—The gates of grey Fullum Street women's jail were shut today as the Sisters of the Good Shepherd refused to accept any more prisoners in what was believed to be a contract rift with the Provincial Government.

The move to bar further prisoners came Friday when a police patrol drove up to the east-end jail. When the Sisters refused to admit 10 women and authorities in charge of the jail's Protestant section took similar action the women were returned to police cells.

There were reports that the Sisters were refusing to accept more prisoners until provincial authorities supplied the jail with additional funds to meet increased food costs.

At Quebec City, Deputy Attorney-General Leopold Desilets said the Sisters were without justification in refusing new prisoners.

Politicians' Hopes, Fears Centred On Eisenhower

WASHINGTON, July 3. (CP)—Hopes and fears of United States politicians today centred on Gen. Dwight D. (Ike) Eisenhower, president of Columbia University.

They were waiting for the former allied commander to end the suspense created by a growing demand for him as democratic candidate for president.

An unequivocal declaration from Eisenhower that he will refuse nomination would end the fears of the Republican party and of President Truman and those who support him.

Failure of Eisenhower to make any statement before the Democratic national convention would lift the hopes of the numerous groups who, for one reason or another, are working for Eisenhower's nomination.

The general has made no more definite statement than that of last January when he declared he would not be available.

He said then that a military man should not seek office "in the absence of some obvious and over-riding reason."

Many think that, unless Eisenhower definitely and irrevocably removes himself from the picture, a demand for his nomination would sweep the convention when it opens July 12 in Philadelphia.

The question, pending a direct statement from the general, is what he would consider "an obvious and over-riding reason" for accepting nomination or permitting his name to be put before the convention.

At the moment he is the only serious threat to the nomination of Truman, who said Thursday he would be nominated on the first ballot and that he would be elected.

Friday, the White House denied a report that George E. Allen, one of the White House group, had been sent to New York to plead with Eisenhower to issue a refusal that would end the boom in his favor.

Recall Trade Missions In 48 Hours

Tito Delivers Three Sharp Notes On "Offensive Acts"

LONDON, July 3. (AP)—The Belgrade radio said today Albania, breaking trade relations with Yugoslavia, has ordered Yugoslav cultural and trade missions to leave the country within 48 hours.

The broadcast, monitored by the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjuga, said Primier Marshal Tito's foreign ministry had sent Albania a stiffly worded note protesting the severing of trade as a "gross violation" of international law.

Yugoslavia delivered three sharp notes to Albania yesterday accusing her of "offensive acts" to destroy Yugoslav prestige. The notes warned Albania of economic repercussions if such action continued. Today's broadcast continued.

Today's broadcast said Albania, by a unilateral act contrary to all fundamental principles of international law, had denounced "all economic agreements and protocols" with Yugoslavia.

Tanjug said the Albanian note was dated July 1, the day after the Yugoslav central government Communist party committee denied the Cominform charges that Tito and his lieutenants had strayed from the path of Marxism and were conducting an anti-Russian policy.

The Yugoslav notes charged Albanian authorities had insulted Yugoslavia, cut exports to her and stopped construction of a railroad to the border.

They were the latest developments in a Balkan neighbor's quarrel developing since the Communist International information bureau chastised Tito and other Yugoslav Communist leaders for a "hateful policy" toward Russia and a departure from Marxism-Leninism.

Four Men Killed In Quebec Accident

HOWICK, Que., July 3 (CP).—Four men suffered fatal injuries in a highway crash early today near this Chateauguay County village 30 miles west of Montreal and a fifth was in hospital with injuries not regarded as serious.

Provincial police listed the dead as Wilfrid Arcot, 22, Beauharnois; Fabien Primeau, 23, Adrien Daoust, 34, and Renaud Trudel, 19, all of Howick.

Roch Parent, 20, of Howick was in hospital at nearby Ormstown suffering from general bruises and shock.

Police said the accident occurred when the speeding car in which the five were riding went out of control and crashed into a tree. The car was demolished.

An inquest will be held at nearby St. Martine this afternoon under Dr. I. K. Williams, coroner.

Only One Out Of Four Prisoners Still Free

HAILEYBURY, July 3 (CP).—Only one of the four district men who staged a jail break here Dominion Day remained at large today.

He was William Glen Lewis, 36, of Kirkland Lake. Police, aided by district residents in checking the few roads and rail lines in this section of Northern Ontario roughly midway between North Bay and Kirkland Lake, expressed confidence of his early capture.

Four provincial police constables stalked Charles Dale, 40 and Andrew Peacock, 33, both of Timmins, through thick bush. Then they pounced on the tired fugitives while they rested beside a creek a quarter of a mile from the Ferguson highway.

A few hours later a party of volunteer searchers stopped Peter Vahey, 20, on a rural road 12 miles from here. Pahey, whose home is 15 miles south of here in Silver Centre, gave up without a struggle.

Prince Michael 6, Bacon Slicing Expert

Never Dull Moment With Lively Youngster Always In Mischief

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, July 3. (CP)—Prince Michael of Kent, a lively little boy who is the only royal expert on bacon-slicing, celebrates his sixth birthday tomorrow.

In his public appearances, when he is away from the village of Iver, Buckinghamshire, and therefore cannot be turning the handle of the grocer's bacon-slicing machine, he is often the main attraction although far more famous people are present.

For Michael, as a royal page and trainbearer, made Westminster Abbey gasp when he loitered and stumbled as Princess Elizabeth's wedding procession moved towards the altar; yawned a mighty yawn and rubbed his stomach before the film cameras when the royal family posed after the wedding; took his own bows on a Buckingham Palace balcony when other royalty went inside and can be guaranteed — like any other boy of his age — to do the unexpected.

Always In Trouble

Michael, at the circus, demanded to be allowed to ride a black Shetland pony, and persisted until his mother agreed. Michael, at solemn ceremonies, is apt to stray from his seat to satisfy curiosity by personal investigation. Sometimes his mother thinks he is walking at her side in procession, when he isn't.

He was born at Coppins, the house near Iver which his father and mother favored as their country home. He was less than two months old when his father was killed in an airplane accident in Northern Scotland.

Young Michael, scowling and fidgety in his kilt, has become a minor hero in British film audiences. They seldom think of him as Prince Michael George Charles Franklin of Kent, seventh in direct succession to the throne after his elder brother, Prince Edward, Duke of Kent.

He was born on the United States Independence Day and he is the first of the Royal Family to have an American for a godfather. The late President Roosevelt was invited to be one of his eight godfathers and willingly agreed. Hence the "Franklin" in his name.

There never was a Franklin" or a Michael" in the Royal family before. His parents chose to call him by the latter name because they liked it.

Interested In Bacon

His interest in bacon-slicing developed when he was three and almost daily visited Iver village with his nurse and brother and sister. The children were taught to make little purchases for the Coppins household—and Michael, with single-minded zest, became the slave of the bacon-slicing machine.

Thereafter he made a daily pilgrimage and the store employees began to hold back bacon-slicing until he arrived.

Jas. F. McMillan Of Belmont Dies In Field

HAVELOCK, July 3.—(ENS). —James Francis McMillan, 73, of Belmont township, died suddenly about four o'clock Friday afternoon while working with his son Carman in the hay field on his farm, east of the village on the Cordova Rd. He suffered a heart attack and passed away immediately.

Mr. McMillan has been in failing health for about six years but recently his health seemed to improve and he visited Niagara Falls about two weeks ago. He was born in Belmont township, a son of the late William McMillan and Janet Simpson. He had followed farming as an occupation all his life, first on the homestead on the Cordova Rd., and then at his late residence which is only a short distance away. He was a member of Knox Presbyterian church.

Surviving besides his widow (formerly Annie Lewis) are three sons, Howard of Portage La Prairie, Manitoba, Cecil of Round Lake and Carman at home; one brother, Fred, of Belmont township.

HERE ARE TWO pictures from battered Berlin during the crisis which Winston Churchill describes as creating conditions as dangerous as those of Munich in 1938. Crisis is the result of the apparent determined effort of the Soviets to squeeze the western powers out of the German capital. Russian blockading of the city, by rail and road, forced the U.S. and British forces to supply their Berlin zones by air. In the city the tension that prevails is best illustrated by the scene above, where youngsters watch an American patrol tank on the street ready for action, ammunition in place and ready to feed to the guns. Below, civilian Berliners, caught between the big power pincers, have to do with even shorter rations than the short ones they had. Lines like this are everywhere. To still further complicate the situation, German currency has been reformed at the rate of one new mark for ten of the old.

Denies Air Help If Strike Called

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP). — A high-ranking government official Friday night said the government is "doing everything in its power" to avert a possible rail strike July 15 and that negotiations were continuing.

However, in the event of a breakdown in negotiations between a mediation board and 18 international railway brotherhoods, it would be "childish," he said, to think the government would provide other facilities, such as RCAF aircraft, to provide essential country-wide transportation.

He indicated that negotiations will reach their crucial point early next week, when the government in Ottawa will receive a report from the mediation board set up in Montreal.

In other quarters, there were indications that the RCAF would be prepared to bring in some aircraft to the rescue of Canadian centres if the strike was brought into force.

Entry List Small In Lindsay Horse Show

LINDSAY, July 3.—(ENS). — The first Lindsay horse show featured the second day of the old home week program at the Exhibition grounds Friday. Patrons Lady Eaton, MFH, and Frank Proctor, MGH, spoke briefly and commended the committee on the horse show. Lady Eaton noting the small attendance pointed out that the first show is always the most difficult to put across. Lindsay's only entries in the show, the young sons of Dr. C. W. Lyons, did well in the junior hack class. Eleven-year-old Peter, riding in his first competition, placed second on Sun Glow, while John 14, was third on Kawartha Jane. The horse show continues today and many fine animals who completed at the Toronto hores show on the first and second are expected to compete. The Royal Canadian Regiment Band of Brockville, will be in attendance.

Friday night an unidentified plane had bombed Bitolj, Yugoslavia, Thursday night and the town still was without electric power. Bitolj is about 10 miles from Greece and 30 miles from Albania.

The same source, at Greek army headquarters at Kozane, Greece, said 13 armed Yugoslav civilians surrendered Friday at a Greek border post. Whether they were for or against Tito was not indicated.

One of the Yugoslav notes said Albanian authorities had committed "gross and offensive acts aimed at destroying" Yugoslavia's prestige, including pulling down pictures of Tito.

The second said they had halted construction of a railroad to the Yugoslav border from Scutari, about 20 miles inside Albania, and stopped all exports to Yugoslavia.

The third charged they had kicked out a Yugoslav colonel who was in Albania as a political instructor and "slandered Yugoslavia and her leaders in an unworthy manner."

HOLIDAY TOLL

Holiday traffic has increased mortality on the Lakefield Road. At Gill's this morning a big porcupine was dead on the pavement, and near the drive-in were a cat and skunk. The toll of life raises in proportion to the number of cars and the hazard they create.

Police Scour Bush For Gun

RIVIERE DU LOUP, Que., July 3 —. (CP). — Police thrashed through a lonely stretch of roadside bush 10 miles from this south shore St. Lawrence town today as they sought the murder gun that brought brutal death to a banker and his taxi driver.

The shattered condition of the bodies, the finding of a 20 guage shell—these were the clues that made police think bank manager Louis Philippe Breton and taxi-driver Wilfrid Dumais of Trois Pistoles died by a series of blasts from a sawed-off shotgun.

Scheduled inquest and autopsy today would tell the story.

Meanwhile, police were holding 35-year-old Maurice Lebel as a material witness in the Dominion Day killing. The truckdriver from the back concessions hamlet of St. Guy was arrested as he crossed a Riviere Du Loup street at noon Friday.

Breton and Dumais died as they drove over a deserted dirt road between Cacouna and St. Modeste, and police thought they might have been shot from the back seat of their blue sedan. The front windshield was shattered by five gun blasts.

Beyond that, there were a lot of questions still to be answered. Why were the blasted bodies lying 75 feet apart on the road? Why did the killer fire such a fusillade of shots when two might have sufficed? Above all, where was the murder gun?

Police could not say how long the bodies lay on the little travelled road. They might not have been discovered for days had three drivers not decided to take a short cut Thursday night.

CCL Takes A Hand In Seamen's Dispute

TORONTO, July 3.— (CP). — The Canadian Congress of Labor has taken a hand in the Great Lakes shipping dispute over sailors' contracts.

The CCL Friday called on Labor Minister Mitchell to take "appropriate steps" to end the dispute between the Canadian Seamen's Union and four shipping companies which refuse to sign contracts wtih the CSU on grounds it is Communist-led.

The CSU is affiliated with the Trades and Labor Congress, generally considered a rival organization of the CCL. But Pat Conroy, CCL secretary-treasurer, said in a letter to the labor minister that the principle involved is one of "the greatest importance."

Orange Lodge 'Walk' To Aid New Hall

MARMORA, July 3 —(ENS)— Orange Lodges of Central Hastings County will hold an Orange Walk in Marmora July 12. In charge of Nickle L.O.L. 285 Malone, the walk is to raise enthusiasm for a new hall on the site across from the village store.

The Lodge dates back many years to its original site at Wannamaker's Corners near Eldorado. Then the late George Nickle granted land on his property for the erection of the Hall which has been used since 1881. The present name of the Lodge was inspired by the late James and John Nickle. Members of the Nickle family have kept up the traditions of their predecessors ever since. James Nickle, grandson of John Nickle, and ex-warden of Hastings County, is also past County Master. Albert and William Nickle are two other family members also in office today.

The fund for the new hall has been growing for the past two or three years. Suppers and other events sponsored by members' wives have brought in some money. An old-fashioned dinner will be served on the day of the Walk. In addition to the wives, help will be obtained from the Harmony LOBA, 600 Marmora and Marmora LOL 319. As the nearest celebration of Orangemen is 50 miles away, a large gathering of Lodges is expected here.

When the Walk is carried out on the Marmora Fair grounds, it is hoped that the revenue obtained will make the building of the new hall possible within the next year.

Food Prices Boost Index

OTTAWA, July 3.— (CP). — Canada's dinner table today wobbled under a heavier burden of food prices which shot the official cost-of-living index to a historic peak.

The Bureau of Statistics attributed almost all of a one-point spurt during May to higher food costs. As the index climbed from 153.3 at May 1 to 154.3 at June, the price of food rose from 191.2 to 193.9.

However, the Bureau noted a bright spot in the cost-of-living scales. The rate of rise had dropped from the previous month. The one-point jump compared with a jump of 1.7 points during April. Since the outbreak of war in 1939 the rise in the index has been 53.1 per cent.

Most of the heavier food prices were reflected in meats and vegetables. There was no indication by the Bureau whether the removal of the eight-per-cent sales tax from certain processed and canned goods, announced in the budget May 18, had any effect on the index. Butter, which already was tax free, averaged lower.

Some decline in the miscellaneous item index — a fractional drop from 122.9 to 122.7—was believed in part due to the removal of the theatre tax in some places.

But other advances were marked. The cost of clothing rose from 173.6 to 174.8. There were scattered advances in the prices of coal and coke, sending the fuel-and-light index up from 122.7 to 124.3. Home furnishings and services rose to 162. from 161.9.

Bracken Raps Ottawa Over Trade Policy

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP) — Progressive Conservative Leader John Bracken Thursday night flayed the government for swinging Canada's trade pendulum from the United Kingdom to the United States.

Integration of Canada's economy with that of the United States, said Mr. Bracken in a free-ttime political address over the national network of the CBC, was another theory which "assumes that the tail can wag the dog."

"Our economic relations with the United States have been the usual relations of a business man conducting his business on credit with a super salesman. We are always in debt to them."

To Distribute Fingerlings In District

HAVELOCK, July 3—(ENS)—At a recent meeting of the Belmont-Havelock Fish and Game Association the following officers were elected on a report presented by the nominating committee:

President, Harold Kennedy; Vice-President, William Copp; Secretary - Treasurer, George Hubbel.

Main item of business was the care and delivery of fingerlings on arrival from the hatchery to designated waters. It was decided to establish a central delivery depot and Gilbert Crook's offer to take care of this matter on the property of the Canada Needle and Fishing Tackle factory was accepted.

It was decided to appoint a committee to be responsible for the fingerlings' arrival at the waters. The following were appointed on this committee: John Rogers for Belmont, Mud Turtle and Deer Lakes; Ross Hart and Earl Pollock for Round Lake and North River; William Longmuir and Sandy Whitstone for Trout, clear and Tongamong Lakes; R. Doan for South Lake; Harold Kennedy for Kosh and Oak Lakes. Ted Watson was appointed to have charge of the trout fingerlings.

As the expenses in connection with the distribution of the fingerlings would be quite large the area was divided into two divisions. The south division will comprise Round, Belmont, Deer and Mud Lakes, Trent River and the trout streams. In this area a rate of 10 cents per mile both ways was set, while 15 cents per mile both ways was allowed for the northern waters.

The sale of membership tickets was reported going over well. The objective is to make every resident of the community a member of the association.

FEATURE OF THE Dominion Day celebration by the 750-member Noranda-Rouyn branch of the Canadian Corps was laying of a cornerstone of Remembrance House, new clubrooms for the veterans. Taffy Davies, 80, a Boer War veteran, is shown laying stone.

Will Broadcast Convention Talks

OTTAWA, July 3 — (CP) — Thhe CBC board of governors today announced that speeches broadcast at national political convention choosing party leaders will be allowed free national network time and other national parties will be allotted half such time the following week.

The board's announcement, made as a statement of policy, said it was felt such broadcasts of national conventions should be in the public interest and that fairness called for counterbalancing time to other qualifying national parties.

Under wartime censorship regulations such broadcasts were not permitted, the statement said, but they are possible in peacetime.

Text of the statement:

The board of governors has been considering questions raised by the possibility of broadcasting speeches from important conventions of national political parties. This was not possible in war time.

The Fourth British Empire

Alarmists and anglophobes have been numerously and frequently saying since 1940 that Britain is done for and the British Empire finished. They point to Britain's economic plight, to the Socialist Government of Attlee, to the independence of Burma, the autonomy of India and the diminution of British power on land, sea and in the air as certain signs of imperial disintegration.

• • •

There have been similar prophets of doom in other eras. After the Seven Years' War (1756-1763) the Britain of Pitt and Elder was imperial. It had colonial possessions like Canada, America, India. This first British Empire seemed to be disintegrating when the American colonies revolted. Liberals of the time, breathing the hot winds of French political philosophy, said that empire and monarchy were outmoded terms. Soon came the French Revolution to give validity to their propositions. Then came the long struggle against Napoleon. By 1815 (the Congress of Vienna) the British Empire was the largest and strongest under the sun. This Second Empire expanded and grew wealthy from the fruits of the Industrial Revolution. "The British pound and the British passport were keys to all the doors of the world", notes Paul McGuire in his Experiment in World Order. The Great Exhibition of 1851 marked the empire's pinnacle, the pageantry of Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee (1897) its triumphant eulogy. For already the new liberals (radicals, trade unionists, Fabians) were prophesying the end of British dominion.

• • •

They pointed to the responsible government achieved by Canada, to the Boer War (when many Britons sympathized with the revolting Boers), to the developing political conscience of working people. Did not even miners have a vote? Then came the Great War, severe and costly. Out of that emerged the British Commonwealth, the Third British Empire. This was a large grouping of nations and people, some of them with colonial status, some with complete independence made manifest by the Statute of Westminster (1926). There had been an Imperial War Cabinet in the first war, there had been in the twenty-five years various Imperial Conferences. It was a period of urban and industrial expansion in the Dominions, of the decline of privileged classes, of "debunking". Economic practice and morality were changing if not shattered. Bold reds marking the vast imperial domain were toned down into pinks and old-rose. But when the last war broke out the Commonwealth's frontiers included a quarter of the earth's surface and more than two hundred distinguishable units.

• • •

The late war has come and gone. Has it marked the end of the Commonwealth, the Third Empire, or the beginning of the Fourth Empire—a new Commonwealth which may eventually include the United States of America? Is Britain down and out merely because in this decade it has a Labour Government and nearly catastrophic economic difficulties? Is the Commonwealth doomed because India has complete self-government?

• • •

What of the men and voices of Mr. Churchill's quality? Has the British System as it has appeared in history these hundred years not been the nearest we have come to world government? He takes a short view of history and a poor one of humanity who can readily believe that the first world system men have achieved is now doomed to extinction and that the nation central to it is forever impotent. There is a good hope, even reason to believe, that from the Third Empire is being born a fourth, not to be marked on a world map in dominant reds nor necessarily to be centred in London.

• • •

Canada may be taking the lead in forming this new Commonwealth. Mr. Mackenzie King lately suggested that Canada can look forward to the King and Queen residing part of each year in Ottawa. "The day will come, I believe, when this Dominion will hold the first place among the nations of the Commonwealth. The United Kingdom will always be the spiritual centre". This is not the voice of doom.

A Year Of The Recreation Commission

The Peterborough Recreation Commission has issued its first report, covering its work from May, 1947, to April, 1948. The report is ably prepared and is presented in a manner which is a welcome break with tradition, and which is particularly suited to a municipal body which accepts cheering the populace as its principal duty.

The provincial experiment of which the local commission is a part has not been long under way, and it cannot yet be said that it has established itself as a governmental fixture; it will be an obvious spot for economy if this or any future provincial government has to retrench. Nothing can alter the fact, however, that the experiment has given Ontario municipalities a new outlook on the whole matter of recreation, and has helped many a city to ravel out the tangled skein of its sports and pastimes. It is a plain fact that under the eye of the Recreation Commission the amusements of the people of Peterborough have been more numerous and better organized than ever before. A word of special commendation must be said about the playgrounds which were established at focal points in the city last summer, and which took up their work again on Dominion Day. The provision of places in which children can play happily without too much organization, and with enough (but not too much) supervision is a splendid work for which the whole city is grateful to the director of recreation and his staff of conscientious and able assistants.

The Recreation Commission has established itself in Peterborough and has carried through a year's work with distinction. Whatever changes the future may bring we do not think that the city will ever be able to manage its pastimes again without some such body.

The Charwomen Of Ottawa

The Minister of Public Works, we observe, has promised that in future the charwomen in the employ of the Government will be called "women cleaners". We wonder if the Hon. Alphonse Fournier enquired into the history of the ward "charwoman" before he agreed to this change? Certainly he permitted some C.C.F. members to imply that the use of the word "charwoman" was slighting and even cruel. If they honestly hold this opinion we think that it is time that they learned more about the word.

"Char" is a very good old English word which originally meant "a turn" and which later was used in the sense of "a turn or spell of work". The excellent word "chore" comes from the same source. A charwoman is a woman who does the chores of washing, sweeping and tidying. What, we may ask, is the disgrace in the word?

If the sensitive gentlemen who cannot bear the horrid word reply that "charwoman" has sometimes meant a woman of low character or coarse behaviour, the charwomen of Ottawa can quickly dispell that impression by being women of high character and pleasant behaviour.

We are sick and tired of the Nice Nellies who want words struck out of our language because the words have, in parochial or ill-informed minds, gained some meaning other than their original one. We honour the good Biblical word "servant", but we despise the words "lady help"; we are well disposed toward a charwoman, but we are suspicious of "women cleaners". No change of name alters the entirely respectable and worthy fact that certain women employed in the Houses of Parliament do its chores, and we think it is better, because more descriptive, to call them charwomen.

NOTE AND COMMENT

What is a dime, my little man? Well, it's a dollar with the taxes taken out.

The Fon of Bikom, in central Africa, has 110 wives and each wife has at least one child. Lots of Fon obviously!

"Fly Branded As Worst Scourge Of Mankind", says a headline. If we ever got close enough to a fly to brand it, we'd finish the job.

Recently the legislators of Vermont and Massachusetts held a milking contest in Boston, and it was a great success. If the Federal Government and the boys at Queen's Park ever decide on a jamboree of this kind, we suggest that taxpayers be substituted for cows, so that they can show what fancy milkers they really are.

Diary Of A Lodger

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: When I awoke this morning there was a smell of burning in the air, and for a moment I wondered if the northern bush fires had crept up during the night, in the hope of engulfing me and my neighbours. While dressing I wondered what I would do in such an emergency: would I form a firebreak by chopping down the puny hedge of Marchbanks Towers, order my dependents to go and stand waist-deep in the nearest lake, and take up a menacing position on the lawn with a soda syphon; or would I 'phone the fire department, shrieking "Save me! Save Me!"? Like all men whose work consists of dreaming, word-spinning and prophesying, I like to torture myself with these problems; nothing so entrances a man of words as to imagine himself in a situation in which words are powerless. It is this which keeps him humble. Men of action, I notice, are rarely humble, even in situations where action of any kind is a great mistake, and masterly inaction is called for.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: On a brief country drive this afternoon saw a sign on a gate which said "Lions In Here". Stopped to investigate but saw no lions, or any trace of them, though the ground was trampled and there were signs which, to an old trapper like myself, clearly indicated that a service club had held some sort of jamboree there.... A man I met today tells me that frog's legs are collected by Indians hereabout and sold by the hundredweight to restaurateurs, who put them in cold storage and sell them in the wintertime to the kind of people who simply cannot live without frog's legs. Pondered on the number of frogs which would be required to provide a hundredweight of legs; reckoning ten pairs of legs to a pound, I make it 500 frogs.... I have never eaten frog's legs, but I am told that they are a great delicacy, much appreciated by the high-livers of Toronto, and similar centres of luxurious abandonment. I have never eaten snails, either. But to prepare snails for the table they must be boiled for several hours to rid them of their slime, and from childhood I have associated snails with puppy dog's tails—another delicacy which I have hitherto avoided.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: This is summer, unmistakeably. One can always tell when when one sees schoolteachers hanging about the streets idly, looking like cannibals during a shortage of missionaries. Of course schoolteachers are not idle all summer long; no, no. Very soon the well-paid ones will be travelling, the poorly-paid ones will be sweating in summer jobs, and great numbers of others will be in summer schools, stoking themselves with knowledge which they will disgorge next autumn. Here and there a few mad eccentrics will be found reading and thinking, having somewhere received the impression that this indulgence is somehow connected with their work. But for a few days at the end of every school year teachers of whatever degree may be seen roaming the streets, slightly dazed and a trifle irresponsible, like the slaves immediately after Lincoln signed the decree of emancipation.... Tonight saw a small skunk hurrying through my garden, heading toward the garbage cans. Late for an appointment with his girl, I suppose. I had always thought of the skunk as a slow-moving creature, but this one was hustling along at a rate which would not have disgraced a terrier.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: A man whom I had never seen before turned up in my office today and seated himself in the uncomfortable chair which I keep for guests with the air of one who bears a great message. Indeed, he wore the dedicated look which I have learned to associate with magazine salesmen and agents for worthless encyclopaedias. "Mr. Marchbanks", said he, "I saw by a recent diary of yours that you have been absent from your work, undergoing treatment for an illness; you assured your readers that you were not taking the Gold Cure, but that may have been an attempt to pull the bull over their eyes. Now, Mr. Marchbanks, I represent an organization of which you have doubtless heard—the Nameless Drunks, we call ourselves—and if we can help you, we certainly will. You too, can overcome your habit, Marchbanks! You too may become a Nameless Drunk if you so choose!" I allowed him to talk for an hour or so, during which time he imparted to me the secret sign of the Nameless Drunks: you raise an imaginary glass, but instead of putting it to your lips, you pretend to pour it into your eye; you then make motions as though shaking a drink out of your right ear. By means of this simple, hardly observable sign, Nameless Drunks can recognize each other anywhere.

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: There are disadvantages to civilization. Today was one of those damp, hot muggy days when you stick to the seat of your chair, and when your usually crisp writing paper sags like old lettuce. It was a semi-tropical day, in fact, and in a nice, uncivilized, semi-tropical country little black boys with shining teeth would have trotted into my room every half hour with mint juleps, or Tom Collinses. But Canada is too civilized for such things, and I joined the queue at the water cooler, speculating on the price of passage to a backward country, where work is kept in its proper place.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: Sat on my verandah this evening, reading Winston Churchill's new book, which I do very slowly, because I seem to hear that wonderful, phlegmy voice declaiming every word. How many people, I wonder, hear voices as they read? I always do. I read American books with an American accent, and English books with an English accent, and Canadian books in the voice of a friend of mine who speaks the best Canadian I have heard. People have told me that I would be able to read much faster if I gave up this indulgence, and clutched groups of words and whole paragraphs with my greedy eyes, but I pay no attention to them. My method is the one I like, and it is an infallible touchstone for judging a writer's style. The man who writes only for the eye generally writes badly; the man who writes to be heard will write with some eloquence, some regard for the music of words, and will reach nearer to his reader's heart and mind. Of course, fools and clods will write like fools and clods, whatever means they use... Sensed a presence; it was the skunk again. He is a pretty little fellow, and I think I shall call him Chanel. He may fill the gap left at the Towers by the loss of Tiger the Cat, two years ago.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: Painters and paperhangers have invaded the Towers, and I am gaining a new appreciation of that story about the Arab who invited the camel to come into his tent. They began in one room, and I hardly noticed them for a day or two, but then they began to spread their sphere of influence, and now I spend my time between the verandah and my bedroom. They have removed a good deal of wallpaper, and have left the remainder hanging in strips, showing beneath it occasional reminders of a taste other than mine—a taste which ran to little Dutch ships sailing on little Dutch canals. They have caused me to hunch all my furniture into a single room, and cover it with tarpaulins. Several times a day I creep under these tarpaulins in search of scraps of paper on which I have made notes, and which are in the back of the least accessible drawer of the bottom table. I hold no grudge against these men; they are there because I invited them, and they will make the Towers a delightful bijou residence, instead of the decaying slum which several years of tousled living had created. But at the moment I am no better than a lodger in my own house—a creature who is there on sufferance.

SHRINK ANYTHING

A man complained that everything he sent to the laundry came back shrunk. So, one day, in desperation and in a highly sarcastic mood, he got a railroad spike and tied a tag to it on which he wrote, "Now, let me see you shrink this". About a week later when the laundry came back he found a tag in it to which was attached a tack. On the tag it said "Here it is."

SING ho! for all brave picnicers
Their paths with paper strewn
Who deck the land on every hand
In the merry month of June!

Into the frying bacon
See the coffee overrun,
There are ashes in the sugar
It is really lots of fun;
There are bugs among the berries
And curdles in the cream,
A picnic in the month of June
Is everybody's dream.

Where anopheles are flourishing,
And ants have found it nourishing
Then ho! for picnic parties
(Will this be over soon?)
The baby, with her bottle
Has dropped into the drink;
Her mother has hysterics
But she'll come around, they think;
And see how junior's swelling
Like an overblown balloon;
What ho! for outdoor dwelling
In the jolly month of June!

Sing ho! I say for picnicers
As long as they remain
So brave to face the menu
So strong to stand the strain!

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And, behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son: for he is mine only child. And, lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him hardly departeth from him. And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; and they could not.

And Jesus answering said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither. And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. (Luke 9: 38-43.)

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do: because I go unto my Father. (John 14: 12.)

Who'll Speak Against Taxation?

The injustice of the crushing tax burden in this country should be driven home in every newspaper and from every broadcasting station. It has become vicious, taking at least one dollar out of every three that an average family earns.

Unfortunately, radio is unlikely to take up the cudgels on the taxpayer's behalf. The CBC, although it claims to belong to those who pay taxes, is actually operated by the Government, which collects them. Further, it is itself dependent on a $2.50 yearly listening tax for its existence.

That leaves the newspapers, which are in no way dependent upon getting taxes (only in paying them) and are entirely free to speak their minds on the subject. But for how long? Authorities claim that the present system of distributing newspapers may soon be entirely replaced by facsimile—the printing of newspapers in the home via radio wave. Such a process will automatically come under the jurisdiction of the CBC, which controls all wireless broadcasting to the public in Canada. Unless existing radio laws are changed, it will mean the end of freedom of the press.

And unless something is done about relieving the taxpayer's burden before that happens, there is precious little chance of anything being done after. — The Canadian Statesman.

PUT ON THE PRESSURE

Dr. J. M. Buckley, a Methodist divine, was once asked to conduct an experience meeting at a church in the South.

A woman arose and bore witness to the preciousness of her religion as a light-bringer and a comfort-giver.

"That's good, sister," commented Dr. Buckley. "But how about the practical side. Does your religion make you strive to prepare your husband a good dinner? Does it make you look after him in every way?"

Just then Dr. Buckley sensed the preacher yanking his coat-tails and whispering ardently: "Press dem questions; press dem questions, Doctor; dat's my wife."

With PETE McGILLEN

IT WAS CHILLY along the Kawartha front Thursday morning for the enthusiastic army of anglers on deck for an early joust with the bass and muskies. Dave House said fishing on Lake Chemong was like casting on a February morning. I wouldn't know, because I set the alarm for ten in the morning. Before six that same morning there were more than 30 plump walleyes lying on the dam and pier at Young's Point. In fact, the pickerel fishermen, had one of the best days in weeks. Thursday evening, they were still hauling them out, with live minnows being the best bait. Pickerel fishing was good at Burleigh, too, and a few were picked up along the lower Otonabee river. Reports from Rice lake were not available, Harwood, Bewdley and Hiawatha all failed to make any reports.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

ONLY FOUR small-mouth black bass were entered in the Grey and Bruce derby at weighing-in time on Thursday night. None were very large, and there was one disappointed customer who came waltzing in with a 4½ pound large-mouth, which of course, was not eligible. The market hall will be open for weighing-in on Sunday night between eight and nine o'clock, and entries will also be received up to ten o'clock on Monday morning. The contest closes at ten o'clock sharp Monday. Last year many anglers were disappointed when a fish weighing less than four pounds copped a prize. They claimed they had caught larger ones and had not entered them. That mistake is made every year. Anglers should remember that five-pound small-mouth black bass are mighty scarce. There were no muskies entered Thursday evening, and so far it looks as if a lightweight is going to take the top prize.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

BEST OPENING DAY fish yarn is about an American from Cleveland who was trolling at Gannon's Narrows. He nailed a 19½ pound muskie early Thursday morning, and immediately hopped into his car and headed for home. "I'm going to have fresh fish for supper in Cleveland or bust", was his parting remark. He didn't even stop to enter it in the contest. Gerald Rosenbaum and his wife from Kalamazoo, Mich., caught two muskies, six pickerel and six bass. That is certainly batting a thousand. They fished at Burleigh Falls. Joe Zimmerman, taxi-cab executive from Cleveland, flew to Toronto, then took a plane from Toronto to Burleigh Falls. He made the last leg of the trip in 45 minutes. He caught two maskinonge, one a keeper, and five bass, and was quite satisfied with the opening day's catch. Bob McClelland and Dave Wilson, Peterborough, also fished in Stony lake near Burleigh Falls. They collected a muskie, 11 pickerel and four bass. A guest at Park Hotel, Burleigh Falls, named Kleinpeter, caught a four pound small-mouth black bass.

ANGLERS SHOULD REMEMBER that the Examiner Lucky Strike Fish contest is being held again this year. There are three prizes in each of the following divisions: maskinonge, small-mouth black bass, large-mouth bass, pickerel (walleyes), lake trout, brown trout, and speckled trout. Any fish caught within the area bounded on the west by a line drawn north from Whitby, and on the east by a line drawn north and south, through Sharbot lake, may be entered. Lake Ontario is the southern boundary and the northern boundary of Algonquin Park is the northern boundary. In other words, whether your entry clicks in the Grey and Bruce derby or not, be sure to enter it in the Examiner Lucky Strike contest. The coupon to be used for entering a fish is in the Canadian Vacation Guide. Last year there were only two entries in the speckled trout division, and unless there is a better showing this year, that section will be discontinued. All prizes in this contest are from Frank Edgar, manager of the Lucky Strike Bait Company.

JUNE, THE MONTH when Nature's children sing their songs of love and happiness has slipped into oblivion. Summer is approaching its fullness completing the recurring cycle of the year. Peas are heavy in the pod, grain heads are full, and the rattling, staccato song of the hay-mower sounds across the rural scene. Farmers toil far into the twilight packing the mows with sweet-scented red clover, timothy, alfalfa and sweet clover. The smell of rich ripe hay is everyhwere. Along the twin-rutted bush roads, the mother partridge guides her flock of chickens, now more than two weeks old, plump, and spindly-legged. Ox-eye daisies carpet the meadows, and here and there the annoying yet oddly beautiful mustard, gives a splash of yellow to grain fields. In the deep swamps and along the bushland waterways, fawns are opening their soft questioning eyes to a new world, while the does, gaunt and thin forage close by rebuilding their strength. Tiny chipmunks, this year's crop, bounce across the highways, tails erect, matching speed with modern motor cars. Soon, very soon, the lush green of summer will turn to brown.

WHY ARE HUMANS so cold-bloodedly destructive? Why is it that motorists won't slow down when they see a groundhog, a skunk, a cottontail, a partridge or a squirrel on the road? I am amazed at the toll motor cars take of the wildlife along the highways. Every few miles one can see the shapeless, sodden, fly-clouded lump that was once an animal. Far too often this clump is at the edge of the travelled portion. Proof positive some blood-thirsty pervert had deliberately veered the car to send the animal into eternity. It is all so confoundedly stupid. Too bad every hair-brained speed demon who wilfully engages in this slaughter would not have three dead skunks thrown under his bed for a month. Some years ago I covered a trial in which a woman was charged with manslaughter. She had been the driver of a car that killed a girl. That woman was very indignant because anyone had dared to lay a charge against her. I almost had a bilious attack listening to the evidence. Maybe these animal killers are in that class, too. Maybe their minds are slanted to a belief that killing is their privilege. Humanity, phooie.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

THIS WEEK I FOUND a stretch of one-way road winding through the woods from highway 28, to near Wilberforce. It's a 20 mile-an-hour road. By that I mean if you drive any faster you are likely to die very suddenly at a sharp curve by meeting another car head-on. After zipping along at 50 up highway 28, it takes a minute or two to switch your mind to contentment at the slow speed, but it's delightful if you do. I saw six partridge on the trip. Twice, the mother birds refused to move, so I stopped the car. When I tooted the horn, they crouched low, and ran along the wheel track until they found an opening in the tall grass. At another spot, an old groundhog was perched atop a woodpile with four young ones. On a straight stretch, a porcupine, with quills erect, much like a peacock shaping her tail, ambled across the road. There were yellow swallow-tail butterflies galore, and many others I could not identify. I counted 17 different kinds of songbirds. New green fingers of growth decorated the spruce trees, and the wild flowers were gorgeous.

Peterborough's Ornamental Swimmers Introduce New Branch To the Arts

By NANCY SOOTHERAN

What we might now safely call a new branch of the arts, Ornamental Swimming has been steadily gaining strength in the past few years, and is now threatening to capture the interest which until now has been concentrated on the ballet and figure skating.

Ornamental swimming found its first roots in the stunts of the Royal Life Saving Society which came to Canada about 1918. Figure swimming as a new activity was taken up and experimented with by Frances Gale of Montreal, and in 1926 she put up the now famous Gale trophy for competition in this field. Toronto took up the idea and soon the Dolphinettes, under the training of Alex Duff became nationally known for their water shows and graceful performances.

In 1926 the movement came to Peterborough. Miss Caroline Littlefield, then swimming instructress for the YWCA, had been teaching the stunts as advocated by the Life Saving Society, but in the following years these stunts were perfected into ornamental swimming.

By 1935, enthusiasm for this new type of water sport had so interested six of the Y girls, that they formed a club for its advancement under coach Ross Thompson. These were the Signets, and are known as the pro-Swimming Club.
genitor of the present Ornamental

It lasted two years, and dealt only in school figures, but it lasted long enough to create the interest which resulted in the formation in 1937, by Miss Littlefield, of the well-known "Silver Finettes."

Here the school stunts or figures were perfected and co-ordinated into patterns and displays, and every Spring and Fall exhibitions were put on to begin and end the Y swimming season. These became increasingly popular, and the public to become aware of a new sport.

Then came the war. And in the accompanying increase of physical activities, Miss Littlefield was forced to give up the swimming to deal with the gym demands. So for several years, figure swimming faded into the background and was temporarily forgotten. But in 1944, under the direction of Mrs. Pansy Forbes, present instructress of the Ornamentalists, interest in its possibilities wa revived by several of the girls at the Y camp. Encouraged by Miss Littlefield, Mrs. Forbes reorganized the club and staged a comeback in the Fall in a show put on for the Lions Club.

By 1945 the new organization was ready to send representatives to qualify for the coveted Gale trophy. This trophy is open to all Canadians, and is for individual, rather than group work. Two members of the club were placed in the contest that year.

It was in the same year that costumes began to be used for exhibition work, and the Ornamentalists won the national award for the swimming club to make the most progress. They have not been challenged since.

By 1946 it had become very clear how far ornamental swimming had advanced. As school figures in ballet or skating had become the basis for interpretive dancing and ice work, so the figures, 32 in number, built on the basis of the Life Saving stunts and added to by various coaches, began to blend into possibilities for water ballet and stories. And Peterborough was one of the first to attack these possibilities on a large scale. Aladdin and His Wonderful Lamp was one of the earlier attempts, and was so successful that the Club was asked to perform it in Toronto, Ottawa and Trenton.

In the Fall of 1946, Snow White was made into a water production, and Peter Pan followed the next spring.

These water ballets require as much planning, choriorgraphy, lighting, attention to costume and musical arrangements as any dance routine on the New York stage. And they are, as in the ballet, aesthetic interpretations of the story against a suitable musical background. Figures are combined to constitute a routine which represents a certain phase of the story. For example, in the production Peter Pan, Peter, in a green bathing suit, swims on the surface of the water, while the 'shadow', in gray, swims below him under the water. Or again 'in Alladin' the wedding scene is enacted by couples dancing a Paul Jones in the water.

Costumes ar especially resigned for these programs, and are usually quick-change slip-ons of colored plastic material worn over the bathing suit. Bathing caps are never worn; a special hairdress is designed instead. And it was Peterborough which first experimented with this idea. Some scenery is used in the productions, but it is usually quite simple and made to convey an idea rather than fill in the details. Colored lights from a small battery increase the effectiveness of the scene, aiding the imagination; for while the layman can usually follow a ballet because he is used to the ideas expressed through the arabasques and pivets which have been developed for centuries. He is as yet unaccustomed to the signifiance of a forward outstretched or a spiral conveying the same meaning in the water. Usually a commentator explains the story as it goes along, but as the art develops, there will eventually be no need of this.

We usually hear figure swimming called 'ornamental,' and up until two years ago it was. But in 1947 Mrs. Lillian E. McKellar, coach at Western University, introduced 'synchronized' swimming to Peterborough. Ornamental is a slow, smooth performance of school figures done to perfection. Much time is taken and is more of an individual accomplishment. It requires an infinite amount of patience and physical endurance, and represents a great deal of work in overcoming the technical difficulties involved. Synchronized swimming, on the other hand, is group work, in duet, trio or large numbers. Every motion is done to music and every body must move at the same time in perfect precision. It usually consists of a routine of figures, one blending into the next, and appeals more to the interpretive talents of the performers. Mere mechanical polish is not enough here. It corresponds to the 'free skating' of the ice-world where the stress is laid on grace and originality.

Up to the present time Canada has been classified as 'ornamental,' and the States as 'synchronised,' and this differentiation creates some difficulty in the International meets. So at a panel held earlier this year at which Mrs. Forbes was a representative, the first step was made to try to amalgamate the two sets of regulations into one basic set. This is hoped for in the near future.

The Peterborough Club has been singularly successful in its career. Made up of collegiate and business girls and young matrons, Mrs. Forbes tries to put on about six shows a year. These have become so popular they have been asked for all over the country.... in Toronto, Ottawa, Trenton, Havelock, Kingston, Bancroft, Kawartha, Smith Falls, Hamilton, Montreal and Detroit. Now the girls are training for the Des-Moines show on Labor Day.

But putting on shows is not all their work by any means. In the summer the Club give their services to the city, teaching youngsters swim strokes, speed swimming, life-saving and diving. Many of them are the Red Cross instructors at Wallace Point. Money from their exhibitions goes to further this teaching program.

There are nine in the Peterborough team of Ornamentalists, an unusually high number as the next highest is an American team of seven. Five is the second highest number in Canada. But to the members Margaret Buck, Beverley Rumary, Gillian Groombridge, Joan Patterson, Betty Dorset, Marilyn McInroy, Joan Coombes, Doreen Graham and Norma Grant, numbers seem to make little difference to the high degree of skill in their performances.

The Club also has a senior duet in Iris Forbes-Reilly and Jean Millard whose success in such numbers as 'Humoresque' will carry them a long way towards the International senior duet championships. Last April they won in Detroit the Junior United States Championship in Indoor Synchronised swimming.

It is difficult to say at this point what will be the future in the line of ornamental swimming The Club here, with its counterparts in other Canadian cities, is hoping that the Olympics of 1952 will recognize their field of aquatics as an official competitive sport. It is an activity the public have become increasingly aware of in the past few years. Perhaps it will, someday like its skating predecessor, completely overshadow the speed aspect. Its interpretive potentialities are just beginning to beccm evident. But we can be sure of one thing. Whatevere becomes of aquatic ballet, the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club under the encouragement of its Honorary President Mrs. V. R. Currie, its coach Mrs. Pansy Forbes, its manager Mr. N. C. Munro and its backer the Y.W.C.A., will always be known as perhaps the foremost contributor to its development in Canada

Sow Pansies In Summer For Next Spring's Flowers

Pansy plants such as are sold in flower in early spring may be grown quite easily by the gardener who has a cold frame. The seed is sown in late summer in a seed bed which can be shaded and watered.

Seed of one of the giant strains should be obtained if one wants large flowers. Violas may also be given the same treatment. All pansies are members of the viola family, but the name pansy is applied to those which have "faces."

If you have a seed bed made of fine soil shaded with a canopy of cheesecloth or lath, and which can be watered, sow the seed in rows. If you have no such seed bed prepare a flat shallow box full of sifted soil in the usual manner and sow the pansies in that. It can be placed in a shady spot and kept well watered until the seedlings appear.

In sowing spread the seed thinly. Mix sand with it if necessary to prevent overcrowding. If the seeds are too thick it will be difficult to disentangle the roots of the seedlings when time comes to move them. As soon as the seeds sprout they should be given all the light possible and plenty of fresh air. Do not let them dry out. Protect them from the midday sun.

When the seedlings have made their first true leaves they should be transplanted to other flats, where they have more space, or to the cold frame. Florists usually move them to flats where they are planted 2 inches each way; this is called "pricking out." They are allowed to grow here until they are small sturdy plants. The amateur may short cut this procedure and move the seedlings directly from the seed bed or first flat to the cold frame.

Soil in the cold frame should not be overmanured, but should be light and friable and reasonably fertile. The plants should be set in rows, 4 inches apart in the rows, and 6 inches between the rows. Let the plants grow in the open through the fall until the ground begins to freeze. Then fill up the cold frame with dry leaves and cover it with the sash or boards. In severe weather the sash can be covered with straw mats or any such covering, but this is not usually needed.

In the spring as soon as the frost begins ot come out of the ground, the leaves should be taken off the pansy plants and the sash put on the frame. The management from now on is the same as any other planting in the spring. The pansies will bloom under the glass much earlier than they would outdoors, and you will have pansies to set out in the border when the tulips begin to bloom.

Veteran, 81, In Uniform

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Thomas McGill, 81, misses the familiar sights of Glasgow and Windsor, Ont., just a bit, but—and here he straightens his shoulders in the bright scarlet tunic—he's back in uniform.

For he is among the newest recruits in the Chelsea Pensioners, that sturdy body of veterans whose scarlet and array of medals make up one of London's treasured spectacles.

But Thomas, strange to London, feels much at home. He was a veteran when the First World War began, after years in the Highland Light Infantry and long service in India and in South Africa during the Boer War.

"I'm enjoying myself, mind you, for I'm accustomed to a uniform and new places."

As a boy he was employed in an engineering works in Glasgow. One day with a friend he saw a recruiting sergeant. Both walked up to the sergeant and enlisted.

His service took him far afield and long after the Boer War he went back to civilian life. But not for long. The 1914 war had hardly started when he scampered down to the recruiting office.

"Age?" asked the sergeant.

"37," said Thomas.

"That's funny,," said the sergeant. 'You must have been an infant when you served with me in India."

But he was in the HLI transport section a few days later. After a year's service he was injured and demobilized.

In 1939, the veteran, still working in the engineering firm, muttered his disgust as not being able to convince recruiting sergeants he was as young as his ideas, and kept on making tanks until the war was over.

Between the two wars he had become something of a Canadian. He went to Windsor, in 1926 and remained until 1931, ready to turn his craftsmanship to tools and metal whenever he had the chance. In 1946, now a widower, he bustled back to Windsor again to see his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Davies, and remained for six months.

Back in Glasgow he was lonesome. Every time he saw a uniform he felt more lonesome. He remembered the Chelsea Pensioners. He was willing to give up his pension to pay for his keep and get tobacco at special rates, knowing that rations of beer and tobacco come Pensioners way on numerous occasions.

So Tom put on the scarlet coat, stuck his blue cap at a smart angle, gave his long row of medals another rub and started out again as a soldier.

Petes Rack Up Another One Beating Scarboro 22 to 8

The Petes banged in a 22-8 OLA Senior "B" victory against Scarboro Grads here last night before a good-sized crowd to keep intact their winning streak. They waltzed to an 8-0 first-frame lead, made it 13-1 at the half and led 19-4 going into the fourth. The Grads showed more life to keep play pretty even in the final chukker. Despite two brief fistic flurries between Fleming and Foote once and then Fleming and E. Creighton, play generally was clean, with the Petes drawing seven of the nine penalties.

While the scoring was well spread around among the locals, Arn Dugan was judged most valuable as he turned in a nifty effort all the way. Prominent also were Foote and Gordon, with Dundas looking good at times, also. Bun Hill didn't have too much to do but made some smart stops. Davidson and Fleming were probably the pick of the losers, who were tired out from their trip to Huntsville the previous night.

The teams:

Scarboro — Goal, Armstrong; defence, Clark and Digby; centre, Dunn; wings, Poyntz and Davidson; rover, Jeans; alternates, Marks, Harrison, Graham, Carroll, Hurd, Fleming and Ehugg.

Petes—Goal, B. Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, Dugan and Connelly; rover, Foote; alternates, J. Breakspear, Horton, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Smith, Gordon and Dundas.

Referees, D. Wilson and T. Hewitt.

Goose Bay Wins $25,000 Derby At Westbury

WESTBURY, N.Y., July 3 — (CP).—Ralph Baldwin of Lloydminster, Sask., must have whispered in the ear of the black horse he guided to victory in the $25,000 national invitation pacing derby at Roosevelt raceway last night.

For Goose Bay, who has gained notoriety on the Grand Circuit as a balky pacer, was running in earnest from the start. After trailing the favored Dr. Stanton, owned and driven by W. L. (Lindy) Fraser of Forest, Ont., until the stretch, he surged ahead to win by three-quarters of a length.

Passed up by a majority of the form players, the ace of Saunders Mills Stable of Toledo, Ohio, paid $38.30, $11.60 and $7.30 as he completed the one-mile invitational classic in 2:03 flat.

Tough Handicap

Little Joe O'Brien of New Glasgow, N.S., had a pre-race preminition that his ninth position with Indian Land, which beat Dr. Stanton a week ago, would be a tough handicap to overcome. It was and last year's leading driver finished in sixth place.

From the time the starter gave the green light on the starting gate, the 23,303 harness racing fans sensed a battle between Goose Bay and Dr. Stanton.

Fraser pushed "The Doctor" into the lead by the first turn with Baldwin pulling Goose Bay in behind on the rail. Baldwin waited for the strategic moment, which came at the five-eighths mark, to pass Fraser and take a three-quarter-length lead which Dr. Stanton couldn't make up.

"The Doctor," a 4-5 favorite paid $3.30 and $3.00 while Newport Stock Farm's Forbes Chief, the circuit's leading money winner last year, paid $5.10.

BRITISH TEE PARTY FOR HIM - By Maver

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Ha, comes the week-end again and a chance to catch up with ourself. The holiday was rather grim. Up shortly after eight and off to the a.m. senior game. Shaves in cold water at daybreak in the army cured us for life of that nonsense, so the whiskers never come off till noon now. Dash home at noon to send the game out Canadian Press, go back for the afternoon tilt, hurry home again to send it out, then gallop over for two men's softball scraps at night. They have to be written up the same night and half the sports column cleaned up. Lacrosse last eve kept us from catching up. But then guys like Garvey, Dalton, Pagett and Mackness had to do three games on the holiday, too. Glad July 1 is over, anyway.

COBL schedule called for Oshawa at Kingston last night and Batawa at Oshawa today. The Petes sit it out till Tuesday when they go to Belleville for a game with the Shoemen, with Muffitt off the suspension list. The schedule has about six weeks to go yet before loop playoffs commence and the league has till around the first of September to declare a winner and go into OBA playdowns. Petes still lead with nine and three, while Batawa (up to yesterday we're talking about) had six and five, Oshawa five and seven and Kingston three and eight. In the Bata-Oshawa July 1 twin bill, Titus twirled Batawa to a 10-6 win o'er Michael while Romaniski won 8-5 from Bowman. Bidgood got eight hits in nine tries.

Too Young To Retire

Eddie Starr hasn't been turning out with the Petes lately. Says he's getting too old and doesn't enjoy the game as much as he used to. Al Menzies is filling in capably as catcher for the men o' Murphy but we'd like to see Eddie back there for the balance of the season. He is in his early 30s and has a lot of fine ball in him yet, both as a heads-up catcher and a dangerous hitter. Nor do they pilfer many bases when Starr is behind the plate. After all, there are a lot of years of retirement from baseball, and we hope Eddie reconsiders for at least this semester. Of course, it's strictly his own business.

* * * * * *

They keep revising schedules on us, so we have to keep mentioning games as they come up and not as they appeared some time ago in the schedule. The west and south bantams have an Ex. game Monday as the east and west midgets go in Riverside. Tuesday, it's north and east juves over east and Hawks vs. east bantams down south. This aft in Riverside, weather being right, Whitby juniors play the local Kiwanis crew at two while Cobourg juniors meet our Kinsmen at four on the same diamond. Intermediate Petes trek to Whitby on Monday and play Whitby here next Wednesday. Guess that covers it for the nonce.

* * * * * *

Re Lasses And Lads

Like we said, schedules come and then they go when it's found some team can't make it on such and such a date. So the girls have switched their softball setup again. Anyway, here are the first few nights of play—last eve being an open one: Monday, CGE vs. Lindsay and Lakefield vs. Lock Co.; Wednesday: CGE vs. Woollens and Lakefield vs. Lindsay. Holidays hinder some of the squads fielding full teams at certain times. As for the men's Bowl billing for Tuesday, B-A plays Legion at seven and Knights go against Comstock's in the later tussle. We understand the executive has a huddle on Monday to arrange loop playoffs for early in August.

* * * * * *

Local senior "B" lacrossers knocked of Scarboro 22-8 here last eve before a goodly gallery. The Grads were a tired outfit, having lost a toughie the night before in Huntsville and getting home at four a.m. Players had to work all day and then trek here, and they were a sorry-looking squad for the first half. Made it a bit closer the last two quarters when the Petes only outscored 'em 9-7. Damage was done then as the homesters started fast and played good lacrosse to earn their big margin. A clean contest despite a couple of minor fights, with the Creighton crew drawing most of the penalties passed out.

* * * * * *

Those Winning Ways

Arn Dugan won himself a hat with a fine effort, while Terry Gordon and Jack Foote were prominent throughout, too. And Barney Dundas and Dootch Vitarelli went well. Whole team did, as a matter of fact. Some of the fans around us were saying the Petes are too good for the group and they'd like to see 'em lose some games. Goodness gracious, folks, don't you want a winner? And remember those lean years when they took a lot of lickings! They'll run into plenty of opposition ere playoff time yet, and you can mark that down. Likely right in Oshawa next Tuesday, we figure. This group is developing into a bunch of "homers", every team being really tough at home. But the Petes haven't lost one yet.

Intermediates Win

The local intermediate lacrosse team took a recent 11-7 win in Port Hope before a good-sized crowd. It was a fine fray marked with snappy passing and strong defensive work on both sides. Joe Hickson was strong in the victors' net while Adolph Caravaggie and George Hill turned in a neat effort. The former had three goals with Nick Caravaggie counting two and Hill two. Nicholls and Carter drew majors for fighting with the latter getting cut. The same squads meet Wednesday at nine p.m. in Miller Bowl. Local players were: Hickson, Ellis, Revoy, Renwick, Marino, N. Caravaggie, Carter, Hill Hodson, Van-Allen, A. Caravaggie, Crowley, Lynch, Miller.

Toronto Leafs Clips Bears In 5-1 Triumph

By The Canadian Press

Hank Biasatti, the Windsor youngster who couldn't make the grade with Toronto Maple Leafs on his first two tries because of his weak hitting, appears to have overcome that weakness.

The fancy-fielding first-baseman produced a grand-slam homer in the clutch in the eighth inning last night to give his club a 5-1 win over Newark Bears. The four-bagger, Hank's second in as many days, broke up a tight hurling duel between Toronto's Luke Hamlin and Newark's Clarence Marshall as the International League clubs battled to the wire tied 1-1.

A single, an intentional pass and a second walk loaded the bases in the eighth. With the count at three and two and two men away, the game was held up while Newark catcher Ken Silvestri was ejected for arguing with the umpire. Then Hank came through on the next pitch.

Jersey City Giants stopped the Montreal Royals' pennant drive as relief pitcher Andy Tomasic won his own game in the 13th with a two-run homer that gave him a 9-7 edge. Four homers, three triples and seven doubles featured the free-swinging contest.

Bill Reeder threw a four-hit shutout at the tail-end Baltimore Orioles to give Rochester Red Wings a 3-0 win. Clem Hausmann spaced six safeties to pitch Buffalo Bisons to a 5-2 win over Syracuse Chiefs, with Chet Laabs providing the winning punch by hitting his 27th homer.

Dodgers Hit Rock Bottom Bow To NY Giants 5-4

By RALPH RODEN
Associtaed Press Sports Writer

There's no joy in Flatbush today. The once-mighty Bums are in last place in the National League.

Manager Lippy Durocher's defending champions, the Brooklyn Dodgers, hit rock bottom last night before 33,104 of the faithful at Ebbets Field. The hated New York Giants applied the coup de grace, scoring three times in the ninth inning to take a 5-4 decision.

Durocher, attempting to halt a five-game losing streak, inserted three catchers, and a rookie outfielder in the starting line-up.

Catcher Bruce Edwards was at third, receiver Gil Hodges at first and backstop Roy Campanella, recalled Wednesday from St. Paul of the American Association, behind the plate. Recruit George Shuba, up from Mobile of the Southern Association, was in left field.

The rookie came through in great style. Shuba got two hits and drove in the first Brooklyn run. Campanella collected two singles and a double and scored twice.

Moving past the Dodgers who began the evening in sixth place were Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. The Cubs moved from eighth to seventh and the Reds from seventh to sixth as all major league teams played night games.

Turn Back Pirates

Chicago turned back the Pirates 5-1 at Pittsburgh and the Reds handed the second-place St. Louis Cardinals their fourth straight defeat 7-3.

The Cubs nicked rookie Bob Chesnes for only four hits but Pirate errors along with six walks, a wild pitch and balk by Chesnes made it easy for Russ Meyer to gain his eighth victory.

Six Cardinal errors helped the Reds in downing the stumbling Red Birds. The Reds also did some hitting as Danny Litwhiler, Johnny Wyrostek and Grady Hatton parked homers. Stan Musial belted his 18th round-tripper for the Cardinals.

The loss dropped the Cards 3½ games back of the leading Boston Braves who came from behind and beat the Phillies 7-3 at Philadelphia.

Cleveland Indians remained a half game ahead of the Philadelphia Athletics in the tight American League pennant race.

Come From Behind

The Indians came from behind and beat St. Louis Browns 8-6 with Joe Gordon's pair of two-run homers accounting for the triumph.

At Boston, the Athletics turned back the Red Sox 4-2, behind the six-hit pitching of rookie Lou Brissie. It was the A's ninth win in ther last 10 starts.

The third-place Yankees were nosed out 2-1 in 12 innings by Washington Senators in New York. Carden Gillenwater broke up a pitcher's duel between Walt Masterson and the Yanks' Tommy Byrne by crashing his first home run of the year in the 12th inning. Masterson yielded only three hits.

The victory moved the Senators over Detroit Tigers into fifth place by half a game. The Tigers dropped a 5-2 decision to the White Sox in Chicago.

Think Hamlet Film To Beat In Oscar Award

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 3 (AP).—As the Oscar Derby breaks into the last half of the race, "Hamlet" looms as the choice to beat.

Sir Laurence Olivier's gloomy Dane was previewed in Hollywood this week and it is a mighty production. The sublime beauty of Shakespeare's words is given depth and understanding by careful use of the movie medium.

"Hamlet" is not so flawless as some enthusiasts have gushed. Olivier has over-stocked the film with shots of Elsinore Castle. But that's a minor matter when you consider the great camera work, the careful editing of text and the fine speech of the performers.

"Hamlet" may well be the first non-Hollywood film to win the Academy's best picture award.

May Be Robbed

Three factors may rob the film of its chance for an Oscar: 1. A more worthy United States film may turn up. 2. Hollywood sentiment against British film makers is rising with each new quota on United States pictures. 3. "Hamlet" may not be a popular favorite (Academy voters often consider a film's success as a basis of merit.)

That's the big question—Will the general movie public go for "Hamlet?" I think not. It should do better than "Henry V" because it is better drama, being based in human passions. It is also more understandable.

The picture should do fine business on the limited-run, higher-prices circuit.

That brings us to "Hamlet's" competition to date. It's not too formidable, but the Academy hopefuls are usually saved for the end of the race anyway. The first heat of Oscar possibilities includes: "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre," "I Remember Mama," "Naked City," "The Search," "Another Part of The Forest," "All My Sons."

Its still anybody's race.

ACCORDING TO BELGRADE sources, Yugoslavia's Communist leaders, including Premier Marshal Tito, have called for the formation of a new Balkan bloc. As indicated by dotted line on the map, Bulgarian, Albanian and Yugoslavian peoples would be "united on the principle of national equality." The program, advanced for presentation to the fifth Communist Council meeting in Belgrade July 21, was announced in a party organ after Yugoslav Reds proclaimed their independence.

MICAIAH, A PROPHET OF ISRAEL

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Daniel 2:31-45; 8; 11; Malachi 3:1-5; 4; Luke 1:67-79; 2:25-33; John 10:22, 23

By Alfred J. Buescher

King Ahab of Israel and Jehoshaphant of Judah consulted together about warring with Syria. Ahab called his prophets and they said the Lord was in favor of such a war.

Jehoshaphat called for Macaiah, prophet of the Lord, and the messenger sent for him told him he better favor the king, but Micaiah said he would say what the Lord told him.

Micaiah said the Lord had spoken evil against Ahab and he would not win over the Syrians, which angered Ahab, and the king ordered Micaiah to prison until his return.

The two kings went to battle, and one of the Syrian king's men shot an arrow at Ahab that pierced through his armor and killed him.

God Directs Hands of Men To Carry Out His Work

Scripture—1 Kings 22: 1-40

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL.

Many men have given flippant answers to the question — What does the world need most? We can all agree, however, that one of the most crying needs of this day is men and women who speak the truth, whether by so doing they make themselves popular or unpopular.

There is much confused thinking about every important issue before the world today. Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could depend upon one man—a prophet—to tell us the truth, so that we could take our stand for, what we knew to be right, and insist upon our leaders following it?

This is the story of a man who dared to speak the truth, as the Lord gave it to him, in spite of hatred and probable persecution. Many men have so suffered when they did the same—many have died martyr's deaths. Such people are not popular with those who want to hear pleasant words that praise and flatter and sanction them to take the path they want to follow and tell them all will be well if they do.

Ahab, king of Israel, was a wicked man and he married one of the cruelist and most ruthless women in all Biblical history—

Jezebel. He had long abandoned the worship of Jehovah but he kept a host — 400 —of so-called prophets who were what in this day we would call "yes men." What the king wanted to do, that was what they said the Lord sanctioned.

For three years there had been peace between the Hebrews and their neighbors and enemies, the Syrians.

Now, since the separation of the Hebrew nation into two kingdoms, Israel, over which Ahab ruled, and Judah, with King Jehoshaphat on the throne, there had been no friendly relations between the two monarchs.

However, Ahab, having a yearning to attack the Syrians and get back some of the land lost by the Israelites in times past, proposed to Jehosaphat, who had come to visit him, that the two should attack the Syrians. Judah's king agreed, but thought it a good idea, before doing anything drastic, that they have the Lord's sanction. Jehoshaphat was a good man and faithful to his God.

Ahab sent for his 400 prophets and they said, "Go up: for the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king," — which was just what Ahab wanted to hear. Jehosaphat was not satisfied, however, apparently feeling that these men really were not prophets of Jehovah, so he asked if there was not a prophet of the Lord whom they could ask if their course was a wise one.

Ahab said yes, there was, but he hated him because he always prophesied evil for the king. However, they sent for Micaiah, and on his way to answer the summons, the messenger, who had been sent to bring him to court, warned him that it would be a good idea for him to cater to the king's wishes this time.

Micaiah answered simply, "As the Lord liveth, what the Lord saith unto me, that will I speak."

Micaiah stood before the king and when he was asked, "Shall we go against Ramoth-Gilead to battle, or shall we forbear?" he answered, "Go, and prosper; for the Lord shall deliver it into the hand of the king"—which was just what the others had said.

Ahab, however, evidently suspected that Micaiah was speaking sarcastically, and he told him to tell him the truth; whereupon the prophet said he saw all Israel scattered upon the hills, as sheep that have not a shepherd, and they were told to return to their homes in peace.

Of course, Ahab was furious when he heard the unpalatable truth and he ordered Micaiah put in prison and given bread and water until his (Ahab's) return. Micaiah told him he wouldn't come back alive.

What happened eventually to this true prophet of God we are not told, but Ahab and Jehoshaphat attacked Syria, Ahab, being a coward, disguising himself and getting Jehoshaphat to wear his royal robes.

The Syrian king gave orders that Ahab was to be killed, and for a time his men tried to kill the man who wore Ahab's robes, but a certain Syrian archer drew his bow at a venture and the arrow struck Ahab between the joints of his armor, and fatally wounded him.

All day he lay in his chariot bleeding to death, and when he was dead, the Israelites, being without a leader, retreated.

VOL. XCVII. No. 2 SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1948 PRICE FIVE CENTS

Anglers Happy Opening Day; Catches Good

Anglers were quite satisfied with opening day results in the Kawartha lakes district, but no near-record bass or maskinonge were reported taken.

Best fish story of the day comes from Gannon's Narrows where a Cleveland fisherman hooked a 19½-pound muskie. Disregarding the pleadings of his friends who wanted the fish entered in the derby, the visitor piled the fish into his car, and headed back to Cleveland. He claimed his friends would not believe him unless he brought the fish back fresh, and besides he wanted to surprise his family with the trophy for the evening meal.

At Keene, Fred Whalen reports pickerel fishing exceptionally good. The best catch in that area was made by James Merrill and his 16-year-old son, Stanley of Niles, Ohio. They caught three muskies between 34 and 36 inches long, and ranging from 9 to 10½ pounds. They also brought in nine medium sized pickerel, another weighing 6¼ and 6½ pounds. The Merrills fished at Kemp's creek and Rice lake. They have been regular visitors to the district for the past ten years.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Krant, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thornton, Peterborough, had a field day at Pigeon Lake. Fishing from a boat using worms, they caught 20 bass, ranging up to four pounds. They were about equally divided, small-mouth and large-mouth.

Gerald Rosenbaum, and his wife from Kalamazoo, Mich, guests at Park Hotel, Burleigh Falls, caught two muskies, 12 pickerel and 12 bass for just about a perfect fishing score. The American hooked another muskie but it was undersize and was returned to the water.

Bob Beal, who operates a canteen at the Falls, reports catches were first class, and about 11 muskies, none over 11 pounds, were taken. Pickerel and bass catches were good, with Bob McClelland and Dave Wilson, Peterborough, leading the parade.

At six o'clock, Thursday morning, there were 30 pickerel lying on the dam at Young's Point, and the walleyes were hitting minnows in a manner that delighted the anglers who braved the chilly July 1 opening.

Only four small-mouth black bass were entered in the Grey and Bruce derby Thursday night at the market hall, and none of these were exceptionally large. Weighing in will be done again tonight and on Saturday and Sunday nights between eight and nine o'clock. There were no muskies entered last evening.

SMALL RESTAURANT FIRE

Grease on a gas oven at the Ritz Cafe, George St., ignited shortly before 7 a.m. today and the flames had started into some nearby wooden shelves before the blaze was finally extinguished Employees tried to douse it with a bucket of water and firemen finished the job with a hand pump. Damage was described as slight.

Charlie Banks Has Driven Cars For 47 Years

By NICK NICKELS

If there is anything you need to know about automobile driving and dealership during the past 50 years, you should consult Charles Banks, 338 Rubidge St. He had dreams of gas buggies and motorcycles while the young dandies of his day were driving fast horses in bicycle-tired buggies. He started as tester in Detroit in 1901 for the Olds Company, single cylinder jobs that made more commotion than speed. In the same year he drove the first autos in Los Angeles, then a city of 200,000 people; the popular makes on the Coast were Waverley Electrics and Locomobile Steamers.

Turning down an offer in Los Angeles to make two dollars a day, Mr. Banks came back to Canada to settle in Galt where he sold the first three of the initial 10 Fords distributed in the Dominion. A trip in those days from town to town was not only an experience but worthy of being recorded among the machine age's first feats of exploration. Take Mr. Banks' epic journey from Galt to Rochester in 1905 with four ladies of the Deitrich family in a two-cylinder Ford.

He was hired as chauffer on this occasion and between bad roads, toll gates every few miles and 24 punctures between Galt and St. Catherines alone, it was quite a jaunt. It often took three hours to locate enough gasoline to get to the next town and after receiving $80 for the trip, he spent over $100 on repairs.

Came to Peterborough in 1911

Mr. Banks came to Peterborough in 1911, burning with the automobile selling craze and took on the agency for the defunct EMF cars that were dubbed Every Man's Folly. He sold nine of these cars to prominent men of the city among whom were Robert Dobbie, E. G. Patterson, Walter Greene, Dr. M. A. Morrison, A. E. Coulthart and W. H. Denham. They must have been very pleased with their purchases for they gave Mr. Banks a German chime clock for a wedding gift.

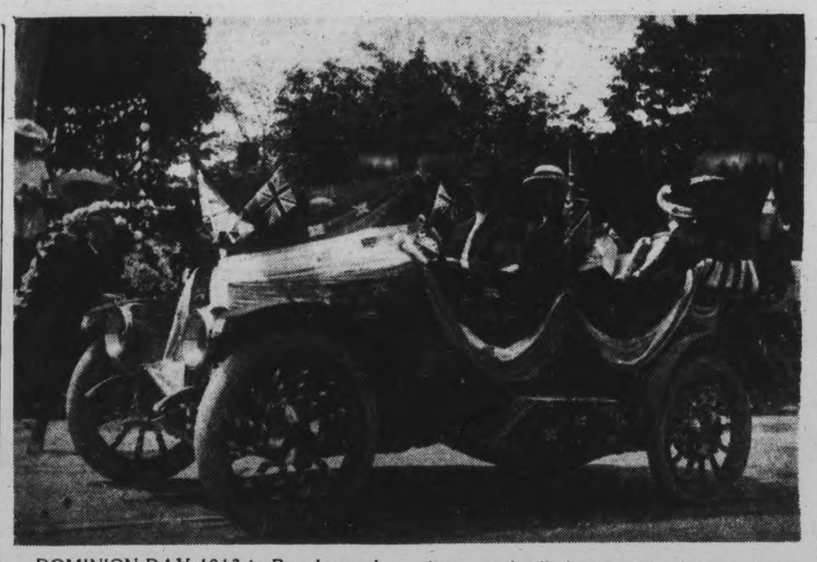
After the EMF cars ceased to be popular, Mr. Banks commenced selling Overlands and, in fact, set a record in 1916 by disposing of 30 autos in the first six months. Then he switched to Buicks and sold a great many up until 1922. He then started bicycle maintenance and sales and has been at it ever since.

One-Cylinder Olds

The first car Mr. Banks owned when he came to Peterborough was the result of a second hand deal with L. Fred Clarry, K.C., who was practising in Hastings and is now visiting in Millbrook. Mr. Clarry recalls that this one-cylinder Olds was worse than any balky horse he ever drove, or perhaps it was more closely related to a mule. He bought it in 1906 and set some sore of a record in those days by driving from Toronto to Millbrook in five hours and no punctures. Blacksmith Ed Lynch of Hastings used to overhaul the car from time to time and tells the story of the day Mr. Clarry came head on with a snorting horse that was just about to bolt from this banging machine. The driver jumped from the car while it was running; it was a case of a runaway driver instead of a runaway horse.

On many trips a fender would fall off and never be missed in the general uproar for miles. Daylight driving was safest and most popular. The lights frequently ran out of oil and in times of such emergencies to prevent driving blind, "the law" ordered drivers to "get a candle" while young wags jeered and called "get a horse".

Determination to drive was at its peak when a novice forgets how to back his gas buggy out of a tight corner and had to hire a team of horses to straighten him out. Such were the diehards that doomed old Dobbin and they had a lot of fun doing it.



DOMINION DAY 1912 in Peterborough was a day for speeches, bands and parades in which no less than 25 autos bucked and roared down George St., to the consternation of buggy and cab drivers and the jibes of onlookers. This classy bedecked Olds, above, took all the previous day to adorn but it won first prize. Seated, left to right, Charles Banks, his brother-in-law, H. McIlmoyle at the wheel and Mrs. Banks in the rear seat.

Cecil Wasson Heads Cottagers

A reorganization meeting of the Chemong Park Cottagers Association was held on Friday evening at the home of Dr. A. G. Howson at Chemong Park. The following officers were elected for 1948: president, Cecil Wasson; vice president, Reg Faryon; secretary, Miss Agnes Howson. The directors elected were Dr. A G. Howson, Ross Pulkinghorn, Dr. Ralph Clark and Allan Heiderman.

A committee consisting of Reg. Faryon, Jack Dewart, Gordon Matthews, Charles Kingan and Dr. A. G. Howson was appointed to see Smith Township Council on Monday regarding improvements to the roads at Chemong Park.

It was decided at the meeting to hold a Chemong Park junior regatta on August 7, and a membership committee consisting of Clare Collins, Harry Dinsdale, George Wilde and N. H. Williams was formed to canvass Chemong Park cottage residents for members.

Big Gain Shown In Customs

Customs receipts in Peterborough for the first six months of 1948 show an increase of $1,029,619.26 over the same period in 1947. In 1948, receipts to the end of June totalled $3,170,696.92 compared to $2,141,077.66 for the first six months of 1947.

High month for both years is February, 1948, with total receipts of $584,956.54, almost $40,000 more than the nearest month of this year, and almost $200,000 more than June, the top month of 1947.

June of 1948 surpassed the same month in 1947, showing a take-in of $520,375.16 against $394,349.41. Only January among the first six months of 1948 did not top $500,000, while none of the months up to July in 1947 passed $400,000.

The average month in 1948 brought in $528,449.48, while the take of the average month in 1947 was $356,846.27.

Relics of 19th Century Gather Dust In Library

Probably the strangest collection of old junk in Peterborough, with a history that has yet to be deciphered, was uncovered this week in the dusty recesses of the Public Library basement. It consisted of the remains of the Victoria Museum, non-existent for many years and most of the odds and ends had lain untouched since 1914, when the Red Cross took over the second floor of the Library and many showcases of the museum were moved into the cellar.

A varied assortment of relics of the previous century, which were covering the cases, were moved first. Among them were an old bicycle, an early railroad engine lamp, a candle mould, two spinning wheels, and a birch bark canoe with a large hole in the bottom.

The first showcase revealed a dusty collection of old bones with two or three human skulls and a Then followed several cases of much battered skeleton of a baby. Indian relics, such as arrow heads, chisels and mallets, also what appeared to be tomahawks, but were too rusted for positive identification and might well have been old axe heads.

More interesting was a case of military relics, consisting of a sun helmet of the Crimean War, much moth-eaten, a shako of uncertain age, more moth-eaten, an old bayonet in an extremely rusty scabbard and for use with a Snyder rifle, a cavalry sword and the handle of a cutlass. Two muzzle-loading pistols, or rather the remains of two such pistols, and several powder horns completed the collection of warlike antiques.

The natural history section of the relics included several stuffed owls, moth-eaten and very moulted, a baby alligator, practically fossilized, a collection of birds' eggs, mostly smashed, and a whole case of sponges from which emanated an indescribable stench. There were also a couple of boxes of shells, some dried cocoanuts and several rotten bisons' horns.

The sartorial section—non-military—consisted of a hoop skirt in a very dilapidated condition and a frock coat, which had been attacked by moths many years ago, with buttons of the Royal Perth Golfing Club.

Finally, there was a full-size replica of the Coronation Chair, which is being offered free to any organization willing to take it away.

Heavy Tourist Influx

Not even given a note in the international news, the American invasion of the north has reached its highest peak so far this year. Cars bearing license plates of many of the states were streaming their way in and through the city this morning. Ohio seems to be the leader at the moment, with 50 of that breed parked within three blocks of the city hall this morning.

One restaurant manager said he had served breakfast to more than 200 Americans before 8 o'clock this morning.

Heavy traffic to the big fishing area to the north is continuing with all signs indicating one of the heaviest holiday week-ends on record.

Catalpa Trees Now In Bloom

The catalpa trees are in flower on the Park St. lawn of Canadian General Electric Co. They are late bloomers, playing safe with late June after early spring venturing of the osiers by the river. Delphiniums are adding their beauty in blues and white in many of the gardens of the city.

They will probably never win a horticultural blue ribbon, but the shrubs at Raybestos plant get a lot of grateful attention from the people in that section of the city. Their variety is attractive and they have given the buildings a snug and homey look, and they retain their greenness with some late flowering bloom of roses until November. It is one of the industrial beauty spots of Peterborough.

Plump Berries Very Plentiful

Herb Doig must have a new kind of galloping cabbages. He planted them a few days ago and says they will be in head in three weeks. That sounds like something phenomenal in gardening and that suggests a phrase Doig's phenomenal cabbage. He had a load on the market.

New potatoes, carrots, beets, spinach, Sweet William, and in spite of all the weary diner-outers say of them—peas in the pod. If you could only afford a T-bone steak to go along with them. But, a sirloin roast would also be appetizing accompaniment.

The market feature this morning was the spread of strawberries, opening brightly at 25 cents a box. So many boxes were unloaded from trucks that they were laid out in patches on the ground. The quantity was exactly up to expectations after the rain plus holiday.

Concerts Start Sunday

The outdoor park concert on Sunday will be held at Nicholls Oval for the first time this season. The program will begin at 3.30 p.m., with a concert overture, following by a short period of religious worship conducted by the Rev. M. J. Aiken.

There is to be a community sing-song and several films are to be shown, including "Hot Ice," a film on National League hockey featuring the Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers, and a technicolor film "Four Seasons," which was taken in the Gatineau Valley.

Sunday concerts will continue to be held during the summer at Nicholls Oval. Next week the program will feature the Citizens' Band and will also include the showing of films and a sing-song.

Board Won't Up Exhibition Prices

Admission tickets to Peterborough's exhibition in its revival this year will be 35c for adults and 15c for children; and adults at the grandstand 35c. Cars are going to be accepted on the grounds at 25c.

Hugh Stewart held out for the 35c price instead of going to 50c, and with him were Vern Campbell, Charlie Moore, Frank Savigny and generally a rural group.

"We are making our bid for a come-back," said Mr. Stewart "and let's fill up the place if we can. The charge has been 35c for a long time. Everything else is up, but let's see how we do this year."

"Ridiculous," was Harold Rehill's scorn for the idea of only 25c for automobiles.

"We're going to let them inside the track, and they'll be just as comfortable and see just as much as in the stand; and they get in four or five for 25c right at the ring side," said Mr. Rehill. "Sure we're putting on a show, but we have a lot of expenses and have to get some money in."

Mr. Stewart wasn't impressed by the picture of car seats. They didn't appeal to him, he said, but if any people wanted to bring their cars into the parking space they could do so at 25c a car, wherever their placing mignt be.

Mr. Stewart suggested to the directors last night that he would like to see a thorough job of policing the grounds. One of the offences he frowns on is evidence of drunkenness in and around the barns. He is hoping there won't be a sign of it, and to make certain he would like to have a strong police group with plenty of heave-ho.

CARS COLLIDE

A bashed radiator, torn bumper, ripped fender and shattered headlights resulted from an accident Friday on George St. near Hunter. A car driven by William Francis, 581 Sherbrooke St., was in collision with a car ahead of him driven by R. R. Baker, 317 Reid St. Baker had stopped suddenly to avoid running into a car which had double parked. No one was injured, and only Mr Francis' car was damaged.

Convert Plant To Propane Next Monday

Peterborough's gas plant switches to propane on Monday with the completion of conversion plans which were begun by the Utilities Commission last winter.

Propane is a byproduct of the refining of gasoline. It is a non-toxic gas and is absolutely odorless. Because it is not susceptible to the sense of smell, the federal Board of Transport requires refineries to mix with it an artificial odorant for the detection of any leaks that might develop in its use.

Non-toxic means that it is not poisonous. Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, cited an incident at Brockville whose stray dogs and cats were asphyxiated in a gas chamber. When that city transferred to propane some months ago it was taken for granted that vagrant animals would be destroyed in the usual way. But, after some hours in an atmosphere of propane gas they scampered out just as lively as when they were put in.

That sketchy explanation of several characteristics of the new gas Peterborough is going to burn in the Utilities domestic, commercial and industrial service is mentioned at the outset as a brief and general introduction to it. The artificial odorant will not be noticed or detected unless a jet valve is accidentally left open or a leak occurs in the connecting pipes. The odorant is harmless but it is detectable, and should it be noticed the consumer will thereby know something needs attention.

Mr. D. H. Thorburn of Mamilton, manager of the gas division of Salem Engineering (Canada) Limited, who supervised the installation of the plant on the Utilities property at the foot of Simcoe St., mentioned another initial detail for the guidance especially of householders. As the propane comes into use in domestic appliances it is likely to burn with yellow tips to the flames, causing a carbon discoloration on cooking utensils. That signifies unburned carbon, likely to blacken the bottom of kettles and pans.

To correct that condition a crew of 12 experienced men will call at homes to adjust the flames and combustion, admitting more oxygen from the air into the burning equipment. Housewives who notice any black coating on kitchen utensils used on their gas ranges should know that the new propane is flowing through the gas mains and pipes. They may immediately inform the Utilities office, and expert adjustment of their burners will be made. After that, they will forget about the displacement of the old gas by the new.

Comes in Tank Cars

Propane is delivered in tank cars and under pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch. With removal of the pressure the liquid is vaporized. And as vapor it is transferred to the big reservoirs that mark the location of the Simcoe St. plant.

Actual storage of the propane is provided in the two new tanks, each of 30,000 gallons capacity. Delivery requires two steps of control reducing the pressure from the 150 pounds down to four ounces. This is done by a special and newly installed diluting machine. That mans dilution with air to a commercial BTU standard. BTU signifies British Thermal Unit, and is a measurement or rating of heat.

Propane in its vapor form rates 2500 BTU'S per cubic foot as compared with the 460 BTU's of the ordinary gas.

As to charges to consumers, the Utilities Commission has decided that gas bills shall remain the

FEWER JUNE "KNOTS"

June's weddings were 13 fewer than a year ago as counted at the city hall registry. The statistics were for last month: 129 births, 54 marriages and 43 deaths; and in June last year 122 births, 67 marriages and 36 deaths.

HEAVY WEEK-END EXPECTED

Americans probably won't start to pack in until Saturday, J. J Dorris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce said on Friday. The conflict between the Canadian holiday and July 4 slowed things up a bit, he added.

IT'S TOO EARLY

Saturday morning is too early, a lot of people thought today. On the two main blocks of George St., nearly 20 tourists and store workers were caught yawning Oh, how I hate to get up in the morning.

GOOD DAY

Retailers on George St. blessed the long week-end on Friday, and some say they are looking forward to it again today. Holidayers were buying, and most of the stores were crowded morning and afternoon. The greater percentage of buyers were from the city, American tourists making up the smaller part of the crowd.

REPORT TWO RUBBISH FIRES

A number of people are still not aware of the fact that before they burn rubbish, even in their own backyards, permission must be obtained from the fire department. On Friday two such fires were put out by firemen, one at the rear of the Canada Bread premises, Dublin and George Sts., the other at the rear of 33 Stewart St.

OLD HOME WEEK

Tom Ryan, Peterborough, who attended Perth Old Home Week along with Jack Fenton also of Peterborough claims the celebration was a dilly. He says the little place of 5000 population produced a parade, better than any he had ever seen in Peterborough. The program extended from June 27 to July 4.

VISIT JACK ARMITAGE

On their way back from the Porcupine Lions convention four members of the Peterborough Lions Club dropped in for a visit at the home of Jack Armitage at Virginiatown, about 23 miles east of Kirkland Lake. They say he is doing a good business there and is in good health. The four local Lions were Gordon Shier, George Hildenbrand, Tom Doughty and Patrick Scollard.

GETS NICE BASS

Mrs. Muriel Williams landed a three-pound large-mouth bass at White lake, Friday afternoon using live minnows. Her husband who was operating the boat, hooked a muskie that would top anything yet entered in the derby but it threw the bait, as it swirled in close to the boat, and all the anglers got was a grand view of an angry muskie heading for bottom.

Police Bureau Most Modern In This District

Work will begin soon on an addition to the city police department which will house a completely modern and comprehensive identification bureau. The bureau planned will be the first and only one of its scope in this section of the province. The nearest one now is at Toronto, and Ottawa on the east.

In charge of the new bureau will be Identificaton Officer William Aggas, who took a two-months course in this work at RCMP quarters in Ottawa. Since his return, he has been engaged in re-organizing the present data on file at the department and detailing arrangements for the larger files projected.

The room, 12 by 16 feet, will be built on the top of the garage roof of the police station and will lead directly from the court room. It will contain all the filed information on persons convicted of crimes in the general Peterborough area.

Also included in the master files will be the RCMP identification service, which keeps tabs on released convicts, missing persons, wanted criminals, stolen goods and cars and other matters of criminal control. Co-operative records between other police forces and the city force will be centred in the little room.

An important part of the new section will be photography sections, with a complete darkroom eventually slated. This work was started in 1947 by PC Aggas, who at that time, was doing patrol duty. The department now has more than $1,000 worth of cameras and equipment for handling pictorial files. A modernized control card file, which will include the subject's picture, personal history and police records, will be the nucleus of the system.

Police and detectives working on a case will be able to refer to the files for fast summaries of the suspect's character. It will include such significant information as places frequented, relatives, regular contacts.

Until 1939, there was no completed unified system of criminal records here. Since that time, data has been collected on the 1,000-odd persons who have passed through the courts in that time. In addition, the RCMP information is filed. Present quarters for this work and the files — a part of the detective offices — are too overcrowded for efficient operation.

Fingerprinting, also under PC Aggas, will be done here and those vital records incorporated in the master system.

With the new room, the Peterborough Police Department will also be able to speed criminal detection with fast reports to other points such as are now supplied by the larger centres.

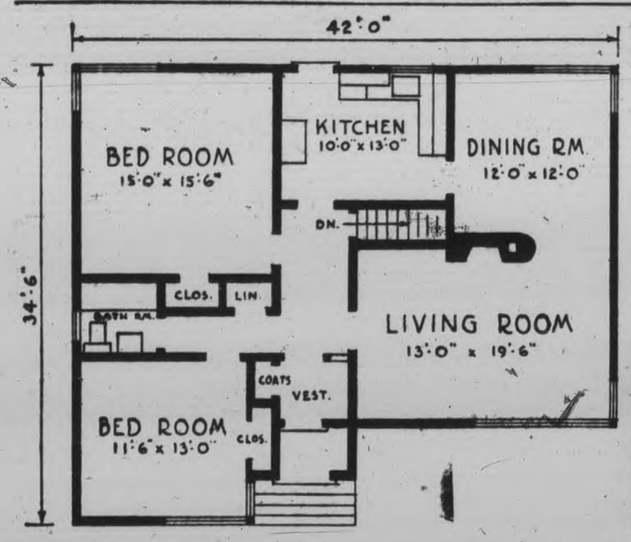
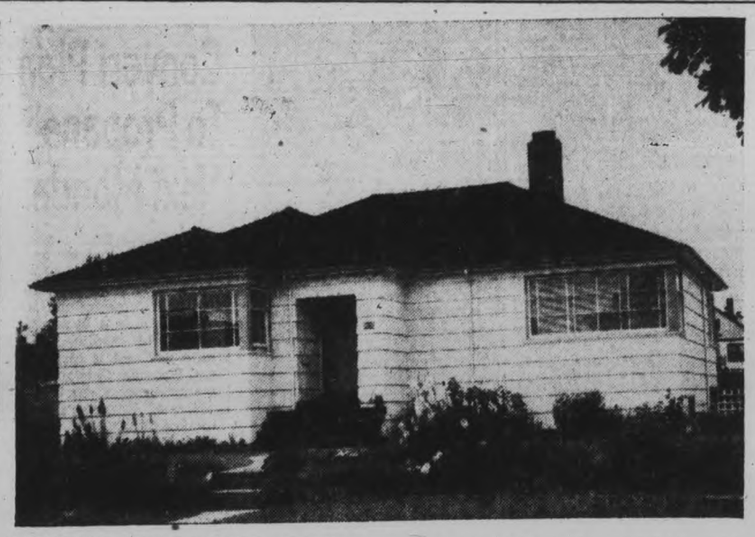
SIMPLE DESIGN ADDS BEAUTY TO HOME, MAKES DOLLAR STRETCH





ENTHUSIASM IS RUNNING HIGH these days for all-on-one-floor houses. This one house No. 10 certainly rates high in appearance. Its modern lines are a treat. Exterior walls are cedar shingle painted white. The roof is black shingle, while the trim is green. Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Neil built it recently on Hamshire Road, Victoria, British Columbia. Suggested plan shows five rooms in all. Garage is in basement, with entrance just visible at right of photo. Notice that there is a covered entrance and a vestibule with coat closet. Bedrooms are separated by the bathroom. For further information write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Planning Small House Plumbing Calls For Careful Consideration

Planning the plumbing system for the small house calls for two main considerations: (a) The inclusion of all necessary fixtures for bathroom and kitchen served by an efficient drainage and hot and cold water system; and (b) a special effort to make the plumbing installation economical by concentration of the location of fixtures. This latter consideration must play an important part in the planning and structural design of the dwelling.

For greatest economy it is desirable in one-storey houses to plan the kitchen and bathroom as adjoining rooms, but with sufficient space in the separating wall to carry the necessary plumbing lines. Through this combination of rooms and by placing the fixtures in the adjoining rooms along the common wall, only one vent stack is required for all the fixtures, and the lengths of drainage and water lines are reduced to a minimum.

In two-storey houses it is desirable to have the plumbing fixtures on the second floor located over the fixture on the first floor, so as to assure a concentration of mechanical equipment, minimizing drainage and water lines and permitting a single vent stack. In two-storied houses considerable additional drainage and water piping will be required in any design where the second-floor plumbing fixtures are removed from the vertical line rising from first-floor fixtures.

Laundry-Sink Combinations.

In small dwellings at least one laundry tray should be provided. In the case of one-storey houses, due to space limitations, it may be advisable to include the laundry tray in the kitchen in combination with the sink. In two-storey houses, where more utility space is provided, a double laundry tray should be located in the utility room as near the kitchen plumbing as possible.

The question of whether the bathroom shall include a shower in conjunction with the bathtub is entirely one of personal choice. A shower installation does not represent a great financial outlay, but in such minimum houses in order to achieve the maximum economy the shower should be considered as an extra. A separate shower compartment will generally be out of the question, unless it is substituted for a bathtub.

With the exception of the water closet, which should be of vitreous china, the plumbing fixtures should be either cast iron or pressed steel with a porcelain enamel finish. It is desirable to have the porcelain enamel acid resistant, but this refinement will increase fixture cost. The fixture fittings should be of good quality, of a type which can be easily repaired or replaced. Chromium finish on fittings and exposed pipe is desirable, due to its high resistance to corrosion. The slightly higher cost will be offset by longer life. In designs where the laundry tray is not part of the kitchen sink, an economical solution is the use of good quality cement trays with metal-bound edges and a steel supporting frame.

Painting Radiators

Radiators and pipes to be repainted should be first gone over thoroughly with a wire brush, taking off any blistering or peeling that may have occurred. Having given careful consideration to the decorative requirements of the room, apply your first coat tinted to approximately the colour desired in the finishing coat. Then follow with a second coat of the exact shade required. When a full gloss is desired, a good prepared enamel should be used for the finishing coat.

Ample time should always be permitted between coats so that each may dry and harden thoroughly before the next coat is applied. If it is possible to permit heat to pass gradually through the pipes between coats, the drying may be hastened . . . but do not apply full heat or the coating will undoubtedly be affected.

Nearly all light shades show a tendency to darken slightly due to heat. This should be taken into consideration when the color is selected.

The radiating power of the top coat of paint has a marked effect on the amount of heat the radiator will throw out. Metallic paint (one in which the pigment consists of small flakes of metal, such as alumium) has one-sixth less radiating power. If a paint of this type is used it is therefore equivalent to removing one-sixth of the radiator. It is not necessary to scrape off existing paint before applying the new, since it is the outside surface tha governs radiation.

Lonely Hearts' Club

WINDSOR, July 3.— (CP). — Windsor's Mayor Arthur J. Reaume is considering the establishment of a lonely hearts club in connection with city hall administration. The mayor receives an average of 35 letters monthly from young men and women, mostly resident in the British Isles asking for pen pals or someone who will sponsor them, in Canada.

Reporter Finds Berlin City Island In Russian Zone

(Editor's note: The following article, by a Canadian Press Reporter, describes some of the difficulties of travel to and from Berlin).

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

BERLIN, July 3 (CP)— Berlin today is an island in the Russian zone, linked to the British and American zones in the West by a single slender causeway.

Since the Russians restricted road and rail traffic entering or leaving the zone, the only route left to passenger traffic is by air —A 10-mile air corridor.

Midway between Berlin and Helmstedt is a British station, as lonely as a military post on India's northwest frontier. There a captain and his detachment of 25 eke out a dreary existence relieved by only one movie a week.

Without attempting to leave the zone, I chatted with a Russian guard, a burly fellow with a deep voice and a wide grin who spoke little English and a few words of German. The conversation was not illuminating, but with a circular movement of his arm he made it clear that if I went any further I would have to fly back.

Then he added: "Why you no learn Russian? Language is big barrier. . . make big difference to understanding. I learn English, you learn Russian."

Time Unimportant

Before the currency crisis precipitated new border restrictions, Germans were permitted to leave the zone, but only after a strict scrutiny of papers and a close search of their pockets and personal belongings.

For some time, trains and trucks crossing the border in both directions have often been held up for hours while the Russian guards made an exhaustive examination of the cargoes.

"Time means nothing to the Russians," a British army truck driver said. "If he has orders to check your stuff, he will do it if it takes him a week or a month."

RIGHT ON SCHEDULE and less than a week out of Liverpool, the 20,000-ton Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada" docked in Montreal recently. Among her 701 passengers was a direct descendant of Gen James Wolfe, victor of the Battle of the Plains of Abraham 1759), Mrs. Mary Bexon (nee Wolfe) of Nottingham, Eng. Mrs. Bexon said she was thrilled when the Empress reached Quebec City, to see where her illustrious ancestor had scaled the cliffs nearly two centuries ago. Mrs. Bexon is on her way to Winnipeg to visit a brother, Geo. Wolfe, and a sister, Mrs. M. McMillan.

Excavation Completed For Marmora Rink

MARMORA, July 3—(ENS)— Work toward the erection of the new covered rink is progressing at the Marmora fair grounds.

The actual construction of the building is to be commenced within the next two weeks. The excavation, in almost solid rock, has been made at the front of the site for the furnace room. When completed, the room will be fire proof and will heat the dressing rooms, office and refreshment room. A well has been drilled in the basement and will supply plenty of water for rink flooding and other purposes.

When the rink and grounds improvements are completed, the centre will be operated by a commission representing the local municipalities and the Marmora Agricultural Society. The appointment of the members of this commission is being made in the very near future.

MP's Anxious To Begin Summer Holiday

BY DOUGLAS HOW

OTTAWA, July 3 (CP)—So the session came down to its last days, in character. The city was heavy with an invisible wet that people called humidity. The commons yawned with empty seats. Sometimes there were 17 members when the rules say there should be 20 at least. Nobody said anything about it; everybody wanted to go home.

Everybody asked: "When do they go home?"

A lot of members went home early. The government called some back, cautious about a vote. One wired in from a beach resort, collect, asking the liberal whip the scores. The whip wired him back, collect, telling a long joke with his answer.

thousand T oa.utO cmfw shrrl

The estimates ran through, thousands and millions of dollars for dikes and salaries. Little wrangles sprang up along their route. Along the office corridors, parties welled, waxed and died. Boxes were packed with books and papers and shipped away.

Fond Goodbyes

The members came down to the press gallery lounge in a body for a visit and a drink. In a corner, some Liberals and Progressive Conservatives began to sing Bucko McDonald cocked an ear, grinned and opined: "The beginnings of coalition?"

In the offices, they talked vacation and politics and farewells and politics.

Mayor Ovens Greets Western Visitor

The mayors of two cities, more than 2,000 miles apart in location, had an informal meeting and chat over mutual problems this week. Mayor Frank Goldworthy of North Vancouver received a call from Mayor William Ovens. The western mayor and Mrs. Goldworthy are guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. William Young, 387 Edison Ave.

Mayor Goldworthy said that this is the third or fourth visit he has made to Peterborough. Mrs. Goldworthy, here for the first time, said that her husband had often mentioned "what a lovely city."

Like Peterborough, North Vancouver lays heavy stress on the tourist attractions of its district. With a population of about 14,000, it serves an outlying district of about 12,000 as well.

Both mayors spent the half-hour visit discussing municipal administration which seems to be the same all over—waterworks, traffic, transportation, fire departments.

Summer Circuit Reports Excellent Season

By PAT USSHER

NEW YORK, July 3 (CP).—The straw-hat circuit of summer theatres this year is off to what producers predict will be one of its most prosperous seasons.

As the footlights go up at resort centres, the financial outlook is cheery. For one thing, there's a generous sprinkling of big-name stars doing the rounds. Holiday-goers are reported more numerous than ever. And as usual amateurs by the hundred are eager to devote their time and in exceptional cases even some of their money to break into the theatre by this route.

Illustrating the prosperity trend is an echievement of the Olney Theatre at Olney, Md. In one recent week its receipts for Helen Hayes in "Alice-Sit-By-The-Fire" were $16,000, a respectable amount even by Broadway standards.

Notables Appearing

Notables of the entertainment world appearing on the country stages include Kay Francis, Jose Ferrer, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Walter Abel and June Havoc. Here's where they were during the last few days: Miss Francis appeared at Dennis, Mass., in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney." Ferrer and Mary Anderson played the title roles in "Romeo and Juliet" at Easthampton, N.Y. Aumont and Ilka Chase teamed in "Design For Living" at the Princeton, N.J., Drama Festival. Abel starred in "The Jailer's Wench" at New Hope, Pa. Miss Havoc was the star of "Lyistrato, '48," at Westport, Conn., and will be seen in late July in Eugene O'Neill's "Anna Christie" at the same place.

Engaging Show

"Howdy, Mr. Ice," the latest in a series of skating shows at the Centre Theatre, opened last week to a general chorus of approval. Proficient and well-staged, it is vastly helped by the antics of Freddie Trenkled, who provides amusing buffoonery and pantomime. Eileen, Seigh, a blonde, lovely Dervish, is the figure-skating star. The show has first-rate staging and choreography by Catherine Littlefield and the cast includes such dependables as Skippy Baxter, Cissy Trenholm, Jinx Clark and Harrison Thomson.

Car Sales Drop 4,153

OTTAWA, July 3. — (CP).— Passenger car sales dropped 4,153 during the first five months of 1945, the Bureau of Statistics reported Friday without giving any reason for the decline. However, it was believed that restrictions on importation of new cars and heavy excise taxes, imposed last November as part of the dollar-saving program, may have beeen responsible for the decrease.

Millbrook Lions Plan Fun For Local Tots

MILLBROOK, July 3 (ENS).—A new picket fence was put up this week between the public playground and Bremner's Garage by Lions Club members H. D. Bigelow and T. A. Campbell.

Through their efforts the wading pool has been cleaned out and is proving a major attraction for the children on the hot days. Two horizontal bars for acrobatics have been erected, and the Lions intend to have a "No Parking" sign immediately in front, with "Go Slow" sign to the west. W. Sootheran, local artist, did the painting for the newly-erected sign "Playground," and a project is under discussion to fill in with cement the space between the three alleys originally used in the shuffleboard games, making a solid platform.

With a phonograph and loudspeaker in the adjacent bandstand, the young people might then enjoy a dance occasionally.

At their closing meeting, the Lions voted $20 to the Girl Guide Company toward the expense of their camp; and $50 toward the salary of the playground supervisor, Jane Stinson, the lady Lions paying the other half. To date $100 has been spent for materials toward improving the playground and its equipment. Thursday, July 15, was set for the picnic date, the Lions, and the Lady Lions joining for this event.

During the summer months, the Lions will provide transportation to Wallace Point for the swimming, diving and canoe lessons for the young folk of the community, Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The local branch of the Red Cross is sponsoring this "safety in the water" undertaking again this season. Classes start next Tuesday, July 5, and awards will be issued in the fall. Instructors for the classes will include Miss Joan Patterson, member of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, Mrs. J. Forbes, and H. Cardwell.

Priest Observes Silver Jubilee

— Rev. Raymond J. Clancy of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, Notre Dame University, Notre Dame, Indiana, celebrated on July 1 with solemn high mass of thanksgiving at St. Peter's Cathedral, the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

At the altar with Father Clancy were his two first cousins, Rev. V. J. McFadden of Downeyville as deacon, and Rev. Edward Welsh of Parry Sound as subdeacon. Rev. E. MARMORA, July 3—(ENS).—Robert Scott was the only local angler to have met with success on the opening day of muskie fishing. He and James Black, with their two sons, went trolling on the Crowe River south of No. 7 Highway on Thursday afternoon. The eyes of the lads fairly beamed as Bob got his 17½-pound catch. Jean M. Breadman Pledges Vows At St. Peter's

The altar table was graced by bouquets of summer flowers and Mrs. Robert Aman was at the organ to play beautiful wedding music.

Her veil of white embroidered net was caught with orange blossoms and she carried a cascade of red roses. Bride Has Six Attendants At Cutmore-Burke Wedding

Against a background of pink and white canterbury bells flanked by rows of green and pink candles in tall wrought-iron candelabrae which stood on the floor, the marriage was solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church in Lindsay on Wednesday, of Gwynneth Leona Burke and Charles Dean Cutmore of Peterborough. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Burke of Lindsay, and the groom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Cutmore, Burnham St. The Rev. D. McQueen heard their nuptial vows.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and attended by Miss Audrey Burke as maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Cutmore as junior bridesmaid, and four bridesmaids, Miss Irene Holly, Miss Muriel Buchanan, Miss Betty Lake and Miss Jeanette Disney. Attending the groom was his brother, Mr. Robert Cutmore. Ushering were Ross Cutmore, Howard Hewitt, Ken Hotston and Leslie Hewitt.

Before the ceremony Glen Burke sang "Bluebird of Happiness" and during the signing of the register he sang "O Perfect Love". As the bridal party entered the church the choir sang "Faithful and True" from Lohengrin's Wedding March. Mr. R. Cutt accompanied the singers at the organ.

A wedding gown of traditional white satin with train was the bride's choice and she wore a long veil of white net, edged with fine lace, and caught to a beaded headdress. The flowers she carried were white American Pride roses. Miss Burke and Miss Cutmore, sisters of the bride and groom, were gowned alike in pink net with small hats and muffs to match. The bridesmaids were frocked in green net with matching hats and muffs, and each attendant wore a single strand of pearls while the bride wore a triple strand.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Burke chose a gown of gold crepe with hat to match and black accessories, and her corsage was of pink Delight roses. Mrs. Cutmore, mother of the groom, was gowned in pearl grey crepe with cerise and gray accessories and wearing pink and mauve sweet peas at her shoulder.

Also two crew members of the bomber on which the groom did a tour of operations during the war, the pilot, Flt. Lt. Jack Dundas of Thorold, and the navigator, FO Eric Gauge of Richmond Hill.

Aged Parents Much Happier In Homes of Their Own

Dorothy Dix

Probably the greatest good fortune that can befall any human being is to live in a peaceful and happy home, where the husband and wife love each other and treat each other with tenderness and affection, where the parents consider their children a gift from Heaven and do everything in their power to give them every pleasure and advantage, and where, as the old cowboy song goes, there is never a discouraging word.

And conversely an unhappy home is the nearest approach to a hell on earth that any poor wretch can be called on to endure. It does not matter what a palace the home is, or how much money goes to its upkeep, or how many diamond tiaras the wife has, or how many cars the children have, if the husband and wife are always quarreling, if the children have no respect or affection for their parents, if there is a perpetual row over whether Johnny should do this or Mamie do that, and if the kids grow up without their mothers and fathers ever trying to understand them or sympathize with then, then that home is a place of torment.

Inasmuch as so many children grow up in homes where they are the victims of tryannical and dominating parents and where the very memory of their youth is a horror to them, you wonder why, when they marry, that they take the chance of wrecking the homes by bringing into them members of their families who, they know, are nothing but fire brands.

Tyrannical Rule

To this column come innumerable letters from frustrated and bewildered wives who see their houses being pulled down over their ears, and their children driven to the streets for the privilege of a little freedom, by selfish and cantankerous old people who are determined to rule everyone about them, no matter at what cost.

One of the wives, who is facing the problem of whether it is her duty to sacrifice her husband and her children and her home to a disagreeable old mother, writes: "When I married I determined to make my home a happy one, because my childhood had been such a bitter one. And I succeeded. No home could have been pleasanter or more harmonious than ours has been. No more cheeful. My husband and the kids have been content to spend their evenings at home because it was more fun than stepping out.

"Now my mother has decided that she wants to come and live with us, and all this will be changed. She is very critical of my husband and I know how that will end—he will spend his evenings at the club instead of at home. She is always finding fault with the way I am rearing the children and they will escape to the streets to get rid of Grandma's nagging. She will try to rule us all with the rod and iron instead of the peace and harmony and love and kindness that has prevailed in our home, there will be nothing but faultfinding and quarrels and fights and tears. Shall I let her come and ruin our home or not?"

I would say emphatically NO. No matter how mean a disposition a mother has, nor how hard she is to get along with, it is her children's duty to provide her with as comfortable a living as they can afford, but it is no part of their duty to a mother to let her ruin their lives and break up their homes. If mothers want their children to cherish them in their old age, they must earn the privilege by being lovable.

The Stars Say . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, July 4

Sunday's horoscope hold splendid augury for many forms of activity in pursuit of pleasure, the feelings and emotions activating drives in all kinds of indulgences. Especially should there be pleasure in all manner of aquatic pursuits, bathing, swimming, all watery pastimes, including seductive brands of liquid libation and indulgences. However, there is definite danger should the feelings, emotions or appetites get out of bounds. Subtle undercurrents or tricky circumstances might bring deep regret.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may have many opportunities to make satisfactory combinations or alliances of a tacit or undercover character, with secret agreements or peculiar understandings more seductive than open agreements openly arrived at. But also there are flagrant dangers from runaway feelings, emotions, indulgences, in which irregular and unorthodox conduct might engender separations, disruptions, a general uprooting and long-term regret.

A child born on this day, while seemingly tactful, subtle and sagacious, may be the victim of its own irrepressible emotions or unrestrained feelings or appetites.

For Monday, July 5

Monday's astrological forecast is for a most perplexing and contradictory state of affairs, with auguries for much action and stirring about, with energies, impulses and faculties under exciting impetus, but unfortunately with omens of loss, disruption, surprise and critical denouements. While there may be serious basic purpose, yet an exciting and sudden turn of events may shatter original plans and programs. Unexpected situations, possibly accident or other tumultuous adventure may prove upsetting and demand complete reorganization and fresh objectives. Maintain composure in trying moments.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may be prepared for a sudden about-face from studied plans and purpose in an effort to stabilize affairs. The best plans and routines may have to be revamped because of unforseen events, drastic and far-reaching. Keep restrained and realistic in crises and do not permit the emotions, temper or mental blowout to dominate peculiar situations, best managed by practical and circumspect behavior.

A child born on this day may be many-sided and unpredictable, with stable and sterling traits but easily carried away by impulses or temperamental explosions.

Musical Festival Federation Plans Launched

OTTAWA, July 3. —(CP) — Plans for a National Federation of Music Festivals were launched Friday at the final session of the annual conference of festivals.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for the Dominion organization. It will be presented at next year's conference, scheduled for Niagara Falls, June 30-July 2.

The committee also will serve as a clearing housee and advisory body to deal with problems of the festival movement.

The conference recommended the maximum fee for experienced Canadian adjudicators be set at $50 a day, plus travelling and living expenses.

A second resolution is that adjudicators must get the approval of local festival committees before accepting outside engagements. It was passed when festival delegates complained that famous British adjudicators sometimes were "exploited" by other organizations during their visits in Canada.

George S. Mathieson of Winnipeg, president of the Manitoba Music Festival, was chosen president of the national organizing committee.

Executive members include W. B. Rothwell of Stratford.

Dates for major Canadian Festivals in 1949 were set as follows: Sudbury, Feb. 14 to 19; Toronto, Feb. 21 to March 5; Ottawa, March 7 to 16; Stratford, Ont., March 19 to 26; Manitoba (at Winnipeg), March 28 to April 9; Vancouver, April 28 to May 6; Lethbridge, Alta., May 9 to 14; Saskatchewan (at Regina and Saskatoon), May 11 to 19; Halifax, May 25 to June 4.

Takes Jail Term Not A Fine; Changes Mind

It looked for a time that Peterborough was about to have a martyr on its hands. Found guilty of illegal parking on Charlotte St., Herb Hamblin, 400 Wellington St., when told by Magistrate W. R. Philp, K.C., in court Friday morning that his fine was $2 and $2.50 costs, he said he would take the jail term.

"I won't pay it, mister. I'll go to the coop first if that'll make them happier." The magistrate gave a four day alternative to paying the sentence.

The hearing included a discussion between the accused and City Clerk E. A. Outram on the merits of parking meters, and showed a rather sharp dividing line of opinion.

'It's just too bad, Mr. Outram, that citizens can't park for a minute to get their groceries without being fined," he said as he explained the conditions of his case. He said he had found the parking ticket on his truck after he had just stepped into a store to pick up a waiting bundle of groceries.

'The reason for the parking meters is so that people will be able to find a place to park," explained the Clerk. "They make sure that your place hasn't been taken by somebody who has been parking there for the past four hours."

About a half-hour after the accused had been led to the cells, he was back in the court room—and paid his fine.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

BID THE SAFER SLAM

IN CHOOSING between the safer suit and the riskier No Trump declaration for a slam contract, the less doubtful suit should always be preferred in rubber bridge, despite the slightly larger score from the No Trump. In match-point duplicate, in which the few extra points might mean the difference between a fine score and an ordinary one, it is sometimes advisable to prefer the No Trumper if the contract is for a small slam. But when the choice is applied to a grand slam, the safer declaration is almost always to be chosen. That is because a good score is virtually certain if you bid and make any kind of grand slam, since some players in the game are afraid to try the big (Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South

Pass	5 ♦	Pass	5 NT
Pass	6 ♣	Pass	7 ♣

When North's responses to the Blackwood showed South the missing ace and lack of the missing king, South decided soundly to put his partner in the relatively safe club grand slam in place of the hazardous No Trumper. Al Sobel, famous tournament director of the American Contract Bridge League, was the North who made the contract by ruffing the heart trick on which the Q was played, then discarding his spade and diamond losers on the heart remainders.

Mr. Sobel pointed out afterward the soundness of South's choice. North having rebid clubs, South could be pretty sure, with his two tops, that his partner held at least five headed by the Q or six topped by some lower card, in either event a good trump suit. In a No Trump grand slam, the contract could have been made by sending a diamond lead through the Q of West or else by playing for a squeeze, but either method would have required a successful estimate amounting to a guess. In clubs, however, the job to do was clear-cut and required only sound procedure without clairvoyancy.

6—In Memoriam

CAMPBELL—In loving memory of Gertie, who fell asleep July 3, 1947.
Memory lane is a lonely lane,
Where hearts are ever true,
Again and again I travel that lane
Because it leads to you.
—Freda.

EARNSHAW—In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Herb., who was accidentally killed July 3, 1945.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day
But never shall the one we loved
From memory pass away.
—Always remembered by mother, dad, (Mr. and Mrs. W. Earnshaw, Sr.), brothers and sisters.

FISHER—In loving memory of Albert H. Fisher, who passed away July 3, 1946.
I have only your memory dear father
To remember my whole life through
But the sweetness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
—Ever remembered by Lucy and Stan.

FISHER—In loving memory of Albert H. Fisher, who passed away July 3, 1946.
I think of him in silence,
His name I oft recall,
There is nothing left to answer
But his picture on the wall.
—Ever remembered by his brother Bert.

FISHER—In loving memory of Albert Fisher, who passed away July 3, 1946.
Gone dear father, gone forever
How we miss your smiling face
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place
A happy home we once enjoyed
How sweet the memory still
But death has left a loneliness
The world can never fill.
—Sadly missed by Horace, Evelyn and children.

FISHER—In loving memory of Albert H. Fisher, who passed away July 3, 1946.
He is gone but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near
Days of sadness still come o'er us
Friends may think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.
—Always remembered by his wife Bella.

HUGGINS—In fondest memory of a dear mother, Mary Anna Murray, who passed away July 4, 1923, and a dear father, Thompson R. Huggins, who passed away March 12, 1944.
Loving and kind in all their ways
Upright and just to the end of their days,
Sincere and true in their heart and mind
—Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by their family.

PRESTON, Elva—Who passed away 10 years ago July 4.
Today recalls sad memories
Of a dear one gone to rest
And the ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
—Ever remembered by mother, sisters and brothers.

Ohio Tourists Most Numerous

For three decades, Ohio tourists have topped the list numerically as visitors to the Kawarthas. When the season hits its peak, three out of every five U.S. cars are from that state, says J. J. Dorris, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

"The standing is about the same as always. Ohio is at the top, followed by Pennsylvania and New York.

The volume of tourists may increase this year, he said, and most of the summer resorts are filled until the middle of August. A few have vacancies here and there, but for the most part, people seeking reservations now will have to do a bit of shopping around.

Convert Plant

same as they have been. Propane with a greater heating content should result in a less quantity of gas being consumed on the average. As far as the householder is concerned his gas bill should not show any reflection of the switch to propane.

The new plan is housed in two comparatively small rooms comprising part of the purifier house was to extract sulphur from the old gas. For the new equipment there is a mixing room where the propane is diluted with air. Beside it is a control room. The apparatus requires little space, and apparently little labor.

Preceding Peterborough in the transfer to propane are Brockville, Three Rivers and Sherbrooke, Que. Guelph has adopted it also, but not as a complete displacement of the old gas. They are using propane in a mixture. Hamilton, Brantford and Windsor have propane plants as standbys for their natural gas supply.

Windsor Uses It

Mr. Thorburn said that Windsor has a field of 25 of the 30,000 gallon propane tanks of which Peterborough has two.

Peterborough Utilities Commission, which is composed of G. S. Matthews, chairman, G. A. Macdonald and Fred Hills, reached a decision last winter to set up the propane plant when their supply of fuel oil was abruptly terminated by the company of which they had long been a customer. The alternative as reported by the Examiner at the time was: switch to propane or go out of the gas business. The public remembers the winter shortage of fuel oil. For months the Commission worried about obtaining sufficient oil to keep going until the new machinery was ready for operation. They were begging several of the big local industries to use their influence with oil companies.

Peterborough uFel and Transfer Co. diverted an occasional tank car of oil to the Simcoe St. plant. The Commission managed to get by, but it was an experience in anxiety of which the public could have little appreciation. Coal and oil costs were both rising. The supply of fuel oil was virtually cut off.

Hence, the conversion of the old gas plant to the new, without any cessation of the local service to consumers. The Commission has placed a contract order for three years' supply of propane.

AAU Honors Pansy Forbes

Mrs. Pensy Forbes, executive of the Peterborough Ornamental Swimming Club, has just received word of her appointment as advisor of the Amateur Athletic Union of US swimming. She will be going to Detroit at the end of July for the Olympic trials as guest of the National Chairman of Synchronized Swimming.

She has also been advised that the State of Iowa has set August 28 and 29 as the dates for the national swimming meet in which the Peterborough club will participate. All participants will have the chance to compete for the newly-created title, Beauty Queen of Swimming.

8 Ukrainians Welcomed By Farmers

There was no holiday for National Employment Service officials this year when they received word on Wednesday evening that eight Ukrainian displaced persons would arrive on July 1. It was originally planned by the Manning Pool that they would arrive in the evening, but came on the early morning CNR train instead. Arrangements had been made for the farmer employers to meet them Thursday evening and, as they were busy with harvest, they could not be reached earlier in the day regardless of the advanced change of arrival time.

Farmers who employed the new arrivals and the men themselves were as follows: Mel McKee, Peterborough, Iwan Leszkowiak; William Wilson, Keene, Boris Krawczuk; Alex Calder, Warsaw, Alexander Strembiki; Frank and Redmond Walsh, Hastings, Osyp Kusyk and Wasyl Chalapeako; Joseph Sullivan, RR 8, Peterborough, Georg Mudrak, W. W. McKelvie, Campbellford, Zergei Warikasz; and Patrick Butler, Hastings, Wladimur Hrebenyk.

Employment officials entertained the group with dinner and sightseeing until the first farmers arrived to claaim them at the office at 6 p.m. and by 7 p.m. the work was completed for the day.

On Wednesday morning manager W. Mellis and J. Sharpe drove to Port Hope to meet a lone Hollander, Jan De Wit, destined for farm work in the district. He had made a quick voyage from Rotterdam to Quebec and surprised officials by his fluent English which he studied in school and improved during the occupation of Canadian troops in Holland during World War II. He was very impressed with Canada and hopes to own a farm of his own as quickly as possible. De Wit was placed with Henry A. Sharpe, RR 1, Peterborough.

Jaw Smashed In Car Crash

Total damages of about $275 and one injured passenger resulted form a two-car collision at the Millbrook intersection of Highway 28 about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Mrs. C. O. Thackeray of Renfrew, a passenger in the car driven by Miss Gwen Gray of Bethany, received a smashed jaw.

The other car was that of R. J. Mahood of Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Damage to the Mahood car is estimated at $150, and $125 to the Gray vehicle.

Provincial Constable Roy Feeley investigated.

Model Plane Building Fades

The bug that bit model aircraft enthusiasts five years ago is just about dead. Only a few keen modellers remain of the scores that once filled fields around the city.

"We sell only one or two kits a day now," said one retailer. "There was a time, though, when we could sell a dozen. Of course, that would be on a good day."

Another retailer thinks that the end of the war had something to do with it. "The RCAF and RAF were the glamor boys, and if a kid was too young, he wanted to have something that would fly, even without him in it."

The popular kit of today is the ten-cent glider. It is strictly an elementary craft, but provides a lot of enjoyment for children. But even these sell slowly, retailers say.

"Time was," says one man, "When you weren't normal unless you had two models finished, and another under construction."

June 47 Hotter And Wetter Too

Ask the man in the street and he will tell you that this has been a wet June and a hot one as well. Yet the fact remains that June 1947 was both hotter and wetter.

A year ago 3.76 inches of rain fell compared to 3.15 this. And both months had nine days of rain. Mean temperature for June 1947 was 68 degrees, 5.3 degrees hotter than the recent one.

Warmest day of the past month was June 2 when the mercury shot up to 83 but it fell short of the 1947 figure which had the local populace mopping brows at 87 degrees. Conversely, June 1947 also had a colder day as well: on June 4 the thermometer registered 38 degrees compared to 40 on June 6 a year later.

The moral of the thing would seem to be: when you are dissatisfied with the weather don't complain; think of what it was like a year ago.

Take To The Hills, Men! Girls Talking 'Nudity' Now

HOLLYWOOD, July 3 (AP)—You can turn the page, men. This shouldn't interest you. It's just about a fashion prediction that women will be wearing skin-tight underwear beneath transparent dresses by 1950.

(Go on now, men, turn the page.)

It's film designer Elois Jenssen doing the predicting and she claims, with apparent seriousness, that "fashion has been enslaved by women's underwear."

Miss Jenssen announced her belief that slinky, full-figured tights for winter and thigh length shorties or Leotards for summer will replace panties, step-ins, brassieres and girdles.

The tights, she avers, will be in shades of shocking pink, jet black and flesh tones. She goes on to predict that peek-aboo transparent dresses—filmy and wispy—will be worn over the fancy tights.

"Let's face it, women's underwear is gosh-awful," said the 23-year-old movie designer. "A stocking attached to a garter belt is revolting. Your contemporary woman with a dozen itsy-bitsy unmentionables is as much a martyr to style dictates as grandma was to her painful corset. Skin tights will free style from the fetters of ridiculous, ugly underwear."

(Okay men, you can turn the page now.)

Congregations Unite For Summer Services

Joint church services for the summer months with many of the city's congregations commence on Sunday. In the southend the congregations of Park St. Baptist, St. James and Knox United are uniting, with the services the first three Sundays being held in Park St. church in the morning and Knox in the evening. The Rev. E. J. Whan will be in charge.

Trinity and St. Andrew's United congregations will worship together. The services during July will be held in Trinity church with the Rev. M. J. Aiken in charge. Only morning services will be held by these two congregations.

George St. United, Murray St. Baptist and St. Paul's Presbyterian are holding joint services, with the services during July in George Street and the Rev. Ivan Morgan will be in charge for the first three weeks.

COLOR-BLIND?

A car drove up today to the corner of Hunter and Water Sts., saw the green light, and carefully stopped, holding up about six irate drivers behind. When the light changed to red, he started and made a left turn onto Hunter, this time cutting off two streams of traffic. Bystanders are still wondering whether he was color-blind. We can't put it down to tourist ignorance of signs, either. The car had an Ontario licence!—N.S.

HIC—IT WORKED

A story comes down from the Court House hill of a determined character who, through the love of John Barleycorn, could count on the same barred room for three-month periods every once in a while. Is seems that things were dull on the outside since his last release and he thought of the good meals and cool cell; it seemed a much better life to him than roaming the hot streets these muggy days and he made quite a commotion at the jailer's door demanding to be let in for a "rest". He was strong-armed down through the park. Left to his own devices, he made a purchase at the Brock and Hunter store and stood calmly sampling it on the corner for all citizens to see and especially the Law. A police cruiser crew saw the lone drinker and caught on quickly; they whisked him up the hill within ten minutes after the jailer had him tossed out. He was in again, happy man.—N.N.

County Farm Notes

—By HARRY THEOBALD

One-Third of Canada's Farms Provide Only Subsistence—G. L. Burton, Macdonald College, See Little Hope For Them—District Holstein Herd Stricken By Lightning.

TOO MANY FARMERS?

Too many people engaged in agriculture in this country, and at the same time too few, appears to be a paradox in the national industry explained in part by inability to employ the expendable surplus more effectively elsewhere.

Realists have been proclaiming that some farms could be abandoned without serious loss in total production, while many farmers are unable to obtain the manual help they need, and government policy tends to favor the admission of immigrants with farm experience.

These are observations on an article in The Agricultural Institute Review by G. L. Burton of Macdonald College, Que. He poses the question: "Do Canadian Farmers Produce a Fair Share of the National Income?" In his discussion of this subject he discusses subsistence farms which probably may also be designated as submarginal. His conclusions are based on the new estimates of national income prepared by the National Bureau of Statistics.

Says Mr. Burton: "Farmers are producing and hence receiving a less than proportionate share of the national income primarily because one-third of our farms are very unproductive. The families on these farms do not have enough good land and sufficient capital at their disposal to enable them to produce their fair share of the national production.

Improved practices and better farm management alone can do little for this lower third of Canadian farmers. Given the opportunity to acquire more land and equipment some of these farmers will be able to raise their output and hence improve their earnings. The best hope of many more lies in a job in industry or on one of the top third of the commercial farms."

Mr. Burton says the census classifies 195,000 farms as subsustence or as a combination of subsistence farms. "These are repectively defined as farms on which more than 50% of the gross product is consumed by the farm family, and farms on which the value of products consumed on the plus receipts from one other enterprise are required to constitute 60% of the gross product."

As to the value of those farms to the national ecenomy, Mr. Burton says: "The lowest third of our farms (this subsistence group) are so unproductive that if they were abandoned the total commercial output of farm products would shrink less than one-eighth."

"Nearly one-half the full-time farms in the Maritimes and Quebec are subsistence farms. They are contributing only one-quarter of the total sales from farms in those provinces. Such farms are a refuge for under-employed labor at a time when industry and the top third of our commercial farms are having a difficult time securing enough labor."

"Since so many farms have so little to sell it is not possible to raise their incomes substantially by means of price supports or subsidies tied to the price of farm products. Any such plan to support farm income will result in better farmers, who are already receiving the highest income, getting the lion's share of such support payments."

"Any effort on the part of government to channel people into agriculture inevitably increases the already substantial differential between the earnings of farm and non-farm people. By favoring immigrants who intend to farm over other occupation groups we are automatically lowering the relative earnings of farm people. An even larger subsequent movement of people out of agriculture is therefore made necessary if those remain on the land receive incomes comparable with those of non-farm people."

The Burton article virtually advises transfer of people from submarginal farms to industry where their work will be more useful and gainful. How that movement could be accomplished is a broad problem whose discussions end up the cluttered alley of proposals. Meanwhile, farmers of the extensive middle group are struggling along with insufficient help, and are tantalized by the uncertainties of costs and income that often tempt them to retreat across the subsistence border and take a chance on surplus returns from their too often single-handed labor and management.

In a brighter spirit they actually continue putting all their efforts and spare capital into their industry and their farm plant without hope of approval from the consuming public and immediate sympathy from tax-gatherers. The middle group and its ingrained habit of work lie outside the Burton question of the farmer's contribution to the national income. The concern of the average landsman these days comes nearer home.

AGRICULTURAL BRUCE COUNTY claims first place in Ontario in cattle with a total value of $15,455,705. Group of beef cattle (above) near Wiarton is typical of herds scattered throughout county.

LIGHTNING KILLS NINE COWS

James T. Brown, Newcastle, Ontario, lost the heart of a prize purebred Holstein herd when nine of his foundation cows were killed a few days ago by lightning under one large elm close to the barn. Said Mr. Brown: "Apparently it would be good advice to other breeders who have such trees in their pastures either to remove them or fence them to avoid a similar misfortune."

Amongst the animals killed was the foundation cow of the Brown herd, Olive Burke Fayne. "Olive" had a nine lactation lifetime production on ROP test of 161,004 lbs milk containing 61,133 lbs. fat, average test 3.81 per cent. This is the highest lifetime production ever made by any Holstein cow in Canada that has been graded "Excellent," the top classification for type. Mr. Brown was building his herd largely on the blood of "Olive" and so the loss of her daughter Inka May Fayne and two of her grand daughters was a serious blow.

Other animals lost included two daughters of Montvic Rag Apple Triune and a grand-daughter of the noted $21,000 cow Montvic Bonheur Pietje B.

While not as serious as the loss of these animals for breeding purposes, the fact that seven of the nine were producing six cans of milk a day and another was due to freshen right away cut the milk output of the herd down badly. Mr. Brown is inclined to think that bad luck runs in seven year cycles as just seven years after he started his herd it was practically wiped out with Bang's Disease, and now this catastrophe has occurred exactly seven years later.

HOLSTEIN MEETING

Peterborough Holstein Club is holding a twilight meeting at the N. M. McConkey Lifloc Farm Wednesday, July 14, beginning at 7 p.m. The program includes a judging competition for the calf club youngsters and a selective registration demonstration conducted by George VanPatter, Aylmer, chief inspector of the selective registration staff. This is a comparatively new idea to emphasize the details and feature of selective registration. Visitors will be given cards to write their grading of the specimen cattle and to compare their ratings with the listing which Mr. VanPatter will make.

The directors have lines out for a special speaker, but are not yet in a position to make an announcement. Members of neighboring county clubs are being invited, and the women's group of the club will provide refreshments.

PERMANENT PASTURES

"Milk production in the Peterborough area has been holding up exceptionally well," Mayor W. G. Ovens said Friday. "Timely rains account for the satisfactory pasturage, and there is one other fact that has been noticed, an increasing number of our farmers are going in for permanent pastures.

"This investment has been paying off in real dividends, and I feel certain that as these results become more generally known the farmers who have been slow to adopt the practice will follow suit. There is a high food value in these new grass mixtures that is good for dairy cattle and also beef. While na . l pasture gets the benefit of rains there is not quite the same dependence on the permanent seedings to carry livestock through a midsummer dry period.

"That is an important advantage, the benefits in a dry year. On top of that is the better food values. Naturally I have been interested in the response of many of the farmers of this district to the permanent pasture recommendations. From what I see and hear I am convinced that it is a sound investment for every farmer, and something that is going to show steady development."

Canada Sending Youngest Bishop To Conference

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, July 3 (CP)—Canada's youngest Bishop, Rt. Rev. Fred P. Clark of Kootenay, B. C., is also the youngest of 330 anglican Bishops attending the Lambeth Conference.

He is one of 23 Canadian Bishops attending the conference which started Thursday.

Bishop Clark was consecrated last April and he looks more youthful than his 40 years with his cheerful rugged personality and fresh out door looks.

Tuesday afternoon the Clarks attended their first service at St. Paul's Cathedral where the inaugural service for the Lambeth Conference will be held Sunday.

A native of Toronto, Bishop Clark has had a spectacular ecclesiastical career since he was graduated in 1932 from Bishops College, Lennoxville, Que., and was ordained by the Archbishop of Quebec.

He was successively curate at the church of the Advent, Westmount, Que., Rector of Holy Trinity, Vancouver, and Dean of Kootenay for four years before his promotion.

"My diocese is expanding rapidly, due to the tremendous influx of population from the prairies," he said. "We are opening up many new parishes and need more clergy to administer them.

Bishop Clark said he believes the Lambeth Conference will stimulate religious life in Britain and other countries.

TORONTO BOY 9, DROWNS AT INVERLEA

AT ONE OF THE BLOCKADE POINTS on the border of the Soviet zone of Germany, a woman bearing a heavy burden signs the necessary papers as she passes through a Russian post. Bottom, at Helmstedt, trucks await lifting of blockade. The Soviet attempt to squeeze the western powers out of Berlin by refusing to allow transportation into the German capital was seen to be easing up.

400 Planes Service Berlin Trying To Break Blockade

BERLIN, July 5—(AP).—British and United States efforts to beat the Russian blockade of Berlin with a bridge of supply-carrying planes gained fresh momentum today. The air forces of the two Western allies sent nearly 400 planes into the city Sunday from western Germany and were planning to keep up the pace.

Brig.-Gen. Joseph Smith, commanding the American air service, said he was pleased with the efforts of both the flight and ground crews. Although the crews are averaging only four or five hours' sleep each day they are maintaining and flying the planes with mixiumum efficiency, he said.

Britain plans to use Sunderland flying boats to increase the tonnage being flown to allied nationals and some 2,000,000 Germans in the western sectors of Berlin. Ten of the huge aircraft already have arrived in the Elbe River at Hamburg.

Meanwhile, there were hints that the Russians planned a new protest over alleged violations of flying rules in the corridor being used by the American and British planes. Soviet officials have made approximately 30 similar protests in the last three months.

Hint Protest

The hints of a new Soviet protest came in a dispatch by the Russian-licensed ADN news agency. The agency said it had heard that the Soviet commander, Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, had sent letter on the subject to Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States commander.

However, Clay's office said no such letter was received Sunday.

Despite the giant air lift Berlin still faced economic paralysis by the Soviet ground blockade, now in its 17th day. The stoppage of coal shipments from the west already has decreased by half western Berlin's industrial output.

There were new indications that the Russians want a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers to take up again over-all discussions on Germany. The Russians have demanded for some time that the western allies abandon their plan for a western German government.

Hold 15 Youths In Resort Riot

TORONTO, July 5 (CP)—Fifteen youths were remanded today on charges arising from a riot Saturday at suburban resorts Lake Wilcox and Musselman's Lake.

York County police, who said they summoned more of the teen-aged youths, made the arrests after cottagers complained of weekly brawls between gangs from east and west Toronto.

Five of the youths, who appeared today are on $200 bail, according to the police. They are charged with vagrancy.

Police said the rival gangs were transported from Toronto in trucks. No property was damaged and no one was injured in the Saturday brawl.

York County Chief Ronald Watt called the youths a "bunch of hoodlums."

Plans Home In Cave To Save Civilization

WASHINGTON, July 5—(CP)—Senator Glen Taylor, former Idaho Democrat and co-founder with Henry Wallace of "The New Party" wants to save a remnant of civilization to perpetuate the human race after an atomic war.

He keeps telling the Senate and the people that present government policies, especially strengthening the armed forces, will lead to war.

He suggested putting lead doors on the mammoth cave in Kentucky, ventilating it with decontaminated air and installing "half a dozen young couples who have just gotten married."

He would "set them up to housekeeping in the mammoth cave so when all the rest of us are killed they can hold out there for a few years . . . and then they can emerge and proceed to repopulate the earth."

Skiff Upsets In Rice Lake; Man Drowns

Nearby Canoeists Manage To Save Second Toronto Man

GORE'S LANDING, July 5. —(ENS).— Kenneth Doran, 27, of Toronto, was drowned in Rice Lake early Saturday evening when the skiff in which he and Fred Mathews, also of Toronto, upset in a bay about 30 yards from shore. Apparently Doran and Mathews who were spending a holiday fishing here attempted to change positions in the boat causing it to upset.

Summer guests on shore saw the boat go over and immediately gave the alarm. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Abbott of Toronto, who were nearby in a canoe when the accident happened, managed to get to the spot and kept Mathews above water until help arrived from the shore. However there was no one around to save Doran and he being a non-swimmer drowned.

Body Not Found

Dragging operations be Saturday night and were continued throughout Sunday, but the body was not recovered. At the spot where the boat overturned, the bay is weedy, and it is believed that weeds have become entangled about the body.

Doran and Mathews planned to spend the week-end at the Rice Lake House near here. Both men could not swim, and when the boat went over, Mathew told Doran to hang on until help came. Doran is believed to have panicked and refused to hold on.

Provincial Constables Don Nicol and Lyle Erskine of Cobourg supervised dragging operations.

Bernadotte Asks Truce Extension

RHODES, July 5 — (AP). — Count Folke Bernadotte said today he has asked Jews and Arabs to extend the four-week Palestine truce due to expire Friday.

If both sides accept the principle of prolongation of the truce, the United Nations mediator said, the question of the length of the extension would then be discussed.

The Count said he also has proposed demilitarization of the Holy City of Jerusalem and of the port, terminal and refinery facilities at Haifa.

CAIRO, July 5—(AP). — Both Arabs and Jews are reported on good authority today to have turned down a United Nations plan for lasting peace in Palestine, but United Nations mediator Count Folke Bernadotte still sees ns hopeful.

A new outbreak of war threatened the Holy Land. The four-week truce arranged by Bernadotte ends Friday. Both sides prepared Sunday to fight again. In Jerusalem, the truce was broken for 12 hours as Jews and Arabs exchanged gunfire.

Railway Union Committee Renews Wage Dicussions

MONTREAL, July 5 (CP). — Frank H. Hall, chairman of a negotiating committee for 122,000 members of international brotherhoods threatening a July 15 rail strike, said today his committee expected to meet with the railways later in the day "to discuss wages."

Presumably the companies and unions were being brought together under auspices of a mediation board meeting here in an effort to avert a country-wide rail strike, but Mr. Hall declined further comment.

A spokesman for the board also said no comment would be issued until the end of the sittings, continuing since last Tuesday.

Mr. Hall denied a report, attributd to a union official, that spokesmen for the international brotherhoods would meet today with representatives of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees (CCL) to discuss counter-proposals made to the unions by the mediation board.

He said no such counter-proposals had been made and no joint meeting was planned.

The CBRE executive board was scheduled to meet here tomorrow possibly to discuss setting a strike date but CBRE spokesmen could not be reached immediately for elaboration of their union's plans.

Both groups of unions asked last winter for a 35-cents-an-hour wage increase. Conciliation boards in majority reports recommended seven-cent increases, minority reports calling for 20-cent wage boosters. Mediation efforts so far have failed to arrive at a figure at which railways and unions could agree.

U.S. Death Toll 335

CHICAGO, July 5—(AP).—The July 4 holiday week-end death toll amounted to 335 today with the peak of homeward bound travel still to come. Traffic fatalities rose to 195, only 40 less than the 235 total predicted by the National Safety Council for the three-day period ending tonight. There were only two known deaths from fireworks but drownings totalled 100 and miscellaneous accidents caused 38 deaths.

Claxton Raps Moscow On War Talk

OTTAWA, July 5 —(CP)—Defence Minister Claxton quietly marked out "Canadian" and inserted "Russian" in a Moscow week-end charge of warmongering levelled against the Canadian government.

He took cognizance of the fact that the Soviet's official army newspaper Red Star had attacked him for a speech he made in the Commons in which he termed the Soviet the only possible aggressor that Canada need fear.

"The hope of future peace," he told the Canadian Press in an interview, "lies not in what the Sovei Union says about us but in what the Soviet Union does to improve the welfare of their own people and work with other nations in the welfare of all."

Mr. Claxton failed to be ruffled by the Red Star's attack which called his fears of Russia as an aggressor nation "a provocateur's pipe dream." It said it proved the Canadian government belongs to the category of "war instigators."

Hasn't Big Army

"Everyone knows that Canada is not a country which has about 4,000,000 men under arms," said the defence minister. "Canada has not used the veto 26 times to obstruct international co-operation." (Russia almost used her 27th veto last week.)

And with an eye to the Balkans, Mr. Claxton added:

"Canada has not taken under her domination nearly a dozen countries."

The Moscow-controlled Red Star asserted "government circles in Canada not only are not combatting the war hysteria kindled in the nations but themselves are stepping forth in the role of propagandists for a new war."

Said Mr. Claxton: "A comparison of the military budgets and standards of living of Canada and the Soviet Union shows very plainly where we each stand."

Packing Firm Cancels Pact

TORONTO, July 5. (CP)—The United Packinghouse Workers (CIO) said today Swift Canadian Company has terminated a collective bargaining agreement with the union, effective Aug. 1.

The agreement affects Swift employees in Toronto, Moncton, St. Boniface, Man., Moose Jaw, Sask., Edmonton and New Westminster, BC.

"The union will try and contact the company to arrange a new contract," said John Langlett, UPW publicity director. "The way it looks now, however, we will have no agreement Aug. 1."

The agreement was signed last Oct. 22 after a 57-day Dominion-wide strike in which the union won wage increases ranging from 10 to 13 cents an hour.

Salvage Crew Lifts Part Of Jet Plane

BOWMANVILLE, July 5—(CP)—A salvage crew Sunday lifted a wing and wheel of an RCAF jet Vampire fighter plane from the floor of Lake Ontario. Pilot of the craft, Sqdn. Ldr. S. Y. Broadbent of St. Thomas had been missing since the plane plunged into 200 feet of water about five miles off shore June 17.

Small Girl Only One To See Him

Child Went Down Within 50 Feet Of Park Lifeguard

Nine-year-old Gerald (Buddy) Harron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Harron of Toronto, was drowned at Inverlea Bathing Beach today within 50 feet of a lifeguard. The child was playing in the water with a group of other children and apparently slipped off the dangerous ledge which follows the course of the river outside the bathing beach.

Unknown to the lifeguard and to the other children, except Sylvia Richardson, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richardson, 663 Donegal St., it is not clear how long the child was in the water when the alarm was given. The little Richardson girl when she saw her playmate slip under the water rushed to her home, where the Harron family had been staying. She told her mother the Harron boy had disappeared under the water.

Firemen Respond

Mrs. Richardson telephoned the fire hall at 11.25 a.m. and the fire department immediately responded. Their arrival at the park was the first intimation the lifeguard Ronald Gynane had that anything was wrong. Then no one knew where the accident had happened. The police went to the Richardson home and returned with Mrs. Richardson and her daughter, who was able to direct the searchers to the proper spot in the river.

Searching from boats the police and firemen, along with the aid of several boys, were not long in locating the body and brought it to shore at 11.59.

Firemen and lifeguards alternated in giving artificial respiration for three-quarters of an hour under the direction of Dr. C. F. Cahill when life was declared extinct.

Just On Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Harron came to the Richardson's to visit on Dominion Day. Mrs. Harron returned home Sunday night and the father and child intended to remain for a few days. This morning the boy went to the beach with Silvia Richardson.

Lifeguard Ken Stacey who came on duty shortly after the body was recovered said that there had been 13 near drownings at the beach last year when he was on guard and that he regarded the ledge as very dangerous.

Formerly the city had markers along the beach to warn children that they could only go out a certain distance, however these markers have not been in place for the past two years.

3 Men Arrested After Tourists Lose $100, Watch

Three Toronto men are being tried here today on charges connected with the alleged theft of more than $100 and a wrist watch from American tourists at a city tourist cabin. They are Dowald McIsaac, chargedd with stealing and Archibald Rose and Howard Dodds, who are charged with being in possession of stolen goods.

The trial of McIsaac, who pleaded not guilty, was partially heard this morning and is being continued later today.

Mrs. Robert Howard of Cleveland, Ohio, testified that her purse, containing $105 and a wrist watch had been stolen from her cabin bedroom on Lansdowne St., where she and her husband were staying. She gave evidence that the three men, who are also staying at those cabins, had been near her cabin Sunday morning, when the alleged thefts were made.

Det.-Sgt. John Stevenson of the City Police Department told of finding the missing articles under the front seat of the accused's truck, which had been parked near an uptown restaurant at that time. He said that McIsaac denied any knowledge of the presence of the purse and watch.

William Hamblin, son of the owner of the cabin concern, and his father, Gordon Hamblin, also gave evidence.

Chiang's Big Planes Pound Honan Units

NANKING, July 5—(AP)—The government threw its biggest warplanes into the East Honan province battle today as reports from field commanders told of continued efforts to encircle more than 100,000 Communists in the Yellow River area south of Kaifeng.

From Chenghsien, pro-government reports said Communist units under Generals Chen Yi and Liu Po-Cheng were pocketed at several points in a triangle formed by the Lungchai-Peiping-Hankow railroad.

These reports said that national artillery killed a large number of Communists concentrated in two villages along the Siuhsien-Chihsien line.

Canada Accepts Invitation To Take Part In Talks On W. European Security

First Step Taken By American Hemisphere To Associate With Western Union; Discussions Will Be On Diplomatic Level

OTTAWA, July 5—(CP).—The Canadian Government disclosed today that it has accepted an invitation to participate in "exploratory" discussions in Washington looking towards security arrangements with western Europe. This is the first official step taken by the countries of the Western Hemisphere towards associating themselves with the countries of the western union — Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — in defence arrangements against the spread of Communism across Europe.

Announcing Canada's acceptance, the External Affairs Department said in a statement:

"The proposed Washington discussions, at this stage at least, will be purely exploratory and on the diplomatic, not the governmental level.

"The Canadian Government has been glad to accept the invitation to participate in them, and the Canadian Ambassador in Washington has been asked to make himself available for that purpose. In these diplomatic discussions he will be assisted by officials of the Department of External Affairs as required from time to time."

While there has been no official announcement of the talks from Washington, a dispatch from that capital this morning said the Ambassadors of the western union were reported to be slated to meet a high United States official tomorrow to discuss relations between the US and the western union.

Press Statement

The External Affairs Department disclosed the Canadian acceptance in a round-about press statement.

The statement first reported that this question was asked of the British Government in the British Commons today:

"What arrangements have been made for discussions between the powers adhering to the Brussels Treaty and representatives of the United States Government regarding American armed aid to western Europe?"

It then recorded part of the British Government's reply, as follows:

"There will undoubtedly be a constant exchange of views in Washington between the governments of the United States, the United Kingdom, the other parties of the Brussels Treaty and Canada concerning western European security arrangements, and the United States and Canadian association with them."

Cominform Has Meeting In Bucharest

BUCHAREST, July 5—(AP)—Well-informed sources said today they believed a meeting of the cominform was held in Bucharest this week-end, possibly to discuss its controversy with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

Foreign correspondents here were unable to obtain verification of the report. The Romanian carried no report concerning any meeting.

Reports that the Yugoslav Communist party had been formally expelled from the Cominform likewise could not be confirmed.

Gives Invitation

LONDON, July 5.—(AP). — Yugoslav Communists appeared today to have set the stage for an eastern European showdown on the policies of Premier Marshal Tito, now in disfavor with Moscow.

Tanjung, official Yugoslav news agency, said all Communist parties have been invited to attend the fifth congress of Yugoslavia's Communist party in Belgrade July 21.

The agency's announcement came only a few hours after a Bulgarian newspaper bluntly called upon the Yugoslav to say whether they plan to remain in eastern Europe's Communist camp or seek a partnership with the western powers.

The Sofia newspaper Otecestveni Front, one of the voices of Bulgaria's Communists, said: "Yuoslavia cannot remain an isolated island between two camps. Where will the Yugoslav Communist party place Yugoslavia?"

It was the Soviet-dominated Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) which turned the heat on Tito by accusing him and his lieutenants of straying away from Marxism and embarking on a Nationalist, anti-Russian policy.

39 Aboard Two Planes Killed In Collision; Worst In British History

Great Explosion Is Heard Above Clonds As Aircraft Meet Head On; Trying To Land During Heavy Rainstorm

LONDON, July 5—(CP).—The still smouldering wreckage of a burned-out RAF transport plane and a Scandinavian Skymaster today marked the death scene of 39 victims of the worst disaster in the history of British civil aviation. The planes collided in mid-air, near suburban Northolt Airport, during a Sunday afternoon rainstorm and, gyrating madly with parts of wings and tail assembles torn off, plunged to death a mile and a half apart. The RAF York transport crashed in a wooded area known as "Madness Hill."

Among those killed was Sir Edward Gent, successor to Sir Malcolm MacDonald, as British High Commissioner for the Federation of Malaya. Sir Edward was the lone passenger in the York, carrying six crew members. The Skymaster carried 25 passengers and seven crew members. There were no survivors.

The wreckage was strewn over a two-mile area. Eye-witnesses told of a great explosion heard above the clouds—the ceiling was no more than 400 feet—and of further explosions when the crippled craft struck the ground.

Can't Move Bodies

Rescue workers were unable to move all the bodies before nightfall and police and RAF members guarded the wreckage overnight. The victims' bodies were horribly mangled and, in most cases, were not immediately identifiable. Work of removal of the bodies will continue with acetylene torches to cut through the fused metal of the fuselages.

Shortly before the collision, the pilot of the Swedish plane radioed that because of heavy rain and low clouds he intended to go back to Amsterdam.

The York, a transport of a type developed from bomber designs, had circled Northolt Airfield for an hour, unable to land because of poor visibility.

Thirty-seven bodies were recovered overnight.

15 Masked Men Raid Ship Office

HAMILTON, July 5 (CP)—Fifteen masked men, brandishing baseball bats, smashed their way into the offices of the Canada Steamship Lines about 12:30 a.m. Sunday, ripped telephones from the wall, threatened night watchmen and indicated they intended to board the freighter Battleford, tied at the wharf alongside.

After entering the office, watchmen said, the men raced toward the Battleford but were restrained by a locked gate on a six-foot wire fence. They loitered for a few minutes, then disappeared.

Joseph Davis, a night watchman said "It all happened so fast we didn't have time to get scared."

There was a rap at the door, he said, and before William McDonald, the other watchman, could open it, four men hurled themselves against it.

"They pushed baseball bats under our chins and forced us into a corner. Others went into the offices where the two telephones were, and ripped the wire off."

"They didn't make a great deal of noise," said Davis, "and the men on the Battleford didn't know anything about the affair until it was all over."

"Same Berlin" Campaign

In London it was regarded as virtually certain that the western powers will send a formal protest to Moscow concerning the blockade. Responsible diplomatic authorities there said, however, that no agreement yet has been reached on the wording of the protest.

"Save Berlin" campaigns were sprouting all over western Germany. Although on slim diets themselves, the western Germans voluntarily were giving up one day's food rations to be flown to Berliners in the western sectors of the city. With the gifts went messages of encouragement in "Berlin's fight for freedom."

Increased gifts also were reported from Sweden, Switzerland the United States and other countries.

Will Not Ask Extra Planes Till Necessary

LONDON, July 5 — (CP). — The foreign office has discussed the possibility of the Dominions providing aircraft for moving supplies to Berlin but no formal request for such help will be made unless the situation requires it.

The foreign office, in a statemen issued July 1, said foreign secretary Bevin had discussed the Berlin situation with the high commissioners "and referred to the possibility of seeking concentrated foodstuffs and transport aircraft."

Because of Russian restrictions the only communication route open between the western occupation zones of Germany and Berlin is by air.

The statement added: "No request for the supply of aircraft will be made unless further developments in the situation should require this."

The Canadian Press, in reporting the foreign office statement, interpreted it to mean that the foreign office had decided not to press the request. The previous day a foreign office spokesman told The Canadian Press in a telephone conversation that the request for aircraft had been made.

Text of the foreign office statement of July 1 follows:

"In speaking to the commonwealth high commissioners on Monday concerning the situation in Germany, Mr. Bevin mentioned the difficulties which would arise in supplying Berlin by air and referred to the possibility of seeking concentrated foodstuffs and transport aircraft from any of the free countries which might have these readily available.

Say Soft Coal Strike Expected

WASHINGTON, July 5—(AP) —All signs pointed today to a soft coal strike in mines owned by the country's steel companies.

Annual vacation of nearly 400,000 soft coal miners ends at midnight tonight, by the 40,000 employed in the so-called "captive" steel company mines were not expected to go back to work without a contract.

The steel industry balked at giving John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers the union shop arrangement signed by the commercial coal industry. The mine-owning steel mills said they were willing to go along with other contract provisions—a dollar-a-day pay increase and doubling of the miners' 1947 10-cents-a-ton welfare fund royalty.

Government lawyers indicated they will wait for a strike to develop before making any court move to stop it.

All Groups Showing Slightly Firmer Tone

TORONTO, July 5 (CP)—All groups showed a slightly firmer tone in dull trading here today. Industrials and golds made some good gains in spotty action and base metals and western oils were steady with a few issues edging ahead.

The few issues trading in industrials moved ahead on fractional gains. Action was spotty, probably because of the closing of the New York market for the Independence Day holiday in the United States. Atlas Steel, Brazilian Traction, Canadian Bank of Commerce, C.P.R. and Walker's strengthened.

Eldona highlighted golds, trading more than 128,000 shares in the first three hours for a gain of 7 cents. Hollinger gained 10 cents and Bralorne was up 5 in senior golds. Cochenour, Donalda, Dulama, Macassa, Madsen and Pickle Crow advanced 1 to 7 cents in juniors. Giant Yellowknife, Lingman, Malartic, Chesterville and East Malartic weakened.

Choice vealers were $21.50-$23 with an extreme top of $25.50 and commons down to $12.

Fire Razes Trent River Barn Garage

Pigs, Hens, Machinery Lost In Blaze; House Threatened

TRENT RIVER, July 5—(Special)—Fire destroyed the drive shed, garage and large barn on the farm of John Isaac Free, three miles south of here Sunday night. The blaze was first noticed about 10 p.m. by Miss June Free, after the family had retired. It began in the drive shed. Miss Free was aroused by the crackling sound.

The flames spread to the nearby garage and the big barn, about 100 yards away. The farm house itself was threatened and did catch fire several times. Assisted by neighbours, the family removed all their furniture from the house. The calm night was said to have been fortunate, as there was no wind to further endanger the house.

Nothing was saved from the three buildings except a brooder house with 300 chicks in it.

The loss included a car, truck, tractor, a numberof pigs and all the farm's machinery and 150 hens.

Insurance covered a part of the loss.

Hundreds of neighbors gathered at the scene but the fire had made such headway it was impossible to stop it.

Say Eisenhower Likely To Be Nominated

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, July 5 (CP). —The political signs point to nomination next week of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as Democratic candidate for president unless he says "no" quickly and emphatically.

The Eisenhower movement—aimed at nominating the former allied commander, now president of Columbia University, instead of President Truman—went into high gear during he week-end. It was encouraged by Eisenhower's continued silence.

Seasoned observers here say the General will not accept nomination and will announce his decision within a day or two. Some Republicans wanted him earlier in the year but he turned their bid down.

The experts here say he has no desire to comply with any appeal to his patriotism, from either Republicans or Democrats, when they are based mostly on a desire of politicians to use his name and prestige to save them from defeat in next November's election.

Likely Nominated

But unless he delivers the necessary complete renunciation that will remove him from any possible Democratic draft, it seems certain he will be nominated enthusiastically, and quite likely elected if he runs.

It is also likely that, even if he removes himself, there will be an Eisenhower nomination at Philadelphia next week and an attempt by the die-hards to pressure him into accepting.

A supporter for President Truman, Senator Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island, said in a statement:

"It is time that Democrats stop to think which a few dissidents and Republican propagandists are seeking to do to the Democratic party.

"The whole purpose of the so-called stop-Truman drive is to split the Democratic party irrevocably."

Say Both Sides Will Stop Short Of War

(Editor's Note: Norman Cribbens, Canadian Press staff writer, has just returned to London from a story-gathering trip to Berlin. This story gives his views on the implications of the present delicate situation in the former German capital.)

BY NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, July 5 (CP)—The Western Allies' stubborn refusal to be pushed out of Berlin had prompted the universal question:

"Will the Russian blockade of the slender causeway connecting Berlin with the Western occupation zones lead to war?"

The general view among foreign office officals here is that, while the present situation in Germany could lead to local incidents in Berlin the big powers will stop short of war.

Though Soviet Russia seems adamant in its refusal to lift the blockade of Berlin, no attempt has been made, as far as is known, to interfere with the fleet of aircraft now taking vital supplies to Berlin from the British and American zones.

If the Russians were determined to force a showdown over Berlin regardless of the consequences, it's likely they would have taken drastic steps to block the air corridor by now.

Russian officials and pro-communist Germans in Berlin assured me repeatedly that the Soviet will go a long way to preserve peace. British, American and French officials insisted that the Western powers would do all in their power to avoid a large-scale clash in arms.

To quote a Russian writer in the Russian's Daily Taeglische Rundschau:

"No sane power would seek to plunge the world into a fresh war so soon after the last. Russia wants peace as much as any country but she is determined to protect Germany from capitalistic aims."

John A. Noble Auctioneer Dies

COBOURG, July 5 —(ENS)— The funeral of John Alexander Noble of Baltimore was held on Saturday afternoon with interment in Coldsprings United Church cemetery. He was 68 years of age. He served in Hamilton township council for many years and sat on the counties council as deputy-reeve, resigning from the township council to take on the job of tax collector, a post which he held for 25 years, retiring two years ago. Mr. Noble was a past president of the Northurmberland County Conservative Association, was active in the Hamilton Township Red Cross Association and was a member of No. 17, AF & AM Lodge, Cobourg. He is survived by his widow, who was Annie Bowman of Coldsprings; three brothers, Frank, Arthur and Murray of Baltimore and a sister, Mrs. W. E. Mann of Oshawa. Obituary

JAMES GRAY

MARMORA, July 5.—(ENS).—The death occurred at St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Saturday, of James Gray, a former resident of Marmora.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Gray and was born in Belmont township in August, 1866. For the greater part of his lifetime he was a carpenter and besides working considerably in this district, had been employed on contract jobs at Lakefield and other points in eastern Ontario.

He was a member of St. Paul's Anglican church and was the people's warden at the time of the First World War.

He was one of the oldest members of Marmora LOL 319 and in politics was a Conservative. About four and a half years ago he moved to Peterborough to reside with his daughter, Mrs. Thomas Moffatt, 186 Edinburgh St.

His wife predeceased him 13 years ago. He is survived by five brothers and two sisters: Asa, Trenton; George, Belleville; Thomas, Fred and Frank, Marmora; Mrs. Sidney Cummings, Belleville, and Mrs. Sarah Bedore, Marmora.

At his own request, the body is resting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Earl, 2 North Hastings Ave. (his old home). Service will be held at St. Paul's Anglican church at 2 p.m. on Tuesday, with burial in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

Cobbler Wins Suit Of Clothes

COBOURG, July 5 —(ENS)— With a $75 suit or the equivalent in shoe repairs, as the stakes, Jack Primeau, Cobourg clothier and Hank Haynes, Port Hope cobbler, battled it out on the greens at Cobourg Golf Club Sunday. Last week Primeau bet Haynes a $75 suit he could beat him at golf and Haynes wagered a $75 shoe repair credit for Jack's family. Incidentally Jack has six children in his flock. Before the big match came off, the contestants agreed that Primeau would be allowed a two-stroke per hole handicap.

Result of the big golf bout was that Haynes won the suit with three up and two to go, shooting a 74 or just or just two over par for the 18. Jack also turned in a good game but Haynes had scored his best for the season so that all that remains for him is to drop in and get measured for the suit.

21 Hurt In Blast

CHICAGO, Ill., July 5.—(AP). —An explosion and fire at the huge Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company plant Saturday injured 21 workers and knocked out an estimated 40 per cent of the plant's productive capacity. Police Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan estimated damage at "near a million dollars."

GORDON FISHER, 16, right, is shown leaving the Oshkosh, Wis., court house with Sheriff Clarence Smith, for a trip to the farm where the youth is reported to have shot his mother to death. The farm youth told the district attorney that he hated his mother because she was always treating him like a child.

Finland's Reds Have Setback; Lose Election

HELSINKI, July 5. (AP)—Finland's Communists have suffered a decisive setback, and the country appears headed for a course more nearly in the middle of the road as a result of parliamentary elections Thursday and Friday.

With returns nearly complete, results last night showed the Agrarian Centre Party had scored a strong victory, that the Social Democrats had run second and that the Communist-dominated Popular Democrats had come in third after holding first place in number of parliament seats since 1945.

The Popular Democrats lost eight of their 51 parliamentary seats, the Social Democrats gained two, and the Agrarians gained eight and surprised all observers. The Social Democrats had been expected to be the leading party.

These three parties are expected to form a new coalition government with the prime minister being chosen from among the Agrarians.

Of the three minor parties Conservatives, Swedish and Progressives, the Conservatives alone gained. They marked up one seat over their previous 29. The Swedish party kept its 14 seats. The Progressives lost four of their nine.

With 160 voting places to be accounted for in Nyland Province, including Helsinki, Popular Democrats had lost about 50 per cent of their votes in that district.

"Taking It Easy" Naw, Health Centenarian "Sleeps In" Until 6:30 These Mornings

SHANNONVILLE, July 5.—Still active physically and alert mentally, Jonathon Barlow of RR 6, Belleville, was 100 years old on Friday. From all parts of the province members of his family arrived at the farm home on the Tyendinaga and Thurlow township line for the celebration.

A resident of the Belleville district all his life, Mr. Barlow was born on a farm in the limits of Belleville and recalls the growth of the district during the past century. Member of a family of 10 children, he still has two younger brothers and a younger sister living.

Just last summer, passersby could see him out in the field with the rake, or carrying on other duties on the farm such as milking the cows. At other times he might be seen walking miles just for exercise.

On the approach of his 100th birthday this year, he has decided to take things a little easier: "Because I'm getting too old." Despite this he will occasionally dig into some work that needs to be done.

In the centenarian's opinion the speedy nerve-wracking life lived by the younger generation today is the result of sleeping in in the morning. Until this summer he went to bed at sundown and got up in the morning as the sun rose. Now he "sleeps in" at late as 6.30 sometimes.

In Good Health

He is in good health, although his eyesight and hearing are starting to fail. Despite this he continues to take an active interest in the political trend of the country and enjoys drawing members of his family aside to discuss elections and election issues.

When he celebrated his 90th birthday 10 years ago a newspaper reporter who went to interview him was told to "hurry up" because I have to get back to the field, I have a lot of work to finish today."

The farm is now managed by one of his sons, Fred, with whom he lives. His other son, James, resides in Belleville and is a retired railroad engineer.

He has 12 grandchildren, 19 great - grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, who is approaching his third birthday. His family settled at Belleville when they arrived from England early in the 19th century.

Why Profits are Necessary

Profits are necessary to pay for more up-to-date equipment . . . to help business expand . . . to provide more goods and better service to more people. And, a portion of the profits should in all fairness be set aside for the shareholders—those who have thrown in their lot with that business . . . for better or for worse.

The Bank of Toronto has noted, in the years before and since Confederation, the close identification of profits with the public good. Business health and continuous employment depend on an effective co-ordination of both labour and management in realizing legitimate profits which assure progress and promote national well-being.

The use of Bank Credit can often contribute to profits. This is a service which The Bank of Toronto offers to Canadian business.

President Truman And Dan Tobin's Teamsters

A man with a million votes "in his pocket" visited the White House for the first time in two years last week and had a "very pleasant talk" with the President of the United States. But neither Daniel J. Tobin, veteran head of the Teamsters' Union, nor Mr. Truman's secretaries hinted that the visit meant that the union's voting strength would be given to Mr. Truman if he receives the Democratic nomination. Mr. Tobin, in fact, refused to answer any questions from reporters following his hour-and-a-quarter talk with Mr. Truman. Information gathered elsewhere, however, indicated that a strong possibility exists that Mr. Truman may have an opportunity to begin the 1948 campaign as the late President Roosevelt began the 1944 campaign—if Mr. Truman gets the Democratic nomination.

• • •

It was learned that the executive board of Dan Tobin's union, which has nearly 1,000,000 members, has authorized him to call a "little convention" if he so wishes, to discuss, among other things, the union's political policy. According to authoritative sources, Mr. Tobin is now considering calling such a meeting in Washington, D.C., in September, and it will be recalled that at a similar meeting four years ago Franklin Roosevelt made the first speech in his successful campaign for a fourth term as President.

• • •

To predict that President Truman will begin his first Presidential campaign in the same manner may be taking a lot for granted, but at this time it seems a likely eventuality. His chances of receiving the Democratic nomination have brightened recently, and there is even a hint that Southern dissidents may fall in line if an effective method of saving face can be found. And Truman strategists and most labour leaders agree that union votes will go to the Democratic candidate; A.F.L. President William Green conservatively predicted that the "Republicans certainly won't get much labour support". So it seems altogether probable Mr. Truman will open his campaign with Dan Tobin's teamsters.

• • •

Mr. Tobin, however, may not have a million votes in his pocket this time. His union's executive may set political policy, but it cannot dictate to individual members, and it is known that Republican Vice-Presidential Candidate Earl Warren is extremely popular with West Coast teamsters. Even if the teamsters and Mr. Truman get together in Washington, Mr. Tobin may be unable to offer more than a split vote—possibly seventy-thirty—but seventy per cent. of a million votes is worth time and trouble to any politician.

Sneak Police Methods

The police are expected to be the upright arm of the law, not grovellers in guile. They are supposed to be two-fisted, not two-faced. They should be out to get their man but in a straightforward way, not slyly, not by sending a thief to catch a thief. We expect to hear of low police practices in police states which have Gestapos, but not in Canada. Great was our astonishment, even horror, to read of two incidents which reveal that our police methods are not above reproach.

In Simcoe's police court last Wednesday several people were fined for keeping common gaming houses. Evidence was presented by members of the anti-gambling squad of the Ontario Provincial Police. They had secured evidence by posing as American tourists, visiting business premises in Norfolk County and playing pinball and slot machines. The defence counsel, D. E. W. Tisdale, K.C., did not blame the officers arrayed in American voices and clothes, but their superiors who must have issued the orders for such deceptive practices. He compared the methods used to those of a Gestapo and said he intended writing to the Attorney General's Department. We hope he made the letter a regular sizzler.

In Toronto a few days ago a man was charged with demanding a bonus for renting an apartment. The woman who intended renting the flat reported to the price board authorities that a $400 bonus was demanded by the man. She was given $400 and arrangements were made that she should pretend to carry out the deal, under the secret surveillance of the police. When she had given the man the $400 she was to light a cigarette as a signal to the police who would enter and find the man with the $400 guilt on him. All went as arranged, except that the police could find only $200. They searched everywhere and everybody present, but $200 remained unfound. That incident has, it seems to us, a very pretty moral.

Our police, both Provincial and municipal, are charged with duties which might seem impossible to carry out successfully without resorting to traps and trickery. Sometimes hook-and-crook methods seem essential. Surely there must be honest, honourable ways of detection; our society should not condone shabby or discreditable methods of tracking down dishonourable, dishonest people. The end is not a justification of the means. In former years motorcycle policemen used to hide behind billboards, lying in wait for speeders. Now they have come out into the open in easily recognizable police cars. The new method seems to be as efficient as the old and is certainly more honourable. A policeman does not like sneaking about any more than does any other honest citizen. We should not require him to do it.

Straw Hat Theatre For Peterborough?

Since the end of the war summer theatres, which have long been familiar in the United States, have begun to appear in considerable numbers in Ontario. These theatres are comparatively humble affairs, in which stock companies of varying ability provide entertainment for summer visitors and for local people who like to do something on summer evenings which is a little more lively than sitting in a rocking chair on the front porch. A surprising number of summer theatres have appeared in the resort areas of Ontario, and we wonder if it is not time that Peterborough considered the matter of establishing a summer theatre here, to serve the large Kawartha district?

We have suggested before in these columns that our handsome natural endowments of lakes and woodlands are not in themselves enough to ensure the lasting success of this district as a tourist centre. Other attractions and amenities are needed, and the more numerous they are, the greater the appeal of the district to tourists will be. A good summer theatre would provide pleasant entertainment for our summer guests, and would help to keep the Kawarthas abreast of Muskoka—for it is in Muskoka that the great concentration of summer theatres is at present.

We feel that the Recreation Commission might investigate the possibility of attracting a summer theatre company to Peterborough next year. Such a venture should not cost the city money; summer theatres are expected to be self-supporting. But a welcoming attitude on the part of an official body would encourage any group which had considered Peterborough as a settling-place.

Standing The Heat

Our contemporary the Kitchener-Waterloo Record recently had a little editorial piece on "Standing The Heat". We refer to it, not because we wish to pick its brains on these lazy hot days—for we have our own ideas on the matter—but because we fancied the title of its editorial. Here are our carefully concocted rules for standing the heat—rules being now in the fashion.

One: Never stand in the heat. Sit or better still lie down. Two: Eat little and drink a lot of the superior kinds of tonic. Water is also good. Three: Do no work—nothing physical and certainly nothing mental. Mental work frays the nerves and the heat seeps in through the jagged ends. Four: Join a nudist camp if no loose clothing can be obtained. Five: Wear next to nothing in town. If the municipality in which you do your summer shopping has not yet any by-law forbidding the wearing of anything but shorts on the streets in July and August, you can begin a campaign (next winter when the heat is off) to have such a bylaw proclaimed.

If these rules are insufficient, we can only advise you to take the heat gracefully on the chin—lying down. There is no virtue in being brave about heat; the coward lives to fight another day—to fight a blizzard on a wintry day.

A judge has ruled that it is legal for women to gossip. This is called co-operation with the inevitable.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"IN the course of talks with Mr. Churchill, in one Cabinet office after another, one got many sidelights on him," reminisces Curtis Brown in "Contacts". "'They talk about my changing parties,' he exclaimed on one occasion. 'I've kept on my straight course throughout. It's the parties that have changed their courses.'

"Once, at the War Office, we were discussing what afterwards became his brilliant series of volumes, The World Crisis, and cash considerations were being seriously examined, for times were hard just then. Edward Marsh, always the Churchill secretary when conditions permitted, knocked at the door at the far end of the long room, and then came in without waiting for an answer. He had a slip of brown paper in his hand, and made his excuses for intruding, but said it was important. The War Secretary read it, jumped up and paced rapidly up and down the length of the room; then came back and dropped into his chair gazing abstractedly into space.

"'No bad news, I hope?'

"No—no. Or yes, I suppose it was.'

"And then he went on with the conference.

"On emerging into Whitehall, the newsboys were calling out something about Winston Churchill, and I hurriedly bought a paper, to read that a somewhat distant relative had been killed in a railway accident, and was understood to have left his considerable estates to the Secretary of State for War."

✧ ✧ ✧

"'ALL poetry affects me deeply", Rossetti once told Hall Caine, "and often to tears. It doesn't need to be pathetic, or yet tender, to produce this result.'"

In My Story which is really a biography of Rossetti and an autobiography of Caine, the author continues: "Then he (Rossetti) went on to say that he had known in his life two men, and two only, who were similarly sensitive—Tennyson, and his friend, Bell Scott.

"'I once heard Tennyson read,' he said, 'and while the fiery passages were given with a voice and vehemence which he alone could compass, the softer passages made the tears runs down his cheeks like rain. Morris is a fine reader, too, and so of his kind, although a little prone to sing-song, is Swinburne. Browning both reads and talks well—at least he did so when I knew him intimately as a young man.'

"I asked if he had ever heard Ruskin read, and he replied:

"'I must have done so, but I remember nothing clearly. On one occasion, however, I heard him deliver a speech, and that was something never to forget. When we were young we helped Frederick Dennison Maurice by taking classes at his Working Men's College, and there Charles Kingsley and others made speeches and delivered lectures. Ruskin was asked to do something of the kind, and at length consented. He made no sort of preparation for the occasion; I knew he did not—we were together at his father's house the whole of the day. At night we drove down to the college, and then he made the most finished speech I have ever heard. I doubted at the time if any written words of his were equal to it. Such flaming diction, such emphasis, such appeal! Yet he had written his first and second volumes of Modern Painters by that time.'"

✧ ✧ ✧

"GILBERT'S prudence and childlike simplicity (writes Hesketh Pearson in Gilbert and Sullivan) were never more conspicuously displayed together than in his statement to Sullivan that, since the First Lord in the opera was a violent radical, while the well-known publisher was a pronounced conservative, there could be no suspicion that W. H. Smith was intended. He was, however, quite right. No one entertained the least suspicion on the point. Everyone was absolutely certain about it. And within a few weeks of the production Disraeli was referring to 'Pinafore Smith'".

✧ ✧ ✧

"IN some ways Hugh Walpole was a most singular being (writes Mrs. Belloc Lowndes in the second volume of her autobiography The Merry Wives of Westminster.) Although during many years of his early life I knew him extremely well, and his yearning for affection and sympathy made him appear very frank and open-hearted, yet of an important episode in his youth I learned by accident. This was that after leaving college he had for a time worked among the dockers in Liverpool, and had even preached in the open air. His relationship to his parents was a strange relationship. He was out of touch with his father, but he was devoted to his mother. He asked me to meet her and I felt he could have shown me no greater mark of his affection. I remember her as a gentle, retiring, old-fashioned Victorian lady, and apart from the evident love they felt for one another, I did not feel they had anything in common."

✧ ✧ ✧

"HE had a ready sense of humour, of the kind often found among good sportsmen (says John Buchan of King George V, in Memory-Hold-The-Door, one of the outstanding biographies of our generation). Verbal wit did not interest him, but he had a robust appreciation of the comedies of life. He was a great reader, reading rather for substance than for style. He did me the honour to be amused by my romances, and used to make acute criticisms on questions of fact. Of one, a poaching story of the Highlands, he gave me a penetrating analysis, but he approved of it sufficiently to present many copies of it to his friends.

"The sportsman was always strong in him, for he loved not only the practice of an art in which he excelled, but the whole out-of-doors world and the pageant of nature. Akin to this taste was his liking for those who lived close to nature. Like Walter Scott, he rejoiced that 'nothing worth having or caring about in this world is uncommon.' He understood plain people and was in turn understood by them, and that was the secret of his strength. Few things pleased or moved him more than to be told of the pithy sayings of simple folks, and of episodes which revealed the divine spark in them. In 1923 when he visited the Borders and passed through Peebles, an old shepherd's wife tramped ten miles from a hill glen to greet him. When I asked her why she had undertaken such a journey her reply was: 'We maun boo to the buss that bields us.' (We must bow to the bush that shields us.) I told this to the King, and it stuck in his memory, for he often quoted it."

NOT "STRINGING ALONG"

Cured By A Wooden Spoon

E. ARNOT ROBERTSON IN THE NEW STATESMAN

WITH real instances of cruelty to the young cropping up so often, one hesitates to write anything which might seem to condone even the mildest use of violence towards them, but here is a personal experience which suggests what one might call the rarity value of violence in the home. My small boy bit his nails badly, for years. I have a phobia about nail-biting. Bribery—"If they're nice for a week, you go to an extra pantomime"—worked no improvement. Nor did privation of sweets after lapses.

I was advised to take him to a child psychiatrist. The first we tried told me the child bit his nails because he was suffering from inverted aggression; on no account must I attempt to interfere with this important outlet for a condition which the psychiatrist was anxious to try to turn right-side-up. Treatment to cost four guineas a week and take possibly a year.

The child has always been a fairly cheerful one, exceptionally good-tempered. I pointed this out and was told that this was the result of aggression being inverted. But what, I wanted to know, was the advantage of having a jolly and gentle lad turned into a normally aggressive one, since the nail-biting, the doctor said, had progressed from a consolation to a habit, and might or might not be improved by the treatment? I was assured it would be better for the child's natural development, said I preferred aggression inverted, paid three guineas, and left.

To the next consultant I explained carefully at the start that I didn't want the child cured of anything whatever except nail-biting. This was a more expensive man, in the Harley Street district. He said that, before making any diagnosis, he must have four one-hour periods, two with the boy and two with me. That cost ten guineas.

After the last interview he told me there was nothing that could be done about nail-biting anyway, but he disagreed with the first man in thinking that it mattered if I persisted in discouraging it, since the trouble was due to the boy being fixated upon me, not to any exceptional degree of aggression, normal or inverted.

I tried one more psychiatrist. This last noted that the boy was unusually free of social shyness. At the age of eight he really should, the doctor thought, be fixated upon someone, normally the mother, but it appeared that he wasn't. This, of course, accounted for the nail-biting, symbol of insecurity, which was in the circumstances incurable.

This psychiatrist was a much nicer one than the others: Having no useful advice to give, he suggested no fee.

I went home from this interview with a raging headache, born of frustration I suppose, and started to make currant buns for the boy's tea, so that I had a wooden cooking spoon in my hand when he came back from school, with his nails chewed further down than I had ever seen them: They looked revolting.

I said, "This is going to stop!" and smacked both hands with the safely rounded back of the spoon. I was very shocked at myself, and so was he. It was the first (and last) time that anything of the kind happened in our home; otherwise, of course, it wouldn't have been so startling effective.

Ten fat black rims grow on ten small fingers, and have, ever since. That was a year and a half ago. There have been, so far as the non-psychiatrist eye can see, no adverse repercussions from the complete and immediate cure: Aggression, if present, remains cheerfully inverted.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I have many things to say and to judge of you: but he that sent me is true; and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him . . . And he that sent me is with me; the Father hath not left me alone; for I do always those things that please him. As he spake these words, many believed on him.

Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed; and ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free. They answered him, We be Abraham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin. And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (John 8: 26, 29-36.)

✧ ✧ ✧

And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward: not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God; who also hath made us able ministers of the new testament; not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the spirit giveth life. . . .

Now the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. (II Cor. 3: 4-6, 17.)

Letter To The Editor

THE BRONZE BIRCH BORER

Sir: I noticed a picture in your paper the other day of a number of birch trees, the trees were dying from the attack of an unknown borer. The wood lot that I am working in the birch trees are all dead or dying. They started to die about two years ago. There are hundreds of them. The lot is about eight miles from Peterborough, about 150 acres.

I am sending you one of the grubs I found in the top branches of a birch tree that I had just cut down. I thought that you would know the proper authorities to send it to, and I might be of some help in isolating this pest.

What with borers and insects and forest fires, our timber land is taking a hell of a beating these days.

I understand that the timber land in Northern Ontario where this disastrous fire has occurred is owned by one man, or one company. I think that it is a mistake for one company to own or control vast areas of our timber land. It begets envy and an outraged feeling among the hard pressed settlers and the result is disastrous fires.

I hope I may be of some help in finding the borers that are destroying our timber. You can publish this letter if you wish. I would be interested in knowing if this is the grub that has been doing the dirty work among our trees. Sincerely yours,

A. J.

ED. NOTE: This pest has been identified as the Bronze Birch Borer by the Dept. of Agriculture, but no cure is known at present. Many city trees are suffering, as reported on page 11 of our issue of June 26.

TEACH THE CHILDREN TO SWIM

Swimming days are here again! It's a wonderful sport . . . but it can be a dangerous one, particularly for the kiddies. You can help remove this danger. For example, never let the youngsters go into the water except under the supervision of an adult swimmer—and as soon as they are ready, teach them to swim! Next time the kiddies want to go for a dip, round up the gang and go with them. You can guide them—guard them . . . and surely that is "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

Kinsmen Win Junior Fray As Kiwanis Lose Contest

By FRED MAYBEE

The local junior baseballers split with outside opposition here Saturday in Lakeshore League fixtures at Riverside before a fair crowd. Art Pagett's southend Kiwanis dropped an 8-6 decision to Whitby, while the nightcap saw Jack Turner's Kinsmen taking an 8-4 verdict over Bowmanville. They were both interesting tilts.

Whitby came from behind to defeat Kiwanis 8-6, in a neat Baseball League game. Jaquith was steady until the eighth when Whitby rallied for three runs. Another walk in the nint hto Lowe was followed by successive singles by Gaine and Keith MacDonald to fill the bases. Turansky then came through with his third hit—a home run—to seal the fate of the Kiwanis.

Aside from Turansky's grandslac homer, other features included MacDonald's good pitching with nine strike-outs and no walks and a home run by Pagett in the second with Conlin on base. Estlick and Conlin each collected two hits while MacDonald also drove in three runs with two hits, one a triple.

Second Game

Doug Plunkett was effective with men on bases as the Kinsmen defeated Bowmanville in the night-cap by a score of 8-4. Twelve men were left stranded as Plunkett, aided by good support and timely hitting from his mates, emerged victorious in a well-played game. In the fifth and sixth with bases loaded he struck out the final hitter to keep his rivals off the scoring column. Save for a lapse in the ninth he had little trouble.

McGillen and Plunkett led the Kinsmen attack at bat, the former smacking three hits, one a double, to drive in two runs while the latter had three for four also. Sullivan, Curry, Legrow and Wyatt had two hits apiece while Spon and West hit triples for the visitors as Hooper hit three for five, one a double.

P-W Club Draws In Match With Parkdale

On Saturday the Peterborough-Whitaker cricketers travelled to Toronto to meet the Parkdale CC a member of the senior (Continental Life) section of the Toronto District Council. They are a strong team and have already won three matches in their section and had their regular team out on Saturday.

The local team showed much improved form and were unfortunate in not being able to register a win. They batted first and scored 156, and Parkdale, at the call of time had seven wickets down for 90, and, on form, it is difficult to believe that the remaining three Parkdale batters would have scored the necessary 67 for a win.

The PW's batted first and made a splendid start. The opening pair were W. Wright and F. Booth, and they scored freely, taking the total of 76 before Wright was out lbw for 31. H. Pyle came in and continued the good work and in quick time scored 29 which included five fours. He was out with the total 114 for two. S. Jennings 16 then proved a good partner to Booth until the score was 132 for four, when the latter was out. He had played a fine innings of 58. A quite recent newcomer from Bradford, England, he is a left handed batsman, showed good defence and scored heavily on the leg side and his innings included eight fours.

The fifth wicket fell at 137 and then there was a bad slump and the totaling reached 156. R. Rollwagen batted well for 8 not out but got no support the other end. R. Morgan had seven wickets for 33 runs.

Parkdale also opened strongly, chiefly owing to Morgan's 25 and the score was 65 for four wickets. A. Patterson 15, G. Gough 15, W. Stannard 12, and W. Spence 13, but at the call of time the total was 99 for seven wickets, leaving 67 to win and only three wickets to fall. F. Dyer and H. Pyle bowled unchanged and were well on the spot. The former had three wickets for 44 and Pyle four for 46. They were well supported in the field, H. Dibben making a fine running catch in the outfield and Wright made a great one handed catch low down in the slip.

It was a great match for the PWs considering the opposition and should give them encouragement when they go to Ottawa on Saturday, July 10 as Peterborough County, to play Carleton County in the R. C. Matthews county championship series.

Will players please note there is a special practice at Nicholls Oval on Wednesday night partly to discuss arrangements for the match at Ottawa next Saturday.

Following is the score:

Peterborough-Whitaker — W. Wright 31, F. Booth 58, H. Pyle 29, W. Dyer 1, S. Jennings 16, F. Dyer 4, J. McKissack 0, W. Rollwagen 8 (not out), F. Honour 2, J. Morrison 0, R. Harvey 0, H. Dibben 2. Extras 5. Total 156.

Parkdale — P. Morgan 29, A. Patterson 15, C. Goodridge 1, J. Gough 18, R. Stannard 12 (not out), F. Devine 0, W. Spence 13, P. Robinson 2, P. Pisani 0 (not out). Total 90 for seven wickets.

Bowling analysis — F. Dyer 3 for 33, H. Pyle 4 for 46.

Well Down List

BUFFALO, N.Y., July 5—(AP).—Julian Charbonneau of Toronto, and Ken Hamilton, of Oshawa, finished 10th and 12th in the first annual Jack Busch memorial bicycle race here Sunday. Winner of the 36-mile race was Ted Smith of Buffalo, member of the United States Olympic cycling team.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

While he still takes the occasional whirl at a grapple bout, Ed (Strangler) Lewis is generally content now to do a bit of refereeing in the mat game. Besides being athletic director of the Los Angeles A.C. He was in Ottawa the other night to referee. The Strangler is 58 years old now and has spent some 40 in the wrestling business. A great champ in his day, he used the strangle grip till it was barred and then he switched to headlocks. About 30 years ago he went to a five-hour draw with another noted matman, Joe Stetcher. Wrestling was more of the "shooting" variety in the old days but not nearly as entertaining as the shows staged today.

Girls' softball resmues tonight in the Bowl, weather being right, after a layoff since last Wednesday. Electrics play the Lindsay lasses at seven, with Lakefield meeting Lock Co. in the nightcap. Both ought to be interesting as fairly well-matched teams meet. And Wednesday night's numbers over there are: Electrics vs. Woollens and Lakefield vs. Lindsay. Some of the other squads are presently on vacation so the schedule has to be switched accordingly. The colleens conclude schedule play July 23 when CGE and Marine shops close up, and playoffs will commence early in August.

Three Weeks To Go

And, in the men's softball setup, the B-A bunch tangle with Knights at seven tomorrow eve, followed by Legion against Comstock's. Thursday sees Legion play Knights and B-A mix with Comstock's. This schedule ends July 22, barely three weeks away, with playoffs early in August. There are a few postponed games to be picked up yet, if they affect the standing, and they may be run off one of these Saturday nights, July 10 or July 17. A meeting tonight to discuss the playoff setup, we understand. The race is still mighty close with every game a real battle.

Down in the Intercounty Baseball League, they continue to draw some tremendous crowds. Far bigger than COBL contests ever drew. Biggest one last year drew 6,000 as Kitchener met London in a playoff. Though it's said the record goes back to a Guelph-Galt playoff drawing 6,200. A Waterloo top mark last fall was 3,900 while just last Thursday in Kitchener there were 5,000 paid admissions. Those are better crowds than the Maple Leafs are getting regularly in Toronto's stadium. And they have a swell senior layout in the Intercounty with a lot of good-sized towns close together. They pack their teams and then pack in the crowds.

Two Keen Contests

Over at Riverside on Saturday, two lively junior Lakeshore Loop jousts were run off. Art Pagett's classy Kiwanis crew from the southend had tough luck to lose an 8-6 tilt to Whitby when the latter rallied late to gain the verdict. And Jack Turner's good East City Kinsmen copped an 8-4 decision over Bowmanville before a fair-sized crowd. Jaquith pitched well in the first till toward the end and Plunkett went good in the second scrap. Estlick and Conlin had two hits each for Kiwanis as Pagett slammed out a homer. Plunkett and McGillen were the big Kinsmen binglers with three each. Some nice ball seen in this twin bill.

Senior Petes were idle Saturday but go to Belleville to meet the Bata Shoemen tomorrow eve and have Oshawa Merchants here next Saturday. Kingston is in Oshawa on Wednesday. Last Friday's Oshawa-Kingston fray was postponed, which leaves a lot of postponements to pick up ere schedule's end Aug. 14. Saturday saw Oshawa fall apart at home in the ninth inning to let Batawa come from behind and take a 9-7 win. Merchants had seven miscues, four in the final frame with Muffitt and Hill and Michael pitching on pretty even terms. Kennedy continues to lead the Shoemen at bat, getting three bingles this tussle, while Baxter banged out four for four on the Oshawa side of the ledger.

HENLEY-ON-THAMES, England, July 5.—(CP).—Mervyn Wood of Australia, today holds the Diamond Sculls championship, prize event of the singles sculling at the Royal Henley regatta. Wood, a first-time entrant in the event defeated Bertram Bushnell of England Saturday before some 30,000 fans. He wound up five lengths in front of the Briton, covering the distance in eight minutes and 24 seconds.

Louise Brough Wins 3 Wimbledon Titles

WIMBLEDON, July 5.—(CP).—The Wimbledon tennis championships are history today but written into the records is the outstanding feat of 23-year-old Louise Brough, United States champion, who won all three tiles open to her.

Miss Brough took the women's singles, paired with Mrs. Margaret Du Pont to win the women's doubles and then teamed with John Bromwich of Australia to annex the mixed doubles title. The last woman to accomplish this feat was Alice Marble, also an American, who turned the trick in 1939.

Doris Hart, 22, Miami, was on the losing side against Miss Brough in all three events. Miss Brough defeated Miss Hart for the singles title by scores of 6-3, 8-6.

Minor Lacrosse

In tadpole lacrosse, the Rockets, led by P. Heffernan and P. Dugan, defeated the Royal Spitfires 8 to 2 in a fast, clean game closer than the score indicates. Heffernan scored three and Dugan two, while Anthony, Crough and Mahoney had one each. Bob Londerville and Lloyd Hill counted for the losers. They play again Wednesday at 1 a.m.

Rockets—Dugan, Davis, Hickson, Anthony, Crough, G. Olmsteal, Faulkner, Heffernan, Mahoney.

Spitfires—Hill, Jones, Phillips, Masterianni, Dobbin, N. Olmstead, DeNoble, Londerville.

In peewee play, the Petes swamped Lions 12-3. Art Batley led them with four goals and four assists, while L. Ball had three and three. Simmons, Cairns, Leach and Phillips all went well. For Lions, Sutherland, Post and Woodcock stood out. Next peewee game is Wednesday at 11 a.m.

There is still room for tadpole and peewee players, and those interested should report to Miller Bowl for practice on Tuesday at the following hours: Tadpoles, 10 a.m.; peewees, 11 a.m.; tadpoles, three p.m.; peewees, four p.m.; the ages are 10 and under for tadpoles, and 12 and under for peewees.

Batawa Wins Out

OSHAWA, July 5. — Oshawa Merchants muffed a chance to move into a tie with Batawa for second place in the COBL race here on Saturday afternoon, when they committed four wretched errors in the ninth inning, three of the bobbles coming after there were two out, to let the Shoemen score three unearned runs for a 9-7 decision.

Batawa shelled Lefty Hill from the mound in the first inning with a three-run homer by Solmes. Merchants trailed badly, unable to do much with Gordie Muffitt's good pitching until the sixth inning, when they bunched six solid hits, two of them triples by Eddie Brisebois and Andy McMullen, the latter's blow, with the bases loaded, tied up the score with a five-run rally. Oshawa took the lead with a run in their half of the eighth when Gord Baxter came through with his fourth hit of the day.

Hogan Keeps Lead

DETROIT, July 5. — (AP).—Wee Ben Hogan, the little guy with the big golf game, stepped farther ahead in the Professional Golfers' Association money parade today as he tangled with E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the ambling Arkansas, in an 18-hole playoff for the Motor City open golf championship. Hogan closed with his second straight 66, five under par, to overhaul the 38-year-old Harrison on the last leg of the 72-hole holiday show Sunday. They finished with identical four-day totals of 275, nine strokes under par for the 6,616-yard Meadowbrook Country Club course where par is 35-36—71.

$100 Purse Increase

VANCOUVER, July 5.—(CP).—British Columbia race track operators Sunday granted horsemen a $100 purse increase, but simultaneously rapped the Provincial government's pari-mutuel taxation system. The increase, which boosted minimum purses to $900, followed a government grant Saturday of 1/12th of its 12-per-cent tax on all pari-mutuel bets.

Campanella Helps Break Dodgers' Losing Streak

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The most popular player on Brooklyn Dodgers team currently is Roy Campanella, a rookie Negro receiver. His brilliant work during the week-end at bat and in the field left the impression he might be the long ball hitter the Dodgers long have been seeking.

It is not mere coincidence that the Dodgers vacated the National league cellar the day Campanella made his debut behind the plate after being recalled from thir St. Paul farm.

The former Montreal Royals player almost single-handedly was responsible for the Dodgers taking two out of three over their hated New York rivals and climbing into sixth place, three games out of the first division.

In his first game Friday night Campanella hit three solid singles in four times at bat, although the Giants nipped the Dodgers, 6-4. Saturday Campanella walloped a triple and two singles and walked once in four times at bat to help the Dodgers beat the Giants 7-5.

Sunday he smashed two home runs and a single to lead the Brooks to a 13-12 triumph over the Giants. The Dodgers trailed 8-3 at one point.

Down Athletics

In Boston the Red Sox blasted a record-tieing 14 runs in one inning to overcome Philadelphia Athletics 19-5. The Red Sox got 20 hits but the mighty Ted Williams was the only batter who failed to connect for at least one safety. He received three walks.

The Red Sox pounced on Charlie Harris for 12 runs in the seventh inning before manager Connie Mack sent in Bill McMahon. Harris was the losing pitcher. New York Yankees and Chicago Cubs are the only other clubs since 1900 to have scored 14 runs in a single inning.

New York Yankees moved to within a half game of the second place Athletics and one of the American-league-leading Cleveland Indians by defeating Washington Senators 6-5. A fly by Yogi Berra in the eighth inning brought in Phil Rizzuto from third with the winning run.

The Indians and St. Louis Browns' scheduled doubleheader was postponed by rain.

Humble Tigers

The White Sox humbled the Tigers 12-1 in the second game of a Chicago doubleheader after Detroit had won the opener 6-3. The hWite Sox collected 18 hits for 33 total bases in the nightcap.

The National - league - leading Braves were handed a double setback by the Phillies in Philadelphia 7-2 and 5-2 with veteran Blix Donnelly and rookie Robin Roberts gaining the verdicts.

Pittsburgh Pirates smacked down Chicago Cubs twice 5-1 and 6-2 behind a pair of veteran righthanders, Rip Sewell and Elmer Riddle. Sewell allowed six hits in six innings of the opener and Riddle permitted only four in the nightcap.

Hank Sauer cracked out his 23rd and 24th home runs as Cincinnati Reds divided a doubleheader with St. Louis Cardinals. Although he failed to finish, Ewell Blackwell gained his fifth triumph for the Reds in the opener 8-6 as the Cards dropped their fifth straight. Johnny Wyrostek of the Reds walloped two home runs. Harry (The Cat) Brecheen held the Reds to seven hits in the nightcap for an 8-1 triumph.

Say War Films Now Need To Be Revised

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 5 (AP) — Quotes and comments: Robert Montgomery, telling why he hesitates accepting a war film for which he was announced:

The script was written during the war and needs a thorough rewrite. Pictures about the war made during wartime are necessarily recruiting posters. Nowadays, such films would look silly on the screens. In the post-war period, we can show the weaknesses of the military services, and by giving a more accurate view, we show their strength."

Comment: That explains why the war films made in 1941-45 were generally poor drama, no matter how stirring they seemed.

The best artistic effort about a war comes in the postwar era, when writers can view things with clear eyes. This can be hoped for the news wave of Hollywood war films—Command Decision," Fighter Squadron," "12 O'clock High," etc. Some of them will point out the errors of the brass, which would not have been permitted in wartime.

Have to be Careful

Betty Hutton, on why she refused the "Ruggles of Red Gap" remake:

"You have to be very careful these days. The public is shopping. One bad picture and you're cooked."

Comment: As sage Miss Hutton points out, movie audiences are getting tougher. They want their money's worth from a theatre ticket and when they get stung on a flop, they blame it on the star of the film.

James Stewart, on why he has worked so hard since he left the army:

"Competition is plenty keen out here. There are lots of guys after your place. You can't let up for a minute."

Had Rough Time

Comment: Jimmy had a rough time getting back to his pre-war position. Despite his fine record, the public isn't too interested in him and his first post-war film failed to show a profit.

Cary Grant, on the movie star profession:

"Don't let anybody kid you that it's hard work. Working hours are easy, the pay is good and the surroundings pleasant. Sometimes you feel like a damn fool when you can't ride down the street without people pointing and shouting hello. But the other things make up for that."

Comment: None.

Royals Humble Red Wings In Twin Bill

By the Associated Press

Montreal Royals, for the fourth consecutive year, lead the International League at the completion of activities on July 4 and according to tradition the Royals should go on and cop the pennont.

In 1945 and 1946 the Royals lived up to tradition by winning the pennant but last year they finished second, Jersey City Giants nosing them out for the flag on the last day of the season.

In 1947, the Royals enjoyed a 10-game lead over second place Syracuse and a 10½-game margin over third place Jersey City.

Today the Royals lead the runner-up Newark Bears by 10½ games.

Manager Clay Hopper's red-hot Royals spoiled the United States holiday Sunday for 9,532 Rochester fans by taking both ends of a twin bill from th Red Wings, 2-0 and 13-8.

In the nightcap, Chuck Connors and Al Gionfriddo hit home runs Gionfriddo's clout was his 19th.

Sixth Loss

Jersey City handed Newark its sixth straight loss, beating the Bears, 7-5, when Lloyd Gearhart slammed a two-run triple in the tenth inning.

In another single game, Syracuse Chiefs, behind the seven-hit pitching of rookie Frank Fanovich, dumped Baltimore Orioles, 7-1. Frankie Drews paced the Chief attack by whacking a homer, triple and single. Ed Shokes also homered for the victors.

Buffalo Bisons divided a twin bill with Toronto Maple Leafs, winning the second game, 6-2 after the Leafs captured the opener, 6-5.

Toronto slapped three Buffalo pitchers for 13 hits in the first game with Stan Lopata leading the way with a double and two singles.

Big blow of the nightcap was Chet Laab's three-run homer in the fifth inning. The four-bagger was Labb's 28th of the season and the Bisons' 100th.

Break Two Records In Junior Track Meet

TORONTO, July 5 (CP) — Men from the North Toronto Track Club broke two records and won six other events Saturday as 130 young Dominion track stars competed in the Canadian junior track and field championship in suburban East York.

SUGAR RAY ROBINSON, welterweight champ, needed 10 rounds to get started before he could outpunch 21-year-old Bernard Docusen of New Orleans and win the decision in 15 rounds. Typical of what went on is Ray missing with his lethal right hand in the third round. In the early part of the fight, the young challenger outran and outboxed the Negro titleholder by the proverbial mile. Robinson's punch evened off matters in the closing five rounds, with Docusen holding on to go the distance. In the 11th round he took a 9-count knockdown.

NOT TO EVERY foundling is it given to be cuddled in the arms of a queen, but this little one at the New York Foundling hospital is oblivious of the honor as exiled Queen Alexandria of Yugoslavia holds him tenderly and does the needful with the milk bottle. The royal exile paid a visit to the hospital and showed a deep, motherly interest in the little ones who find sanctuary there. More than 800 children have been admitted within the past year and 265 were placed in boarding homes in the same period. In addition, 245 babis began a new life as adopted children.

Troops And Airplanes Engaged In Fighting During Traffic War

By CARLOS R. ESCUDERO

LAKE SUCCESS, New York, July 5 (AP)—The United Nations are carrying on a war against drug smugglers and clandestine manufacturers.

In Mexico and China it has been a real war, involving use of troops and airplanes. In Canada, the United States, India and several Far Eastern countries it is the continued cold war of the customs and narcotics agents against the smugglers.

The Chinese government mobilized as many as 20,000 troops; Mexico put in the field some 700 soldiers, 10 planes, scores of federal and narcotics inspectors.

Reports of these activities recently were sent to a very peaceful United Nations organ, the Economic and Social Council. The council is the direct overseer of the commission. This body, in turn, inherited many of the functions of the League of Nations in the field of narcotics control.

More than 40 countries have accepted agreements made under the League of Nations. Still newer pacts, to control use and production of synethetic drugs—not covered in previous accords—now are being signed.

China reported on results of a six-year campaign to suppress the cultivation of the type of poppy which yields opium.

Grow Other Crops

Farmers in the Chinese provinces of Hupeh, Kansu and Sen other crops, such as tung oil, corn si were persuaded to cultivate and tea. Tung oil has great demand for export.

But what the government calls an "uncivilized tribe" in the mountain country between Shensi and Szechwan would not co-operate. These people, called the Yee-Mings, thought they had a good thing and refused to give it up.

The area is large and communications are bad, except for the mysterious means used by the tribesmen to spot intruders. This year the government sent some 20,000 troops into the region and succeeded in destroying the plantations.

However, the Yee-Mings simply pick up their tents and move elsewhere to begin again. The soil is perfectly suited to the poppy and their job is easy.

Mexico did not request aid — it just wanted Canadian and United States co-operation because dope rings in those countries were encouraging trade. Raw opium in Indian ports is cheap, about $10 a pound, but the value is about $600 when it shows up in Canadian or United States ports.

Mexican opium yields what is called brown heroin. The stuff, depending on the demand and the place, reaches fancy prices: as much as $5,000 an ounce by the time it reaches Vancouver through Toronto and New York.

Hundreds of fields in Mexico were destroyed last year. Airplanes helped to spot them. Then troops moved in and destroyed them. The campaign cost money in more ways than one. For example, Iran has no war of this type, but it last $39,000,000 in revenue from opium it used to sell before it agreed to suppress the crops.

ADRIFT FOR 25 HOURS on Lake Ontario, James C. Law (left) of Lorendale Ave., Toronto, and Ronald Polter of Oshawa, were rescued by lifesavers, Sunday morning, five miles off Highland Creek.

Three Children Marooned On Small Island

Three children were temporarily marooned on a small island in the Otonabee river shortly before 1 p.m. on Sunday when logs were taken from the Quaker Oats Co. dam allowing an increased flow of water to surge down the river.

Betty Green, 13, Georgina Chalmers, 13, and James Chalmers, 9, all of Douro St. had been playing by the river bank and then decided to wade to a small island just around the bend of the river from the dam, opposite the west end of Douro St.

When several logs were taken out of the dam the water began to rise in the river and was running at such speed as to make wading difficult. Georgina tried to recross the water but she slipped and bruised herself and abandoned the attempt.

People on the river bank heard their cries for help. A call was made to the fire department who responded quickly, however the children were brought to shore by James Chalmers, father of two of them, who borrowed a punt to make the rescue.

Back To Church Day Observed

LINDSAY, July 5 — (ENS). — Sunday was the "Back to Church Day" as hundreds of old boys and girls returned to their former place of worship to hear former ministers. In the afternoon a memorial service and decoration of graves took place in Riverside and St. Mary's Cemeteries. Headed by the Peterborough Citizens' Band, the parade stopped en route at the Cenotaph on Kent St., where many wreaths were placed on the 1914-18 memorial. Rev. C. D. Donald, DD, of Ottawa, formerly of Lindsay, gave the address at Riverside Park, and Rev. L. Hickey, also an old Lindsay boy, spoke at St. Mary's Cemetery.

In the evening a mass service was held at Exhibition Park, where the Peterborough Citizens' Band opened the outdoor service with a concert. Rev. D. M. McQueen of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was in charge of the service and Rev. Gordon M. Holmes of Brockville, formerly of the Cambridge Street Baptist Church, was the guest preacher. Assisting clergy included Rev. W. J. Earl, Rev. W. J. Scott, Rev. H. Hesketh, Major Knapp, Orillia, and Rev. Dr. W. A. Cameron of Toronto. Church pulpits were occupied by the following Lindsay preachers: Rev. Jas. Wallace, MD, of Renfrew, and Rev. Dr. Cameron at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church; Rev. C. D. Donald at Queen Street United Church; Rev. Gordon M. Holmes of Brockville at Cambridge Street Baptist Church; Dr. E. A. Hardy, BA, at Queen Street United Church, and Rev. V. J. Gillogy and Rev. J. Killen at St. Mary's Church.

Missing Pedestrian Two Cars Collide

Two cars were damaged in a head-on collision late Friday night on Parkhill Road East when one driver swung out to avoid striking a pedestrian walking along the road. Charles Calder, Warsaw, told police that he had swung on to the road when he saw a pedestrian walking wide of the side and he had been blinded by the lights of the second car.

The other car was that of Malcolmn Taylor, 223 Westcott St.

The Calder car damage was a front fender crumpled, axle broken, front wheel and tire and bumper damaged. The Taylor car had a broken radiator, bent fender, damaged wheel and running board.

PC Gordon Trennum investigated.

A tumbledown bench in the little lawn gore at Park and Charlotte streets is begging for removal, especially with all the visitors passing by. One concrete has fallen apart or was broken.

LIBRARY CATALOGUER

Peterborough Public Library now has a member of the staff employed as a cataloguer. Miss Marian Smith, of Quebec City, has just joined the Library staff in that position. Another new member of the staff is Miss Mary Walsh, of Belleville, who is now assistant in the boys' and girls' department.

THREE WEEKS' WORK

Industry's wheels started rolling again this morning after the long holiday. Employees were back from all directions, for a three weeks' stretch to the midsummer holidays. "It was not like that in the olden days" as they sang in "The Yankee Consul". However, August is a full month of 31 days.

SUCCESSFUL FISHERMEN

Fish caught by Zimel Levine, O'Carroll Ave., and Alex Winters, Toronto, were not exactly derby size but they were a good catch just the same. While trying his luck in the northern part of Chemong on Sunday afternoon Mr. Levine landed a five-pound green bass and Mr. Winters had his first taste of the Kawartha's fighting game fish when he pulled in a nine-pound muskie.

TWO CARS DAMAGED

Only city car accident reported during the week-end was at the corner of Monaghan Rd. and Weller St. about 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The cars in collision were those of Rev. Geoffrey C. Stone of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Thomas H. Taylor, 305 Margaret Ave. Damage to the Stone car was crumpled front fender, broken headlight, grill and bumped. A rear fender of the Taylor car was crumpled. PC Allan Edmison investigated.

TRAFFIC HEAVY

Traffic Sunday through the village of Lakefield was heaviest ever observed by Lakefield Police Chief Garnet Samis, who has been there for six years. The Chief said that the traffic through was a steady stream all day, both ways. There were no accidents, he said, and practically all drivers seemed to be driving carefully, averaging 20-25 miles per driving carefully, averaging 20-hour through the village.

ROUTED BY SILENCE

One of the older employees of the gas works put on his coat at 10.30 this morning and went home. Long accustomed to the familiar noise of the old machinery, this workman evidently could not stand the nervous strain of the quiet that had settled on the sooty rooms since Saturday. Mr. R. L. Dobbin said this employee's absence would probably be only temporary. It is understood the Utilities Commission intends to "take care of" any of the men who are displayed by the new plant.

Pipe Band Has Busy Season

This is the season when people look forward to, and expect to hear, bands playing at special concerts or at the usual large number of street parades. One of the busiest of these to date has been the Peterborough Pipe Band.

A glance at their recent engagements proves this. On Dominion Day they played in Bancroft and on Sunday, July 4 they accompanied a church parade in Lakefield. In Lindsay the kilties are expected to be particularly popular during the Lindsay Old Home Week currently running, July 1-10. They will play there on Friday and Saturday of this week.

On Sunday they will take part in the annual church parade of the Loyal Orange Order, in company with the Salvation Army Band. The pipes will also help the Peterborough marchers during the parade on the "glorious 12th" at Cobourg; and they will also be heard when the local lodges march through Peterborough later that evening after they return

Orange Lodges To Attend Walk In Cobourg

Peterborough Orange Lodges will celebrate the 258th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne by joining other lodges of this county in giant march at Cobourg. A few individuals will attend the even larger celebration at Ottawa.

Many of the lodges will have their own fife and drum bands but LOL No. 50 will march to the accompaniment of the Peterborough Pipe Band. Special trains will be available to take the marchers to Cobourg and also to bring them home.

This does not mean that Peterborough will not have an Orange parade. On Monday evening after the return from Cobourg members of the Order will assemble at CNR station at 8 p.m. and parade along Charlotte St., up George St. to Brock St., over to Water St., back to George St. by way of Dublin St., and then down to Brock St. where they will fall out at the Orange Hall.

Church Parade

On Sunday evening, July 11, the annual church parade will be made to Knox United Church where the service will be conducted by the Rev. H. G. Douglas. A wreath will be placed upon the memorial in Confederation Park. The route will be from Brock St. to George St., and along Charlotte St. to Rubidge St. where the parade will enter the church. This will be followed on the return to the War Memorial.

Lodges of Peterborough County that will be represented at Cobourg are Wellington LOL No. 457, Nassau; Col. Sanderson LOL No. 321 Downer's Corners; Lord Nelson LOL No. 2440, North Monaghan; Lakefield LOL No. 122, Lakefield; Wesley LOL No. 419, North Smith; Apsley LOL No. 1072, Apsley; Diamond LOL No. 80, J. W. Bell Memorial LOL No. 1175 and Duke of Manchester LOL No. 50, all from Peterborough.

Also included will be a number of ladies branches: Vimy Ridge LOBA No. 244; Eastern Star LOBA No. 525; Star of Bethlehem LOBA No. 625, all of Peterborough; and Northern Light LOBA, Lakefield. Their numbers will be swelled by the addition of several Juvenile lodges.

In charge of these three parades will be E. Payne, County Master, J. Wilson, District Master, City of Peterborough, John Brown, County Marshal, and Archie MacDonald, District Marshal.

Propane Gas Put In Mains

"We are really buying gas ready-made, mixing it with air, and distributing it among our customers," said R. L. Dobbin, manager for Utilities Commission, reporting that the new change to propane is working smoothly.

"We have had about 35 telephone calls early this morning, and we began delivering propane gas into the mains Saturday," Mr. Dobbin said. "So that's no bad when you remember that we have more than 3,500 domestic consumers.

The next thing we wish to inform the public about is that our adjusting experts, twelve men coming in for this work, are setting out this afternoon to examine every gas burner in the city.

As already explained we have to get the right mixture of gas and aar to burn all the carbon. Until these adjustments have been made there is likely to be a showing of black carbon soot on cooking utensils. We would like to go over the city in a planned way instead of going here and there and covering the same ground several times."

However, emergency calls were being responded to this morning

Mr. D. H. Thorburn of Salem Engineering Co. remarked today. "Everything is going so well that it seems almost too good." This is the climax of the planning and work of the Utilities Commission As Mr. Dobbin explained, the propane is obtained from Shell Oil Co. and is diluted with air to reduce the B.T.U.'s (heating units) to commercial level.

Full Bag Caught Pickerel Fishing

Crowe's Landing yielded pickerel Friday to two Peterborough couples to the full legal limit. The fortunate anglers were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whitehouse and Mr. and Mrs. Art Gibson.

There were several of four to four and one-half pound, with the catch size averaging two and one-half to three. The party reported that a number of good sized ones were lost during landing in the boat.

All the Whitehouse catches were with spinners and plugs. The Gibsons also used June-bug spiner and worm to advantage.

Record Sales Remain Steady In Spite of Petrillo's Ban

James Caesar Petrillo's ban on recordings, which came into effect at the beginning of this year, has so far had no effect on the sale of new records. The manager of one store selling records in Peterborough said that the major recording companies had recorded enough music to enable them to issue new records as usual.

The most requested records at the moment are "You Can't Be True" and "Little White Lies," with Dick Haymes; "Nature Boy" by the King Cole Trio; "Toolie Oolie Doolie" with the Andrews Sisters; "Woody Woodpecker" by Kay Kyser, and "Deck of Cards" by Phil Harris.

Demand For Old Recordings

There is a perennial demand for old recordings of Bing Crosby, Glen Miller, Lionel Hampton, Spike Jones and Fats Waller. Next in popularity to such records come hill-billy songs, for which there is a considerable demand.

Classical music is surprisingly popular in Peterborough. Leading the sales are recording of music that has been popularized by films, such as the 1st Piano Concerto by Tchaikovsky, the 2nd Piano Concerto of Rachmaninov and the Piano A Minor Concerto of Grieg. There is also quite a large demand for the best-known symphonies, particularly Beethoven's 5th, Tchaikovsky's "Pathetique," Mozart's 40th, Schubert's "Unfinished" and Haydn's "Surprise" Symphony.

Light classical music has always been popular, but there are now a considerable number of discriminating buyers who ask for anything from Bach's Brandenburg concertos to Wagner's "Meistersinger" Prize Song. Most Peterborough people buying classical records, however, do not have a great liking for the so-called "heavy classical music" such as the symphonies of Grahms, Mahler or Sibelius, and chamber music of Mozart, Beethoven and Schubert.

50 Boys Attend Vacation Club

Fifty boys lined up today for the opening of the 10th annual two-weeks' YMCA Vacation Club. The morning program consisted of enrolment, formation of swimmers' and non-swimmers' groups and division into craft groups. Advanced swimming instruction, gymnasium work, movies and craft work are planned for the afternoon.

The Club is organized by Al Clark, physical director of the YMCA. He is assisted by G. E. Beales and the Junior Leader Corps. The program includes trips to local factories, instruction in sports and an overnight hike for boys over twelve years of age. The day camping program is the nearest substitute to camp life a boy can have who stays in the city.

New Quarantine

VICTORIA, July 5.—(CP). — A new 14-day quarantine was placed Sunday night on the Tribal destroyer Athabaskan following discovery of a seventh victim of infantile paralysis among the 195-man complement. The Royal Canadian Navy destroyer originally were quarantined June 29 for 14 days when she docked here with the body of electrical artificer Edward Zimmerman of Victoria, who died of polio off the Oregon coast. Included on the seriously ill list of victims is Paul Present of Blenheim.

American Fisherman Wins Derby With 25 Lb. 10 Oz. Muskie Caugh In Lake Katchawanooka

Two years ago, Ezra Flowers, Sharon, Pa., lost first prize in the Grey and Bruce fish derby because his entry lacked one ounce of topping the winner, a 24-lb. 12-ounce monster. This year Mr. Flowers hauled a 25-lb. 10-ounce maskinonge from Katchawanooka Lake at Lakefield, and was away ahead of all other entrants. He won the 16-foot Peterborough square stern skiff.

In the bass division, the happiest competitor was 15-year-old Dale Musgrave, Hiawatha, who caught a small-mouth black bass weighing 4 lbs. 3 ounces. He carried off the Evinrude sport-twin motor. The catch was made in Rice Lake on a worm. Second in the bass division went to 12-year-old Jack Dunslop, Birdsall, with a bass weighing 4 lbs. even. It was taken from Rice Lake. A. B. Campbell, 358 Downie St., took third with one weighing 3 lbs. 11 ounces and caught in Missisauga Lake north of Buckhorn.

Other Awards

Competition was keen for second and third prize in the muskie division. William White, Havelock, caught a maskinonge in Round lake weighing 18 lbs. 15 ounces and this took second award, while third prize went to Judson Melvin, Peterborough, with a 17 lb., 3½ ounce fish caught at the mouth of Indian river close to Rice lake. Rev. G. S. Scovell, Toronto, was just outside the mony with his entry from Stony lake weighing 16 lbs. 10 ounces.

The tables at the market hall were heavily laden with black bass and several large muskies. The largest crowd since the derby started three years ago was on hand, and keen interest was shown in all the entries.

There were 37 entries in all with small mouth black bass topping the number of muskies.

Last year first prize went to an American from New York State who caught a 29 lb., 2 ounce muskie in Stony lake.

As usual there were the usual number of large-mouth bass brought in, and the anglers showed their disappointment as the judges pointed out the marks of classification. One little girl brought in an undersized muskie which measured 27 inches, but it was an honest mistake because the fish had been measured at 32 inches by somebody else. The legal size-limit for maskinonge is 30 inches.

Second prize in each division was a rod, reel and line, and for third place the prize was a steel tackle box filled with Lucky Strike baits.

Mayor William Ovens, Robert McCabe, president of the Peterborough Fish and Game Club, and Pete McGillen, Outdoor Editor of The Examiner were the judges, with Doug. Vaisey, chairman of the tourist committee in the Junior Chamber of Commerce acting as statistician.

Mayor Ovens called the winners this morning and muskie prizes were presented by Mr. McGillen, while Mr. Cambe presented the prizes to the bass winners.

Deadline for fish entries was sharp at ten o'clock this morning at the market hall, and all entries had to be weighed on the same set of scales at the market by one of the three judges.

Ted McKay, manager of the Gray and Bruce Trust and Savings Company expressed his satisfaction at the interest and number of entries. He added that if legislation is passed banning derbies, then a derby of another character but equally interesting to sportsmen will be held next year.

Runners-up in the muskie division in order were Edward J. Faber, Fostoria, Ohio, 16 lbs., 8 ounces; Charles G. Strasser, North Canton, Ohio, 15 lbs.; and W. Thompson, Strathcona Ave., Toronto, 15 lbs. 8 ounces. There were eight other entries in this division, including a 10 lb., 14 ounces muskie caught by Alex Beggs off the George street wharf.

Gas Ignites Man's Hands; Badly Burned

ROSENEATH, July 5—(ENS)—When gasoline suddenly ignited in an oil shed belonging to Clarke Sandercock, owner of Sandercock Camp, early on Friday night, five small buildings were burned to the ground and Mr. Sandercock received minor burns. Total damage is estimated at about $1,000.

The owner of the well-known camping site said he was straining gasoline through a screened metal funnel by using a pump to extract it from the 200-gallon tank. Mr. Sandercock saw a flash in the funnel and the next thing he knew his hands and clothes were enveloped in flames. He ran to the shore of Rice Lake nearby and leaped in, thus extinguishing the fire.

By the time he got back to the oil shed efforts to extinguish the blaze were fruitless and it quickly spread to the 12 ft. by 20 ft. wooden tool shed. A number of neighbors helped him battle the fire but it was beyond their combined abilities to cope with.

The Roseneath Fire Department responded promptly but it was too late to have any of the burning buildings which by this time included two lavatories and a nearby boathouse being used as a storage room at the time. All were completely destroyed.

Alertness of the local firemen prevented the flames from spreading to the camp store house across the road and they also saved a boathouse belonging to William Potts, Cobourg.

Mr. Sandercock received medical attention for his hands which are painfully but not seriously burned.

He said all of the buildings were old but their contents were of considerable value, particularly in these days when replacements are not easily obtained. There was no insurance on the destroyed property.

Cook Fails To Appear At Army Camp So OC and MO Try Culinary Art

"If only we had somebody down here to write it up," was the lament of men of the 50th Anti-Aircraft Regiment on their week-end camp to Cobourg and Trenton.

"You don't see the O.C. doing the cooking every day," one of the gun operators told the Examiner. "It was really something, but for heaven's sake don't quote me. I don't think I'd get the brig or anything like that, but, you know."

Acting commanding officer of the new unit is Major Max Clarke, who was overseas with the Stormont, Dundas and Glengarry Highlanders.

Cook Failed to Show Up

His medical officer is Dr. J. C. Dawson of Peterborough. As the story goes, the cook of the unit didn't show up when the detachment of 45 to 50 men took off Friday for the week-end. As in many another instance of overlooked importance, the cook probably does not get high enough rating until he isn't around when appetites are taking on edge and belts are less tight.

The grub was on hand, good, stout rations, and somebody to be assigned to the relief job. It appears that the O.C. put the finger on himself and his M.O. That sounds like something extraordinary in a military camp, but the Examiner was assured of the truth of the information

"There wasn't anything wrong with the meal. In fact it was a good meal and everybody was hungry, but you should have seen Major Clarke and "Doc" Dawson cutting up the side of beef. They had no cinch, what with nearly fifty men to be served. They gave a repeat performance in cookery Saturday evening, and the O.C. did the bacon and eggs for Sunday morning. Very good, too. Of course there was help from the quarter-master sergeants. We musn't leave them out of the picture, but you have to admit that there is something new in military life when the O.C. picks on himself for an emergency cooking job. Beyond that, it was a fine outing for the new unit."

Just as a further detail, it seems that Major Clarke's maitre d'hotel number for Saturday night was the same old reliable, you can't go wrong "beef stew." It just shows his culinary versatility.

MOUNT PISGAH'S LADIES' AID held its first postwar strawberry festival last week. During the war, they couldn't get enough sugar for the berries, let alone for the cakes, pies, tarts and jellies that make a strawberry social festival. Five crates were hulled for last week's supper. The church, near Aurora, was built in 1870.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODES

GANANOQUE, July 5.—(CP).—Seven children and six adults were burned here Friday night when a gasoline stove used to heat syrup for candy apples exploded at the Lions Club jamboree in the market square. Children and mothers lined up outside a booth were sprayed with flames. Most were slightly burned on the legs.

Russia Starving Innocent German People To Strike At Allies, Bevin Declares

WYMONDHAM, Norfolk, England, July 5—(CP)—Secretary Ernest Bevin charged Sunday that Russia is starving innocent people to force the western powers from Berlin.

"We will not surrender it," he declared at a Labor party rally of some 5,000 persons. Bevin declared that the 16-day Russian blockade of western Berlin is making innocent persons suffer.

"We are always ready to discuss Berlin if they (the Russians) are willing to discuss it, and I am not unhopeful that sanity will prevail."

Bevin will report to a special cabinet meeting today to discuss developments in the Berlin crisis. Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky Saturday refused to tell the western allies when the food blockade of western Berlin will be lifted.

Bevin said American aid would restore British independence.

"I do not want us to come out of the Marshall scheme as a nation living on the dole or on loans. And we are determined not to add to our rations out of Marshall aid. With this aid we are going to get back our independence.

"If Britain works in that spirit I have no fear of her recovery."

Believe Berlin Factory Output Shows Increase

(Editor's note: In the following article a Canadian Press staff writer describes the efforts to get German industry back on its feet in the midst of political crises).

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

BERLIN, July 5 — (CP). — Political crises shake all Germany, but economic advisers to the western allied governments say they are optimistic of a substantial increase in industrial output this year.

"The outlook now is a good deal more promising than a year ago," said one official of the economics division of British military government.

Improvements in basic industries, he said, have prepared the way for further industrial gains, and rising exports are providing the means to pay for greatly increased imports of raw materials.

Imports into the bi-zonal area during 1947 were £162,500,000 ($65,000,000). Exports were £56,250,000, with Britain "by far the best customer."

From November, 1945, to the end of 1947 the number of employees in all Berlin inlustries rose from 29,298 to 65,987. The number employed in electrical engineering alone increased from 15,550 to 27,400.

Manpower Shortage

In spite of increased production, there is still a manpower shortage in Berlin, and considerable absenteeism because workers can supplement their earnings by bartering on the black market.

'If currency reform successfully curtails the black market — which is a matter of opinion — industry in Berlin will improve to an appreciable extent," said the manager of an electrical firm.

Intensive propaganda is being used to convince workers that the sooner they curtail black-market bartering, the sooner there will be enough consumer goods in the stores.

By way of example, an American government official told of a Berlin business man who received a consignment of canned sardines as payment for services rendered. Opening one of the cans he tasted the sardines, found them unpalatable and returned the consignment with a complaint.

Back came the reply: "You made a mistake. Those are not eating sardines, they are trading sardines."

Young, of Minneapolis, Minn., that the British Empire would lose a fourth of India or Canada or Australia within 10 years. This copy of the agreement, which was made in duplicate, was auctioned at Sotheby's in London, Eng., recently. Young's copy was sold in 1945. Witness to the wager was Richard Le Gallienne, the noted author.

Mr. King To Strike Blows On Behalf of Successors

OTTAWA, July 5 — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King on his retirement as political head of the country sometime this year, may strike a few blows on behalf of his successors.

Although he made no mention of it in his farewell address to the Commons, he has told friends he believes the Canadian Prime Minister should receive $50,000 a year to meet the financial and social burdens of his position. He has also told John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. chief, he hopes they will insist on that income if they come to power. Mr. King, in salary, sessional indemnity and expense allowances, now receives $23,000.

He told the Commons he thought Parliament should provide an official residence for his successors. If this were done it is presumed he would scale down his estimate of salary requirements.

Boundary Disputes

Three vacancies in the Canadian section of the International Joint Commission will be filled soon. The commission, a Canadian-American body which deals with boundary and waterway problems between the two countries, is almost without Canadian personnel although it has important work on hand.

At full strength the commission consists of Canadian and American chairmen and two commissioners from each country. There has been no permanent Canadian chairman since the death of Hon. Charles Stewart in 1946. The acting Canadian chairman, Joseph Perrault, died last month, leaving Hon. George Spence the only Canadian representative on the commission.

The commissioners are paid $7,500 a year.

The post of secretary is also vacant. It was held by Lawrence Burpee, a well-known Ottawa author, until his death in 1946. Miss E. M. Sutherland is acting secretary.

The American representation is also one short, a vacancy that has existed for several years.

Governor Dewey of New York and Premier Drew of Ontario announced in May that they planned a joint application to the commission for approval of plans for a $300,000,000 Hydro development on the St. Lawrence intended to produce 2,200,000 horse power. So far the application has not been made.

DR. H. E. WILSON of Ship Harbor, N.S., who has been appointed chief of the newly created division of civil aviation medicine, Department of National Health and Welfare. Dr. Wilson will develop medical standards for personnel in civil aviation.

Ketchabaw-Finnie Nuptials Take Place at Bensfort

In Bensfort United Church Saturday Miss Barbara Constance Finnie and Mr. Donald C. F. Ketchabaw took the solemn vows uniting them in marriage, with the Rev. A. H. McConnachie, grandfather of the bride, and the Rev. Bernard Heywood conducting the ceremony. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Finnie of Bailieboro, and the groom is the son of Mr. Frank Ketchabaw of Tillsonburg, and the late Mrs. Ketchabaw.

Chancel of the church was banked with orange blossoms, delphinium, lady slippers and fern for the occasion, which had a particular note of interest for the family in the fact that the Rev. McConnachie had officiated at the marriages of his three children and now a granddaughter.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. James Wood and Mr. Samuel Castle of Peterborough was soloist. Before the service he sang "O Perfect Love" and during the signing of the register, "I'll Walk Beside You."

The bride chose a gown fashioned on Grecian lines with the bodice and peplum of satin with Chantilly lace edging, the drop-shoulder neckline and peplum which fell over a full skirt of nylon net. Queen Elizabeth veiling with scalloped edge fell from her coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she was carrying a shower bouquet of Bettertime roses. Mr. Finnie gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Mary Buckham as maid of honor was frocked in yellow nylon taffeta made with a sweetheart neckline and puff sleeves on the moulded bodice and bustle back on the full skirt. Her headdress was a coronet of matching ribbon and she carried a Colonial bouquet of Talisman roses. Miss Jacqueline Ballantyne as bridesmaid was wearing pink orchid brocaded taffeta, similarly styled, and carried Hibbard roses. The junior bridesmaid was the bride's cousin, Miss Nancy Robertson, who wore sky blue taffeta and carried Rapture roses.

The groom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Glen Ketchabaw, and ushers were Merton Thompson and Bryan Roberts.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church basement where Mrs. Finnie received with the bridal party, assisted by the groom's aunt. The former was gowned in beige mesh and wore a brown felt hat and corsage of Pernet roses, while the latter wore a dress of pussy willow silk in grey and fuchsia shades, a flower trimmed hat of black and grey straw and corsage of Sunbeam roses.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a graceful gown of white bridal satin made with a nylon yoke on a moulded bodice, trimmed with seed pearls, and long sleeves coming to points over the hands. The full gathered skirt fel from under a bustle into a long circular train. Her full-length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a headdress of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of Bettertime roses and baby's breath.

Mrs. William Greatrix was matron of honor for her sister and wore a gown of pink embossed organza fashioned with vee neckline on a fitted bodice, short puffed sleeves and a full gathered skirt. She wore a headdress of pink flowers with a shoulder length veil and lace gloves to match. Her nosegay was of Talisman roses and white snapdragons.

DOROTHY DIX

Dangerous Swain Is Man Who Roughly Treats Girl

DEAR MISS DIX: My daughter, who is 17, has been dating steadily for more than a year a boy of 18. He is the most jealous person I ever heard of and he has the worst temper. When he gets angry with my daughter, he calls her all kinds of insulting names and slaps and kicks her. He has forbidden her to speak to a boy or girl, no matter who they are or how long she has known them. She can't even go to town or church without his permission. Yet this boy dates other girls.

Dorothy Dix

I have been trying to tell my daughter that she will ruin her young life with a boy like this. What is your solution of this problem?—A WORRIED MOTHER.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Well, if I had a daughter of 17 who was letting a miserable little pipsqueak of a boy kick her around and tell her what she could and couldn't do, I would be tempted to put her in a nice padded cell until she recovered her reason and got back to normal. Why don't you send her away to some good school where she would be free from this boy's baneful influence? And I urge you to do it even if it takes the last cent you have in the world, because her whole life's happiness depends upon it.

Beats and Kicks Her

It doesn't take any prophet to tell her that if she marries this young chap she hasn't a chance in the world at happiness. If he beats and kicks her before they are married, heaven only knows what he wil do to her after marriage. If he insults and reviles her while he is supposed to be courting her, he will never even say a polite word to her after marriage. She will be nothing but a slave on whom he will vent his wrath and his temper.

She is so hypnotized now that she has lost all ability to defend herself, or even to realize the danger she is in, but she can be cured if you send her far enough away for her to be out of his reach. Send her where she will meet decent young men and will have a chance to compare them with this overbearing young tyrant. Girls of her age fall in love easily, but through the providence of God they fall out of love just as quickly, if they are given a chance to compare a gentleman with a louse.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: There is a boy with whom I think I am in love. Every time I am with him my heart beats much faster than normal and I seem to float away on the clouds. When I am not with him I think of him all the time. He has asked me to marry him, but I have not accepted yet as I don't know whether I am really in love with him or not.

Do you think this is what is called the REAL THING in love? I am 17 and I wish to know so that I won't get married and then in a few months regret it for the balance of my life.—UNDECIDED

ANSWER Atta girl! Good for you! It shows that you have uncommon judgment for your age to try to find out before you get married whether what you feel is the real, genuine, blow-in-the-bottle brand of love, or not. For marriage is for a long time, and it seems longer if you guessed wrong.

It is pretty hard for a girl who has never had an attack of love sickness before to correctly diagnose her symptoms. For a fluttering heart at the approach of a certain boy and floating away on pink clouds may be the result of too many chocolate sodas, or too big a box of candy, even if sent as a love token, and may call for bicarbonate of soda instead of a wedding ring.

So go slow. Give yourself time to look over a lot of boys and compare this particular lad with the others before you make your decision. If he still looks good to you after you have put him through a two years' probation, it will be plenty of time then to decide whether you like him well enough to walk the balance of your life with him. The main test of love is how it wears.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a widower of 50. My wife died about six months ago and lately I have started to go with a doctor's nurse who is 60. She is an old maid and has a good job and I think she has saved quite a lot of money. I own my own home. Have a job as a laborer in a small town. I didn't finish grade school, while this lady has a good education.

I asked her to marry me and she said she would after my wife had been dead over a year if we both felt the same way. Now I am wondering if I would be smart to do so because of our ages. What do you think?—PUZZLED.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think you would be smart to shift your matrimonial intentions to some charmer nearer to your own age. After a woman has been her own boss for 60 years it is pretty hard to break her to double harness.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, July 6

A rather durious and uncertain state of affairs may be looked for on this day, judging by rather malefic omens of the luminaries and another important planet under which the impulses, feelings and emotions may set aside sound judgment and the proper rationalizing of treacherous circumstances. It would be easy to be victimized by highly embellished propositions or the "slick tongue" of a designing person, even in important place. Resort to clever strategies, sustained by logic and common sense, might avert loss regrets.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are admonished to mark time in any major operation in which large interests are at stake, until every possible loophole for fraud, treachery and duplicity are ruthlessly analysed and all forms of subtlety and intrigue disposed of. There is danger that a smooth tongue, or clever disrepresentation, may becloud the issue and bring about sinister entanglements. Plots or schemes involving personal relations as well as finances call for clear vision.

A child born on this day might be able to avert disastrous entanglements by sound logic, prudence and eternal vigilance.

Berry Festival Held By Guild

MILLBROOK, July 5. (ENS)—An enjoyable and successful strawberry festival, sponsored by the Women's Guild of St. Thomas' Anglican Church, was held Friday evening, with proceeds of $90. High winds and scattered showers made it impossible to hold the event on the church lawn as had been intended, and tables were laid in the parish hall, with A. A. Needler acting as cashier.

Baskets of summer blossoms added to the attractiveness of the hall, as did the flowers centring the long tables. Mrs. F. Lowery, president of the Guild, with the rector and Mrs. MacLean, welcomed the guests. Those in charge of tables included: Mrs. Howard Lancashire, Mrs. D. Sheppard, Mrs. Alex Harkness, Mrs. A. Sloan, Mrs. P. E. Hamilton, Mrs. Lowery and Mrs. MacLean. Among the girls assisting with the serving were Misses Marguerite Hancock, Irene Trick, Marilyn Gibbs, Lena-Marie Lowery, Doris Hutchison, and Marilyn Palmer.

Making the tea and looking after supplies for the plates were Mrs. T. A. Campbell, Miss E. Kent, Mrs. G. Raper, Miss Anna Fair. Paul Sanders served the tea.

HAVELOCK, July 5 (ENS) — Miss Cleo Copp entertained recently at a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Evelyn Melville whose marriage to Mr. William E. Pollock of Harold will take place in St. John's Anglican Church here on July 10.

The guest of honor was the recipient of many useful gifts which were arranged in a prettily decorated doll carriage wheeled into the room by Miss Joan Taylor.

The rooms were attractively decorated with pink and white streamers and bouquets of peonies, one of which centred the lace covered lunch table.

Those present were: Mrs. Earl Hicks, Mrs. Ray Outwater, Mrs. Fred Bennett, Miss Beverley Bennett, Miss Berniece Longmuir, Miss Helen Clarke, Mrs. C. Taylor, Mrs. R. A. Melville, Mrs. W Copp, Miss Joan Taylor, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. G. Kennedy, Mrs. Garfield Newton.

Coyle-Blodgett

ROSENEATH, July 5. (ENS)—At Wycliffe College Chapel, on Saturday, July 3, was solemnized the marriage of Margaret Ellen, daughter of Mrs. Blodgett and the late Rev. J. N. Blodgett of Toronto, to Mr. Douglas Lloyd Coyle son of Mrs. Coyle and the late Mr. T. S. Coyle, of Roseneath, Ont.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Professor T. W. Isherwood, of Toronto, assisted by the Rev. R. C. White, of Roseneath. The bride, dressed in a Queen's blue dressmaker suit of silk gabardine, with hat to match and white accessories, and wearing a corsage of white carnations, was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. J. Wilson Blodgett. She was attended by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Joyce Blodgett, dressed in a suit of ivory white with matching accessories and corsage of yellow roses. Mr. Frederick G. Lewis, of Roseneath, was groomsman, and the ushers were Messrs. Nelson and George Blodgett, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the home of the bride's mother. The guests were received by Mrs. Blodgett and Mrs. Coyle, both wearing navy and white, with corsages of summer flowers. After a motor trip to Muskoka, the bride and groom will reside in Roseneath.

Report 61 Lose Lives During 4-Day Holiday

By The Canadian Press

On the highway, on the water and in the air, death rode with Canadians during the long Dominion Day week-end.

A Canadian Press compilation today showed that 61 persons lost their lives since the four-day celebration started last Thursday.

But during a comparable four-day period last year, the Saturday-to-Tuesday Dominion Day observvance, the total was far higher: 98.

Drownings took 29 lives as hot weather over most of Canada lured holidayers to the beaches. Highway deaths numbered 21. Two plane crashes, one in northern British Columbia and another in the Ontario wilds, killed seven persons altogether. Two men were shot to death near Riviere Du Loup, Que., and a train mishap and a fall each caused a death.

Since Friday night 35 deaths have been reported.

Jean-Marc Labbe, 32-year-old son of a minister without portfolio in Quebec's Duplessis cabinet was drowned Sunday night in Oyster lake, seven miles from the Eastern Townships town of Thatford, Que. He fell into the lake while boarding a yacht and could not swim.

Double Drowning

A double drowning at Bronte, near Hamilton, took the lives of a British navy veteran who survived two shipwrecks and of the six-year-old son of his wife's employer. The victims were William Alexander, 25, of Toronto, and John Green of Bronte.

Three persons were drowned within three hours near the Cochrane district centre of Kapuskasing in Northern Ontario. They were: Frank Pohoroles, nine, mired in a shallow pool; Arvvi Heikkola, 50, who fell into moonshine creek after a party; and Emil Vandal, 28, thrown from a boat into Remi lake, 17 miles from Kapuskasing.

Other drowning victims were: Kenneth Doran of Toronto, in a rowboat upset in Ontario's Rice lake; Gordon Wesley, 19, Port Lambton, spilled from a kayak in the St. Clair river; Gerald Quackenbush, nine, who waded beyond his depth into the Rideau river at Merrickville; Don McCluckie, Vancouver, swept under by the Fraser river; Emile Ledit, 22, lost in a remote Manitoba lake north of The Pas; James P. Webster, 27, Toronto, victim of a capsizing in Ontario's Muskoka district.

Others Drowned

Others drowned were: Jean Guy Matte, nine, in the North river at Prevost, Que.; Elsie Hunter, 18, of Montreal, a swimmer in Lake Beaven at Weir, Que.; and Gertrude Ginblesperger, 14, of Detroit, caught in Lake Erie undertow at the mouth of Cedar Creek near Kingsville.

In addition, the bodies of unidentified men were recovered from the St. Lawrence River Sunday near Sorel, Que., and at St. Antoine De Tille, Que.

An out-of-control automobile which smashed into a roadside tree near Howick, Que., killed Wilfred Argott, 2, Beauharnois; and Fabien Primeau, 23, Adrien Daoust, 34, and Renaud Trudel, 19, all of Howick. Roch Parent, 20, of Howick, suffered shock and bruises.

A light monoplane, which crashed into a pond near Prince George, B.C., carried to their death Mrs. Sam McLean of Prince George and her two young sons. The pilot, Roy Archer, was pulled from the wreckage by an unidentified woman who ran from a nearby dance hall.

R. G. Love, 40, of Montreal, died at Kirkland Lake, of injuries received in a fall.

Havelock Legion Takes In $757

HAVELOCK, July 3—(ENS)—The proceeds from the Dominion Day celebration, sponsored by the Havelock - Belmont branch of the Canadian Legion No. 389, amounted to $757.76. The proceeds at the park gates and from the booth there were about $90 leaving approximately $667 as proceeds from the street dance and games in the evening. Large crowds were in attendance and all of the events were an unqualified success for which the credit is due to the untiring efforts of the committee which comprised the executive and other members of the Legion, the personnel of which is as follows: Fred Pollock, president; D. McLean, first vice; Harold Smith, second vice; W. Cartwright, treasurer; J. Martin, secretary; Jack Green, Donald Green, George Quackenbush, Harold Kennedy, Ross Hart, William Forsyth, Tom Forsyth, Jr., Douglas Hill, Cephas McGowan, J. Adams, Floyd Hamilton, Eric Bedore.

The committee of veterans were assisted by the following, all of whom worked hard to make all the day's activities a success: Harry Jamison, Bruce Melville, Robert Baines, Harold Hamilton, Walter Little, Beverley Pollock, Philip Chevalier, Donald Hunter, Reggie Pollock and the Turpin brothers.

Two prizes were awarded in the fish derby. The prize, a pair of flannelette blankets, for the largest muskie which tipped the scales at 11½ pounds, went to Garnet Emery of Havelock who made his catch in Kosh Lake. The largest small mouth black bass, went to J. Harcroft of Trent River. It tipped the scales at 2½ pounds. The prize was a thermos bottle.

A short program of races was run at the park for boys and girls with all the prizes going to Havelock children.

The local branch of the Legion has recently been reorganized. Prior to that activities were on the wane, but now with an increased membership and prospects of more new members they are looking forward to building their new hall in the near future. The site has been purchased on No. 7 highway between Quebec and Oak Streets.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

DOUBLE DIRECTS LEAD

WHEREAS a double of the opponents' contract can frequently help him in the play, by letting him know who probably holds important defensive cards, there are other situations in which a double can be of value to your own side. The most fundamental of these is the case in which you had previously bid a suit and are perfectly willing to have your partner lead it. A double then tells him that, unless he has some unexpectedly good defense in sight because of the composition of his own hand, he should lead your suit, the conventional card of it.

	♠ 6 5 4 ♥ A K 7 ♦ Q J 8 3 ♣ A 5 3
♠ 3 2 ♥ 10 8 2 ♦ A 9 6 5 4 ♣ K J 10	N W E S	♠ A K Q 10 9 8 7 ♥ Q 6 5 ♦ 7 2 ♣ 9
	♠ J ♥ J 9 4 3 ♦ K 10 ♣ Q 8 7 6 4 2

(Dealer: North. Both sides vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
1 ♦	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♠
Dbl

Where North made that double, South properly opened his partner's suit, the diamond K, which is the conventional card to choose from such a holding. The A took that, the declarer removed the hostile trumps with three tops and the club 9 was led, the 10 being inserted after East played low and the A winning. North collected his diamond Q and led the J, which East ruffed. Since the declarer had to make the first lead of hearts after that, he had no way to avoid losing three tricks in the suit, so was down two.

At another table of the same duplicate game, the bidding was exactly the same except for the fact that North did not double the 4-Spades. South therefore felt that he had better not lead his partner's diamonds, but should hold his K as a possible trick-winner if East happened to have the A. He opened the club 6 instead. The 10 forced the A. North, seeing the club K established for a discard, decided he had better make sure of two top heart winners at once. After that all-around bad defense, East made his game easily, losing only those first three tricks. But even the best defense could have set him only one after that lead.

• • •

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ 3 ♥ K 10 8 4 ♦ J 5 4 3 2 ♣ 10 7 5
♠ A Q J 5 ♥ A 3 2 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ Q 9 8	N W E S	♠ 6 2 ♥ Q J 9 7 6 ♦ Q 8 ♣ A 6 4 3
	♠ K 10 9 8 7 4 ♥ 5 ♦ K 10 9 ♣ K J 2

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

If against a No Trump game, the diamond Q, K and A play on the 3 lead, the heart A is scored and the 3 led to the K, what should South discard?

6—In Memoriam

KELLY—In loving memory of Mrs. George Kelly, who passed away July 5, 1945.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered, since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day, dear mother,
That we do not think of you.
—Sadly missed by huband and family.

Vacation Reading Club Attended By 100

More than 100 boys and girls have already joined the Vacation Reading Club, which opened a week ago at the Public Library, and the staff of the Boys' and Girls' Department are being kept very much busier than they ever expected. Circulation in the department has increased by nearly 100 per cent in comparison with last year's figures for the same period.

Nearly a dozen boys and girls in grades II to VIII were reading books at the Library today, and writing their own reviews in notebooks specially issued to them for that purpose. Seven-year-old Terry Gross was the first member to read five books which he completed in three days. Mel and Lee Barnes, eleven-year-old twins have both read fourteen books in the first week and have written interesting reviews on them. They are now leading in the number of books read.

Business Educators Hold Convention

Annual convention of the Business Educators Association of Canada was held in Peterborough last week with delegates in attendance from Edmonton, Alta., Sarnia, London, Brantford, Windsor, Hamilton, Toronto, Barrie, Orillia, Owen Sound, in Ontario, Montreal and Sherbrooke, Quebec, and Fredericton, New Brunswick. They were joined by representatives of several companies who were responsible for their entertainment. On Friday the Underwood Typewriter Company gave a noon-day luncheon at the Kawartha Club, and they were guests of the Royal Typewriter Company for evening dinner at Davis Island Manor, Stony Lake. The Pittman-Gregg Company entertained Saturday for luncheon at the Empress Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKone entertained the delegates and their wives at their home on Thursday evening.

Guest speaker of the convention was Dr. J. S. Hoffsinger of Washington, D.C., representing the National Council of Business Colleges in U.S.A. He was accompanied by Mr. Luther of Knoxville, Tenn.

Anglican Bishops Plans To Fight Communists

CANTERBURY, Kent, England, July 5—(CP)—The Lambeth Conference of 330 Anglican bishops from every corner of the globe, including 23 from Canada, gets down to work today.

Some of the bishops gathering at this eighth in the series of Lambeth meetings—the first in 18 years—have suffered first-hand experience of religious persecution, unknown in Britain since the 17th century.

Deliberations will be in camera. Not until the conference ends, a fortnight from now, will a communique be published detailing the recommendations which the bishops will make to the various autonomous branches of the church.

It is apparent, however, that the conference will give much of its attention to the problem of combatting Communist doctrines.

The Times said Saturday that discussion would be carried on with "realism and a sense of urgency imparted by the fact that some of the (church's) branches are in Russian-dominated areas."

The paper added that "it will be as uncompromising as that already given by Rome need not be doubted. To the Anglican mind Communism is to be fought not as a political doctrine, but as religious heresy."

In the church unity debates, close scrutiny will be made of the terms of last Autumn's establishment of the Church of South India. This church is outside the Anglican communion, although formed by union of four hitherto Anglican dioceses with various non-Episcopal bodies in Southern India.

Fine Of $40 Levied For Reckless Driving

Edward Roach, 581 Elm St., pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving, was fined $40 and $8.50 costs or one month in jail in police court today. PC Leo Murphy testified as to details of the accident from which the charge was laid. In it, the accused's car had $325 damage and the other vehicle involved was about $125. The officer said the accused was 'partially drunk.'

Fined $10 and $2.50 costs each when pleading guilty to being drunk in public were: Delbert Perritt, 689 Gilchrist Ave., and James C. Beacock, Fleming Place.

John Smith, 146 Simcoe St., was fined $15 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor.

McIntyre-Sage Nuptials At St. John's Church

A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at St. John's Anglican Church, Peterborough, on Saturday, when Archdeacon W. P. Robertson united in marriage Ruth Madeline Sage and Donald Northey McIntyre. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex N. Sage, 737 Curtis Rd., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur McIntyre, 3 Lansdowne St.

The bride's dress was of white eyelet embroidery, and she wore an off-the-face hat long-sleeved mittens of th same material. She carried a white Prayer Book covered with white roses and bouvardia, trailing long satin streamers. The bridesmaid, Miss Lorna Andrus, was identically dressed in powder-blue eyelet embroidery, and she carried a nosegay of Bettertim roses and bouvardia.

Th groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Glenn McIntyree.

A reception followed at the bride's home, where her mother received assisted by the groom's mother. For the occasion Mrs. Sage was gowned in a grey figured crepe with white accessories, and she wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. McIntyre chose a figured silk with black accessories, and she wore a corsage of tertime roses and bouvardia.

For an extended motor trip through Northern and Western Ontario the bride chose a two-piece blue and white chambay dress with white accessories, and she wore a corsage of white roses Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre will reside in Peterborough.

Betty Coleman, Ray Menzies Exchange Vows at St. John's

A pretty wedding took place in St. John's Anglican church on Thursday, when Elizabeth Maude (Betty), younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Coleman, was given in marriage to Kenneth Raye, only son of Mr. C. V. Menzies and the late Mrs. Menzies of Havelock. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson officiated.

The church was decorated with peonies, delphinium, orange blossoms and palm fern. Wedding music was played by Fredrick G. Mann and during the signing of the register Mr. Victor Coleman, brother of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of imported French embossed organdie with high round neckline, short puff sleeves and bustle back cascading from the waistline to the floor, and mittens to match. Her long embroidered veil of fine net was held with a coronet of lily of the valley and she carried a cascade of red roses.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Jean Coleman, who wore a gown of forget-me-not blue dotted marquisette with high round neck line, short fuffed sleeves and bustle back, with headdress and mittens to match. She carried a nosegay of pink roses, white delphinium and yellow snapdragon.

The groomsman was Mr. Aubrey Harris and the ushers Thomas Hayward, brother-in-law of the groom, and Victor Coleman.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where her mother received, wearing a two piece afternoon dress of navy figured silk and contrasting accessories and corsage of pink roses. The groom's sister, Mrs. Thomas Hayward, who also received, was attired in light navy faconne with white accessories and wore a corsage of tea roses.

Later the bride and groom left for Toronto and Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride wore a blue crepe dress with lace trim, white accessories and a corsage of pink roses. On return they will live at 386 Stewart St.

Pearl Gynane Wed Saturday Taking Motor Trip to USA

At St. Peter's Cathedral Saturday morning the marriage vows of Pearl Gynane and George Blackburn Hickey were solemnized by the Rev. P. P. Butler. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. A. Gynane and the late Mr. J. E. Gynane and the groom the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hickey, all of Peterborough.

Bouquets of peonies decorated the altar table and traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Marion Aman. During the signing of the register, Mrs. E. A. Collis sang Millard's "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Wilfred Gynane of Ottawa. She was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Gynane, maiad of honor and groom's sister, Miss Joan Hickey as bridesmaid. Mr. J. Hickey was groomsman for his brother. Ushers were Mr. Clarence Greedon of Toronto, cousin of the groom, and Mr. Ronald Gynane, brother of the bride.

For her wedding Miss Gynane chose a charming gown of embossed marquisette with Grecian styled skirt, caught up at the front with satin bows to show a four-tiered underskirt of lace. A yoke of sheer nylon was inset at the neckline. Her veil fell to the floor from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress, embroidered with seed pearls, and she was carrying a cascade of Rapture Roses and bouvardia. The attendants' frocks were fashioned of pink and blue sheer in a drop-shoulder style with graceful peplums and they wore half-hats with scalloped edges in matching colors and carried pale pink carnations and pale blue delphiniums made up in cascade bouquets.

Mrs. Gynane was gowned in aqua blue georgette with Chantilly lace for the occasion and wore a hat of navy straw and matching accessories with Briarcliffe roses at her shoulder. Mrs. Hickey wore a printed navy crepe with hat of navy taffeta and corsage of Pink Delight roses.

After the reception in the Empress Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Hickey left for a motor trip through eastern USA. The bride was wearing a white eyelet dress with navy accessories and a navy shortie topcoat.

On return they will live at 306 Simcoe St.

CIVILIAN EMPLOYEES of Templehof Airport, in the U.S. sector of Berlin, load Army trucks with food flown into the German capital by a shuttle service of U.S. planes. The air route was resorted to when a food crisis was precipitated by Russia's blockade of the city's land-transport planes. Air service is on a 24-hour schedule. Gen. Lucius D. Cloy has described the present situation in Germany as "very serious" and said that the feeding of the western section of Berlin was assured. He also said that the new C-54 aircraft sent to Berlin from the U.S. would be employed to bring coal into the former German capital.

The year was 1847 . . .

. . . Malcolm McRae was beaten into unconsciousness, left in a ditch to die. He was a voter in the Third District, Prince Edward Island who had, the previous year, voted against certain members who were later unseated on charges of intimidation and violence.

Now a new election was called—but Malcolm McRae was warned not to vote. In those days he was not protected by the secret ballot—yet Malcolm McRae determined to set out for the polls, risking his life for the right to vote.

Today, because of the courage of men like Malcolm McRae, you run no risk at all in your free, unhampered exercise of the franchise.

When YOU cast your secret ballot at every election—municipal, provincial, federal—you exercise a duty and privilege planned, worked and fought for by your forefathers. Your vote protects the future of your children. To fail in this duty is to be less than a good citizen.

CZECHS FLOUT REDS IN PROTEST MARCH

Three Allies Send Moscow Stiff Protest Over Blockade In Berlin

Say Notes Offer To Negotiate Over-All Settlement Of Berlin Problems; Think Soviets Want Four-Power Talks

LONDON, July 6—(AP).—Britain, the United States and France protested strongly to Russia today against the Soviet blockade of western Berlin. The notes were handed to the Soviet Ambassador in the three capitals. A French spokesman said the main difference in the notes were these: The American note referred to a letter from President Truman to Prime Minister Stalin; the British document referred to the Potsdam Conference.

The spokesman declined to discuss other details prior to publication of the texts, but he said the notes did not constitute an ultimatum. Other sources said the three notes made up one of the strongest protests the Western allies yet have made to the Soviet Union.

These sources said all three notes offered to negotiate over-all settlement of Berlin problems if the Russians would lift the blockade of western Berlin. One diplomatic source in Paris said he doubted whether the Russians would raise the blockade for anything less than general four-power discussions on the future of all Germany.

The note, likely to be one of the stiffest addressed to Russia since the end of the war, has been drafted during the last 10 days.

In that time there have been almost constant day and night talks among Foreign Secretary Bevin; Sir William Strang, head of the foreign office's German section; the United States Ambassador, Lewis W. Douglas; and French Ambassador Rene Massigli.

Both the American and French ambassadors were said to have reported almost hourly to Washington and Paris on steps to be taken, if and when Russia rejects the joint protest.

Latest Developments

Bevin furnished top-ranking ministers of Prime Minister Attlee's cabinet with the latest developments at 10 Downing Street this morning.

Carole Landis Blonde Actress Takes Own Life

LOS ANGELES, July 6—(AP). — The glamorized movie career of actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end Monday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Detective Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely a suicide." There were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room, and an empty bottle was found near the body.

Jones reported the beautiful blonde actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by film actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—

"I'm sorry, really sorry to put you through this but there is no way to avoid it—I love you darling, you have been the most wonderful Mom ever—and that applies to all our family. I love each and every one of you dearly—everything goes to you—look in the files and there is a will which decrees everything—

"Goodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby."

Harrison told police that Miss Landis had been ill for a week, suffering a recurrence of an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Fine Fur Dealer $7,300 For Skins

COCHRANE, July 6—(CP)—S. O. Ticknor, Cochrane fur dealer, Monday was fined a total of $7,300 and costs on charges of having 73 unmarked beaver skins in his possession and of trying to export them without paying duties.

The pelts were included in a shipment of 918 beaver pelts and other skins consigned to a fur auction at Montreal.

Officials of the Department of Lands and Forests seized the skins at North Bay June 7 because an export permit covered only 845 beaver pelts.

Seven Of Crew Safe After Ship Explodes

SEASIDE PARK, N.J., July 6—(AP)—The fishing trawler Reliable blew up in a 50-foot burst of flames within sight of the New Jersey shore early today and all seven crew members were found uninjured in a drifting lifeboat several hours later.

The rescue was made by a picket boat from the United States Coast Guard which came upon the small lifeboat after previous searching vessels reported they could find no survivors at the scene of the blast.

Coast Guard spokesmen said the seven men needed only to be taken ashore and given transportation home. They had drifted in the darkness for several hours after their 110-foot trawler blew up and burned.

Whispering Campaign Blamed For Defeat

HELSINKI, July 6 — (AP). — Finnish Communists said today an anti-Soviet whispering campaign, stirred up by reactionaries, was one reason for Communist losses in last week's parliamentary election. The Communist-led Popular Democrats lost 12 of their 49 seats.

Some informants predicted that a cabinet will be formed only after long negotiations. A government spokesman told reporters Monday night preliminary negotiations will begin July 12 when the present parliament meets for the last time.

There were rumors the Communists will back their demands for strong representation in the cabinet by strikes, if necessary.

41,952 Immigrants

OTTAWA, July 6—(CP).—Canada received 41,952 immigrants in the first five months of this year, compared with 15,513 in the same time last year, Resources Minister MacKinnon announced today. The Minister announced at the same time that more than 26,000 displaced persons from Europe have reached the dominion since April, 1947. A record monthly total of about 6,500 in June contributed to the number.

North Bay Hit Hard By Storm; 4 Upset On Lake

NORTH BAY, July 6 —(CP)—North Bay was still dripping at the hemline today and dazedly surveying the havoc wrought by a wild electric storm which raged over the district for several hours late Monday afternoon.

Most serious incident of the storm occurred at Trout lake, where a sudden twister ripped the roof off the Marine Room, then overturned a canoe in which four young people were paddling. The four, Bernard McGuinty and his sister, Anna Mary of North Bay, and two young cousins, Joan Perron, 17, and Rita Briscoe, 18, of Pembroke, were thrown into the water and saved themselves from drowning by clinging to their overturned canoe while the wind carried it completely across the lake. No one heard their cries for help due to the roar of the storm, and they were in the water for an hour before they managed to push and paddle their canoe to shore.

All four were left weak and exhausted by the ordeal. Torrential rain and hail hammered at them as the drifting boat carried them completely across the lake, and they said their numbed fingers could not have held onto the boat much longer.

A minor twister hit Camp Rawley Summer Hotel, felling a 53-foot flag pole, twisting a red cedar cleanly off a foot above the ground, and damaging three elms. It levelled the heavy resort water tower blowing its timber platform 200 feet and picked up a nine-car garage, moving it 150 feet.

Rain fell in varying degree all over central and south eastern Ontario while thunder pealed and skies were rent by stabbing flashes of lightning.

Shortly before midnight a barn at suburban Richmond Hill was struck, and fire destroyed the building.

The weather office said the storm was being felt over such scattered centres at Ottawa, Trenton, Malton, Toronto, Muskoka, North Bay, Kirkland Lake.

Ottawa Hit

OTTAWA, July 6 — (CP) — A severe electrical storm accompanied by intermittent rain rolled through the Gatineau and Ottawa valleys during Monday night.

Lightning struck the main building of the Canadian International Paper Company at Pensive Depot about 170 miles north of Ottawa and destroyed an office structure.

Hail was reported in areas west and northwest of the Ottawa valley but there was no indication what damage had been caused to the crops.

Telephone and telegraph wires in some areas weakened under the storm.

Communists Ignored; Cheer Benes

Yugoslavs And Tito Roundly Applauded By 80,000 Marchers

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, July 6.—(AP).—Cheers for resigned President Eduard Benes rang through Prague today from the throats of 80,000 marchers in the Sokol Congress parade.

There were cheers also for Yugoslavia and Premier Marshal Tito, denounced recently by the Cominform as a heretic from the Marx-Lenin line.

"We have no true republic without T. G. Masaryk and Benes," the marchers chanted as they tramped through Central Prague in the rain.

Masaryk was founder and first president of Czechoslovakia. His son, Foreign Minister Jan Mararyk, plunged to his death soon after the Communists seized the country. Benes resigned recently without signing the new Communist constitution.

Sokol members shouted "long live Brother Benes," but there were no cheers for Gottwald. The marchers passed coldly by the reviewing stand in the old town square where Gottwald sparked the drive for Communist power last Feb. 22.

Cheer Yugoslavs

The Czechs cheered 4,000 Yugoslav sailors, boys and girls who carried a huge portrait of Tito. Cries of "long live Tito" resounded.

A Russian group of 280 marched with the only Communist flag in the six hour parade. They carried a portrait of Prime Minister Stalin and also were applauded.

Delegations from the United States, France, Poland, Bulgaria, Finland and Trieste also paraded.

The Sokol is a national cultural and physical training organization. It is not political but has acquired a reputation for being anti-Communist. The scale of today's cheers for Benes gave the Sokol demonstration a political tinge it never had before.

Extra police were on duty with the announced purpose of handling traffic, but anti-Communist Sokol members commented the police would be handy in case any demonstration was made against the government.

The games and mass manoeuvres in which some 20,000 persons have taken part, have attracted thousands from other countries.

40,000 Miners Stage Walkout

PITTSBURGH, July 6 (AP)—A walkout of 40,000 "captive" coal miners began today and in western Pennsylvania the bulk of commercial miners remained idle in a sympathy walkout.

Over-all coal production in western Pennsylvania, which employs 56,000 miners, was only 20 per cent of normal.

The big United States Steel Corporation reported all 14 of its Pennsylvania mines, employing 11,000 men, were idle, causing a daily loss of 55,000 tons of coal.

LAST CARS ACROSS the Chemong floating bridge, which for years has been one of Peterborough county's main tourist attraction, made the crossing on Monday. Soon after these cars crossed to the Ennismore side the contractor, building the causeway, closed the bridge to traffic.

Israel Rejects Bernadotte Peace Proposals

CAIRO, July 6. (AP)—Israel today formally rejected Count Folke Bernadotte's Palestine peace proposals. Neither Arabs nor Jews gave a definite reply to the United Nations mediator's bid for an extension of the Holy Land truce.

Moshe Shertok, Israeli foreign minister, handed Bernadotte a 1,000-word reply to the mediator's proposal to turn Jerusalem over to Arab rule, make Haifa a free port and regulate immigration.

The reply said Israeli leaders were deeply wounded by the Jerusalem proposal. The Jews expressed emphatic opposition to any restriction on immigration, and urged Bernadotte to reconsider his whole approach to the problem.

Bernadotte planned to leave Tel Aviv for Cairo tonight to resume conferences with the Arabs and to return to Tel Aviv Wednesday to hear a Jewish reply on the truce extension.

The informant said the majority of Arab leaders oppose the extension request made by Count Folke Bernadotte, UN mediator.

Arab League officials in Cairo said their organization had a dual aim: speedy conclusion of the holy land war and creation of an "Islamic bloc."

A league informant said creation of an Islamic bloc is being considered to enable "Moslem countries to stand in front of the western powers and America." The source said the Egyptian government had drawn plans to call 21 Islamic states to a parley here to discuss the project.

The cease-fire was broken in Jerusalem early Monday for the second time in two days when Jews, entrenched on Mount Zion, and Arabs in the old city exchanged mortar and machine-gun fire.

A Jewish leader commented: "So what does it matter if the Israeli army accepts an additional truce? Irgun and Stern will fight on and the Arabs will fight back against the entire Jewish population. The Israeli army will have to defend itself and its people."

Oshawa UAW Agrees To Meet GM Officials

TORONTO, July 6. (CP) — George Burt, Canadian director of the United Automobile Workers (CIO), said today his union has agreed to meet Ontario Labor Minister Daley and representatives of General Motors Corporation to avert a strike at GM plants.

The strike would effect 4,700 workers at plants in Oshawa and Windsor. The meeting is scheduled for Thursday.

Burt said the union wired Daley Monday asking for a strike vote in the plants under provision of the Rand Formula. The formula prohibits strikes until a government-conducted strike vote has been held.

"The minister said he would not order the vote taken," said Burt. "He arranged a meeting for Thursday and said he was inviting company representatives. We agreed to be there."

Rockslide Splinters House Kills Baby, Two Injured

LEVIS, Que., July 6—(CP).—A rockslide, thundering down a 150-foot cliffside, splintered a two-storey frame dwelling here Monday night, killed an infant and buried two others under 50 tons of rocks and debris. Meanwhile, families occupying homes nearby were ordered to leave by police who feared for their safety. They said a second landslide appeared possible.

Killed as she slept in her cradle by the kitchen stove was five-months-old Pauline Lebel. Her three-year-old sister Marguerite and brother Jacques, age two, were rescued almost free of injury. Jacques had superficial head wounds.

They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lebel who occupied the home a short distance from the Levis Ferry Company dock, across from Quebec City.

Mrs. Lebel suffered injuries when struck by planking as she attempted to re-enter the house to save her children after having gone outdoors to investigate a loud, rumbling noise.

"There wasn't a chair in the home left intact," said Sgt. T. Morin of the municipal police who led a three-hour search for the body.

The rockfall occurred while Mrs. Lebel prepared supper. As the rock started to break away from the high cliff overlooking Quebec Harbor, its roar brought Mrs. Lebel to the door of her home, thinking it was an earthquake.

On Frechette Hill where the Lebel home was located the drivers of a truck and a car also heard the noise, stepped on their accelerators and were at a safe distance when the rock crashed at the front of the cliff. The drivers escaped just in time.

There are 14,000 ballots involved and officials estimate it will take three days for the recount. Returns June 7 gave Donald Baxter, Liberal, a 43 majority over James de Congalton Hepburn, Progressive Conservative, and Speaker of the last Legislature.

Scott Declares Fire Loss Lower

TORONTO, July 6. (CP)—Ontario Lands and Forests Minister Harold H. Scott, today estimated total damage from forest fires which have swept Northern Ontario in the last two months at "considerably less" than the $35,000,000 estimated when the fires were at their height.

Mr. Scott said the estimate was based on the premise that all the timber destroyed would have been cut and marketed this year.

"We are not trying to minimize the losses in lumber and wild life, but it is a fact that the fires jumped from one place to another leaving large patches of untouched timber between," Mr. Scott said.

"These areas now are being surveyed and cutting operations will start as soon as possible. While a lot of trees were killed, they were not completely spoiled for timbering purposes . . . if logging operations are commenced before forest insects go to work, a great many of these may be saved."

Break In Dispute Over Railway Wages

MONTREAL, July 6 (CP)—A break came Monday in the dispute which has threatened to tie up Canadian railways in a general strike July 15.

The railways and representatives of 18 international brotherhoods renewed direct negotiations which were broken off a few weeks ago when the parties could not agree on wage increases.

Frank H. Hall, chairman of the committee representing 12,000 employees, said "We are exhausting all possibilities" to avert the threatened strike.

He said the negotiations will be resumed Wednesday.

RCAF Finds US Geologist Trapped 14 Days On Ledge

EDMONTON, July 6—(CP)—An American geologist, Robert Parry, of Bartlesville, Okla., started out from mile 363 of the Alaska highway on a planned four- day trip to Fort Nelson, B. C.

It took him a lot longer than he had figured. He arrived Monday night, three weeks from the date he started, lucky to be alive.

He was rescued from a rocky ledge overlooking the Dunedin river in the remote north. He had been stranded there nearly two weeks.

It was more than a week before he was located by the R.C.A.F. search planes, and it took another week before he could be reached by rescuers.

The rescue involved a 15-mile overland hike, a canoe trip to Nelson Forks, B.C., and a plane trip to take an aerial bearing.

Trapper Charles Jensen of Fort Nelson, B.C., was the man who finally led to Parry's rescue.

He had set out early last week from Nelson Forks with two companions. By Saturday they still had found no trace of the missing man, and returned to Nelson Forks.

Parry had planned to travel by boat along the Dunedin river. He was stranded in a gorge from which he was unable to climb when his dinghy capsized.

He was spotted by Jensen from the air, and while the ground searchers toiled to reach him Jensen dropped supplies to the trapped man.

When the searchers reached Parry they returned to Fort Nelson by trail and boat.

Uncover Plot To Force Allies Out

French Say Document Reveal Plans To Start Incidents

PARIS, July 6—(AP). — The French Foreign Office announced today it has received from the British Embassy documentary evidence of a Russian plot to drive the Western allies from Berlin.

The Foreign Office said the British information was that Communists in Berlin were instructed by Moscow to touch off incidents which would cause intervention by Soviet forces.

Similar information has come from French officials in Berlin, the Foreign Office added. Neither the British nor the American Embassies here would comment.

French diplomatic informants said the Kremlin has ordered demonstrations leading to street fighting which would give Russian troops a chance to intervene and occupy all Berlin.

Outlines Order

Referring to a statement carried by the Conservative Paris newspaper Le Figaro, which claimed to have a copy of the Soviet order, one source said: "I cannot vouch for that particular communique, but everything in it is true."

The statement which appeared in Figaro was broken down into parts.

1. Disorganization of electricity and other essentials."

2. Demonstrations in all sectors calling for unified government and a unified monetary system.

3. Communist demonstrators will be attacked by police and "it must be assumed that there will be numerous dead and wounded."

4. When this situation "has been created" Soviet troops will occupy the entire city of Berlin, plus the suburbs. Soviet forces will order the Western allies into limited territory where "their safety can be guaranteed."

5. A state of "general public crisis" will be declared at a mass meeting of workers and a provisional government set up "by our Sonderein-Satz-Truppen."

U.S. Accidents Top 500 Mark

CHICAGO, July 6. — (AP).—The death toll in violent accidents over the three-day Independence Day holiday in the United States soared far past the 500 mark today and higher than the total in 1947.

A final survey of accidental deaths from 6 p.m. local time Friday until last midnight showed:

Traffic accidents 296; 184 drowned; 66 fatally injured in miscellaneous accidents, and four deaths from fireworks.

The toll of 550 compared to 546 killed in accidents over the three-day Fourth of July holiday last year. The 296 fatalities resulting from accidents on highways were more than the 235 estimated by the National Safety Council.

Warns Canada Facing New Butter Shortage

OTTAWA, July 6 — (CP). — Canada will face the greatest butter shortage in history next winter unless steps are taken immediately to avert it, J. H. Duplan, president of the National Dairy Council of Canada, said here today.

Mr. Duplan issued a statement in which he said that a severe butter shortage could only be averted by government action. The government should immediately explore the possibility of arranging for substantial imports of butter and make butter production more profitable in relation to other milk products.

The government was urged to limit the export of dairy products under contract to surpluses which the domestic market did not need. He pointed out that the cheese contract with Britain this year calls for the export of 50,000,000 pounds, which requires enough milk to make 25,000,000 pounds of butter.

Eisenhower Refuses To Run as Candidate

Many Democratic Supporters Ignore General's Rejection Signal

NEW YORK, July 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flashed a "stop" sign Monday night at the Ike-for-president band wagon, but many of his democratic supporters ignored the signal.

The General called for the brakes in a statement which said:

"I will not at this time identify myself with any political party and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contests."

Now president of Columbia university, the former United States army chief of staff made his views known Monday night through the university's public relations director in a memorandum released to the press.

President Truman, en route back to Washington from a speaking trip in Missouri, was reported cheered by Eisenhower's action. His only direct comment, when awakened and told of the news in St. Louis, was that Eisenhower "is an honorable man."

Death Blow

But Truman's aides interpreted the statement as a death blow to the movement to sidetrack Truman at the democratic convention in Philadelphia.

Eisenhower said he was "profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office." But he had not changed his mind since telling Republicans last January that he was "not available."

James Roosevelt, chairman of the California state democratic central committee, was one of the chief democratic boosters. The son of the late president, who joined with 17 others to issue a call for a pre-convention anti-Truman huddle, said in Los Angeles:

"General Eisenhower's statement clearly indicates that he will not serve as a partisan president but will answer a call to national duty. I am tonight, therefore, reissuing the call for the caucus to be held in Philadelphia this coming Saturday night."

In New Jersey, where 36 convention votes were pledged this week to the former commander of Allied forces in Europe, Archibald S. Alexander, Democratic candidate for senator, commented that he felt the draft-Ike movement might not "necessarily be finally closed."

Dismiss Case Against Three Toronto Men

Charges of theft and receiving stolen goods, laid against three Toronto men, were dismissed by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, Monday afternoon after hearing evidence. The three accused were Donald McIsaac, charged with theft, and Archibald Rose and Howard Dodds, charged with receiving.

In dismissing the charges, the magistrate said that the evidence showed a strong possibility that the accused were guilty, but that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a conviction.

The stolen goods, which were recovered, were taken from a tourist cabin in the city and belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard of Cleveland, Ohio. They were a purse containing $105 and a gold wrist watch belonging to Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Robert Howard of Cleveland, Ohio, testified that her purse, containing $105 and a wrist watch had been stolen from her cabin bedroom on Lansdowne St., where she and her husband were staying. She gave evidence that the three men, who are also staying at those cabins, had been near her cabin Sunday morning, when the alleged thefts were made.

Det.-Sgt. John Stevenson of the City Police Department told of finding the missing articles under the front seat of the accused's truck, which had been parked near an uptown restaurant at that time. He said that McIsaac denied any knowledge of the presence of the purse and watch.

William Hamblin, son of the owner of the cabin concern, and his father, Gordon Hamblin, also gave evidence.

controls were placed on trucks entering the western sectors of the city, western-licensed German newspapers reported..

Reports of the new Russian move, which United States officials said were "apparently true," came as bad flying weather at Frankfurt lamed the American air fleet which has been carrying essential supplies to Berlin, along with the RAF.

British officials said weather conditions in their zonal base were good and that the RAF was flying normally to maintain its end of the air bridge from western Germany to Berlin.

Later reports from Frankfurt said the weather was improving there and flights were being resumed. One United States transport plane crashed while trying to land in bad weather Monday night.

Want New Parley

Meanwhile, the Russians implied that they are using the blockade as a weapon to bring about new four-power talks on Germany.

Russia has given indications of concern over the western allies' plan for establishing a federal government for western Germany and for future control of the key Ruhr industrial area.

At a conference in Warsaw last month Russia and seven of her satellites agreed that the Ruhr's heavy industry should be placed under control of the Big Four "for a definite period" thus Russia would have a voice there.

Syncope Fatal To Dr. Carlisle

Dr. George H. Carlisle, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Carlisle of Peterborough, died suddenly in Winnipeg Sunday from the effects of two falls during a sudden weakness or syncope. He was an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and was born in Peterborough 66 years ago.

During the first war, Dr. Carlisle organized a battalion in Winnipeg, and went overseas in charge of it as Lieutenant-Colonel. It was broken up at Folkestone, and the commanding officer felt so disappointed that he returned to Canada. Soon afterward he was back overseas, responding to a call from his former Colonel. As Major Carlisle he spent eight to ten months on active service in France.

It was learned from Winnipeg that Dr. Carlisle was stricken and fell about four or five days before his death, but recovered from that seizure. It recurred Sunday with fatal rib fractures and internal injuries. He died after the second collapse before he could be admitted to hospital. The circumstances suggested investigation and police reported their belief that death was accidental.

Dr. Carlisle was a well known specialist in Winnipeg. He was a gold medalist graduate of Trinity College, University of Toronto, and went west to establish a practice in his profession.

He leaves a son, John of Grayson, Sask.; sisters, Mrs. J. A. Wilson (Lillie), Peterborough; Mrs. Joseph Archer (Ruth) of Victoria, B.C.; and brothers, David, Douglas and John of Peterborough.

Fire Breaks Priceville Hearts As Hard Times Move Back In

PRICEVILLE, Que., July 6 — (CP).—Unemployment and depression came to this tidy St. Lawrence south shore town the night of June 2 at eight o'clock and people wept.

They saw a raging fire sweep Priceville's big sawmill and in minutes it became a smoking wreck and hard times moved in with the population of 3,000.

The mill employed most of Priceville's men during the warm weather sawing season; a half-year's wages for 600 families vanished in the ruins.

In the month since then, Priceville merchants have carried the town on credit. People have used their savings, and the Caisse populaire (Credit Union) has been pushed into a precarious position. The price of new homes has fallen by half.

The only income of many families has been a family allowance cheque. Most of the men are not eligible for unemployment payments because their work at the sawmill was seasonal.

In winter, men left Priceville for the forests where they worked as lumberjacks. When spring came they worked on the drive which brought logs down the Metis River to Priceville's doorstep. In the summer they worked at the mill which cut 30,000,000 feet of lumber a season.

Leaving Home

Since the fire, a number of young men have left Priceville to go back to the woods. Others have gone to the United States.

A small new sawmill has come into operation providing wages for about 40 families. A few men have been kept on in the destroyed mill's planing department which survived the June 2 fire.

Price Brothers and Company, Limited, operators of the burned mill, are arranging to move another from Ste. Anne des Monts into Priceville. It will be smaller and offer less work than the old one.

Eventually the destroyed mill will be rebuilt but until then life won't be normal for Priceville with its neat streets and homes and brand new $100,000 school.

COBOURG, July 6.—(ENS).—Appearing for sentence in court here Monday, Mike Annapolous of Toronto, was sentenced to 12 months definite and six indefinite on a charge of theft of a car dating back to last year.

Aftermath of an accident which occurred at Gore's Landing on Saturday night, Tweed Anderson of Cobourg appeared on a drunk driving charge and was remanded on $1,500 bail until July 12.

William Horton, of Cobourg, was found guilty of overcharging on rents and fined $15 and costs.

Hear Complaints About Garbage

CAMPBELLFORD, July 6 — (ENS). — The perennial howl about the garbage collection system was heard at the council meeting on Monday night when Deputy-Reeve Locke brought forth a couple of complaints from citizens that the collector is refusing to remove small quantities of grass and dead flowers along with the regular contents of the garbage containers.

Mr. Locke noted that many citizens are not satisfied with the present collection system, and he had seen quantities of uncollected garbage in various parts of the town. There had been no such complaints with the previous collectors; and he suggested that a new agreement be prepared.

Reeve Anderson noted that there had been complaints for years, and felt that they did not start with the present man.

Following a suggestion that the collector be summoned before the council, it was agreed that the chairman of the Property Committee should first have a talk with him with a view to having him "meet the public halfway."

Call For Tenders

Tenders are to be invited for the construction of sidewalks at the Wartime Housing area and at the Integrated Housing, Councillor Macmillan remarking that it would be impossible to do anything with the roads until the sidewalks are finished.

F. G. deCarroll was granted an extension of 18 months for the erection of a house on the lot which he purchased from the town. It was noted that the original agreement was not signed at the time of purchase of the lot, and council instructed the clerk to arrange for a signature this time.

Two Youths Fined For Stealing Flowers

COBOURG, July 6.—(ENS).—Kenneth Woodward and Douglas Oliver of Port Hope, pleaded guilty to theft of flowers from the City Dairy, Margaret Saunders and James Oakman.

Constable E. Butler and H. Pearse found the two boys, while on patrol at 2.15 Sunday morning, carrying a large bouquet of flowers.

The two youths were with a couple of girls at the time.

In fining them $5 and costs on one charge and suspending sentence on the other charges, Magistrate R. B. Baxter declared that it was an act of vandalism and very annoying to people who spent time and money raising flowers to beautify their surroundings.

Campbellford Names R. J. Allen Treasurer

CAMPBELLFORD, July 6—(ENS)—The sole by-law to be passed at the council meeting Monday night was one providing for the appointment of R. J. Allen as town treasurer, succeeding the veteran Fred Wood, who wishes to be relieved of the temporary duty he undertook earlier in the year.

The appointment of Mr. Allen is to take effect at once, subject to acceptance of his application for a surety bond in the sum of $5,000, the premiums on which will be paid by the corporation.

The treasurer's salary is set at $600 annually, payable in monthly installments. Previous treasurers have also held the same post with the Public Utilities at a further salary of $300 per year. This matter will be discussed at the next meeting of the commission. Some councillors felt that the commissioners might depart from the usual practice and obtain a separate treasurer, but Mayor Donald, who is a member of the commission, remarked that the matter has not yet been discussed at any of the meetings of the commission.

Shipper Wants Town Land For Stock Pens

CABPBELLFORD, July 16 — (ENS) — Business was mainly routine at the regular monthly meeting of the Campbellford council on Monday night, as shirtsleeved members braved the heat of the stuffy council chamber.

A letter from Manager P. C. Denyes of the Public Utilities Commission notified council that as the results of recent tests, it has been determined that water pressure in some of the higher parts of the town cannot be maintained without the aid of a booster pump.

Tests had been conducted near the Normington and Jacobs residences, and while the pressure at the power-house was 85 pounds, that at the test point showed zero.

W. F. Scott addressed the council regarding a piece of land which he suggested might be used as stock pens for stock to be shipped by truck. The land referred to is behind the present scale near the railway yards. Mr. Scott told the members that he would purchase it if he is permitted to do so, but if this is not possible, he would agree to rent it.

Some councillors felt that in permitting Mr. Scott to erect stock pens at the spot would be giving him a monopoly which might be resented by other truck shippers. Mr. Scott replied that if the town wished to erect public pens he would be agreeable.

At the suggestion of Mayor Donald it was agreed that council will first ascertain how much of the land is available for rental before arriving at a decision in the matter.

Ask For $100 Grant

Russell Ayrhart asked council to assist the Campbellford Softball Association in the amount of $100 toward the erection of bleachers for the ball field. The grant was made.

Mr. Ayrhart told the council that the sum of $500 is required and that their contribution would endorse the project and would materially assist the association in obtaining the remaining amount. Plans are also underway, he said, to establish a junior league here.

Councillors agreed to the donation with provision that it will be paid to the association when the construction is underway.

During the report of standing committees, Deputy-Reeve Ralph Locke asked for prices on two lots for which offers have been received. Abram Little wishes to purchase a lot at the corner of Wallace street, and a maximum of $200 was mentioned, with $150 suggested as nearer the mark.

A further offer has been received for a lot at the corner of Rear and Market Streets, required for a nunstated purpose, and the would-be purchaser had suggested that $400 would be a fair price.

After some discussion, council turned the matter over to the Property Committee for investigation.

The chairman of the Property and Legal Committees are to go into consultation with the town solicitor regarding the agreement they might be held liable by the taxpayers for the sum of $2,600.

covering the sale of part of the old parking lot to the Ayrhart interests. Members were not certain as to whether the agreement requires the company to erect a $30,000 building on the property within 18 months or forfeit the purchase price of $2,600, or whether the lot can be sold to another party without contravening the original agreement, which became effective on September 27, 1946.

Councillor Kingston felt that the council had no authority under the agreement to do other than retain the purchase price and repossess the lot. If council failed to carry this out, he felt that

In INDUSTRY: Canadian railways, for example, are using more and more aluminum in freight cars and passenger coaches.

In the HOME: too, more and more articles are being made of aluminum — washing machine tubs, for instance.

The reasons? There are many! Aluminum is light, strong, easy to keep clean. It is durable, and it cannot rust. It is economical because, through research and large-scale production, the price has been brought down 25% since 1939.

Today more than 1000 Canadian companies are fashioning aluminum into countless useful and beautiful shapes — as varied as buses and aircraft, garden tools and vacuum cleaners.

Tomorrow its advantages will be adapted to make still other articles which are lighter and more attractive. Next time you go shopping, notice how many things are made of aluminum.

"FOREIGN EXCHANGE"

The aluminum produced in Canada last year found its way to 48 other countries, the largest buyers abroad being the United Kingdom and the United States. Our production was so great that, after Canadian manufacturers had been supplied, we still had 85% left for export — a valuable source of foreign exchange.

Why Has Peterborough No Safe Bathing Beach?

The drowning of a child yesterday at Inverlea Park is a most unhappy beginning to the season of supervised municipal playgrounds. Although we do not think that blame for this sad event can be laid at the door of any person or group of persons, it throws into relief a serious weakness in our municipal recreation equipment — we have no safe bathing beach. Inverlea Park was made into a playground by the Kiwanis Club, and they improved it greatly; no service club, however, has the money or the facilities to make bathing safe at Inverlea; in spite of all reasonable precautions it will always be a treacherous bathing place. But it is not the only place in Peterborough where people can swim.

• • •

The city has Little Lake within its confines, and it would be possible to create at Little Lake a municipal beach which would be as safe as any beach can be. But for many years Little Lake has been a filthy pool, unfit for swimming, because the city's sewage disposal will not permit it to be anything better. There can be few municipalities in Canada which have fouled and neglected a natural beauty spot as Peterborough has fouled and neglected Little Lake. And all because of the old Peterborough fault — waiting to be given something, waiting for a service club to do it, waiting to get something free.

• • •

This pinchpenny attitude on the part of the municipality is reflected this year in the fact that no caretakers are being provided for the municipal playgrounds. The playground supervisors are expected to act as caretakers as well, raking up debris, scrubbing the closet-bowls and scouring the urinals; for a girl in her teens, with a playground serving two hundred children this should prove educative not merely in child care, but in municipal economy, as well.

• • •

The city's recreation program is a fine one, but it cannot be carried out without enough money and enough help. It is always dangerous to try to do big things on the cheap.

Housing The Prime Minister

Last Wednesday night the Fourth Session of the Twentieth Parliament of Canada was closed. That evening the Right Honourable W. L. Mackenzie King spoke in the Commons for the last time as Prime Minister. He will reappear in the House next session, but another man will be leader of the Liberal Party and the Prime Minister, unless an act of God or of Stalin prevents his resigning.

• • •

Mr. King assured the members that he was indeed resigning: "My own approaching retirement from the leadership of my party and also from the leadership of the government, both, may I say without any reservation, will have taken place before another session of parliament". He spoke at some length about the desirability of there being an official residence for the Prime Minister. Mr. King's town house is the Victorian mansion "Laurier House". This had been the residence of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and was deeded to Mr. King personally by Lady Laurier. It is not the property of the Crown or of the Liberal Party. It is Mr. King's, and Mr. King intends to live in it after his retirement as Prime Minister and party leader.

• • •

The Prime Minister spoke of the financial effort of equipping, staffing and maintaining this house, and even of the taxes which have been a yearly drain on his resources. Canada is one of the few countries in the world where no provision has been made for an official Prime Minister's residence. The Prime Minister is the King's First Minister. He should be housed with due regard to the dignity of his position and the official entertaining required of him. This country should have an official residence for its Prime Minister and the staffing and maintaining of it should be a public charge.

Mr. King said in part:

There is an impression among a great many people in this country that Laurier House has been maintained by the state. It has been maintained by myself personally out of my own pocket and my own income, and if I have not...extended as much in the way of hospitality as I should like to have done, that is one of the reasons. I hope that my successor, whoever he may be and subsequent gentlemen holding the office of Prime Minister will not be embarrassed in that way. The obligations are very great indeed upon the individual who holds the high office of Prime Minister of this country. The state should seek to make the leader of its government independent of considerations of the kind, that he may give his whole time and thought and energy to the discharge of his public duties in the largest possible way.

• • •

Our subsequent Prime Ministers may not have the means to live in the state which the Canadian people expect of a Prime Minister. Mr. King himself had, as he said in his frank statement, to rely on the generosity of friends and admirers. It is well that Mr. King, in his last appearance in the House as Prime Minister, should have spoken of this domestic matter, for he is uniquely qualified to do so and no longer has a personal interest in it. That the Prime Minister should have had to make the comment at all should be a shade mortifying to the Canadian people who have provided so poorly for the Prime Minister's domestic establishment.

Yugoslav Conflict With Soviet Russia

The rift between Yugoslavic communists and pan-Soviet communists is keenly interesting western observers. As we pointed out editorially last Wednesday, there is no reason to believe that Tito of Yugoslavia is veering away from Communism. He is still a Communist and so is his government. The quarrel arises not from ideological differences but, as we have already said, from conflicting national interests. As there can be dissension between two countries both monarchial or both imperial, so there can be friction between two Communist countries.

The Cominform communique issued at Prague condemned Yugoslavia because it had "set out on the road to nationalism" and her leaders because they "think they can maintain Yugoslavia's independence and build up socialism without the support of the Communist parties in other countries, without the support of the countries of people's democracy, without the Soviet Union". That is the nub of the argument. Yugoslavia will not knuckle down to Soviet Russia; it will not give up its national sovereignty to the Cominform or the Kremlin.

There are obvious reasons for this. As Mr. Sebastian Haffner, writing in the London Observer has remarked, Yugoslavia differs from all other Russian satellites (except Albania) in that its communization came from within the country. It was not brought in at the heels of the Red Army. Tito gained power not by Russian assistance but by his own efforts as leader of a local resistance movement. This self-willed man will not willingly see his power curbed, nor will a Balkan people forget their age-old national aspirations.

A specific reason for the conflict being brought into the open is Tito's attempt to build up a federal bloc of his own in Southeastern Europe by uniting Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania and perhaps Hungary. Russia does not want a second Communist Great Power to grow up beside it. Haffner notes the persistent reports that Russia intends soon to convert the indirect domination of the Cominform into direct merging of the satellite countries with the U.S.S.R. Tito's Yugoslavia would accept this only under compulsion. Unless Stalin decides to put the damper on the flares, developments in the next few weeks will be interesting to observe.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A news item tells us that "a ten-months old baby has flown by itself over the Atlantic". And to think we cheered Lindbergh!

We learn that there are 40,000 muscles in an elephant's trunk. That's a trifle compared with the development of the chicken we had yesterday.

An English paper reports that a 22-months-old baby appeared in court recently with a pipe in its mouth. We hope that the judge gave it thirty days for contempt.

The U.S. Department of Justice is taking action against a number of wallpaper companies under the anti-trust laws. Suspects them of wicked designs, no doubt.

The Examiner's London Letter

By J. D. CAMBRIDGE

THERE has been so much significant news this week it is difficult to preserve a sense of proportion as to what is of passing and what of more lasting importance. The London papers have scarcely known which way to turn, and the result has been a heavy concentration on the cricket news, of all things. After meeting many of the outstanding British cricket teams without a defeat, the Australian team visiting Britain has this week been playing an all-star British cricket team in London, with disastrous results to the latter. The papers have been bringing out hourly editions as to the latest score, and the fortunes of some of the better-known players on both teams. Much of the news is reminiscent of the World Series, or the Stanley Cup playoffs; ardent fans queuing up overnight for the bleacher seats, and the school kids playing hookey to be able to attend. Nevertheless, I still can't get excited about a game that takes two days to play.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE Berlin situation is causing much anxiety, and this is undoubtedly the real centre of news of the week. The continuing intransigence of the Russians presents a very grave situation to the other occupying powers. We are in a poker game with very few cards; none of the Western powers are willing or able to risk war for the sake of feeding the Berliners, and yet at the moment that seems the only way they will be fed. By this I mean a forcing of the present blockade, with all the attendant risks of war. The alternative, to withdraw from Berlin or bow to Russian demands for acceptance of their conditions is as morally disastrous as war would be physically. It would have a numbing effect on all anti-Communists in Europe, especially those in Germany, and completely discredit the power and prestige of the Western powers, as much so as the Munich crisis of 1938, in the words of Churchill. Naturally, the leaders in this country are well aware of this fact, and everything possible will be done to avoid this particular pitfall. There are some grounds for hope. The astonishing denunciation of Tito and his Yugoslav Communist Party suggests that all is not sweetness and light behind the Iron Curtain, and rivalries are more sharp than had hitherto been suspected. Some authorities here are discounting the denunciation as a political dodge to get Marshall Aid for a country not otherwise entitled to it, but whatever the reason, it has caused consternation amongst the various European Communist Parties, which causes no unhappiness to their opponents.
